MRS. CORLIES IS CALLED BY DEATH

Much Beloved Woman Suddenly Succumbs to Acute Attack of Heart Trouble.

A FRIEND OF CHARITIES

Funeral Services to Be Held at Her Late Home Tomorrow Morning at 10:30 O'clock—Mrs. J. B. Dumont's Sister.

Mrs J. Edgar Corlies, for the part thirty years, a well known resident of this city, and prominent in the charitable enterprises of Plainfield, died very suddenly Tuesday evening following an acute attack of heart trouble. Her death was a severe shock to a large number of acquaintances. Mrs. Corlies was a guest in the afternoon at the wedding of Miss Helen Louis Brown and Charles Halsey Haight Piffard, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Irving Howard Brown, on Central avenue. She returned home about 7 o'clock and shortly afterward was stricken. She died within a short time.

Mrs. Corlies was born in New York and was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Howard Wright, of that city, whose benefactions are so widely known. During her residence in this city she was especially active with her sister, Mrs. John B. Dumont, in the work of the Plainfield branch of the Needlework Guild, devoting a great deal of time to the success of the organization. She was also interested in Muhlenberg Hospital and the Charity Organization Society. From her large means she was able to accomplish a great deal in charitable work, which she did in a quiet way.

Mrs. Corlies possessed an unusually cheery disposition and her friends were legion. She was always desirous of helping the less fortunate and there are a large number of people who will have sincere cause to mourn her death.

Although not a member, Mrs. Corlies was a regular attendant at the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church. She was a member of the Religious Society of Friends. Like herself her father, Mr. Wright, was particularly interested in Muhlenberg Hospital, and in appreciation of the work there and in memory of his grandsons he gave the operating pavilion, which has proved of so much help.

Mrs. Corlies is survived by two daughters, Mrs. William Delanoy, of this city, and Mrs. John U. Hussey, who is now abroad; also her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Howard Wright, of New York; a sister, Mrs. John B. Dumont, of this city, and a brother, J. Dunbar Wright, of New York.

The funeral services will take place tomorrow morning at 10:30 o'clock at the house.

NEW ANGLE ON G. O. P. FREEHOLDER SCHEME

"Council Will Please Fill Vacancies?" Says Counsel —Sidetracked.

An attempt was made at last night's meeting of the Common Council to have that body appoint two persons to fill vacancies said to exist in the Board of Freeholders, but the Council decided not to take any action until the matter is decided by the courts. The matter came before the Council in a communication from County Attorney W. R. Codington, who advised that body that in view of the fact that the election of the small boards in Union, Bergen and Mercer counties had been considered unconstitutional, he requested that the two vacancies on the larger board be filled.

Accompanying Mr. Codington's letter was an annotation from Corporation Counsel W. M. Stillman, not directed to anyone in particular, in which he advised the Council to fill the alleged vacancies. Councilman P. J. Blatz said that inasmuch as the matter is still in the courts for a decision he thought it would be well to wait for a decision. A resolution offered by Mr. Reville and adopted, laid the whole matter on the table for the present. The appointments desired were to fill the vacancies caused by the expiration of the terms of J. Hervey Doane and S. P. T. Wilbur.

ANNOUNCE ENGAGEMENT.

Announcement is made of the engagement of Miss Stackpole, of Harrisburg, Pa., and Walter Caldwell, formerly of this city, but now of New York. Mr. Caldwell during his residence here atended the Plainfield High School and is widely known in this city. No date has been fixed for the wedding.

NEW MAYOR'S FIRST MESSAGE

Consolidation, Sewage, Water, Garbage and Ashes Collection His Chief Themes.

BUSINESSLIKE ADDRESS

Document Short and to the Point—Merger of City and Borough He Considers Important—Wants the Water Supply Conserved.

In his first annual message delivered to the Common Council last night, Mayor Stewart confines himself to a discussion of five important problems awaiting solution, which he considers most vital at this time. They are municipal control of the water supply, sewage system, municipal collection and disposal of garbage and ashes, consolidation of the borough and the city, and general improvements.

The message follows:

"It seems to be the custom for the incoming Mayor to send a message to the Common Council at this time, setting forth, at more or less length, such questions affecting the city's interest as he considers important. I, therefore, take this opportunity of calling certain questions to your attention and of extending to you my heartiest congratulations and best wishes for the New Year, and of pledging to you my support and assistance, insofar as lies within my power, in the consideration of such public questions as may come before us. There are questions, which I should like to take up with you more informally, and some questions of great importance which, in my opinion, it would not be for the best intestest of the public to discuss at length in a public document. I will, therefore, briefly refer to certain questions and, with your permission, reserve to myself the privilege of sending additiona communications to you in the course of the year, either in regard to these or other public questions.

"The reports of the heads of the respective departments of the city

MARRIED IN NUPTIAL GOWN MOTHER WORE

Miss Agnes Fales Strong Becomes the Bride of Howard Huntington.

Miss Agnes Fales Strong, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George A. Strong, of Central avenue, and Howard Huntington, son of Samuel Huntington, of Franklin place, were married at 6:30 o'clock last night at the home of the bride's parents, in the presence of about forty relatives and intimate friends. Rev. Dr. Thomas C. Hall, of Union Theological Seminary, an uncle of the bride, performed the ceremony.

The bride's dress was of old lace with a train of silk brocade, her mother's wedding gown, and the veil of old lace was a family heirloom. She carried a bouquet of gardenias and lilies of the valley.

Mrs. Thomas L. McCready, of Pelham Manor, and Miss Helen C. Strong, of this city, sisters of the bride, were bridesmaids and the best man was August Z. Huntington, of Wilkes-Barre, Pa., a brother of the bridegroom.

An informal reception followed, during which supper was served. Later in the evening the couple left on a wedding trip. They will reside in this city upon their return. Mr. Huntington is a member of the Plainfield Country Club, the Log Cabin Gun Club and is generally interested in sports.

STATE TRUST COMPANY'S DEPOSITS NEARLY $600,000

On the last page of this issue the State Trust Company publishes its condensed statement of condition of December 31, 1912. Since September, 1910, when the company began business, the people of Plainfield have responded generously to the invitation that has been extended by various methods of publicity, until their deposits have reached nearly $600,000, in a little over two years.

Personal service, a strong board of directors and printer's ink generously used have all been contributing factors in bringing about this satisfactory result.

CLAY PRESIDENT OF THE COUNCIL

Some Members Reconsider Caucus Action and Wm. L. Gloak is Defeated.

VOTE IS SIX TO FOUR

Mygatt Names Clay and Wilson Nominates Gloak—Reville and Endress, Democrats, Cast Ballots for Clay—Loser Expresses Surprise.

George S. Clay was chosen as president when the new Common Council last night formally effected organization. He succeeds Ralph I. Tolles, who retired from that body after being in the chair for eight consecutive years. The selection of Mr. Clay revealed the fact that some of the members had reconsidered their votes after William L. Gloak was slated at a caucus. The vote last night was: Clay, 6; Gloak, 4; Reville, 1.

When City Clerk MacMurray had called the roll, he announced that the first order of business would be the election of a president. Gloak was placed in nomination by Councilman Wilson, the nomination being seconded by Councilman Blatz. The name of Clay was presented by Councilman Mygatt and seconded by Councilman Reville. Reville moved that the nominations be closed, after Blatz had expressed his surprise that the caucus choice should be confronted with opposition.

Councilman Edgar and Endress were chosen tellers and when the verdict was announced Republican and Democratic politicians in the lobby seemed to be the only ones surprised. City Clerk MacMurray appointed Councilmen VanHerwerden and Reville to escort the president-elect to the chair.

President Clay made a brief speech thanking his colleagues for the honor and pledging himself to be fair and impartial.

At this juncture Councilman Gloak arose and said that he could not understand how some of the members should "stultify" themselves by changing their votes.

After announcing that he would file his committee appointments with the city clerk, to be announced next Monday night, President Clay then took up the regular order of business.

As was expected the old Board of Freeholders met at Elizabeth yesterday, and went through the form of "organization," by "electing" John N. Cady as "director." Nathan R. Leavitt was "reappointed" "collector," for a term of three years at a salary of $3,000 a year and W. R. Codington was "elected" "county attorney," for the same term and same salary. Augustus W. Schwartz was "re-elected" "superintendent of weights and measures," at a salary of $1,200 a year, with $400 a year for expenses. The small board will meet on Monday, as planned and organize in acordance with the caucus nominations that have already been made.

MISS HELEN BROWN IS NOW MRS. PIFFARD

Ceremony at Home of Her Parents, Mr. and Mrs. Irving Howard Brown.

A quiet home wedding took place Tuesday afternoon at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Irving Howard Brown, of Central avenue, when their daughter, Miss Helen Louise Brown, was married to Charles Halsey Haight Piffard, of New York city. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Dr. J. S. Zelie, of the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church.

The bride wore her mother's wedding gown of white satin, trimmed with pearls and lace. The veil was of white tulle with old point lace. She was attended by her sister, Miss Marion Strong Brown, as maid of honor, who wore a gown of corn colored chiffon and carried Ward roses. The best man was W. Creighton Harris, of Edinburgh, Scotland, and the ushers were brothers of the bride, Harold Seymour Brown and P. Mortimer Brown.

The sitting room, where the ceremony was performed, was attractive with Christmas green, while the color scheme in the dining room was red. Following the ceremony, a reception was held and supper was served. There were about 125 guests, chiefly relatives and intimate friends. Among them was the bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Charles H. Morse, of Chicago. The bride received a large number of gifts. Mr. and Mrs. Piffard left later in the evening on a wedding trip.

NO CHANGES IN BORO OFFICIALS

Mayor Reappoints Present Incumbents of all Important Places.

HIS ANNUAL MESSAGE

Review of Reforms and Activities of the Past Year Take up Most of the Document—Alex Milne Will Be President.

Councilmen, borough officials and a small collection of private citizens gathered in the North Plainfield Council chambers yesterday noon, to hear the annual message of Mayor Robert Clark and to learn the appointments. With few exceptions the same office holders were continued. Alex Milne was elected president of the Council without opposition.

He delivered a message commenting mainly on the efficient work of the Council during the old year, which is as follows:

"It is the custom with each recurring year for the Executive of a municipality to give a resume of what has been accomplished during the year, and to make such auggestions as may have come to him from observation and experience.

"It should be the object and aim of the Executive, and the governing body of all municipalities, to so administer its affairs as to bring about the best results and to carefully watch all expenditures so that the amount appropriated for municipal purposes may not be exceeded.

"In order to prevent such an occurrance there was introduced at the beginning of the year 1912 a new system of bookkeeping whereby the expenditures of the month are reported to the Council at each regular meeting of the Council together with the amount appropriated and also what is still left of the appropriation after deducting the expenditures. This system gives each committee a knowledge of the expenditures from month to month and leads them to govern themselves accordingly. This system by careful watching on the part of each commitee and through the co-

WM. N. RUNYON QUIETLY WEDS

Popular Local Lawyer Takes Miss Florence MacDonald as His Bride.

CEREMONY IN GOTHAM

Former City Judge Becomes a Benedict on New Year's Day—Rev. Dr. Charles A. Eaton Officiates.

Miss Florence MacDonald, of 420 Park avenue, and former City Judge William N. Runyon, of East Ninth street, were married at 10 o'clock yesterday morning at the Madison Avenue Baptist church, New York, by the pastor, Rev. Dr. Charles A. Eaton, who has a summer home at Watchung, and is a personal friend of the couple. A small company of relatives and friends witnessed the ceremony.

The bride wore a travelling gown of blue cloth and a picture hat and carried a bouquet of violets. There were no attendants. After the ceremony the newly-wedded couple received congratulations and later they left on a wedding trip.

John N. Peet, aged 54 years, who is engaged in the dress goods business at 817 Broadway, New York, and who was a prominent resident of Summit, died at Muhlenberg Hospital at 11:45 o'clock Tuesday night, just two hours after he was stricken with apoplexy at the Plainfield theatre, where he was attending a performance of "The Fruits of Culture," by the Yale Dramatic Association.

He appeared to be enjoying the performance exceedingly when he was suddenly stricken. With assistance he was able to reach the boxoffice, but then became unconscious. A physician was summoned and Mr. Peet was removed to Muhlenberg Hospital, where he died two hours later. The body was removed to the Summit home yesterday morning.

TWO BOYS DIE IN ICY WATER

Paul Latham and John Russ Victims of Ticklybender at New Market.

NO CHANCE OF RESCUE

Swift Current Sweeps Bodies Under the Ice—Heroic Youth Nearly Dies Trying to Save a Third Boy in Danger.

Paul Latham, aged about 10 years, son of E. B. Latham, of Grove street, Dunellen, and John Russ, aged about 12 years, a playmate, also of Dunellen, were drowned while skating on the New Market pond late Tuesday afternoon. William Russ, a brother of John, and Byron Burdick, aged 17 years, who attempted to rescue Russ, almost lost their lives.

Both William Russ and Burdick when rescued by others who had been attracted to the pond, were in a semi-conscious condition and it was some time before Drs. T. H. Platt and M. J. Whitford succeeded in reviving them. The accident was the worst that has occurred on the pond in nearly fifty years. About a half century ago five colored children lost their lives while skating on the pond.

By the aid of long poles and grappling hooks the body of the Russ boy was recovered about 8 o'clock and it was more than an hour later before Paul Latham's body was taken out of the water. It was found about fifty feet from the point where he went down.

Crowds of boys from New Market and Dunellen and the surrounding country had been skating on the pond all day Tuesday and at the time of the accident there was perhaps thirty boys skating in the vicinity of the Washington avenue bridge, where the accident occurred. There was no ice under the bridge. Some of the boys had been playing "tickley bender," and were enjoying the fun immensely. On a dare other boys were trying to see how near they could go to the edge of the ice.

Latham and the two Russ boys would not take the dare and as a result they were plunged headlong into the water. The crowd of boys by their screams and shouts first attracted the attention of Mrs. Charles Rogers, whose home is but a short distance away. She seized a rope that hung in her kitchen, pressed it into the hands of George Schenck, who was passing, and hurried him to the work of rescue.

Just at the time that the boys went into the water, Byron Burdick was driving over the bridge. Quickly realizing what had happened he jumped from the bridge into the water and made a heroic effort to save William Russ, who was nearest to him. The current was running strong toward the dam and both Latham and John Russ had disappeared from view beneath the ice before anyone could reach them. The rescuing party, which included Schenck, T. O. Nelson and Herbert Pierce among others finally succeeded in getting Burdick and Russ on the bank and the physicians, who had previously been summoned, at once began the work of resuscitation.

The news of the accident spread like wildfire throughout New Market and Dunellen and to this city and large crowds gathered to join in the search for the bodies. Albert Herlick, George Schenck and Frank Marsh led the search in row boats, dragging the pond with long poles and grappling hooks. A number of autoists, who happened along, lined their machines along the bank and assisted the rescuing party by throwing their powerful searchlights on the pond. One high-power searchlight was placed on the bridge.

Mrs. Latham, mother of one of the victims, while watching the work of the rescuers, became hysterical as the result of a highly nervous condition and had to be taken home, while her husband remained to assist as best he could. It was nearly midnight when the village people recovered from the excitement, and the event cast a gloom over the New Year's festivities planned for yesterday.

The funeral service of John Russ was held at 9 o'clock this morning at St. John's R. C. church, Dunellen. The burial was in St. Mary's cemetery. Companions of the dead boy acting as pall-bearers.

The funeral service of Paul Latham will be ehld at 8 o'clock tonight at the home of the parents on Grove street, Dunellen. The burial will be in Greenwood cemetery, New York.

RUTGERS NIGHT HERE THURSDAY AFTER NEXT

G. Stanley Robins and Harry Smith With College Musical Club.

January 10 will be Rutgers night in Plainfield, for on that date the glee and mandolin clubs of the New Jersey State College will give their annual concert in the Hartridge Auditorium. A dance after the concert will add to the enjoyment of the affair. In order that the concert and dance may be one of the best college functions ever given in this city, the manager of the Rutgers clubs has arranged to bring some of the best dancers among the Rutgers students along with the musical clubs in special trolley cars to this city.

Local Rutgers men will see that everyone meets everyone else so that the dance will be enjoyable for all. The list of patronesses includes the wives of many of the Rutgers alumni residing in this city as well as many others in the local college circle.

The Rutgers singers and musicians have always held an enviable position among college musical clubs, the representatives of the Old Dutch College being pioneers in this form of entertainment. And the clubs of the State College this year are not a bit behind those representing Old Rutgers in former years. Their program includes the real college songs together with the merriment and jest that have given the college glee club a distinctive position among entertainers.

G. Stanley Robins and Harry Smith are the local men who will perform with the Rutgers clubs. Mr. Robins is the recitationist, this being his second season in this capacity, while Mr. Smith is one of the first tenors.

In all the concerts given this year by the Rutgers clubs, they have been well received and their entertainment in Newark last month was one of the most successful college concerts ever given in that city.

LOCAL AMUSEMENTS.

Mike Donlin, the famous outfielder who comes to the Plainfield theatre, Saturday afternoon and evening, supporting Charles Grapewin and Anna Chance in "Between Showers," is one of the greatest natural hitters that baseball has ever known. Fred Clarke, the manager of the Pittsburg team, of which Donlin is a member, is authority for the statement that Donlin is one of the few hitters who bats with his wrists that has made good in baseball. "Most ball players swing with their shoulders, and get the weight of their body behind the bat," said Clarke in discussing the batting ability of some of the star hitsmithers, "but Donlin uses only his wrists, and his great strength enables him to drive the ball as far as any man in the game who uses shoulders and body to send out a drive." "Mike is a good judge of a pitched ball, too," said Clarke, "and it is seldom that he strikes at any that are not over the plate and to his liking. He is a dangerous man in a pinch and when he was with New York I would rather have had any one of the other players come to the bat in a tight game than Donlin." Donlin is a good actor too, although he secured his first start on the stage through his baseball ability and while a poor performer at the outset he studied hard and is today the partner of one of America's greatest character comedians.

NEW YORK AMUSEMENTS

One of Geo. M. Cohan's New Year's resolutions is to keep right on playing "Broadway Jones" for the rest of the season at his own theatre, where this splendid comedy has already reached its fifth prosperous month. All kinds of entertainments are offered to New York's discriminating amusement seekers, but "Broadway Jones" with its suggested moral to thoughtless young men of wealth who choose Broadway to dissipate their fortunes, and the clean wholesome story of rehabilitation it tells of at least one of these pleasure seeking youths, will doubtless hold the attention of young Mr. Cohan's army of admirers for as long as he sees fit to present himself in his characterization on Broadway.

"The house of a thousand laughs" is a phrase that is applicable to the Gaiety theatre where "Stop Thief," the merry rollicking play by Carlyle Moore has set a pace for real fun that must be accepted as a standard for future writers of farce. "Stop Thief" is a well acted farce too, thanks to Cohan & Harris, its producers. THE MAYOR'S MESSAGE.

When once his first annual message has been perused no one can be insensible of the fact that Mayor Stewart has set out in earnest to bring about a speedy and satisfactory solution of the major problems confronting the community. The document, as published in our news columns today, will be read with keen interest by all who have the interests of the city at heart. That he will be applauded for the stand he has taken as pertains to the big questions, cannot be gainsayed. Particularly is it pleasing to note the position he assumes regarding the sewage matter, the agitation for a municipal system for the collection and disposal of garbage and ashes and the much-mooted consolidation of the city and borough. To us it seems, the chief of these is the proposed and long considered merger of Plainfield and North Plainfield. It is our purpose to treat separately each of the propositions he discusses as the opportunity is presented. Just now, it is meet and proper to say that the message augurs well for a successful administration.

CLAY COUNCIL HEAD.

We congratulate the people of Plainfield in having for the presiding officer of their Common Council for the ensuing year George Strong Clay. He is a man of marked ability, of undoubted integrity and possesses those gifts essential to make a good chairman. With him as president, his colleagues in the governing body may always be confident of fair, impartial and exact treatment. Suffice it to say that the city fathers who made his election possible are entitled to the thanks of the community for the service they have rendered.

THE WIRES NEXT.

To John Wanamaker, the merchant prince, belongs a large measure of credit for the inauguration of the Government's parcel post system. When he was postmaster-general, 1889 to 1893, he gave the first real impetus to this project. At the same time he launched the plan for postal savings banks and he was chiefly instrumental in establishing such improvements as the rural free delivery and the exclusion of lottery matters from the mails. Mr. Wanamaker has lived to see his dream of parcels post realized and now he starts an agitation for Government ownership of the telegraph and telephone.

"I want to see the two great servants of the people, the postoffice and the telegraph, reunited, and the telephone brought in to enhance the value of the combination," says the famous Philadelphian.

"Public interest, private needs and the popular will call for these agencies to protect the great postal system of the country. The longer their employment is delayed, the greater the aggravation and injustice to the people and the costlier it will be.

"The electrical current belongs to [illegible]le by right, and is bound to [illegible] servant—not of a [illegible]e-sixty-fourth of the [illegible] present."

MAYOR'S FIRST MESSAGE

government, have been so admirably prepared, that I shall simply refer you to them for detailed information concerning these departments. There are questions affecting some of the departments of the city, which I should like to take up with you in committee, after your honorable body has convened and your committees have been appointed.

The questions to which I wish to refer at this time are:

"First—The municipal ownership or control of a water supply.

"Second—The sewage system.

"Third—A municipal system for the collection and disposal of garbage and ashes.

"Fourth—General improvements.

"Fifth—Consolidation of the cities of Plainfield and North Plainfield.

FIRST—WATER SUPPLY.

"This question has been agitating the public for some years, but we seem to have made little progress in solving the problem. Meanwhile, our city is growing rapidly and increasing in population. The citizens wish to be assured of a permanent supply of pure water, not only for domestic purposes, but for various uses by the city and for our protection in case of a conflagration. The complaint is made that there is not sufficient pressure to successfully combat large fires, not to mention an extensive conflagration. If this is true, we face a danger which menaces both our city and the city of North Plainfield, and the result would be equally disastrous to both cities, whether the conflagration should start in North Plainfield and spread over into our city or vice versa. The tendency at the present time, with the great and rapidly increasing populations and areas of all cities in the zone within convenient reach of New York and Philadelphia, is to make greatly increased demands on the water supply. This supply is unquestionably limited, and we have recently seen the great expense and inconvenience which some of our neighboring cities have been put to for their water. It may be, that we are approaching a water famine. It is reported that the water level beneath our city has been lowered many feet, and it is believed that the surface water is more or less contaminated.

"The city of Plainfield owes its prestige, among other things, to the fact that it has had an abundant supply of pure water. If the supply becomes contaminated or insufficient in quantity, and we do not make provision for an adequate supply of pure water, we shall not only suffer from the necessity of using water of inferior quality, but there will unquestionably be a depreciation in the value of real estate, and the city will be unfavorably affected in other respects as well. It would seem, therefore, the part of wisdom, as well as our duty, to take up this question of a water supply immediately, no matter how irksome it may be to us to discuss subjects, which we may consider threadbare, and come to a definite and positive conclusion in regard to this most important subject.

"There is, I take it, no disposition on the part of our citizens to get something for nothing. They are prepared to pay a fair price for such water as they consume. Naturally, they desire to make the best terms possible and to obtain water at the lowest rate possible, but the question of a slight increase or decrease in the cost of water to the individual consumer, is an unimportant consideration compared with those which I have outlined above, and with which we are all familiar.

"A suit is now pending against the present water company and the Supreme Court of this State has handed down an opinion adverse to the city's contention. This case has not yet been appealed and, therefore, has not the stamp of final approval of the Court of Errors and Appeals—the highest court of this State. If an appeal is immediately taken, I am informed that the question, insofar as the present litigation is concerned, should be decided some time in February or March. It would seem inappropriate, in view of the pending legal proceedings, to discuss other branches of this matter.

SECOND—SEWAGE SYSTEM.

"It is a matter of opinion whether the sewage facilities or the water supply is more important. They are both absolutely essential to the well-being of our city. Distinct progress has been made in the solution of this problem, and, barring unforseen accidents or legal difficulties, this question is in a fair way of solution for the present at least, and, as we are all familiar with the situation, it would seem unnecessary to dwell further upon this matter at this time.

THIRD—COLLECTION AND DISPOSAL OF GARBAGE AND ASHES.

"In glancing over some of the recent messages of my predecessors, I find that this question has been repeatedly presented to your honorable body. The Board of Health of this city, for the past eleven years, have been urging us to give this matter thoughtful attention. We must realize that the Board of Health is a legally constituted body, whose duty it is to see that all means are taken to preserve the general health and sanitary condition of the city. The high character and attainments of the men who now compose and have heretofore composed it, render their opinions of weight and entitled to the most careful consideration. The best interests of the city as a whole must guide us in our consideration of these matters. The poor man, or man in humble circumstances, and his family, are the ones who are suffering most under present conditions. We know that the rotting garbage heap, covered with flies is the source from which our young children are particularly liable to contract diseases, and it would seem incomprehensible that we should neglect matters, which lie directly at our door, and which are a constant menace to the health of the city. I shall not elaborate this side of the question. It is obvious. And there must be strong reasons, if reasons there are, why nothing has been done in this direction.

"A possible objection, which has been raised to a municipal system for the collection and disposal of garbage and ashes, is the alleged cost. Another is the fear that we might deprive some of our citizens of their means of livelihood. I think that both of the objections stated can be met. The average citizen would propably pay less than he is now paying for inferior service. The cost of removal under the present system bears unequally upon the different classes of our citizens. The poor man must either pay this tax or have his garbage rot in his backyard with the menace to himself, his family and his neighbors to which I have referred above. The increase in his taxes would be almost inappreciable under a proper system of municipal collection, and his doctor's bills would probably also be less. As to the alleged destruction of the means of livelihood of members of our community, I see no reason why those, who are competent, should not be provided for under a municipal system. The city would have the advantage of their labor and experience, and would have the right to hold them to strict discipline and to sanitary methods of operation. I shall not attempt at this time to discuss the various systems, which other cities have successfully employed to remedy similar conditions, and I am not an advocate of any particular plan. That is a question to be decided after mature thought and careful investigation. But I have no doubt whatever, that, under a proper system and strict regulation, the city would find a way out of its present difficulties, and, if the experience of some cities is a guide, it might be a source of income, if not of profit, to the city.

FOURTH GENERAL IMPROVEMENTS.

"We have learned from the sad experience of some of our neighboring cities, the results of ill-advised and over-ambitious plans for municipal improvements, and we should, at all times, realize that improvements, if they are to be permanent and of lasting advantage, must be gradual and commensurate with the ability of the taxpayer to bear the burden. But the taxpayer is a business man, and a successful business man realizes that, in order to get anything out of his business, he must put something into it. And we must realize that, if we are going to get added benefits from our city, we shall have to put something into the city. It is not right to expect individual citizens to bear all the burden of such investments, because all the citizens equally would reap the advantage. The average citizen does not ask for favors, and is willing to bear his fair share of anything which will both promote the public good and increase the value of his property. I feel confident, however, that private individuals will be found willing to assist in excess of their proportion in any plan looking toward the common advantage and improvement of our city.

"The streets, in parts of the residential section of our city, with their beautiful trees, are a source of pride to our citizens, but the condition of the road-bed, pavements and crossings, is not what it should be in other parts of the city. It may be that the condition is all that can be expected, considering the amount of money which we have expended upon them. But their condition is unsatisfactory, not only to the citizens of those sections, but, I believe, to the Street Commissioner and his assistants also. We should have broad thoroughfares of sufficient width to handle the increasing traffic in the business sections of our city. The increase in the values of land in our business section will make any delay in attending to this important matter increasingly expensive. I am informed that the cost of widening certain streets has increased a hundred per cent in a few years and will be proportionately even more expensive as time goes on. Some of us remember the outcry that was raised when Park avenue was widened, but everyone now commends the foresight and sagacity of the men who carried through that great public improvement.

"This brings us quite naturally to the question of our lights. The lighting of the city is not satisfactory and we should give it prompt attention. It would only seem reasonable that the business section should receive consideration, in view of the high valuations and the amount of taxes which is levied upon business properties. The individual property owners have done something to remedy this condition, and it may be that some plan could be devised of co-operation between the city and the property owners to remedy present conditions.

"We feel justly proud of our school system. We are under deep obligation to the members of the Board of Education for the attention which they have given to maintaining a high standard at all times. Our public school buildings are models of their kind and have cost the city a very large amount of money. In view of the facilities which they afford during the periods of the day when they are not in use, it would seem desirable if it could be arranged to have the auditoriums of these buildings used for civic purposes not directly connected with strictly educational matters. Other cities have adopted a more liberal policy in the use of these buildings and I would respectfully suggest that our authorities take this matter under careful consideration with a view to meeting the wishes of the public in this respect.

"There is a condition existing in our city today which should receive prompt attention. I refer to the lack of provision for the care of persons suffering from contagious diseases. The Board of Health is very solicitous about this matter. Persons suffering from certain communicable diseases, such as scarlet fever, diphtheria and others, to which it is not necessary to refer here, should be isolated, so as to prevent the spread of contagion, and there should be suitable quarters where they can be given appropriate special teatment. We have no such place in the city at the present time. Muhlenberg Hospital has a small pavilion but it is totally inadequate to accommodate these cases, and the resources of the hospital from private subscriptions are not sufficient to provide for them. The expense of caring for patients suffering from some of the diseases to which I have referred, is large. It costs not infrequently, from one hundred dollars to six hundred dollars per patient, to suitably provide for a severe diphtheria case, including night and day nurses, antitoxine and all other necessary expenses. A severe epidemic of any one of the more dangerous diseases should cost the city more in money and valuable lives than the cost necessary to provide means to successfully combat it. A statute has recently been passed, which, it may be, will provide the remedy. This law authorizes a city to appropriate a certain amount of money for the constructon of such a building or to arrange with a private hospital to care for such cases. Some of our neighboring cities, rather than go to the expense of building and maintaining a hospital for the care of contagious diseases, have arranged with private institutions to undertake this work under municipal supervision. Other things being equal, it would seem to follow that an institution with an appropriate organization already in existence, could handle such a plant cheaper than it could be run by the city.

FIFTH—CONSOLIDATION OF THE CITIES OF PLAINFIELD AND NORTH PLAINFIELD.

"The question of the consolidation of the City of Plainfield with the Borough of North Plainfield has been mooted from time to time. We are experiencing now the inconvenience of having two municipal governments interested in problems which affect us as a single community, such as the water supply, sewage, fire protection, police, schools, parks, lighting and hospitals. A united city could lay out broad connecting avenues and a park system along the line of Tier's pond and the brook. The land should be acquired now, before there is too great an increase in its value and such a park system would be desirable, not only from the point of view of health and the beautifying of the city as a whole, but also because of the great increase in value, which would accrue to adjacent property. After the acquisition of the land, a certain amount could be spent from year to year in improvements, so that the burden upon the taxpayer would not be too great at any one time.

"I am aware that there has been opposition to consolidation, both in Plainfield and North Plainfield. But every year that this matter is delayed, is detrimental to both cities. There is no disposition, I am sure, on the part of either city, to force such a consolidation. It must be done, if it is to be done, with the cordial co-operation and support of the citizens of both Plainfield and North Plainfield, and if either city does not believe that it would be advantageous, it will unquestionably decide against such a plan, but small considerations in a matter of this importance should be swept aside and the general good of the community should be the paramount consideration."

Mr. Carroll was born in Ireland, but spent the greater part of his life in this country. He resided in Plainfield a number of years. He was formerly a member of the Holy Name Society of St. Joseph's R. C. church, the borough, but upon removing to this city from North Plainfield became a communicant of St. Mary's R. C. church.

Surviving are four daughters, Mrs. Jeremiah O'Connor, Mrs. Thomas Duffy, Miss Rose Carroll and Miss Annie Carroll and five sons, Vincent Carroll, a member of the fire department; Timothy and Joseph Carroll, of this city; Frank and Edward Carroll, of Cleveland, Ohio. MISS EDITH GLAENTZER BRIDE OF F. W. TITLOW

Miss Edith Glaentzer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Glaentzer, of West Front street, and Frank W. Titlow, of Westfield, were married Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock at the parsonage of the Congregational church by Rev. Charles L. Goodrich.

The bride wore a blue traveling gown with hat to match and carried bride roses. Mrs. Herbert Glaentzer, a sister-in-law, was the bridemaid, and she wore a brown suit and carried pink roses. Herbert Glaentzer was the best man. After the ceremony the couple left on a wedding trip. They will reside at Westfield, where Mr. Titlow is wire chief in the employ of the New York Telephone Company.

Mrs. Titlow was formerly an operator at the local exchange of the New York Telephone Company and more recently has been the private exchange operator at the plant of the Spicer Manufacturing Company. Employes of the company presented her with a handsome gas lamp and a purse of gold. Miss Glaentzer also received many other handsome gifts from relatives and friends. Her gift to the bridemaid was a lavelier and to her brother she gave a signet ring.

Another Big Hit

FOR OUR HOUSEFURNISHING STORE.

Owing to the continued advance in the prices of raw material and labor tinware manufacturers, aluminum goods manufacturers and potters have been advancing their prices on practically all their products. We could see these coming advances months ago, and in anticipation placed heavy orders with different manufacturers so that we could have deliveries made for our January Sale, during which we will be able to quote prices as low as those prevailing months ago; but we will probably not be able to do this after our present holdings of stocks are exhausted—which should be a sufficient incentive to you to provide for future needs during our January Clearance.

ALDERMANIC COMMITTEE MAKING INQUIRY INTO POLICE GRAFT IN NEW YORK STRIKES MANY SNAGS

New York, Jan. 2.—The Curran aldermanic committee that is conducting an inquiry into alleged police graft in this city is striking many snags while unearthing considerable evidence. Raymond B. Fosdick, commissioner of accounts, has testified that he warned Police Commissioner Waldo about Police Lieutenant Becker some time before Herman Rosenthal, the gambler, was killed, a crime for which Becker is now under sentence of death. Commisssioner Waldo admitted to the committee that he had refused to allow "irresponsible youngsters" to handle the records of the police department. The men to whom he referred were investigators employed by the Curran committee. Commissioner Waldo said that the committee should get court orders before insisting on seeing police documents. Herbert R. Sands, one of the committee's investigators, told of obstacles thrown in his way while he was trying to glean facts from police station reports.

DEVICE RESUSCITATES SEVEN.

Firemen Pronounced Dead From Suffocation Saved.

Seven firemen taken from the ruins of the Westinghouse warehouse in Pittsburgh, which was destroyed by fire, were pronounced dead from suffocation, but were restored to life by the prompt use of resuscitators, the new machines that draw poisonous gases from the lungs and instill pure oxygen.

RESUSCITATOR IN ACTION.

A young ambulance surgeon was called from the Homeopathic hospital, two blocks away, to attend twelve unconscious firemen overcome by the poisonous fumes of sulphur and pitch. In seven of the men he could not find the slightest sign of life. But he remembered the pulmotors at the hospital.

Land of Surprises.

New Zealand is not exactly contiguous to or a part of Australia, as many seem to imagine, there being a slight difference of some 1,700 miles between them. Things go by contraries in the "land of the kangaroo." The farther north you travel the hotter it is—125 degrees in the shade in Queensland. Lignum vitae, which sinks in other waters, floats in Australian waters. The Christmas dinner is eaten in Melbourne and Sydney when it is over 100 degrees in the shade.

Notes amounting to over $900 were destroyed on Tuesday night at the Park avenue Baptist church. The last sign of the entire indebtedness of the church was wiped out when the ashes were cleared away.

The burning of the notes came after a social hour at which the members of the Ladies' Aid Society entertained. At 9 o'clock Miss Eleanor Moore, 11 years old, the youngest member of the church, marched to the front of the edifice and at the alter set a match to the notes in a holder.

THE FAST WORD ON THE NEW SILKS

No woman can say that she knows anything about the new silks for Spring and Summer fashions until she has visited James McCreery & Company's silk department. Here are gathered together all of the newest weaves and the newest colorings. Many of the patterns displayed are actually being used in the ateliers of such dressmakers as Redfern, Drecoll, Lucile, Paquin, Bernard, Worth, Beckoff David and others. Every day each Hamtches bring the news that this or that creator of women's fashions is using this or that design or weave in the modelling of a gown or wrap which will not be revealed to the fashionable public until the middle of February. This is an illustration of the reliance which can be placed in this house in getting advanced styles.

The fast word in silk fashions calls for the most daring and yet the most artistic combinations of color in a variety of odd designs. The silk which influences all others is called "Martine Print," and this contrives to blend the most vivid and trying colors into most beautiful and lavish designs. These vividly colored silks are to be used to a great extent for evening wraps as well as for hats and dress trimmings. They lend themselves most strikingly to the decoration of gowns in one tone. The Martine influence is seen in practically all of the new silks, the vivid colorings and extraordinary combinations of color being featured to a large extent.

Tinsel and metal effects will be fashionable, and the McCreery display offers a large variety of silks with these effects. There is also everything in the way of Pompadour and Dresden designs, and very lovely silk crepes, or "Cascadense Faconne," with a figured weave and printed in a floral design. Silk voiles with silk figures a la Martine are in evidence, and these are wonderfully attractive. One of the newest silks is the Toile Egyptian which is in appearance a rough finished silk voile crepe with printed flower designs. This is deliciously filmy and yet it has quite a body.

There is every evidence that silk tailored suits will be worn this Spring, and McCreery is showing most attractive weaves for this purpose including Italienne Silk which is heavier than Surah. This comes in corded effects, hair lines and cannade stripes, and will be very popular especially in the dark brown shades. The display takes in all the more familiar weaves in the newest designs, and fully repays a visit.

YALE THESPIANS MAKE A BIG HIT

College Amateurs in Striking Presentation of Adaptation of Tolstoi Satire.

R. F. KING THE STAR

Dance Follows Play at Hartridge Auditorium—Yale Cheer For Mayor Percy H. Stewart, Who Was at Performance and Dance.

"Fruits of Culture," the adaptation of Count Leo Tolstoi's satire on society people who believe in spiritualism, as presented by members of the Yale University Dramatic Club on Tuesday night, proved to be a remarkable performance in many ways. So finished was the work of the student-actors that there was no opportunity for anything but praise from the large and fashionable audience which filled the Plainfield theatre. The adaptation of the play for the use of the club was made by Jack R. Crawford, a student in the Yale graduate school.

The plot developes around the effort of a man and maid servant in the house of Leonid Fedrovich Zvezdintsev to get their master to sign a patent giving land to the villagers of a small town, in which the father of the male conspirator lived. The securing of the signature was necessary before the two could be married. Taking advantage of spiritualistic study in which the master was deeply engrossed, a fake seance was arranged and during it the desired signature was given in response to the rappings of what was thought to be one from another world, but was really the maid-servant, concealed in the room.

The play was one which with less capable performers could very easily have been developed into a stupid travesty. As it was the student actors, under the tutelage of Frank Lea Short, had been trained so that no detail was lacking to bring forth a finished performance. To R. F. King, who took and looked the part of the decidedly attractive maid, Tanya, easily went first honors, and after becoming accustomed to the masculine voice, it was hard for the audience to believe that an actress of stellar fame was not before them. F. W. Tuttle, as Semen, in love with Tanya, was also splendid, but it would be unfair to the others in the cast to draw further comparison, so well did they enact their parts. The show was mounted and costumed as elaborately as any professional attraction of the kind on the road.

The cast: Leonid Fedrovich Zvezdintsev, a wealthy land owner, C. P. Fields; Anna Pavlovna Zvezdintsev, his wife, D. L. McCoy; Betsy, their daughter, R. C. Myles, Jr.; Vasili Leonidich, their son, R. A. Conroy; Aleksei Vladimirovich Krooglosvietlov, a professor and savant, H. T. Cumming; The Doctor, J. Achelis; Mar'ya Konstantinova, friend of Betsy, H. T. Rogers; Petrishchev, friend of Vasili, P. Newberry; Grigori, the butler, N. E. Toohey; Semen, the butler's assistant, F. W. Tuttle; A Man Cook, C. R. Strang; A Female Cook, J. E. Brown, Jr.; First Peasant, H. G. Woodruff; Second Peasant, Semen's father, J. F. Schwieters; Third Peasant, G. E. Stevens, Jr.; A Messenger, C. R. Strang; Tanya, a maid servant, R. F. King.

Dance at Hartridge Auditorium.

Following the performance a dance was given in honor of the Dramatic Association at the Hartridge Auditorium, local Yale men being the hosts. Practically all of the two hundred or more patronesses and all of the young people in the audience attended and dancing was continued until an early hour yesterday morning. Music was furnished by an orchestra of seven pieces.

Shortly before midnight the lights were turned low and with "Auld Lang Syne" being played those present awaited the New Year, signalled by the throwing of power into the hundreds of bulbs about the hall. Immediately afterward Donald A. McGee stepped to the front of the stage and called for a Yale cheer for the Dramatic Club, and another for Mayor Percy H. Stewart, who was present. Both were given with a will. Shortly after the New Year was ushered in many of the older people left, but the dancing continued for the others until early yesterday.

The local manager was Lewis A. Williams, Jr., and the advisory committee consisted of Louis K. Hyde, Frederick W. Wallace, Percy H. Stewart, Frederick W. Yates, Thatcher M. Brown, William G. Cooke, Henry L. De Forest, Henry E. Butler, Lewis A. Williams, Jr., and Rufus S. Rowland.

BADLY CUT DURING FIGHT.

William Connett, colored, 22 years old, of Plainfield avenue, who was recently released on parole from the Rahway Reformatory, where he served a sentence of fourteen months for burglary, was arrested New Year's Eve at the Nonpareil Club in St. Mary's avenue, where, during a quarrel he is alleged to have cut Harry Smith, colored, of East Third street, about the face and head with a knife or razor. Smith is confined to his home as the result of many wounds. Connett was remanded for arraignment tomorrow.

IN WOMAN'S REALM

The KITCHEN CUPBOARD

FANCY ICES.

ICES make a delightful finish for the Christmas dinner, or they may be served in the evening at the dainty supper which in most households closes the day.

The ices may be placed in molds and pressed into some appropriate shape. If you have no mold plain white ice cream shaped into a ball and dressed with a spray of holly will make an attractive Christmas snowball.

The ices may be colored green with spinach juice, while red will be supplied by beet juice.

Chocolate ice cream or frozen plum pudding is lovely served on green blocks and dotted with pistachio nuts. Pink ices are pretty on green molds, and vanilla ice cream is served on pink ice and surmounted with pink flower candles.

Seasonable Delicacies.

Ginger Ice Cream.—Add to three pints of plain vanilla ice cream, just before it is thoroughly frozen, a cupful of preserved ginger chopped fine and powdered in a mortar. Mix it with three-fourths of a cupful of sherry wine, finish freezing and let stand for an hour before serving.

Cut or buy squares of angel food and trim them as nearly as possible into the shape of a ball. Dip them in thin white boiled icing and roll in shredded cocoanut. Serve the ices with these cakes.

Christmas Ice Cream.—Scoop out vanilla cream in one of the bell shaped dippers, which can be had for the same price as the cone shaped. Scatter crystallized sugar all over the mold and put a sprig of holly in the top, or pack in little red paper cases resembling flower pots and scatter grated sweet chocolate over the surface. Place a piece of feathery asparagus vine in the middle.

A Showy Dessert.

Frozen Plum Pudding.—Boil two cupfuls of milk with two ounces of grated chocolate. Pour it over eight egg yolks beaten with a cupful and a half of powdered sugar and cook to a stiff, smooth custard. When cold add one pint of cream, half a teaspoonful of ground cinnamon and a tiny pinch of cloves; strain into a freezer and freeze. Have three ounces each of chopped malaga raisins, figs, candied cherries and two ounces of crystallized apricots; add them to the frozen mixture and pack solidly in a pretty mold. Let remain buried in ice and salt for three hours. Unmold, decorate with holly and pour over each portion when served a warm maple nougat, which will candy deliciously on the frozen pudding.

VANITY'S VISIONS.

Fascinating Styles to Be Seen In Skating Caps This Winter.

Pretty skating caps are of black velvet with white cloth or velvet facings.

For the girl of fourteen or sixteen the Russian blouse suit is very becoming.

Entire crowns formed of small ostrich tips are being used on some of the smartest models in millinery.

A VERY SMART BLOUSE.

The illustration shows a very new and smart blouse. It has the long shoulder line, the Robespierre collar and the fashionable vest and frills.

JUDIC CHOLLET.

This May Manton pattern is cut in sizes for misses of sixteen and eighteen years. Send 10 cents to this office, giving number, 7704, and it will be promptly forwarded to you by mail. If in haste send an additional two cent stamp for letter postage. When ordering use coupon.

BABY CLOTHES.

(Republished by request.)

Oh, we who are making baby clothes
For a hope which will soon come true,
Do we take the pains with the works of our heart
As with that which our fingers do?

For, as we fashion the garments small,
With seam, and hem, and fell,
Our thoughts, be they careless, sad or glad,
Are shaping a life as well.

We are helping God this gift to make,
Which a blessing or sorrow may prove;
He gives us the fabric new and clean,
We fashion it with our love.

How careful are we that our hands be clean,
When we work on the garments white;
Do we pray that the heart keeps true its trust,
And our thoughts be clean and bright?

The clothes, at most, will soon wear out,
The thoughts remain for aye;
The clothes may be washed, if stains we see,
The thoughts are there to stay.

"Is not the life more than raiment," He said,
Who unclothed in a manger lay,
Whose life was so holy and pure a thing,
He gave it to show us the way.

Then our heart sings, as our fingers fly,
A tune so pure and bright,
That the baby heart may be happy and glad,
And pure as these garments white.

And when many years have passed away,
And the work of our hands is gone,
We will gather a harvest rich and rare
From the seeds that our hearts have sown.

—Helen Louise Featherstonhaugh, in Unity, 1895.

Two New Books:

"The Business of Being a Woman," by Ida M. Tarbell. Publishers, MacMillan Co. In these days of unrest among a large group of women a book like this has a great mission "The women who count are those who are at the great business of founding and filling those natural social centres we call homes. Humanity will rise or fall as that centre is strong or weak. It is the human care." Miss Tarbell shows the really worth while things which women must do. The sentiments are those on which the Mothers' Congress is based.

"A Montesorri Mother," by Dorothy Caufield Fisher. Publisher, Henry Holt & Co., New York. Mrs. Fisher was one of the first American mothers to come in close contact with Dr. Montesorri and her work. Her book is a practical exposition of the subject, and is of value to parents who wish to intelligently train their children at home.

Extract from a personal letter:

For February we are planning to have Dr. ——— to address our Parent-Teacher Association. We thought the meeting when Mrs. ——— spoke would be enough for December, but our mothers were so very unhappy about waiting until January that we just had to plan another meeting. One mother on the hospitality committee said: "If you will have another meeting I will take entire charge of the refreshments." This certainly is a wonderful work, is it not?

(Contributed by Mrs. Sandford).

BRYANT-LINCOLN SCHOOLS.

Parent-Teacher meetings will be held in the Bryant and Lincoln Schools next week. In the Bryant on Wednesday at 3:15, when Miss Erwin, Home and School Visitor for the Public Education Association for Ungraded Classes of the Public Schools of New York city, will speak on the "Danger of Unsupervised Play." Miss Erwin knows her subject from actual observation among the children as she is also a settlement worker.

At the Lincoln School the meeting will be on the next day, Thursday, at the same hour. Mrs. Doane will speak on "The Heart of the Child." All interested in these subjects will be welcomed. Refreshments will be served before each business meeting.

—Landlords and tenants meet through Press Want Columns.

Philosophical Phelix Says:

BUNTS AND PUNCHES

Kid Gleason and Jack Doyle make a good pair to put "pepper" into the Chicago White Sox.

Wilson, Carey and Hofman looks to be about the right dope to form the Pittsburgh outfield next season.

President Murphy, of the Cubs, is sweet on "Stub" Hauser, and is willing to trade several of his players for the St. Louis star.

For the first time since he became a major league player, 17 years ago, Larry Lajoie will be asked to accept a cut salary next year.

It looks as if Art Griggs, the Cleveland first baseman, is to become a victim of the ax in order to make room for "Doc" Johnston.

When Fenway Park, the home of the Boston Champions, is ready for business next spring the fans will find a very generous allotment of 25-cent seats.

Pitcher Charles E. (Buster) Brown has sent in his 1913 contract to the Boston Nationals. Manager Stallings figures that "Buster" will be one of the Braves' stars next season.

Pitcher George Mullin has signed to play with Detroit in 1913 for the 13th season, and he looks forward to doing the best twirling of his career. Evidently George is not afraid of the jinks.

"Scrappy Bill" Joyce, the former big leaguer, maintains that Amos Rusie's curve ball was faster than Walter Johnson's straight one. "Scrappy," like most of the old-timers, will not admit that the youngster of today plays real baseball.

Robert Bhesnahan refuses $1,000 per week to appear in vaudeville, and "Art" Shafer, of the Giants, says that he has quit baseball because he received too many "perfumed notes" from the fair sex. Pretty fine stuff to put over just before the close of the year 1912.

Austin Rice, the old time featherweight, is going to try the "come back" stunt.

Jim Savage and Al Kubiak have been signed to box 10 rounds at New Orleans on Jan. 18.

Now that Kenosha has closed down, Chicago sports are trying to start the boxing game at Gary, Ind.

Bill Lang, the Australian heavyweight and a hopeless "white hope," is now promoting boxing bouts in Melbourne.

Ed McGoorty will sail for France Feb. 15. He is to get a match with the winner of the Papke-Klaus fight scheduled for March 5.

A syndicate of Taft, Colo., sports offers a $20,000 purse for a clash between Champion Ritchie and Joe Rivers on Washington's Birthday.

It is said that Manager Joe Woodman and Sam Langford have parted company, and that Joe will look after the interests of "Porky" Flynn in the future.

CO. K ADMINISTERS DEFEAT TO MOHAWKS

Preliminary Game at Y. M. C. A. Yesterday Was Won by One-sided Score.

For the second time this season, the Company K basketball five triumphed over the Mohawk A. C., yesterday afternoon by a count of 40 to 14. Superior goal shooting on the part of Nolan and Darling kept the visiting team always in the van and the Monawks were never allowed a look in. The former massed up a total of ten field goals, or more than enough points to win the game single handed, while Darling chalked up six field goals and a brace of fouls.

The passing of the winners had the Y. M. C. A. aggregation completely bewildered and they seldom got their hands firmly on the ball, and when they did they invariably passed or shot wildly. Shranger, Moulton and Berse were the scoring trio of the losers, and the best work of these three was done by the former who got three field goals.

CLOSE GAME WON BY HOPE CHAPEL QUINTET

With Heron Brothers Leading Attack Final Score is 48 to 44.

Coming up from behind in the final minutes of play, the Hope Chapel basketball team nosed out a 48 to 44 victory over the Vis Society five, representing the Elizabeth Y. M. C. A., in the Chapel gym yesterday afternoon. Although the score was even up most of the way, Hope's chances appeared dubious until the latter part of the second half when the Heron pair got in their usual array of field goals which in this case meant a victory.

In beating the Elizabeth aggregation the local players tucked a particularly noteworthy scalp under their belts as the visitors came here with a formidable reputation, including a scare thrown into the camp of the Y. M. C. A. Ajax earlier in the season. Their team work and shooting seemed to be fifty per cent. better yesterday than when they played the Ajax and if lined up against that team now they would probably make an even better showing than they did before. Parsons loomed up as the visitors' star, getting nine field goals made from every angle on the floor and even through the rafters in the gym. The Heron brothers and Allen Snyder monopolized the Hope share of the limelight, doing most of their team's scoring.

AJAX FELL BEFORE PRESBYTERIAN FIVE

Slow and Indifferent Playing Results in a Decisive Beating.

Putting up an indifferent exhibition of basketball on the Y. M. C. A. court yesterday afternoon, the Ajax basketball team was trounced by the Presbyterian quintet to the tune of 36 to 20. The visitors led at all stages of the game and the final outcome was never in doubt.

The Dunning brothers, Frank and Preston, were the stars for the victors, the former getting five field goals and the latter ten. Peacock and Nash put up the best games for the losers.

HOPE GIRLS HELD TO SINGLE FIELD GOAL

Nonpareil Aggregation Amass Total of 33 Points Against Opponents 5.

Playing on the Hope chapel court yesterday afternoon, the Nonpareil girls' basketball team added another victory to their steadily increasing string with an easy win over the Chapel girls by a score of 33 to 5. The Nonpareils were, to some extent, handicapped by their unfamiliarity with the Hope court and this fact accounts for their low score in the first half. In the final period, however, the visiting team regained their shooting ability and the result was an overwhelming victory.

Miss Helen Hummel, captain of the victorious five, again displayed her basket shooting ability by totaling up eight field goals and five fouls. Her foul shooting was a trifle off color, however, and she missed a number of opportunities to gain points in the first half, but in the final period the whole team played together better and the result was 21 points against 12 made in the first half. Miss Ida Hummel, at forward, and Miss MacCauliff at center, also put up good scoring games, while Miss Clara Smith was the mainstay of her team at guard. For the losers, Miss Helen Saffron and Miss Clara Weber put up the best all around games and took a hand in what little shooting was done.

N. P. H. S. TEAM WON OVER ALUMNI FIVE

Fast and Exciting Struggle Decided by a Slim Two Points.

By taking the Alumni basketball team into camp by a score of 35 to 33, last night, the North Plainfield High School five hung up one of its greatest victories of the year. Outweighed, and, in the first half, outplayed, the undergraduates put up a remarkable struggle and deserved the victory which they annexed. During the first period of play the Alumni aggregation set a terrific pace and the N. P. H. S. five seemed contented to hang on as close as possible in the rear, but the second period started off with a rush and it was not long before Taylor and Love brought their team up on an even footing with their predecessors.

The game was played on the Saengerbund Hall court and although this was the first big game of the season on that floor, the gallery was packed with loyal N. P. H. S. cohorts who kept up a constant din. Considering the slippery condition of the floor, both teams put up a good article of team work and rapid passing and even more rapid basket caging featured the contest. After the game dancing was enjoyed by those present until a late hour. Manager Taylor instituted the program of dancing as an experiment last night but it proved such a great sucess that he has decided to repeat it after the game with the Tiger A. C. at Saengerbund Hall next Monday night.

THREE-POINT VICTORY WON BY 'PLAINS FIVE

Grace Church Second Team is Defeated in An Exciting Game.

The Parish House second squad, of Scotch Plains, triumphed over the Grace Church second team, of this city, on the 'Plains court last night by a score of 25 to 21. The game was a fast and clean exhibition of the indoor sport from start to finish, and neither team had decided advantage over the other at any interval. McDowell and Van Zandt starred for the losers, while Hooker was the shining light of the Parish House five.

BANKERS COLLECTED ON 'PLAINS COURT

Consolidated Basketball Team Triumphs Over Parish House First Team.

A basketball team playing under the name of Plainfield Banks, administered a 49 to 27 defeat to the Scotch Plains' Parish House first team on the latter five's court last night before one of the largest crowds that the Parish House has ever drawn. The Banks loomed up as an altogether too stiff a proposition for the 'Plains' team as soon as play started and gained an early advantage that they never relinquished.

Jack Ricketts led the attack for the visitors, getting a total of twenty-five points, while his brother occupied the position of runner-up with eleven points. For Scotch Plains, Lidgate and Thompson were, as usual, the individual stars. The former, however, was not up to his usual standard and had an off day as far as shooting was concerned.

N. P. H. S. FIVE WILL PLAY STRONG TIGER A. C. TEAM

Manager Carrol Taylor, of the North Plainfield High School basketball team, has arranged a game with the Tiger A. C. five, of Rutherford, to be played at Saengerbund Hall next Tuesday night. Last night's game and dance proved to be such a marked success that the N. P. H. S. manager decided to repeat the affair and after the game Tuesday night dancing will be enjoyed until twelve o'clock.

The contest with the Tigers gives promise of being a repetition of the game played with the Alumni last evening, which was decided by the close score of 35 to 33, as the Bengals are considered one of the fastest basketball teams in the district from whence they hail. Last Saturday night a quintet composed of the cream of Plainfield court material journeyed to Rutherford and fell before the Bengals by a score of 30 to 26.

IS BASKETBALL ON THE WANE?

Eastern College Critics Think Roughness Is Killing Sport.

"MAKE THE GAME CLEANER!"

Cry Is Sent Up by Lovers of Fast Contest—Suggestions Made For Speeding of Players—Is Much Cleaner In the Middle West.

By TOMMY CLARK.

Is basketball to live on its merits, or will it eventually be abandoned by the larger colleges now playing the game in the east? It is the general impression among collegians that the game is waning fast and losing many of its stanchest supporters. Roughness of play, it seems, has injured the game, but now the authorities are trying to doctor it up with the avowed purpose of saving it. Just what effect the new changes will have on the game is provoking attention from all parts of the country, especially from eastern quarters, where the foundation is not so solid.

"Make the game cleaner!" has been the slogan for several years. The recent action of the rulemakers indicates that the trend of their activities is in the above direction. That the game will be made cleaner this winter there seems no doubt, provided the authorities' plans do not miscarry. The alterations which have been made, according to the prominent basketball men, are for the better and come as a big step toward winning back lost supporters. Basketball players in the past have played the man instead of the ball, the usual rough play ensuing. Now the keynote of the rules is to play the ball and not the man. While no real vital changes have been made in the code over last season, the new rules adopted spell a reform which should make the game much better.

The novel scheme of numbering the players, such as will rule this season, appears to basketball rooters a good idea both from the spectators' and officials' viewpoint. With each man wearing a six inch number on the back of his jersey it will be easier in the future for officials and scorers to designate the players who have been guilty of committing more than the usual number of fouls. Fouling and shady tactics of various descriptions have been the game's chief drawback, but with the number system in vogue now it will be a hard matter for a player to get away with the so called rough house tactics without escaping punishment.

Quicker play, too, is the rule, and this appears to be another good move for improvement. In these lively days spectators demand speed and unless they get it show no disposition to enthuse. One reason why the play should be faster is because in the future baskets will not be tied and the ball will have free passage through the net. Another improvement is the rule pertaining to fouls. After a foul has been declared the referee has power to declare play ten seconds after the ball has been placed on the foul line. This rule, it is said, should have a good effect in creating fast play.

Basketball players in the west are not experiencing the trouble with rough work that has threatened to ruin the game in the east, according to Chicago critics. The college game in Chicago is a trifle rougher than some would have it, but the greater number of contests, those played in the high schools and Bible class league, have little of this. The "big nine" games are not of the gentlest, but they are clean cut.

GOULDING SETS 12 RECORDS.

Walker Leads All Rivals In Matter of Setting New Marks.

At the head of the 1912 record breakers is George Goulding, the great walker of Toronto. He hung up twelve new world's marks in this country this year. Billy Kramer, the cross country champion of the Long Island Athletic Club of New York, comes next with six new American figures to his credit.

But while Goulding and Kramer lead in the number of new marks, the feats accomplished by James Edward Meredith of Mercersburg academy, George Horine of the University of California and M. S. Wright of Dartmouth university stood out as the best. Meredith hung up a new world's mark for the classic half mile event. Horine established new world's figures for the running broad jump and Wright made a new world's mark in the pole vault.

The athlete who made the most spectacular and phenomenal records was James Thorpe of Carlisle Indian school. He hung up new marks for the all around championship of America and the pentathlon and decathlon, the two all round contests of the Olympic games.

San Juan to Have Race Course.

John L. Gray, acting as agent for the Porto Rican government, recently arrived in New York for a conference with August Belmont and other members of the Jockey club. He is seeking to obtain recognition and assistance from the Jockey club in behalf of a new race course to be constructed at San Juan. The course will have racing every Sunday throughout the year, he says.

WORLD'S LEADING ATHLETE TO ENTER Y. M. C. A. FIELD

According to a report now in circulation, Jim Thorpe, the wonderful Carlisle athlete who at present holds the world's all around athletic championship, is about to enter the International Y. M. C. A. Training School at Springfield, Massachusetts. Thorpe plans to become a Y. M. C. A. physical director at the completion of his course. This announcement is of particular interest to Plainfielders because of the fact that Charles H. Line, who graduated from the Plainfield High School in the year of 1908, is now taking the physical director's course at the Springfield school and will probably come in close contact with Thorpe as he is at present a student instructor in calisthenic work.

MR. GAVETT STARTS ON ANOTHER TERM

Mayor Reappoints Street Commissioner—Several Placemen Are Renamed.

Following the formality of organization by the election of Georeg S. Clay as president of the Common Council, last night, the new body hurriedly took up the more minor details incident to perfecting the organization and outside of that practically no business was transacted.

George B. Wean was reappointed city stenographer to the Council and committees at a salary of $600 a year. William A. Kline was reappointed janitor and page at a salary of $45 a month.

A little later, Mayor Percy H. Stewart, who was present, was notified that the Council was ready to receive any communication from him, and his first annual message was read. It appears in another part of The Daily Press.

The first oficial act of the Mayor was the re-appointment of Andrew J. Gavett as street commissioner. The appointment was confirmed. Frank H. Dunham was continued as an assistant to Tax Collector W. R. Townsend, at a salary of $83.33 a month, he to furnish a $5,000 bond to the collector.

The Board of Health in a communication presented a resolution adopted recently urging the Council to provide a municipal system for the collection of ashes and garbage. This was referred to the public affairs committee.

The Board of Health certified that it would need an appropriation of $7,500 for the coming year, adding that it may be found necessary to ask for more money to care for isolation cases. Council adjourned to meet Monday night, January 6, at 8 o'clock.

(By Telegraph to The Daily Press.)

Trenton, Jan. 2.—President-elect Wilson has accepted an invitation to be the guest of honor at a dinner to be given at the Hotel Sterling at Trenton on Monday night, January 13, the evening after the presidential electors cast their vote for Governor Wilson at the State House.

McCutchen, and they were assisted by the Misses Hedges, Harrington and Watson.

Among those who took part were: Miss Maud VanBoskerck, Hugo Brandt, Miss Waldo, Leonard Waldo, Randall H. Trumphy, Mrs. William Howard and Mrs. Harry L. McGee.

The annual New Year's Eve dance for the juniors was held Tuesday night.

RAID FOLLOWS SLASHING.

Seven men, all colored, were arrested yesterday by Roundsman Higgins and Patrolmen McDonald and O'Keefe, in a raid on an alleged crap game at the home of Elmer Rice, colored, on West Second street. A cutting affray in which Nolan P. Henry, of Liberty street, was slashed, it is alleged, by Rice, led to the raid. City Judge W. G. De Meza imposed sentences this morning ranging from $8 or forty days in jail to $10 or sixty days on Green, Charles Cassett, Brown and Johnson. Sentence was suspended on the other prisoners. Rite is said to have left town.

THE DAY AFTER NEW YEAR'S

GIMBELS

Welcome! Glorious Month of White—for You Have Brought a Sale of White That Will Make You Memorable in the Hearts of all Women.

The Woman Who Adores Beauty and Daintiness Will Find This as Fascinating as if it Were an Enchanted Dream.

$150,000 Worth of French & American Undermuslins for Women & Children

At Economies of 10 to 33⅓ Per Cent.

That this should be an unprecedented Quality Sale has been our ambition! So, for months, we have worked unceasingly to accomplish this result.

And to say that we were fastidious about every undermuslin in this sale would be expressing it quite mildly.

It would have been easy for us to go into the market and buy a thousand of certain stereotyped style of nightgown; as many more of another, and another, and so on—just to make a sale. But we were not satisfied to have what any one else could get. Therefore, in Paris as long ago as last Summer, we started to plan this Event. Since then, skilled French Needlewomen who devote much of their lives to the making of beautiful lingerie, have been busy making $50,000 worth of undermuslins for us—all kinds of lovely things, from the chemises, which we shall sell at 50c, to matched sets at $150, which surely would have charmed the beauty-loving Marie Antoinette.

On this side of the Atlantic the most expert lingerie makers have been busy making undermuslins that reflect the models that we brought from Paris. And all the while we have worked hand-in-hand with them, so that every piece of nainsook, cambric and batiste, every inch of lace, embroidery, veining and beading, should be the best possible quality. And we were not only fastidious about the sewing and every detail of finish, but we carefully fitted every garment, so that sizes should be right.

The Grecian Nightgown Is Charming
The Draped Effect Petticoats Are Delightful
The Combinations with Pantaloon Drawers Are Unique

Oh, there are so many lovely things to tell about, for all the styles are new and exclusive. However, it is impossible, for of Nightgowns alone there are more than 1500 models!

Laces---The Favorite Adornment

But laces on Lingerie were never thus! The fine real laces of which women are most fond—Carrickmacross, Point Venise and Bohemian—have been wonderfully imitated so that they might adorn some of the inexpensive American undermuslins. Of course, real hand-made specimens of these laces give beauty to much of the French Lingerie. And the always dainty Valenciennes and Shadow Laces have not been overlooked. And the new lace that resembles English cut-work is very pretty, too.

NO CHANGE IN BORO OFFICIALS

operation of the Council has been instrumental in preventing any increase in the amounts appropriated and has resulted in saving approximately $1,000 of the amount appropriated for the various departments.

"A change also has been made in the method heretofore in operation in macadamizing the streets or avenues of the borough. Heretofore, when a majority of the property owners on any street or avenue of the borough desired the same to be macadamized, the cost was ascertained and the property owners contributed their share voluntarily, but if one or more property owners refused to contribute, the macadamizing was then held up. There have been certain streets and avenues in the borough the macadamizing of which was held up for years on this account. The new method is that whenever any improvement is desired, an application is made in writing to the Council for such improvement describing the nature, kind and extent of the work or improvement desired, signed by ten freeholders of said borough, residing therein. The Council then by ordinance authorizes the improvement to be made and appoints Commissioners to assess the benefits conferred.

"This method has been found to work more advantageously to the borough and more satisfactorily to the property owners.

"Another measure of importance has been the adoption of the Tenure of Office Act—as to the Police Department—at the last election by the voters of the borough. This became operative immediately and there is no question when this department is taken out of the pale of politics and not subject it to the whims and caprices of every change in administration that it will lead to a higher tone to the department and add greatly to its efficiency.

"Another matter which received the attention of the Council was the unjust assessment placed upon the borough by the County Tax Board. When the Council was apprised of this assessment which was 14 and 3-10's per cent. or an increase of $622,950 above the assessment of 1911, the Council took steps immediately to contest the same and called a meeting of the taxpayers. At this meeting there was appointed a committee of citizens to act jointly with the Tax Committee of the Council. An appeal was made to the County Tax Board and a time appointed for a hearing. At this hearing the whole matter of unjust discrimination as regards the borough as to other parts of the county in making assessments was gone over in all its ramifications covering a period of eight years and the incontrovertable arguments advanced and the undisputed facts presented by the able chairman of the Council Tax Committee led the County Board, by a unanimous vote, to reduce the assessment 18 3-10 per cent. This reduction the borough will get the benefit of this year, 1913.

"The effort that has been made by the borough for the past five years towards the installation of a sewage system and which has been thwarted from time to time we sincerely hope will soon be successful. Through the joint plans entered into by Plainfield, North Plainfield and Dunellen, plans, maps, and location which have been adopted by the State Board of Health lead us to believe that before the end of the present year, the borough will be permitted to install the same. I want to thank the Council for the uniform courtesy that has been manifested and the pleasant relations that have existed during the past year and trust that the same may continue to exist during the year we are just entering."

The appointments made for the year 1913 by Mayor Clark, include few changes, and are as follows:

SPREADING NEWS OF THE CONTEST

Chamber of Commerce Interesting Wide Territory in Boost Campaign.

WATCH ON OFFICIALS

Committees to Attend Sessions of Council, Board of Health and Board of Education—Vote of Thanks to W. G. Besler.

Circular letters, numbering 1,000, describing the plan for the best advertising scheme and slogan for the city of Plainfield have been sent by the Chamber of Commerce to newspapers in New Jersey, Westchester county, N. Y., Manhattan and Bronx Boroughs, New York city, Long Island and Staten Island, and to all of the advertising agencies in New York city. The publicity committee at the meeting of the Chamber last night reported that the contest for the prizes to be awarded was proceeding with success.

The committee on improvement of the lighting in the business section of the city presented a lengthy report, showing that progress has been made in the matter of securing proper data and the securing of signatures for the petition which is to be presented to the Common Council. The committee is expected to present the petition to the Council at its next meeting. The committee is composed of W. S. Angleman, chairman; C. H. Hand, P. J. McDonough, M. C. Van Arsdale and J. C. Hansen.

In the advertising and slogan contest several complete plans have been submitted and numerous slogans have been sent in by people in this city. The committee stated that the local newspapers would co-operate with the Chamber in encouraging the residents of the city and borough to contest for the prizes.

Some of the slogans which were submitted to the council last night were: "Plainfield the Progressive Place," "Plainfield Makes Good," "The Future of Plainfield is the Future of Union County," "Plainfield Possesses Possibilities," "Plainfield Is On the Upgrade," "The Pride of Plainfield," "Plainfield—Your Ultimate Choice," "Plainfield Wants Business, But Doesn't Need It," "Plainfield, the City of Progress." Many more are expected.

The publicity committee reported that newspapers throughout the State have printed the terms of the contest in full and that the wide publicity is causing keen interest in the contest. The commitee urged the members of the Chamber to do their most to have Plainfield people, who know the community best, endeavor to win prizes on the subject, "The Advantages of Plainfield, and How to Make Them Widely Known."

A vote of thanks was given General Manager W. G. Besler, of the New Jersey Central, for his co-operation with the Chamber in all matters which have been brought to his attention. Secretary Burns told the members that some of the improvements that the Chamber had intended to ask of Mr. Besler had already been arranged by him on his own initiative.

It was voted that committees of three each should be appointed to attend the meetings of the Common Council, Board of Health, and the Board of Education, for the purpose of keeping the Chamber informed as to the progress of their work in behalf of the city.

Reports of the officers for the past year were deferred until the next meeting. The Chamber extended a vote of thanks to Secretary Paul Burns and Treasurer D. W. Littell for their services during the year of 1912 and a vote of thanks was also passed for the services of the other officers.

The officers elected to serve during 1913 are: George L. Babcock, president; Mayor Robert Clark, Jr., first vice president; P. J. McDonough, second vice president; D. W. Littell, treasurer; P. H. Burns, secretary; W. S. Angleman, counsel.

Directors: D. J. Carney, G. M. Clarke, Charles H. Hand, J. C. Hansen, Alexander Milne, J. J. Varley, C. L. Osborn, H. N. McMenimen, C. J. Repp, Stanley E. Gunnison and Joseph A. Greene.

MAYOR WATCHES COURT.

Mayor Stewart watched the City Court proceedings yesterday. After court he had a long conference with City Judge DeMeza securing full information regarding the workings of the police court. He seemed highly pleased at the manner in which the court was conducted.

FOUR FAMILIES LIVE IN ONE SMALL HOUSE

Five Souls Exist in One Room—Fire Reveals Their Condition.

Four families were found living together in a tiny two-story shanty at 211 Plainfield avenue Wednesday afternoon by the fire department when it answered an alarm for a small blaze in a closet under a stair casing on the first floor. Mr. and Mrs. Luna Rich, with three children, Frankie and Angeline, and a tiny baby, Gaita, suffering with an advanced case of whooping cough, were existing in two shaky-walled rooms on the first floor.

For some time the family, who are Italians, have kept house in one of the rooms. The other they seemed to have ignored as superfluous. Three beds, several tables laden with empty milk bottles, dirty glasses and medicine vials, five chairs, a stove and cooking utensils, and sundry other pieces composed the furnishings in the living room.

Upstairs, Miss Rosa Shelton, colored, and her aunt lived in more pretentious apartments. There was more room but little furniture. In a room in the rear of the building lives Mrs. Henrietta Roy, colored, with two babies. And in the basement Mrs. Mary Ealein, also colored, resides.

If the fire had gained headway before being discovered the place would have been as a tissue-paper box before the flames. The case presented a striking example of tenament-house conditions.

PLAINFIELD INDIANS FEAST WITH WESTFIELD BRAVES

District Deputy Great Sachem David C. Allen and his staff, of Miantonomo Tribe, Imp. O. R. M., trailed to Westfield last night where they raised up the chiefs of the Menno Tribe, No. 242. After the installation corn and venison were served to the visiting braves.

Tuesday night the District Deputy Great Sachem and his staff will travel to Cranford where they will install officers, and on Wednesday night they will install officers in their own tribe, Miantonomo Tribe.

Mayor Stewart spent the greater part of yesterday at the Mayor's office in the city building where he received many callers. It is his plan to have fixed office hours. The Mayor has not yet made the appointment of members of the Board of Health and Board of Education, but will probably do so after conferring with members of the Common Council and will be sent to that body on Monday night.

COUPLE REMANDED.

Miss Mabel Sanderson, 19 years old, of Bound Brook, and Charles Chatman, 27 years old, of 262 West Second street, arrested yesterday in Madison avenue on a charge of disorderly conduct were remanded for arraignment tomorrow to await the appearance in court of several witnesses whom the police are seeking.

GRAPPLING WITH SCHOOL PROBLEM

Citizens to Join With Officials in Studying the Boro Situation.

NEED OF ECONOMY FELT

Public Meeting Discloses Opposition to Plan of Using City High School for Boro Pupils—Statistics From Buttfield Vex Board.

After a discussion lasting more than two hours at a public meeting last night in the Somerset School building to discuss educational problems confronting the borough, a resolution was adopted authorizing the appointment of a committee of eleven, to investigate conditions and report at a future meeting. The meeting was called by the Board of Education at the suggestion of the Borough Council. The committee, which will be selected today by President J. H. Cooley, of the Board of Education, and Mayor Robert Clark, Jr., will include three representatives each from the Council and Board of Education, and five men representing the citizens at large.

An agreement with the Plainfield authorities whereby the borough school pupils could be sent to the city institution when the proposed High School addition is completed, was strongly urged by J. Brognard Betts, of 29 Washington avenue, assistant State Superintendent of Education, and Samuel St. John McCutchen, of 85 Myrtle avenue. This plan was attacked by former Mayor Newton B. Smalley, who said the elimination of a High School in North Plainfield would lessen the borough's identity and lower realty values.

The meeting was called to order by Mayor Clark. Dr. Cooley was chosen chairman and Borough Clerk Charles M. Dolliver was made secretary. The Mayor said the finances of the borough had reached a point where the Board of Education and the Council should meet in an effort to reduce expenses, for the betterment of the borough at large as well as the educational department.

Former Councilman W. J. Buttfield then arose with a lengthy statement of the borough's tax income and the expenditures made by the Board of Education for several years back, giving comparisons with Somerville, tending to show that North Plainfield was expending considerable more for educating its children than any other Somerset county municipality. This brought a storm of protests from the educational board and others present, who said it was taking the board at a disadvantage to confront them with statistics without notice, and without giving them chance to prepare replies.

Comparison between North Plainfield and any other city was also said to be unfair by Mr. Smalley. He agreed however that "if there is a town on the globe to be held down in the matter of expenses it is North Plainfield."

Mayor Clark during the discussion took the floor and made an address offering several sugestions and asserting that the valuation of North Plainfield's taxable property had not increased in accordance with the expense of the educational system.

Stanley McCutchen then stated that in his opinion there were too many High Schools in Somerset and Union counties and asserted that the borough would be benefited both educationally and financially by sending the High School pupils to Plainfield. The advantage of a large school for advanced education was also pointed out by several present. Captain William C. Smith joined former Mayor Smalley in opposing this solution.

FATHER IN SON'S SEAT.

Councilman Leighton Calkins upon taking his seat in the Council Wednesday received a large bouquet of roses from the Third Ward Republican Club, and Councilman Cornelius vanHerwerden and Francis J. Blatz each received bouquets of flowers from V. W. Nash, Jr. Among the interesting spectators at the meeting was Jan vanHerwerden, son of Cornelius vanHerwerden, who was formerly a member of the Council from the same ward.

WANTS WHOLESALE LICENSE.

The application made to the Common Council on Monday night by George Alcorn, of East Front street, is for wholesale license at 144 North avenue, and not for a retail license as stated yesterday. Mr. Alcorn has lived in Plainfield for fifteen years and is engaged in the advertising business.

PARENTS ARE GRATEFUL.

The parents of little August Fessler are expressing thanks to the many friends of the youngster who brought so many gifts to the lad when he was in Muhlenberg Hospital. August has just returned to his home after a month's stay in the hospital. He had a severe attack of appendicitis.

PARCELS POST IS LUSTY YOUNGSTER

Local Business Only Two Days Old and Needs Wagon Already.

INCREASE LOOKED FOR

Two Hundred Parcels Received Yesterday and Almost as Many Sent Out—Postmaster Sure Huge Institution Has Been Started.

Postmaster E. H. Bird is finding that the parcel post business is assuming larger proportions than he expected. The local business has already grown to such an extent that he has been obliged to engage a horse and wagon to deliver the parcels. During yesterday there was about two hundred packages of every description up to a weight of eleven pounds received here, and nearly as many sent out. Up to noon today more than one hundred parcels were received while the outgoing mail is steadily increasing.

The packages that have thus far been received contain about everything allowable under the parcel post rules, from fancy work to smoked sausage from Pennsylvania, and eggs from Virginia. Mr. Bird in speaking of the new service today said:

"I am convinced that the parcel post will grow to marvellous proportions until it becomes of the greatest possible benefit to the people. I feel confident that the express companies will not be able to compete with the system. This is evidenced at present by the fact that even with the reduced rate they do not begin to touch those fixed by the government.

"Since the introduction of the system here, there have been several instances of where persons have found the express company rates higher and have sent their packages through the mail."

ONE PLANET, TWO STARS IN "BETWEEN SHOWERS"

"Sir" Michael Donlin, slugger extraordinary of the Pittsburgh team, is the latest ball player to join the holdout league. Of course this is the time of the year for the players to refuse to sign contracts for the sporting editors must have something to write about and the news of a player holding out gives them a chance to talk of the whys and wherefors and incidentally satisfies the magnates who secure a whole lot of free advertising for their team. Donlin's statement however bears weight for Michael, two years ago, quit the baseball diamond for the stage, although every one at that time said that he would be back in the fold before half the season was over. Mike starts out right after the holidays under the management of Cliff Gordon with Charles Grapewin and Anna Chance in a three act farce "Between Showers" and if "Between Showers" makes good the Pirates may say good bye to Michael. Donlin would rather act than play ball. This has been demonstrated time and time again and he is authority for the statement that if the present tour proves a success he will retire permanently from the diamond and take up stage work seriously. Who knows but that some day he may aspire to play Shakespeare, but Barney Dreyfuss is not worrying over Donlin for the little Pittsburg owner is known to be very liberal and if he wants Donlin he will make it worth while for Michael to reconsider his determination to quit the national game. "Between Showers" is the attraction booked at the Plainfield theatre for tomorrow afternoon and evening.

ALLEGED SLASHER AGAIN REMANDED FOR HEARING

William Connett, colored, of Plainfield avenue, who is held for an alleged assault on Harry Smith, colored, of East Third street, was arraigned before City Judge De Meza this morning and remanded until tomorrow to await the outcome of his victim's injuries. Smith received serious stab wounds about the face and head at a dance New Year's Eve in the Nonpareil Club, in St. Mary's avenue, while in an encounter, it is alleged, with Connett.

WILLIAM JEFFERY RETURNS.

William Jeffery, after an absence of seven years, during which time he has been living at Berkeley Heights, has returned to Plainfield and is now residing with his family at 18 Norwood avenue. While living at Berkeley Heights, Mr. Jeffery continued to interest himself in Plainfield affairs. His office will be as before at 134 Park avenue.

COUNTY POOR HOUSE HIS IDEA

Overseer of Poor DeForest in His Annual Report Suggests Such an Institution.

LOCAL POOR FARM PAYS

Its Produce in Excess of What Was Used at Industrial Home Valued at $500—The Year's Record Contained in Report.

Among the annual reports presented to the Common Council this year one of special interest was that of Henry L. DeForest, overseer of the poor, who has given a great deal of his time to the successful conduct of the poor department, where he was assisted by Garret T. Dunham. An idea of what has been done at the city poor farm can be had from the following, which shows what has been raised there during the past year:

124 pounds of butter, 5,962 eggs, 4 bushels beets, 4 bushels onions, 10 bushels lima beans, 12 bushels string beans, 50 cucumbers, 25 bunches radishes, 25 watermelons, 200 small scallop squash, 5 bushels peas, 50 peppers, 100 bunches asparagus, 50 bushels sweet potatoes, 500 pumpkins, 1,500 cabbage, 12 citron, 3 bushels plums, 4 bushels pears, 300 bunches celery, 25 bushels tomatoes, 110 bushels turnips, 2,000 ears sweet corn, 174 bushels white potatoes, 74 bushels rye, 700 bushels corn, 21 bushels buckwheat, 15 bushels oats, 6 tons hay, 3½ tons rye straw, 9 pigs, 1 calf, 2,570 bundles corn stalks, 100 chickens. No account was kept of green onions, lettuce, kale and spinach.

Mr. DeForest in reviewing the work of the year, says that he hopes that within the next few years a county almshouse may be provided. He adds that the expense of maintaining an institution for the fourteen to twenty inmates of this almshouse is large, but more important is the fact that in several instances different care is needed for the inmates. In a unit of two hundred, which would perhaps be the size of an institution which would care for all the almhouse inmates in the county now, the necessary care required by each inmate could be far better given. Mr. DeForest's idea is that the greatest advantage of such an institution would be that those who can do light work could be made to do it regularly and that they would be far happier for regular employment suited to their ability.

Continuing, Mr. DeForest says: "The city farm has produced this year, in excess of its needs and that of the almshouse, produce valued at about $500, of which $874.36 has already been realized and the remainder is to be sold shortly. The city's interests at the almshouse have been exceedingly well cared for by Mr. and Mrs. Culver, assisted by Mrs. Shiras and others."

A summary of the financial statement shows a balance for 1913 of $2,102.09, with no liabilities. The expenses for the department for the past year were $3,248.72, with $2,725.12 expended for outdoor relief. The office expenses, including salaries, etc., made the total disbursements $8,062.69. The receipts, including last year's balance, together with appropriation for improvement of almshouse and $4,500 transferred from the general fund, amounted to $13,350.

NOW E. J. BEBOUT'S OTHER LEG IS BROKEN

After being disabled for nearly half a year as a result of breaking his right leg, Everett J. Bebout, of Cameron avenue, is now confined to his home with a broken left leg, the accident having happened yesterday. For some days, Bebout had been able to move about with the aid of a cane and yesterday afternoon he decided to drive to his place of business. When going along Plainfield avenue in the vicinity of West Eighth street, his horse took fright at A. M. Griffen's auto truck which was moving in the same direction and when the truck got ahead, the horse made a dash after it.

James Bebout, who was in the rig with his father, jumped from the carriage but the latter, because of his injured right leg, was unable to get out. By the time the son had stopped the frantic animal the horse had kicked the elder Bebout several times, breaking both bones of his left leg.

The injured man was placed in the auto truck and taken to his home where Dr. C. B. Lufburrow attended him. It will be many months before his patient will be able to leave the house, the physician says.

Bebout's right leg was broken by a cart load of brick being upset on it when he was emptying the load at Martine terrace on July 9 last.

JUDGE CASE PLANS TO RETIRE FROM BENCH

Requests Governor to Name Successor—He Will Resume Law Practice.

Judge Clarence E. Case, who has presided over the Somerset county courts for several years, has requested Governor Woodrow Wilson to appoint some one in his place. When the appointment is made the judge will resume the practice of law in the office of his late partner, Alvah A. Clark, with whom he was associated when appointed to the bench. This action on the part of Judge Case is taken at the request of Mr. Clark's family, who desire that the latter's large law practice be preserved so far as possible.

Judge Case was appointed to the bench by Governor J. Franklin Fort in April, 1910, to succeed Louis M. Schenck. He is a Republican, but his successor will be a Democrat. Among those mentioned as possible successors to Judge Case are Assemblyman A. M. Beekman, Mayor William V. Steele, Daniel H. Beekman and County Attorney John A. Frech.

BALKY HORSE SEEMS ROOTED TO PARK AVENUE PAVEMENT

Mayor Percy H. Stewart, Chief of Police Kiely, former Mayor Newton B. Smalley, of North Plainfield; S. P. C. A. officials, and numerous citizens were all unsuccessful in their efforts to persuade a balky white horse to navigate along Park avenue today, after the animal had halted between Front and Second streets.

The horse is the property of Charles H. Seay, colored, of 833 Richmond street, and was attached to an ash wagon. About 9 o'clock he became rooted to a spot in Park avenue and refused to budge, to the enjoyment of a shifting crowd of several hundred spectators who lined the sidewalk throughout the day. Up to 3 o'clock the horse was still standing in the roadway despite all efforts.

Several women who thought the animal was being mistreated called on Mayor Stewart who telephoned the police to investigate.

Circular letters, numbering 1,000, describing the plan for the best advertising scheme and slogan for the city of Plainfield have been sent by the Chamber of Commerce to newspapers in New Jersey, Westchester county, N. Y., Manhattan and Bronx Boroughs, New York city, Long Island and Staten Island, and to all of the advertising agencies in New York city. The publicity committee at the meeting of the Chamber last night reported that the contest for the prizes to be awarded was proceeding with success.

The committee on improvement of the lighting in the business section of the city presented a lengthy report, showing that progress has been made in the matter of securing proper data and the securing of signatures for the petition which is to be presented to the Common Council. The committee is expected to present the petition to the Council at its next meeting. The committee is composed of W. S. Angleman, chairman; C. H. Hand, P. J. McDonough, M. C. Van Arsdale and J. C. Hansen.

In the advertising and slogan contest several complete plans have been submitted and numerous slogans have been sent in by people in this city. The committee stated that the local newspapers would co-operate with the Chamber in encouraging the residents of the city and borough to contest for the prizes.

Some of the slogans which were submitted to the council last night were: "Plainfield the Progressive Place," "Plainfield Makes Good," "The Future of Plainfield Is the Future of Union County," "Plainfield Possesses Possibilities," "Plainfield Is On the Upgrade," "The Pride of Union County," "Plainfield—Your Ultimate Destination," "Plainfield Wants Business, But Doesn't Need It," "Plainfield, the City of Progress." Many more are expected.

The publicity committee reported that newspapers throughout the State have printed the terms of the contest in full and that the wide publicity is causing keen interest in the contest. The commitee urged the members of the Chamber to do their most to have Plainfield people, who for the community best, endeavor to win prizes on the subject, "The Advantages of Plainfield, and How to Make Them Widely Known."

A vote of thanks was given General Manager W. G. Besler, of the New Jersey Central, for his co-operation with the Chamber in all matters which have been brought to his attention. Secretary Burns told the members that some of the improvements that the Chamber had intended to ask of Mr. Besler had already been arranged by him on his own initiative.

Public Meeting Discloses Opposition to Plan of Using City High School for Boro Pupils—Statistics From Buttfield Vex Board.

After a discussion lasting more than two hours at a public meeting last night in the Somerset School building to discuss educational problems confronting the borough, a resolution was adopted authorizing the appointment of a committee of eleven, to investigate conditions and report at a future meeting. Comparison between North Plainfield and any other city was also said to be unfair by Mr. Smalley. He agreed however that "if there is a town on the globe to be held down in the matter of expenses it is North Plainfield."

Mayor Clark during the discussion took the floor and made an address offering several sugestions and asserting that the valuation of North Plainfield's taxable property had not increased in accordance with the expense of the educational system.

Stanley McCutchen then stated that in his opinion there were too many High Schools in Somerset and Union counties and asserted that the borough would be benefited both educationally and financially by sending the High School pupils to Plainfield. The advantage of a large school for advanced education was also pointed out by several present. Captain William C. Smith joined former Mayor Smalley in opposing this solution.

FATHER IN SON'S SEAT.

Councilman Leighton Calkins upon taking his seat in the Council Wednesday received a large bouquet of roses from the Third Ward Republican Club, and Councilman Cornelius vanHerwerden and Francis J. Blatz each received bouquets of flowers from V. W. Nash, Jr. Among the interesting spectators at the meeting was Jan vanHerwerden, son of Cornelius vanHerwerden, who was formerly a member of the Council from the same ward.

PARCELS POST IS LUSTY YOUNGSTER

Local Business Only Two Days Old and Needs Wagon Already.

INCREASE LOOKED FOR

Two Hundred Parcels Received Yesterday and Almost as Many Sent Out—Postmaster Sure Huge Institution Has Been Started.

Postmaster E. H. Bird is finding that the parcel post business is assuming larger proportions than he expected. The local business has already grown to such an extent that he has been obliged to engage a horse and wagon to deliver the parcels. During yesterday there was about two hundred packages of every description up to a weight of eleven pounds received here, and nearly as many sent out. Up to noon today more than one hundred parcels were received while the outgoing mail is steadily increasing.

The packages that have thus far been received contain about everything allowable under the parcel post rules, from fancy work to smoked sausage from Pennsylvania, and eggs from Virginia. Mr. Bird in speaking of the new service today said:

"I am convinced that the parcel post will grow to marvellous proportions until it becomes of the greatest possible benefit to the people. I feel confident that the express companies will not be able to compete with the system. This is evidenced at present by the fact that even with the reduced rate they do not begin to touch those fixed by the government.

"Since the introduction of the system here, there have been several instances of where persons have found the express company rates higher and have sent their packages through the mail."

ONE PLANET, TWO STARS IN "BETWEEN SHOWERS"

"Sir" Michael Donlin, slugger extraordinary of the Pittsburgh team, is the latest ball player to join the holdout league. Of course this is the time of the year for the players to refuse to sign contracts for the sporting editors must have something to write about and the news of a player holding out gives them a chance to talk of the whys and wherefors and incidentally satisfies the magnates who secure a whole lot of free advertising for their team. Donlin's statement however bears weight for Michael, two years ago, quit the baseball diamond for the stage, although every one at that time said that he would be back in the fold before half the season was over. Mike starts out right after the holidays under the management of Cliff Gordon with Charles Grapewin and Anna Chance in a three act farce "Between Showers" and if "Between Showers" makes good the Pirates may say good bye to Michael. Donlin would rather act than play ball. This has been demonstrated time and time again and he is authority for the statement that if the present tour proves a success he will retire permanently from the diamond and take up stage work seriously. Who knows but that some day he may aspire to play Shakespeare, but Barney Dreyfuss is not worrying over Donlin for the little Pittsburg owner is known to be very liberal and if he wants Donlin he will make it worth while for Michael to reconsider his determination to quit the national game. "Between Showers" is the attraction booked at the Plainfield theatre for tomorrow afternoon and evening.

ALLEGED SLASHER AGAIN REMANDED FOR HEARING

COUNTY POOR HOUSE HIS IDEA

Overseer of Poor DeForest in His Annual Report Suggests Such an Institution.

LOCAL POOR FARM PAYS

Its Produce in Excess of What Was Used at Industrial Home Valued at $500—The Year's Record Contained in Report.

Among the annual reports presented to the Common Council this year one of special interest was that of Henry L. DeForest, overseer of the poor, who has given a great deal of his time to the successful conduct of the poor department, where he was assisted by Garret T. Dunham. An idea of what has been done at the city poor farm can be had from the following, which shows what has been raised there during the past year:

124 pounds of butter, 5,962 eggs, 4 bushels beets, 4 bushels onions, 10 bushels lima beans, 12 bushels string beans, 50 cucumbers, 25 bunches radishes, 25 watermelons, 200 small scallop squash, 5 bushels peas, 50 peppers, 100 bunches asparagus, 50 bushels sweet potatoes, 500 pumpkins, 1,500 cabbage, 12 citron, 3 bushels plums, 4 bushels pears, 300 bunches celery, 25 bushels tomatoes, 110 bushels turnips, 2,000 ears sweet corn, 174 bushels white potatoes, 74 bushels rye, 700 bushels corn, 21 bushels buckwheat, 15 bushels oats, 6 tons hay, 3½ tons rye straw, 9 pigs, 1 calf, 2,570 bundles corn stalks, 100 chickens. No account was kept of green onions, lettuce, kale and spinach.

Mr. DeForest in reviewing the work of the year, says that he hopes that within the next few years a county almshouse may be provided. He adds that the expense of maintaining an institution for the fourteen to twenty inmates of this almshouse is large, but more important is the fact that in several instances different care is needed for the inmates. In a unit of two hundred, which would perhaps be the size of an institution which would care for all the almhouse inmates in the county now, the necessary care required by each inmate could be far better given. Mr. DeForest's idea is that the greatest advantage of such an institution would be that those who can do light work could be made to do it regularly and that they would be far happier for regular employment suited to their ability.

Continuing, Mr. DeForest says: "The city farm has produced this year, in excess of its needs and that of the almshouse, produce valued at about $500, of which $474.36 has already been realized and the remainder is to be sold shortly. The city's interests at the almshouse have been exceedingly well cared for by Mr. and Mrs. Culver, assisted by Mrs. Shiras and others."

A summary of the financial statement shows a balance for 1913 of $2,102.09, with no liabilities. The expenses for the department for the past year were $3,248.72, with $2,725.12 expended for outdoor relief. The office expenses, including salaries, etc., made the total disbursements $8,062.69. The receipts, including last year's balance, together with appropriation for improvement of almshouse and $4,500 transferred from the general fund, amounted to $13,350.

NOW E. J. BEBOUT'S OTHER LEG IS BROKEN

After being disabled for nearly half a year as a result of breaking his right leg, Everett J. Bebout, of Cameron avenue, is now confined to his home with a broken left leg, the accident having happened yesterday. For some days, Bebout had been able to move about with the aid of a cane and yesterday afternoon he decided to drive to his place of business. When going along Plainfield avenue in the vicinity of West Eighth street, his horse took fright at A. M. Griffen's auto truck which was moving in the same direction and when the truck got ahead, the horse made a dash after it.

James Bebout, who was in the rig with his father, jumped from the carriage but the latter, because of his injured right leg, was unable to get out. By the time the son had stopped the frantic animal the horse had kicked the elder Bebout several times, breaking both bones of his left leg.

The injured man was placed in the auto truck and taken to his home where Dr. C. B. Lufburrow attended him. It will be many months before his patient will be able to leave the house, the physician says.

Bebout's right leg was broken by a cart load of brick being upset on it when he was emptying the load at Martine terrace on July 9 last.

NEW THEATRE ON WEST FRONT ST.

Morris Abrams, Jacob Fass and Harry Dreier to Have it Built.

BUY MARTINE BUILDING

Moving Pictures and Vaudeville—Theatrical Man to Be Hired as Manager—Two Story, Tile-Front Structure Planned.

A. E. C. Marsh, the architect, has drawn plans for a theatre to be built on West Front street on the property formerly owned by D. W. Martine, which is now occupied by St. Stephen's cady company and J. W. Moledezky, the stationer, and it is expected that the work of tearing down the old frame structure will be started within a short time. The theatre will be chiefly used for moving pictures and vaudeville.

The property was purchased by J. Lapinsky & Co., shoe jobbers of New York, for Morris Abrams, Jacob Fass and Harry Dreier. They will engage an experienced theatrical man to manage the amusement house.

The new building will be two stories high in front, faced with red and green tile. It will have a frontage of fifty-five feet. There will be stores on either side of the main entrances with offices on the second floor. The theatre proper will be 300 feet deep with no gallery. In addition to the entrance and exit, on Front street there will also be an exit into West Second street.

The theatre will be furnished in mission style. The architect has left nothing undone in providing for the comfort and convenience of patrons, and the owners plan to give only high-class entertainments.

JUDGE CASE PLANS TO RETIRE FROM BENCH

Requests Governor to Name Successor—He Will Resume Law Practice.

Judge Clarence E. Case, who has presided over the Somerset county courts for several years, has requested Governor Woodrow Wilson to appoint some one in his place. When the appointment is made the judge will resume the practice of law in the office of his late partner, Alvah A. Clark, with whom he was associated when appointed to the bench. This action on the part of Judge Case is taken at the request of Mr. Clark's family, who desire that the latter's large law practice be preserved so far as possible.

Judge Case was appointed to the bench by Governor J. Franklin Fort in April, 1910, to succeed Louis M. Schenck. He is a Republican, but his successor will be a Democrat. Among those mentioned as possible successors to Judge Case are Assemblyman A. M. Beekman, Mayor William V. Steele, Daniel H. Beekman and County Attorney John A. Frech.

BALKY HORSE SEEMS ROOTED TO PARK AVENUE PAVEMENT

Mayor Percy H. Stewart, Chief of Police Kiely, former Mayor Newton B. Smalley, of North Plainfield; S. P. C. A. officials, and numerous citizens were all unsuccessful in their efforts to persuade a balky white horse to navigate along Park avenue today, after the animal had halted between Front and Second streets.

The horse is the property of Charles H. Seay, colored, of 835 Richmond street, and was attached to an ash wagon. About 9 o'clock he became rooted to a spot in Park avenue and refused to budge, to the enjoyment of a shifting crowd of several hundred spectators who lined the sidewalk throughout the day. Up to 3 o'clock the horse was still standing in the roadway despite all efforts.

Several women who thought the animal was being mistreated called on Mayor Stewart who telephoned the police to investigate.

TWO CAUGHT IN RAID.

Marshal John Hermann, of the North Plainfield police, raided a house last night at 40 Chatham street, and arrested May Brook, 23 years old, and a man 33 years old said to be a member of a wealthy and highly respected family living in Plainfield. He gave the name of William Cleys, and his address as 217 West Front street, but admitted to Chief Weiss that the name was a fictitious one. The Brook woman is being held for arraignment next Tuesday. She is represented by Francis J. Blatz. "Cleys" pleaded guilty before Recorder Gano this morning, who suspended sentence.

PARCEL POST IN FULL SWING THROUGHOUT COUNTRY WITH ADVENT OF THE NEW YEAR

Washington, Jan. 3.—With the parcel post now in full swing throughout the country the postal authorities are busy watching for flaws in the new system. A thorough test of weeks, perhaps months, will be necessary before the success or failure of the service will be known. Postmaster General Frank H. Hitchcock and his assistants are very sanguine that the delivery will prove invaluable to business men and the public generally. The favor with which the new scheme has been received since its inception on the first day of the new year encourages them in this belief. Mr. Hitchcock formally set the parcel post in operation exactly at midnight as the bells pealed out the arrival of the new year by mailing a package to Postmaster Edward M. Moran, of New York. It contained a loving cup. Later it will be engraved with an inscription descriptive of the occasion and placed in the National museum. One of the most keenly interested men in the group when Mr. Hitchcock mailed the gift was Fourth Assistant Postmaster General Peter V. DeGraw, who is in active charge of the new order.

As the result of the accident he had to close his shop and his customers were obliged to shave themselves for New Year's Day.

The first package sent out from the local postoffice in the parcels post inaugurated Wednesday, was mailed Wednesday morning by a local resident and was sent to the Far West. PENSION SYSTEM FOR ALL EMPLOYES

Nearly 200,000 Western Union and Bell Telephone Workers Share Benefits.

The employes of the Western Union Telegraph Company and the Bell Telephone system in this city have been officially notified by President Theodore N. Vail that the new plan of benefits for disability due to accidents or sickness, of insurance and of pension, went into effect with the new year.

"Nearly 200,000 men and women who are now giving their best years to the telephone and telepragh service of the country," says the President's communication, "will henceforth be assured of assistance in the exigencies of life, for which all are not able to provide, and will also be assured of a provision for their declining years.

"It is but natural that every employe should desire to assume the normal responsibilities of life and to surround himself and those dependent upon him with the things that make life complete and enjoyable. Unforseen happenings may make these responsibilities heavy burdens, and whatever may be put aside for the day of misfortune, must in the beginning be small and accumulated slowly. A realization that obligations must be met in times of misfortune, as well as in times of prosperity, has made the need of something beside merely an old age pension appear absolutely vital.

"Employers buy and employes sell service. Perfect service is only to be found when fidelity and loyalty are reciprocal in employer and employe. It is this relationship that brings satisfaction and success to both.

"The intent and purpose of the employer in establishing a plan of benefits, is to give tangible expression to the reciprocity which means faithful and loyal service on the part of the employe, with protection from all the ordinary misfortunes to which he is liable; reciprocity which means mutual regard for one another's interest and welfare.

"This is justice, and without justice and sympathetic interest, we cannot hope to do a thoroughly good piece of work.

"The American Telephone and Telegraph Company, which centralizes the Associated Companies into one system, with one policy for universal service, has considered the interests of all workers and has made a comprehensive plan possible. It is the administrative clearing house and the underwriter of the necessary reserve fund, upon which a general plan must depend.

"One illustrative instance of the exercise of these functions has been the unifying of the various interests so that any employe may aspire to work anywhere in the country with uninterrupted benefits, and any company can obtain any man it needs, without prejudice to his welfare.

"In behalf of the management of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company the Western Union Telegraph and the Western Electric Companies, let me say that we have a personal interest in our public service, a personal interest in our employes and a personal interest in our common country. It is our boys that what we have already accomplished has helped the men and women of the Bell system to become happier and better American citizens, and it it our New Year's wish that what has been planned for the future will contribute to their constantly increasing happiness and betterment."

NURSERY WANTS PIANO.

Ten circles responded to the roll call at the meeting of the executive board of the City Union of the Kings Daughters yesterday. It was reported that 305 children were cared for at the Day Nursery last month. It was decided to hold a mother's social once a month. The nursery has had the use of a piano which has now been removed, and the executive board would like to secure an instrument as a means of entertainment. Mrs. F. W. Jones, president of the union, would like to hear from someone interested.

Michael Gebbel and Justin Hodulik were slashed in a knife-duel in which the two participated on New Year's night on the streets of Dunellen. The former recived a bad scalp wound which required sevral stitches by Dr. Thomas H. Platt, Jr., and Hodulik suffered a deep cut in the right breast and a slashed lower lip.

BOYS' SECRETARY HAS NEW DEPT. PROGRAM

Work to Be Furthered and Broadened by Y. M. C. A. Junior Chief.

C. William Bingeman, boys secretary of the local Y. M. C. A., has outlined a complete new program for the furtherance of boys' work and will put it into operation during January, February and March. All of the boys' classes have been completely reorganized and the new method was adopted in an effort to interest a wider circle of the juvenile class in the association. Because of the present condition of the Plainfield High School schedule, due to the crowded condition of the school, certain conflicts have occurred in the Y. M. C. A. schedule of gym classes.

A new schedule to include basketball, gym work, swimming, Bible study, shop work, current events and instruction in life-saving, has been drawn up and the boys' work taken up with renewed activity. During the next three months the work of the association will be carried on with a view to organizing the annual exhibition of the boys' work which will be held some time in March. New schedules have been drawn up for the College, Indian and National Leagues and the High School Freshman class, to consist of basketball, athletics and Bible study.

Bible classes will be held as follows: Monday afternoon for the Indian League members, Tuesday afternoon for the College League and the Plainfield Business College classes, Wednesday afternoon for the Leal's class and Friday afternoon for the High School class.

An added feature of the department work will be the Saturday morning rally meetings, the first of a series of twelve starting tomorrow morning.

Another new feature will be instruction in a new method of promoting extension work. Each boy in the association will be provided with a card on which will be recorded weekly payments of two cents a week and the returns from this together with the receipts of the annual exhibition will be turned over to F. C. Wurtz, the representative of the local Y. M. C. A. in foreign missionary work. He is at present stationed at Valparaiso, Chili.

MAYOR ON CONSOLIDATION.

Mayor Stewart sums the situation up correctly in his first annual message when, in discussing the importance of the consolidation of the city and borough, he says:

"We are experiencing now the inconvenience of having two municipal governments interested in problems which affect us as a single community, such as the water supply, sewage, fire protection, police, schools, parks, lighting and hospitals. A united city could lay out broad connecting avenues and a park system along the line of Tier's pond and the brook. The land should be acquired now, before there is too great an increase in its value and such a park system would be desirable, not only from the point of view of health and the beautifying of the city as a whole, but also because of the great increase in value which would accrue to adjacent property. After the acquisition of the land, a certain amount could be spent from year to year in improvements, so that the burden upon the taxpayer would not be too great at any one time."

But as to the suggested public park, that to us seems of minor importance however much it may be desired. Had a merger of the two municipalities been first brought about, the sewerage problems and other perplexing questions could be more readily and satisfactorily solved. Even the public school system would be benefitted for it would mean one big High School instead of two as at present under separate administration and thereby tend towards economy. Of more weight still it would mean a single set of civil officers in a community where the taxpayers are now put to the expense of supporting two separate sets. When the campaign for this object was waged some years ago, thirty-nine reasons were advanced to prove why there should be a consolidation. Since then the number of good arguments have increased and will continue to do so as the years speed by.

As to how best the needed fusion can be accomplished, the Mayor presents what most of our citizens will agree is the only correct method and the one that will not bring a repetition of the last campaign when political bitterness among rival politicians caused so many to lose sight of the real question at issue and to take sides according to their factional feelings. To overcome this, Mr. Stewart very wisely says:

"I am aware that there has been opposition to consolidation, both in Plainfield and North Plainfield. But every year that this matter is delayed, is dertimental to both cities. There is no disposition, I am sure, on the part of either city, to force such a consolidation. It must be done, if it is to be done, with the cordial co-operation and support of the citizens of both Plainfield and North Plainfield, and if either city does not believe that it would be advantageous, it will unquestionably decide against such a plan, but small considerations in a matter of this importance should be swept aside and the general good of the community should be the paramount consideration."

A DEADLY PASTIME.

During the last few days the newspapers have published the usual large number of drowning accidents due to boys playing "tickley bender" while skating. The lesson of this dangerous practise was brought home to us only a day or two since when the homes of two families were darkened on the eve of the new year by deaths caused in this manner. "Boys will be boys" and it does seem that it is impossible for parents to prevent them from engaging in pranks that may cost their lives, but a word of warning at this season may not be inappropriate. In large centres of population, this risk is guarded against for none is allowed to skate on the ice except when the "red ball" is raised, but of course such safeguards cannot be expected in out of the way places as the New Market pond.

Coming still nearer home, attention is called to the fact that invariably when the weather moderates after a cold snap, boys and girls are to be seen skating on Tier's pond, the ice being so thin that it bends beneath their weight. That no lives have been sacrificed is little less than marvelous. As the old adage says, there is no use locking the stable door after the horse is stolen, and the suggestion is made that either the city or borough authorities introduce the "red ball" signal at Tier's pond.

For a long time Plainfield has been called the Queen City of the Garden State. That rather strikes us as being something like an attractive slogan to a homeseeker. It might even move a jaded business man in search of a new factory site.

If Mayor Stewart joins hands with Mayor Clark in a campaign of education on the proposed consolidation of the city and borough, they will find that the majority of the taxpayers in the community favor the merger.

The contributing editor for tomorrow's issue will be Patrick S. Kiely, chief of the police department. He will tell you some things about police work that you don't know and his editorial is sure to be instructive.

Just as a matter of curiosity a good many citizens would like to know who it is that gives Gloekler and Findlay the encouragement that moves them to apply for a return of their licenses.

Just because a brindle bull pup was sent through the parcels post from New York yesterday, we do not believe that the business is going to the bow-wows.

LESS AMOUNT ASKED FOR MOSQUITO WORK

At the last meeting of 1912 held by the Union County Mosquito Extermination Commission the budget for the coming summer's work was made up. It was submitted to the Union County Board of Freeholders. The budget as fixed called for $26,000, or $2,000 less than the sum provided last year.

A request for an additional $4,000 was asked to be set aside as an emergency fund to insure ample funds for carrying on the work. The freeholders did not take any action regarding the emergency fund but included the $26,000 in the tentative budget passed.

The budget as made up has been approved by Director Lipman, of the State Experimental Station at New Brunswick. The commission was not obliged to submit figures showing the expenditures proposed at this time, as the laws under which the extermination work is carried on allow the demand to be made any time prior to April 1.

Following are the amounts fixed: Cleaning salty marsh area, $2,500; oil expenses, $2,000; crude oil, $750; laborers' salaries, $7,875; inspectors' salaries and expenses, $11,000; tools and equipment, $500; miscellaneous, $655; office salaries, $720, making a total of $26,000.

TO SWEAR IN SPECIALS.

Little Grand Duke Subject of Rumor, Romance and Plot

As the royal subject of gossip, rumor and plots the little Grand Duke Alexis of Russia figures as the boy of mystery and romance. Principally the mystery relates to the physical and mental condition of the little fellow, who is now eight years old.

If the czarevitch is a hopeless cripple with tuberculosis of the hip, which is generally believed, he can never take the throne on the death of his father, the czar.

Recently a highly romantic story as to the royal boy was published all over the world and was quickly denied. According to the repudiated report, the czar sent to Berlin and summoned Dr. Janes Israel, one of the greatest surgeons in the world, to perform an operation on the boy's hip. Before he would come, it was reported, the famous surgeon demanded a fee of $25,000 and a royal dispensation for the Jewish race. The dispensation was to be that of placing the Jews of Kiev and Odessa, who had been long persecuted, on an equal, free and unmolested footing with the Christians. The report stated that the czar quickly agreed to both the demands of the physician, and the operation was successfully performed.

Dr. Israel himself is credited with denying the romantic story, declaring he did not perform any such operation.

Previous to the report of the operation a rumor gained wide credence that the little czarevitch had been stabbed frightfully by an assassin on board his father's yacht, the Standart. This later was denied.

Now a new heir presumptive to the throne is being discussed.

High society in Russia is accustoming itself to the idea of accepting Grand Duke Dmitri Paulovitch, twenty-six years old, a nephew of the present czar, as heir presumptive to the throne. He has not heretofore been generally mentioned as possible successor to the crown, and his name comes as a complete surprise to every one except those who by reason of their position either belong to the court circle or have close relations with it.

No Cripple May Be Czar.

The physical disability of the little czarevitch is now recognized as complete among all the intelligent classes of the empire. The dangers and disadvantages of having a crippled sovereign are understood in all states, but a crippled autocrat of all the Russias, with its great empires and peculiar problems, is unthinkable. It is now known that the czarevitch has tuberculosis of the hip joint as well as hemophilia, the hereditary disease to which a considerable number of princes have been subject and which is characterized by excessive bleeding from the slightest wound. The czarevitch is doomed to lifelong invalidism.

The path to the throne has been cleared for Grand Duke Dmitri by a remarkable sequence of family occurrences. The names of the Grand Duke Michael and Grand Duke Cyril are those which have been most mentioned in connection with the succession since the news of the young czarevitch's condition began to filter out from the palace to the public. Yet all the time the court circle has recognized that, barring the unforeseen, Grand Duke Dmitri will be officially recognized as heir presumptive.

Grand Duke Dmitri is the only son of Grand Duke Paul, the youngest brother of the late Emperor Alexander III. Grand Duke Michael, the czar's only brother, would naturally be heir presumptive now, as he was during the time preceding the birth of the czarevitch and when the czar was having a succession of daughters, were it not for one of those family occurrences mentioned which are so fortunate for Dmitri. The fact is that Michael has before announced and now repeats that he has married under the prescribed forms of the orthodox church Mme. Scheremetiefsky, divorced wife of a Russian cavalry officer. He has two children by her and has formally renounced his right of succession.

Philosophical Phelix Says:

BASKETBALL PROGRAM FOR SCOTCH PLAINS

Teams of Both Sexes Will Clash in a Double Header on Parish House Court.

Two games of basketball, one between girls' teams and the other between boys' teams, are scheduled to take place on the Scotch Plains' Parish House court tomorrow night. In the preliminary contest the girls representing the Parish House will line up against the Dunellen girls and because of the great amount of rivalry existing between these two factions the game will probably be a hotly fought one. Several efforts were made earlier in the season to bring these two fives together, but for one reason or another the meeting was deferred until tomorrow night.

In the main game the Parish House first team will clash with the Company K five from this city. The boys' quintets are evenly matched and a fast contest should be the issue.

The teams will lineup as follows:

COMPANY K.	PARISH HOUSE.
Seals, forward	Thompson
Darling, forward	Lidgate
Thompson, center	Martsen
Howell, Nolan, guard	Hatfield
Harrison, guard	Dallas

A shift will be made in the girls' lineup, Miss Helen Southard playing guard, and Miss Sadie Lee playing center. Miss Jahn will be shifted from guard to forward.

N. P. H. S. VS. TIGER A. C.

Manager Carrol Taylor, of the North Plainfield High School basketball team, has announced a shift in his schedule which will effect the Tiger A. C. game carded to be played at Saengerbund Hall next Tuesday night. The contest with the Bengals will be staged on Monday night instead of Tuesday as previously announced and dancing will be held after the basketball game.

DOES NOT WANT SECOND SACK JOB

Jack Martin Disturbed at Farrel's Plan to Shift His Position.

SHORTFIELD SPECIALIST

Has Played Same Position All His Life, and Doesn't Think He Can Do As Well in Any Other, Says John.

Jack Martin, peppery shortstop, who went to the New York Highlanders on Monday in a trade for Tommy McMillan with Rochester in the International League, has called at the Press office with a denial of the report that he is after a second-sack berth. Jack says he "never thought of such a thing."

President Farrell's report on the New York-Rochester deal had it that Martin was to go into the 1913 season as a second baseman. Martin doesn't welcome the chance to shine at the halfway station. He said yesterday that as the guardian of the midway he could not do himself justice. By nature he is a shortstop, argues John; he has cavorted between second and third ever since he wore knee-breeches and he doesn't intend to abandon his specialty, unless the next manager of the Yankees insists after a respectful—oh, a very respectful—protest.

If Frank Chance takes up the burden that Wolverton found too much the former Plainfield player will probably work in the short field. It was the P. L. who has looked upon Jack with covetous eyes for the last twelvemonth and the local lad does not fear a shift if the former Cub leader gets into harness at the Polo Grounds. Yes, the Polo Grounds, for the Yanks will share the Giants' lot this year.

Jack says that there is "nothing to it" but Rochester this season in the International. Ganzel's team, he remarks, will have little competition from the rest of the bunch. Two budding peaches will be seen in the outfield of the former champions and the rest of the lineup needs no introduction. Jack enjoyed his stay in the minor organization but he has no scruples about accepting terms in fast company.

Martin has fully recovered from the injury he received with the Hilltoppers the latter part of last May when he was "beaned" by one of Walter Johnson's "smoke" balls. The injury troubled him throughout the 1912 playing season and as a result he had to be content with a .279 batting average with Rochester although normally he hits close to the .300 mark. When he was farmed to Ganzel's squad in the early part of last season he was clouting the pill for the grand mark of .320, and he promises to repeat this year.

Martin is a heady, all-round player. He is normally a heavy hitter, a good baserunner—there are few who excel him in this department—and a sensational, although at times erratic, fielder. This morning he received his unconditional release to the New York club from Rochester and is anxious for the season to begin. Good health, with a fast "whip," he hopes, will land him well up among the infielders who travel in the fast set.

MOHAWK A. C. VS. SCOTCH PLAINS TOMORROW NIGHT

In the local Y. M. C. A. gym tomorrow night the Mohawk A. C. will play the Scotch Plains Parish House second five a return game. Last Saturday night the Mohawks defeated the Parish House delegation by a slim margin of three points, the score being 21 to 18 and the visitors tomorrow night will try to even up matters with their rivals. Although no main game has as yet been announced, there will probably be another contest besides the Mohawk-Scotch Plains one.

PARISH HOUSE THIRD FIVE WON FROM MT. PELASANT

Exhibiting good team work the third basketball team of the Parish House of Scotch Plains, sent the Mt. Pleasant, Jr., aggregation down to defeat yesterday 23 to 14, on the Parish House court. The home team recently organized, used seven players in order to select a permanent five.

Barry caged the ball four times for a total of eight points, leading his mates in this respect. Howell also played well, scoring twice besides preventing his opponents from making goals many times.

For Mt. Pleasant the forwards, Mowen and Hooker, excelled.

HOPE CHAPEL WILL PLAY SUMMIT BASKETBALL FIVE

Hope chapel will have the strong Chapel Club basketball team as its opponents on the Hope chapel court tomorrow night. The Chapel Club hails from Summit and is the same aggregation that played the Ajax in the local gym last Saturday night. In that game the Ajax pulled ahead in the last few minutes of play and won. The strength of the Summit five is well known and Hope chapel will have a stiff proposition on its hands in disposing of the team tomorrow night.

The lineup will be as follows:

HOPE CHAPEL.	SUMMIT C. C.
T. Heron, forward	T. Voeglen
J. Heron, forward	Cooke
Doig, center	Dean
Leighs, guard	E. Voeglen
A. Snyder, guard	Fisher

COLOR LEAGUE CINCHES.

In the Color League games at the Y. M. C. A. last night, the Reds defeated the Greens by a score of 22 to 0 and the Orange defeated White to the tune of 26 to 1. Both of the games were slow and uninteresting, the winners walking away from their victims with ease.

NEW CLIMBING ROPES.

Two new climbing ropes were added to the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium equipment last night. The new features are of the most approved type and fill a long felt need. One has been installed at each end of the gym.

BASKETBALL TONIGHT.

The Hope chapel second team of this city, will trolley to Scotch Plains tonight and play the second five of the Scotch Plains Parish House. Both of these juvenile quintets are made up of fast material and from previous records appear to be evenly matched. The game will be called at 8 o'clock.

K. OF C. POOL TOURNEY.

Cannon and O'Keefe are scheduled to meet in the Knights of Columbus pool tournament to be held in the lodge rooms tonight. The game will be called promptly at 8 o'clock.

CYCLE CLUB ELECTS, AFTER WHICH IT BURNS CIGARS

These officers were elected at the meeting of the Plainfield Cycle Club last night: President, James Neal; vice president, Percy Haberle; recording secretary, A. B. Dunham; financial secretary, Hary Weiss; trustees, Jack Horner, George Simon and George Hartfelder; Road captain, Ernest Mantz. The various committees were appointed by the chair and speeches were made by both the outgoing and the incoming officers.

In the annual report the financial secretary stated that the club finances had reached high-water mark during the past year and that they still held to it.

After the meeting was adjourned the members enjoyed a smoker. The January entertainment of the club will be held at the home of Jack Horner, on Elm place, and Harry Weiss will act as host.

MOTORCYCLE NOMINATIONS.

The first January meeting of the Plainfield Motor Cycle Club will be held tonight in the club rooms. The nomination of officers for the ensuing year will be held. The election of officers will take place at the meeting to be held January 17.

ELKS LOSE THREE.

The local B. P. O. E. bowling team fell down in the three games with Jersey City last night and lost by the scores of 804-920, 894-940 and 917-928. The last game was the best of the series.

SCHEDULED FOR TONIGHT.

Battling Nelson vs. Frankie Russell, 10 rounds, at New Orleans.

DROVE FAMILY OUT.

New Year's celebrating in liquid form so completely upset the mind of Thomas Louis, of 207 Manson place, that when he returned home last that night he drove his wife and two small children from their beds to the street. Neighbors hearing of the incident telephoned the police and Louis was arrested. After a severe lecture had been administered by the court and the offender had taken a pledge to abstain from the use of liquor for one year, sentence was suspended.

IN WOMAN'S REALM

The KITCHEN CUPBOARD

STEWED PRUNE DAINTIES.

THAT homely fruit, the prune, may be so disguised that those who once complained of it will welcome its reappearance on the table.

Suggestions for preparing stewed prunes are given here:

With Whipped Cream.

Stewed Prunes With Whipped Cream.—Wash and rinse nice large prunes and let them stand overnight in water. Stew them in this water and add enough sugar to make a rich sirup. Remove the stones when the fruit becomes soft and insert walnut meats in their places. Serve in a glass dish heaped with whipped cream.

Prune Sponge.—Take a pound of prunes, wash and let these soak overnight in water enough to cover them. In the morning stew them in the same water until tender. Add a cupful of sugar and put through a sieve to remove all stones and skins. To the pulp add half a cupful of water, juice of a lemon and an orange. Beat until foamy. Then add the stiffly beaten whites of two eggs and beat until all are thoroughly mixed. Serve with whipped cream.

Handsome Desserts.

Prune Mold.—Take a pound of prunes, three ounces of granulated sugar, an ounce of gelatin, the rind and juice of a lemon, a pint of water and six drops of cochineal. Boil the soaked prunes in the water and sugar until soft; then take out the stones and crack the kernels and add them, with the lemon juice and rind, to the cochineal and gelatin dissolved in a little water. Stir all until thoroughly mixed and then pour into a mold and put away in a cool place to stiffen. Turn out into a glass platter, garnish with whipped cream and serve.

Prunes and Apple Sauce.—Take half a pound of prunes, a slice of orange or lemon, a quarter of a cupful of sugar and as much water as is needed. Soak and boil, as usual. When cold remove the stones, fill the center with a teaspoonful of dry, tart apple sauce or with the same amount of nuts and jelly. Press two prunes together, leaving them spread apart after filling. This, if shaped a little with hands, will form a ball. Then use as center the ices known as bombes.

To make the nut and jelly filling take the meats from six English walnuts and chop these very fine. Mix with enough tart jelly to moisten and fill the prunes with this.

Anna Thompson.

STYLE SUGGESTIONS.

Novel Combinations of Colors In New Fashion Creations.

One of the loveliest afternoon frocks recently displayed was of paisley silk in the dull, rich coloring appearing in the delicately tinted shawls. Pale yellow charmeuse draped gracefully over the skirt had one point extending over the bodice front. Tobacco brown velvet was used for the collar and sash.

This little undercoat for a child is exceedingly useful when the weather is especially cold and extra wraps are needed. It can be worn under the ordinary coat. The model was made of quilted silk, with an interlining of lamb's wool. Any material convenient may be substituted for the silk.

JUDIC CHOLLET.

This May Manton pattern is cut in sizes for children from two to six years of age. Send 10 cents to this office, giving number, 7706, and it will be promptly forwarded to you by mail. If in haste send an additional two cent stamp for letter postage. When ordering use coupon.

WE HAVE LEASED THE MARKET STREET SIDE OF OUR STORE

and will close out our Men's Furnishings, Shoe and Hat Depts. AT ONCE with utter disregard to the cost or the value of the merchandise!

A Sale That Will Attract The Attention of The Whole City!

In the future we will sell Men's Clothing exclusively. When this firm was reorganized two years ago we thought seriously of discontinuing the Shoe, Hat and Men's Furnishings departments, for it was our desire to devote our efforts to the making and selling of Men's Clothing only. These departments have always been unusually successful, and it seemed like a foolhardy thing to give them up, since they produced a handsome revenue, and having just reorganized, it was urged that we retain them.

Our clothing business has increased tremendously, and it is now apparent to us that we could make it grow much larger if we were not hampered by these other departments. So we finally decided to discontinue them for good and lease the space they occupy on the Market Street side of our store. The entire stocks of these departments—the Shoes, Hats and Haberdashery—will be closed out at once in the quickest possible time, and beginning tomorrow we will inaugurate the greatest sale of its kind ever known in this city. The new prices will simply make you GASP. You never saw such a slaughter of prices as you will witness here tomorrow.

OUR MAMMOTH CLOTHING STOCK MUST BE GREATLY LESSENED ALSO, and in order to accomplish our purpose in short order, we have reduced the price of every Overcoat in our store EXACTLY ONE-HALF. Doors open punctually at 8:00 tomorrow. We will send none of these goods C. O. D. or on approval, nor can we accept any orders for charge accounts, or for exchange or return.

ENCOURAGING REPORT ON CITY PLAYGROUNDS

Commission Tells How Work Has Been Improved During Year.

The Board of Playground Commissioners in its third annual report lays the following facts, in part, before the Council:

Under the careful and satisfactory direction of C. R. Bostwick, supervisor, the activities at Parker Field increased substantially during the past year, the attendance there being as follows:

May 1st to July 5th (55 days), 2,000; July 5th to Sept. 5th (51 days), 7,391; Sept. 5th to Oct. 26th (54 days), 1,655; total, 11,046.

Estimated number of spectators at the various events held at Parker Field, 7,500; average attendance, July 5th to Sept. 5th, 145; average attendance, May 1st to Oct. 26th, 72; number of scheduled baseball games, 145; organizations using the field during the season, 38; number of tennis players, partly estimated, 1,000.

From May 1st to June 26th the apparatus was in use from 3 to 5 p. m., in charge of Irving Schenck; from May 1st, on all Saturdays, from 9 a. m. to 12 m., and from 2 to 5 p. m.

The game of tennis has been enjoyed by such a large number of persons at the Parker Field during the past season that it is necessary, if possible, to build two additional courts next year.

Herewith is also submitted report of H. E. Parker, secretary of the Commission, for the year 1912, as follows:

SCHOOL PLAYGROUNDS.

It is a great satisfaction to note that there was a large increase over 1911 in the number of children attending each playground this year, in spite of the fact that the attendance of many boys was naturally diverted to Parker Field. Attendance figures are given for both 1911 and 1912.

Bryant Playground was open 49 days in 1911 with a total attendance of 7,373 children, average daily attendance of 150. This year it was open 46 days, with a total attendance of 7,228, average daily attendance 158.

Franklin Playground was open 54 days in 1911 with a total attendance of 5,596 children, average daily attendance 108. In 1912 the same ground was open 50 days with a total attendance of 8,588, average daily attendance 171.

St. Mary's Playground was open 51 days in 1911, with a total attendance of 4,816, average daily attendance 95. This year it was open 47 days with a total attendance of 4,814, average daily attendance 102.

Irving Playground was open 53 days in 1911 with a total attendance of 12,311, average daily attendance 231. This year it was open 49 days with a total attendance of 12,906, average daily attendance 265.

The grand total attendance for 1911 was 30,136; for this year it was 33,596. The daily average attendance for 1911 was 587; for 1912, 699.

SUPERVISION.

The supervision at every ground has been most efficient. To the performance of the difficult task of directing the play activities of large groups of children of different ages, races and temperaments, our supervisors have brought rare consecration and thorough preparation. It is to be doubted if five persons better qualified for their work could have been chosen than the Misses Moe, Sherwood, Hayes, French and Shephard. Special mention in this connection should be made of the janitors at the different schools, all of whom rendered valuable assistance.

PROGRAM.

A large place in the program of activities, than in other years, was given to folk-dancing and to industrial work. The effect was to enable the supervisors to keep a much larger number of children interested.

RESULTS.

Through the Playground Commission, the City of Plainfield is supplying wholesome and healthful recreation during the summer months to hundreds of its children. By doing this, the city is not only preventing weakness, vice and disease in the men and women of tomorrow and thus insuring the continued soundness of its own life, but its operation of playgrounds also causes the child to think of the city as its benefactor and thus teaches a powerful lesson in patriotism. From these points of view, the value of the playground as a training school for citizenship cannot be overestimated.

H. E. PARKER, Secretary.

The report of the treasurer is also herewith submitted, showing balance on hand December 31, 1912, of $1,493.70.

The treasurer's report shows that the receipts aggregated $4,075.35.

The disbursements follow: Parker Field, $914.34; School Janitors, $204; Supervisors, $980.14; secretary to commission, H. E. Parker, for two years, $200; Supplies, $79.19; cartage, $8; printing, stationery and postage, $70.19; Miscellaneous, $125.79.

The total disbursement, $2,581.65; balance on hand December 31, 1912, $1,493.70.

The foregoing figures illustrate the importance of the playground work in our city.

Although the school playgrounds and Parker Field have only been in use three years, it is clearly demonstrated that good work is being accomplished.

The members of the Board of Playground Commissioners having the responsibility of the success of this work, are deeply interested in the same, and are hopeful that another year will bring our playgrounds and Parker Field into still greater popularity with the youth of our city.

It is the intention, if possible, to eventually have Parker Field a recreation ground for even those not participating in sports.

Another winter arrangements should be made for skating there.

Additional features for out-door life and recreation will depend upon our Mayor and Common Council lending their assistance in favoring such appropriation as is necessary to carry on this very important work.

Respectfully submitted, George P. Mellick, president; Lindsey Best, H. W. Marshall, Charles B. Morse, George L. Babcock, Jr., Board of Playground Commissioners.

SENATOR "JEFF" DAVIS DIES AT LITTLE ROCK

(By Telegraph to The Daily Press.)

Little Rock, Arkansas, Jan. 3.—United States Seantor Jeff Davis, an eccentric member of the Upper House at Washington, died at his home here early this morning, of apoplexy, in his fifty-first year, having been born June 27, 1862. Prior to becoming senator he was a practicing attorney, then public prosecutor, attorney general of the State, and for three terms the Governor of Arkansas, the only man to occupy the chair for that length of time. His present term, which was his first, would have expired this year.

READY FO RTURKS' OFFER.

(By Telegraph to The Daily Press.)

London, Jan. 3.—The opening of today's peace conference at Stajames palace was postponed until 6 o'clock in order to enable the Turkish delegates fully to consider the fresh instructions from Constantinople and to shape them for presentation to the envoys of Bulgaria, Greece, Montenegro and Servia.

THIRTY-THREE CONVICTED LABOR LEADERS LANDED SAFELY IN FEDERAL PRISON IN KANSAS

Fort Leavenworth, Kan., Jan. 3.—The special train bearing the 33 labor leaders sentenced to terms of one year and one day to seven years for their connection with the great dynamite conspiracy arrived here safely. The convicted prisoners are now in the federal prison while their lawyers are busy trying to secure a new trial. From the time the train left Indianapolis after the men had been sentenced by Federal Judge Albert B. Anderson until it reached this place the greatest precautions were taken to prevent any attempt at communication with the prisoners and to guard against accident. The doors of the cars were locked and the shades drawn, and armed deputies stood on each platform whenever the train stopped. Deputy United States marshals were on duty at the stations here. The railroad had been carefully inspected to prevent any attempt to ditch the train. The prisoners were watched by curious crowds here, just as they had been when they were taken from the county jail at Indianapolis.

NEW!—What an interesting word it is! To have the first glimpse of a new style—what a flavor it gives to these wintry days!

And everything here is new out of the boxes!

New fashions—short sleeves on blouses, Bulgarian and other notes of peasant fashions in the lacings, the colored printings and embroideries, the many novelty materials. New ideas everywhere!

But our White story of 1913 is of SPECIALIZATION.

Shining out like jewels from the varied collections are—

Specialty 1

Exclusive Reproductions of Paris Lingerie

Handkerchief linen and fine lingerie cloth trimmed with the real hand-made filet lace, the real hand-made imported crochet lace and the best imitation valenciennes in real patterns are used to reproduce exactly some of our own Paris lingerie.

They are the finest of machine-made underclothes.

Every detail is an exquisite copy of the hand-made garments from Paris.

Materials are the same.

Styles the same.

Buttonholes are hand-made.

Pearl buttons are of highest quality.

Pin plaits are as delicate as any hand-stitched.

Laces are whipped on by machine.

French figured, twill and satin ribbons in soft shades of pink and blue are used, and the tiny pin plaits at the foot are no larger than the narrowest of French hand-run tucking.

They are the nearest approach to French underclothes ever made in this country and the price comparisons are interesting.

A machine-made combination of handkerchief linen with imported hand-made crochet lace priced $18; if French and hand-made would have to be $35. The petticoat to match at $22.50 would have to be $45 were it French, the drawers at $5.75, the corset cover at $6.75, the combination at $12, the chemise at $8.50; the gown at $10 would if French be at least twice these prices.

The handkerchief linen set with real filet (sold separately if preferred) includes a gown with two wide rows of filet around the neck and is priced $27.50; the French gown it copies has only one narrow row of this lace and costs $42.50.

The handkerchief linen with the best imitation valenciennes in the real patterns includes the long skirt at $18, the chemise at $7.50, the combination at $12, the drawers at $5.75, corset cover $5.75 and gown at $12.

Specialty 2

Fine Lingerie with Valenciennes

Lingerie cloth underclothes closely reproducing Paris lingerie with rich ribbon run through buttonholed eyelets and trimmed with Valenciennes in real patterns as follows:

Nightgowns, $5, $6.75, $6.75.
Combinations, $4.50, $5, $5.75, $6.75.
Petticoats, $5, $7.50, $8.75.
Corset covers, $3, $4.50, $5.
Drawers, $4.50.

The absolute simplicity and beautiful quality of these underclothes make them extremely desirable.

Specialty 3

Poret Lingerie Reproductions

The original set from Elise Poret imported for our French shops has been exactly reproduced in fine batiste and may be had in chemises and gowns. The French gown was priced $50—the duplicate is here at $8.50. Its square collar forms short revers in front and the wide satin ribbon is run through the material, the sleeves are short puffs, the cuffs are pointed and lace-edged, and there are pin plaits back and front and around the foot.

Simple hemstitched gowns at $3; lace trimmed, $3.85, and more elaborate models, $7.75 and $8.50. Other garments correspondingly moderate in price.

Specialty 4

Paris Lingerie

For the first time we offer nightgowns with hand-embroidered festoon at $1.35 and elaborately hand-embroidered chemises at 65c.

Twelve styles of embroidered $1 chemises
Handkerchief linen chemises, with hand-made Valenciennes, $5.75.
Embroidered drawers, 85c upwards.
For the first time, long petticoats of French cotton, with hand-embroidered festoons, $1.25.

Brides will do well to see the price changes we have made on all our odd sizes and broken assortments of lingerie, including the large collections of nightgowns at $5, $7.50, $12, $15 and $20.

Combinations $2.50, $3, $3.50, $3.75; with lace and embroidery, $5; others $6.75, $7.50 to $10.
Princess slips, $3.50, $5 and $8.50.

BALL PLAYER RESCUES BOY FROM TIER'S POND

Edward S. Harvey, a boy living on New street, was rescued late yesterday afternoon from Tier's pond by the quick action of Jack Martin, shortstop of the New York American League ball club. Harvey was running across the thin ice from the dam toward the pavilion when the surface broke a few yards from the stands and dropped him into the water.

Martin, who chanced to be walking in Watchung avenue with his fiance, Miss Myra Hinckle, saw Harvey go down, and hastening over the ice to the boy, dragged him to safety. Harvey was dazed and numb from cold but a change of clothing and a warm fire at home restored him.

ABDUL BAHA'S VISIT IN U. S.

Famous Persian Wins Many to New Religion.

Abdul Baha (Abbas Effendi), who would unite the religions of the world, has won the respect of Christendom, though he belongs to the race of Moslems.

This unique character is at the head of a religious faith, or, rather, a new interpretation of all the best faiths, which numbers 10,000,000 adherents all over the globe. He spent quite a long visit in this country and departed recently, after having won many hundreds of converts to Bahaism.

Though Bahaism is the most liberal sort of belief, requiring no churches, no priests and no ritual, it has incurred the intense enmity of the Mohammedans, in whose land it originated seventy years ago. Thousands of Bahaists have been martyred.

THE OLD OAKEN BUCKET.

That Famous Moss Covered One That Hung in the Well.

Not far from Boston is located the well which inspired the familiar lines of Samuel Woodworth to the "Old Oaken Bucket." Every time the place is visited many new traditions are told concerning the famous old bucket about which people have been singing these many years. Having drunk deep of the sparkling waters between whistled snatches of the familiar refrain, how disconcerting it was to have the charm broken by learning that the original "old oaken bucket" was stolen shortly after his well known poem became famous!

The youngest daughter of Samuel Woodworth, the author, who died in Berkeley, Cal., often used to tell about the real old oaken bucket and of the sadness which came over the household on the day it was stolen. It seemed as if one of the family were missing. In this age of souvenir collection who knows but that some day the real old "moss covered bucket that hung in the well" may turn up in a museum or serve as a water tank in the show windows of some enterprising advertiser?

There is no other water bucket in the world so enshrined in homely, genuine romance as this one. Even the golden goblets of royalty and the treasured chalices of the crusaders have never awakened the universal and popular interest attained by the "old oaken bucket that hung in the well" until it was stolen and carried away in the zenith of its fame.—Joe Mitchell Chapple in National Magazine.

MANY BOYS AT Y. M. C. A. RALLY

More Than 200 Attend First of Series of Twelve Meetings.

YOUTHFUL LIFE-SAVERS

Four Members Who Qualified for U. S. Volunteer Corps Receive Certificates—Honor Emblems Won at Summer Camp Are Presented.

More than 200 boys attended the first of a series of twelve rally meetings for the boys of Plainfield in the Y. M. C. A. auditorium this morning and enjoyed the interesting program arranged by Secretary C. William Bingeman. In the absence of Physical Director Lindner, of the Rahway Y. M. C. A., who was scheduled to talk on "Swimming Standards," Stanley Robins, a former president of the local boys' department, gave a short impromptu talk.

At the conclusion of the talk, Mr. Bingeman presented the life saving certificates and auxiliary emblems to the boys who had won them at the State Boys' Camp at Lake Wawayanda during the past summer. Those who were admitted in the United States Volunteer Life Saving Corps were William Wheelan, Addison Newkirk, Harold Tomlinson and James Hermann.

As an award of merit for having learned to swim while connected with the local boys' department the following were presented with silver buttons: William Morrell, John Hammann, Joseph Angerbauer, Charles Gates, Rufus Searles, Albert Renni, Henry Windham and Harold Condict.

Seven boys and one leader were presented with honor emblems consisting of an orange "W" on a white felt background for securing 100 or more points in the five classified divisions of camp activity during the past summer as follows: Physical, social, education, moral and woodcraft. The following qualified: J. H. Vander Veer, 103 points; Harold Tomlinson, 172 points; Ray Manley, 156 points; Franklin Newell, 126 points; T. Smith, 125 points; Edward Crone, 116 points; Irving Manley, 113 points, and Carter Goodrich, 107 points.

Following the meeting the members went to the gymnasiuum where Physical Director Ostlin put the boys through a medley drill which will be used in the annual boys' department exhibition next month. The meetings will be continued through the months of January, February and March every Saturday morning and something of interest to boys of all ages will be planned at each gathering.

In announcing the names of the Plainfield boys who won the honor emblem by securing the necessary one hundred points at the Jersey Boys' State Camp during the past summer, Charles R. Scott, the camp leader, commended the local winners highly.

COMMITTEE TO STUDY BORO SCHOOLS NAMED

The newly elected councilmen of North Plainfield, E. S. Boyer and Allan Cowperthwait, commenced their duties last night, at the first resgular meeting of the Council in 1913. Mayor Robert Clark, Jr., officially welcomed them and assigned them to the desks vacated by W. J. Buttfield and Morris C. Van Arsdale, whose places they fill.

The Council transacted routine business. Overseer of the Poor Fred Becker was voted $200 to start the new year; $25 was granted the fire department for its petty cash account; $250 to Collector George Brown for extra clerical help; $200 for rent and fuel for the tax office, and Borough Clerk C. M. Dolliver's bill for extra work in sewer matters was ordered paid.

A resolution was adopted on second reading authorizing the substitution of a "Public Affairs and Light Committee" in place of the "Printing, Stationery and Supply Committee." Fred Urhart was reappointed a call man of the fire department for a term of one year and Walter Dennis was again sworn in as a special marshal. The suspense account of $527.58 was ordered transferred to the account of the street department to pay outstanding bills rendered during 1912.

Councilman Alexander Milne is to draft an ordinance making it compulsory for any one who wishes to open a street in the borough to first secure a permit, and to leave a deposit with the street department to insure the proper repavement of the road where it is torn up. The next meeting of the Council will be on January 17.

An Exception.

COMMUTER LOST IN NEWARK BAY

Strong Wind Blows Him From Train as He Grabs at Hat.

VICTIM UNIDENTIFIED

His Ticket Was for Roselle—Said to Have Been Broker—Body Not Found—Insisted on Riding on Platform.

While the wind was blowing ninety miles an hour, a man whose identity has not yet been learned, was blown from a New Jersey Central passenger train as it was crossing the Newark Bay Bridge at 5 o'clock last night. According to the report from the train crew, the man's body struck the edge of the bridge and bounded off into the icy water. There is no doubt that he was drowned. Morris Rarick, of Dunellen, the conductor, had the train stopped while a search was made for the man, but not a trace of him could be found.

The victim was a commuter and, according to Rarick, his ticket was for Roselle. He was described as being nearly six feet tall, about 35 years of age, smooth shaven and well dressed, and is said to have been a broker.

He boarded the train at Jersey City about 4:40 o'clock and when it pulled out of the terminal he insisted on riding on the platform. Mr. Rarick got him inside he train, but a little later he returned to the platform. While ouside the man's hat blew off and in making a garb for it he lost his balance before the gust of wind and fell off the train. The conductor, who was nearby, reached for the stranger and almost lost his footing in a vain attempt to prevent the man from falling off.

The police of Roselle and Elizabeth are trying to ascertain who the man was.

MR. NEWCOMER HAS SOME KICKS

Recently Settled "in our Midst," Irwin D. Siegel Diagnoses Local Ills.

ASLEEP AT THE SWITCH

Explaining that he intends it as an open letter to the Plainfield Chamber of Commerce, Irwin D. Siegel, a New York lawyer, who has recently leased a house on George Street, which he imagines is in Netherwood, has sent the following communication for publication:

Editors, Plainfield Daily Press:

Last September somebody mentioned Plainfield to me when I was looking for a suburban residence and I heard it. As I was confined to my home through illness and am at present, my wife came here to investigate, and we decided to move here and if we liked it purchase a home. As we intended to buy when we first came—well I won't go into it, but being a woman some very novel propositions were presented to her, to say the least, both by real estate men and others; but "caveat amptor" and although at home I was on the job and at present we rent. Thank goodness.

You want advice as to what to do to boom Plainfield, also a slogan. Well, correct existing evils and the town will boom itself. To explain more fully what I mean, I will simply relate my experience since coming here.

We rented this house in the Netherwood section, knowing nothing about the town, on the advice of a real estate man, that it was the growing part and one of the nice residential parts. Then I put in a step to have our mail delivered and was curtly informed by your postmaster that he didn't deliver down that far, although we are well within the city limits. When asked for a reason "he just doesn't, that is all and if you don't like it move." This to my wife. Gentlemanly, to say the least. But you will have to stand it another year and a half, not I. Excuse finally after a letter to Washington, that the sidewalk wasn't continuous. A mere quibble, but if this be so why doesn't the town compel the owner to put in a sidewalk, it has the right. However, he does deliver mail within one hundred yards of my residence. This is not a monograph on the postmaster, as he is of no importance, but rather to put down setback No. 1.

When we moved in, after three days of darkness and lamps, we managed to get your gas company to put in a meter. They did and a leaky one and we had gas to burn—all over the house—they took it out but never refunded our money for lost gas. A nice, kind corporation. Of course you know it is the rottenest illuminating gas east of the Mississippi, so we decided on electric light and in October put in an application. On November 12 or thereabouts, having had no word or action we 'phoned and were informed we must pay $5 deposit. Did so immediately. Yet, to date we have no electricity, although we are reliably informed (despite the company's excuses) that the house was inspected and passed on last year before we moved in. What is the reason? Isn't that enough to disgust any would-be citizen? Cancelled order today and requested return of deposit for we will get along without it during the short time we intend to stay. Setback No. II.

Do you ever clean your streets down this way?

Do you ever remove the garbage?

Do you ever do anything down this way except light a few measly street lamps?

Remember, I am not a sorehead or kicker. We came with the best intentions and money to purchase but—we shall take the advice of your benign (?) postmaster and "move if you don't like it." Thank goodness, again, we didn't take a longer lease.

You can do with this as you see fit. There is much more to be said and of your old citizens would attend to business people would come and stay. As it is, I see your town deteriorating into one inhabited by a class of "melting pot" deposit that will put up with such inconveniences as above mentioned to say nothing of the city's shortcomings. We do not have to.

IRWIN D. SIEGEL.

SILK WORKERS STRIKING AGAIN

Fifty Weavers Leave Their Looms When Increased Pay is Refused.

FRUITLESS CONFERENCE

Compromise Offer by the Management Rejected by Workers—Shut Down Rather Than Increase Demanded, Says President of Co.

The weavers in the employ of the Watchung-Mitchell Silk Manufacturing Company to the number of about fifty are out on strike again, having quit work last night. The weavers held a conference with J. T. Mitchell, president of the company, demanded an increase of one cent a yard on all silk manufactured, and upon his refusal to grant the demand, adding that he would close the mill up rather than pay the rate asked for, the employes walked out. Arrangements have been made to hold a conference on Monday.

The demand for an increase of one cent a yard was presented to Mr. Mitchell Tuesday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock. It is said that he promised to consider the matter and the weavers worked about three-quarters of an hour Thursday afternoon. The company is aid to have offered the weavers a bonus and cut the bad wrok. This was refused and then the company is aid to have offered $1 on eevry 100 yards of perfect silk manufactured with a 5 per cent. premium to those receiving $12 a week. This was also refused.

According to the weavers they receive 4¾ cents a yard for making silk and they now want an extra one cent a yard on all silk made by them.

COUNTY FUNDS MAY BE TIED IN BANKS

Leavitt's Claim to Collectorship May Affect Salaries — Fanwood Joins Grab.

Elizabeth, Jan. 4.—There is considerable speculation as to what action the banks will take regarding the drafts on county funds on deposit with them after Monday, when Union county will have two claimants to the position of county collector. The funds are now on deposit in the name of Nathan R. Leavitt, county collector, who has been "re-elected" by the old Board of Freeholders. Abe J. David is the caucus nominee of the new small Board and he will be elected at the meeting announced for Monday. It is said he will be unable to get possession of the county money until the courts decide the legality of the new Board. County salaries may be held up.

Former Assistant Prosecutor John K. England and former Prosecutor William R. Wilson have been retained by the small Board to represent them in the proceedings to be brought by the old Board. The new Board will meet Monday, as arranged, and organize.

"Director" John Cady, of the old Board, has "appointed" all of the old committees to hold over until further notice. By certification of the Township Committee of Fanwood, Burton P. Hall has been made a "member" of the discarded Board. The old Board is going right on with the county business just as though the legality of its acts was unquestioned. The members seem pleased and proud of themselves. They are apparently more delighted than if the people had endorsed them and reelected them.

W. J. ROOME, JR., HURT

Eighty-seven-Mile Gale Lifts a Jefferson Avenue Dwelling From Its Foundation—Much Wire Trouble—Trees Suffer Heavily.

Considerable damage was done by the high wind storms that struck this section yesterday and blew all night. The repair crews of both the telephone and electric light offices were working the better part of the night trying to rectify the damage done. The storm aected much of the Atlantic coast, causing havoc among the vessels. A Roselle commuter in trying to save his hat was brown from the platform of a Central Railroad train and drowned in Newark Bay. The blow at one time attained a rate of nearly ninety miles an hour.

William J. Roome, Jr., of Sycamore avenue, the borough, who is associated in the real estate business with his father in New York, while crossing Washington street, near Myrtle avenue, Brooklyn, at 8 o'clock, last night, was knocked down by the wind and his left foot was amputated by a DeKalb avenue car.

A large limb was blown off a tree on Woodland avenue between Central street and Ravine road and fell across the trolley wires causing a long delay on the Netherwood line. Several trees were uprooted on Denmark road.

The Telephone and Electric Light Companies were hard hit. Numerous poles of both companies were reported down on Farley, Interhaven, Berkeley and Johnson avenues and along Denmark road. Wires were blown down and torn down by falling trees and branches, necessitating all the force employed as linemen and repairmen getting out and working until after eleven o'clock. They were ordered home to rest at that stage so they would be able to resume work today and be in shape for emergencies.

A chimney was lifted off a house on West Third street between Liberty street and Plainfield avenue, yesterday afternoon about three o'clock. Several persons passing at the time just escaped injury from falling bricks. Windows were broken in the Y. M. C. A. building, in a house on Mercer avenue and in several stores. The tin roof on Britton's building at West Front street and Clinton avenue was blown off and carried by the wind for more than half a block.

The Lenox Manufacturing Company was compelled to close down its shop yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock because no current could be obtained to operate the machines and lights.

Colonel Perry, of Prideville, North Plainfield, was compelled to prop his large flag pole up during the storm to prevent its being blown down. A large tree on Harrison avenue was uprooted and in falling barely missed a house. The top of a large tree was blown down on Park avenue and a driver going by at the time narrowly escaped with his life. A tree was blown down at East Fifth street and Franklin place, another was blown into Tier's Pond. Electric light wires were reported down at the corner of Liberty and Second streets. A number of hanging signs all over the city were blown away and badly damaged.

All the glass in one of James R. Blair's street show cases was broken yesterday afternoon when the case was blown over by the wind. A show case owned by George Finger was also wrecked.

Reports were received from all cities along the South and Middle Atlantic States telling of great damage done by the gale. A number of persons were injured and several lost their lives in New York, Philadelphia and other cities. All steam vessel service were considerably hampered by the effect of the wind on the ocean.

Is it the Hair or the Face that makes the Woman?

If you think it is the face take another look at the two heads pictured here. One shows a girl which the most critical would pronounce beautiful.

While her features are fairly perfect her greatest charm lies in a mass of fine lustrous hair. The opposite picture is identical as to features and other detail except that the wealth of hair is wanting.

Both of these ladies would attract attention anywhere but each for a different reason, one on account of her superb beauty and the other on account of her comical appearance.

The hair makes all the difference. A woman loses her good looks in exact proportion as she loses her hair.

Newbro's Herpicide Saves the Hair

There is nothing which is so destructive to the hair as dandruff.

This annoying trouble to which everyone is more or less exposed is due to the working of an invisible growth or microbe called the Dandruff Germ.

It robs the hair of the life and luster of health, burrows down into the follicle and eventually loosens the hair, allowing it to fall out.

Newbro's Herpicide applied regularly and intelligently kills this germ, keeps the scalp clean and hair healthy.

Falling hair is thus prevented and, if the hair follicles have not become atrophied, a new growth of hair may be anticipated.

The life and luster of Herpicide hair is beautiful to see, inimitable is.

An abundance of fluffy, glittering hair is woman's choicest beauty and to permit its needless destruction is unpardonable.

PLAINFIELD, NEW JERSEY, JANUARY 4, 1913.

The editorial columns of this paper are conducted on Saturdays by representative citizens who are free to express their own views. Patrick S. Kiely, chief of police of the City of Plainfield, is the contributing editor for today.

THE FUNCTIONS OF THE POLICE.

Organized society select the police as its agents to preserve peace, prevent wrong and to apprehend the maker of mischief—the evil doer. Take away these chosen agents and other instiutions provided for the conduct of government and government becomes disrupted. In brief, the police establishment is the one on which all others must depend. The individuals selected to comprise the organization in this trusted capacity are generally of a character worthy of confidence, and, if otherwise, there must exist a faulty procedure of creation and maintainance. The police representatives it is sometimes forgotten, are but human and susceptible to the influence of the majority as well as the directions of superiors, for better or for worse. The police are not the makers of the laws, the enforcement of which they are to discharge, and, as a consequence, conscientions acquittal of responsibility is frequently followed by denunciation on the part of the so-called law-abiding citizen. In other words the law is always a good thing for the other fellow.

The citizens of almost every large American city complain of improper patrolling on the part of their policemen. These complaints are not always well founded. The urban resident regards it as an evidence of improper patrolling if a policeman does not appear on the scene of a disturbance within a very few minutes after the beginning of a disturbance, while in reality this may be due to the fact that the policeman's post is too long, which is the case in our city. But even after making due allowance for the factors which tend to make the police of the city somewhat unsatisfactory to those citizens who are unable to give careful study to the problem of police patrolling, it is probably true that in many American cities the police patrol, and especially the police patrol at night, is not as efficient as it could be made, even with the small force of policemen employed. This inefficiency of the patrol service is undoubtedly due to the fact that some of the policemen shirk their patrol duties.

Policemen, like other subordinates, do not wish to perform any more work than they are compelled to perform, and if the the patrol service in any city is unsatisfactory the blame for such unsatisfactory condition should be placed not upon the policemen, but upon their immediate administrative superiors, the roundsmen. It is the duty of the roundsmen to see to it that the patrolmen attend to their duties, and if the roundsmen do not faithfully attend to his function they are practically worthless to the department. Their other duties are of no importance.

Roundsmen are frequently on terms of great familiarity with the patrolmen under their command. They often address each other by their first names; they frequently stand on street corners for long periods of time conversing; they exchange jokes in the station house, and the roundsman, in many instances prefers to have the reputation of being "a good fellow" to the reputation of being a strict disciplinarian and an efficient superior officer. Under such a condition of affairs it is not to be wondered at that the police patrol service is not as efficient as it could be made and as it should be made.

Attempts to improve the police patrol service have taken one of three forms. Endeavors are constantly being made to increase the numerical strength of the police forces; attempts are sometimes made to hold an officer responsible for occurences on his post, and efforts are sometimes made to detect patrolmen who neglect their duties. Even admitting, as we undoubtedly must, that the police force of almost every city is from a theoretical point of view insufficient in numbers properly to police the city, an increase in the numerical strength of the police force will not secure to its citizens an efficient patrol of the streets. The plea for more policemen, supported by an elaborate table of statistics which shows the strength of police forces in foreign cities, in which the police conditions are entirely different from what they are in America, is very attractive and appears very cogent to those who have not the time to give the problems of police administration careful consideration. It is also very attractive to the politician who seeks employment for his henchmen.

But the mere fact that a city has more policemen does not necessarily mean that it is better protected. The new recruits of the force quickly imitate the veterans, and if the spirit of loafing dominates the police force the mere addition of more recruits will not prove to be a satisfactory remedy. The doctrine of individual responsibility is much better, at least from a theoretical point of vew. If you hold each officer personally responsible for crimes on his beat it is quite likely that he will attend strictly to his duties in order to prevent the commission of crimes on his beat. There are, however, two objections to this doctrine of responsibility in American police systems. In the first place, when the police force is undermanned, it may be an injustice to hold a policeman responsible for crimes on his beat which he could not have discovered or prevented, and furthermore, the police officers are so frequently transferred from one precinct to another, often as a disciplinary penalty, they cannot become acquainted sufficiently with the people residing on their beats to make it reasonable for the department to hold them to such a strict responsibility for occurrences on their beats. Politics is the demoralizing influence that pervades most American police forces. A proper reward for meritorous service by promotion when vacancies exist is one of the most efficient means of setting the department on a proper basis. The Chief of Police should be held accountable for the force and all orders should come through him.

PATRICK S. KIELY,

TATTERSALL'S IN LONDON.

Romantic Story of the World's Most Famous Horse Market.

The most famous horse mart in the world is Tattersall's in London. A romantic history attaches to this establishment.

In 1776 a certain Richard Tattersall, a wool comber of Yorkshire, who had lost his fortune during the Jacobite rebellion, obtained a ninety-nine years' lease of a tract of ground in London and thereon built an establishment for the sale of horses and hounds.

Tattersall was on friendly terms with the prince regent, Lord Bolingbroke and others whose patronage greatly aided the enterprise. Such, indeed, was the friendship between the prince and Tattersall that the bust of George on top of the fountain in the sale yard was so placed at the prince's own request.

In due time a huge slice of luck came Tattersall's way. Lord Bolingbroke ran heavily into debt and by way of settlement passed on to Tattersall his famous racer, Highflier, which became the father of three Derby winners. The progeny of this horse in eighteen years are said to have won races to the value of no less than £170,000. Tattersall built himself a palatial country residence near Ely, calling it Highflier Hall.

Tattersall's came to be the headquarters for the laying of turf wagers. Immense sums were won and lost there. The Marquis of Hastings lost more than £100,000 on one race alone, and, it is said, not infrequently similar amounts changed hands on "settling days" at "Old Tatt's," or "the Corner," as the place was sometimes called.

All classes of society mingled at Tattersall's. Dukes and stable boys were brothers in the excited crowd, prepared to wager on anything and everything. This state of things led to such a scandal that upon the expiration of the lease the firm was refused a renewal. In its new establishment no betting was permitted.

At the modern Tattersall's some enormous prices for racers are occasionally obtained. Flying Fox is said to have been sold to a French owner for 37,500 guineas and Ormonde to an American for 30,000 guineas. Here also Scepter as a yearling was sold for 10,000 guineas, La Fleche for 12,600 guineas and Blair Athol for only 100 guineas less.—Harper's Weekly.

Some Quaint Hotels.

The hotel that stands out the most prominently in my recollection is one in Iquique, where, even while you are sitting at the dining tables, venders come in from the streets to sell you food. At this same hotel they have two charges for baths—8 shillings if you insist upon clean water and about 4 shillings if you are willing to take a second turn at the tub.

Another instance of a quaint hotel is in the town of Africa, in Peru. Here they are using at the present time the hull of an old American man-of-war, which was taken inland by a great tidal wave many years ago and has since been fitted up as a hotel and is in great demand.—London Answers.

Everlasting Yeast.

A yeast that is always ready, in hot weather or cold, in town or on the farm, may be had if at each baking is saved a small quantity of the bread sponge before any salt has been used. To this must be added about one-half the same amount of sugar for a preservative. I have used the same yeast in this way for two and one-half years now, and it is as good as ever. Freezing does it no harm. No salt should be used. If in warm weather it seems to be without life, try it with a little flour and water, and it will be all right. This makes the finest possible bread.—National Magazine.

A Problem He Hadn't Solved.

In 1865 there went to Paris a young Belgian named De Groof, who was fully convinced that he had solved the problem of aerial flight. He did not succeed in interesting French experts, but later in England met with some encouragement. Finally, in the presence of a large crowd De Groof made his attempt. His machine was attached to a balloon, and after reaching a height of 4,000 feet he cut himself loose. The machine fell like a stone and crashed down upon the rough pavement of Robert street, Chelsea, with a sickening thud. De Groof was dead.—New York Tribune.

The Way They Struck.

A company of Italian laborers engaged in the construction of a railway in Germany had their wages reduced. They said nothing, but during the night each of the men cut an inch of the end of his shovel. In reply to the foreman who took them to task about it one of them said, "Not so much pay, not lift so much earth. So much longer last work. Italian not fool like German. Italians not strike!"—London Mail.

Another Way to Put It.

"After all," said the moralist, "the almighty dollar is man's greatest enemy. It"—

"If that's so," interrupted old Roxsey, "I guess that young wife of mine merely loves me for the enemies I've made."—Philadelphia Ledger.

Discrimination.

"Did you ever tell that young man that late hours were bad for one?" asked the father at the breakfast table.

"Well, father," replied the wise daughter, "late hours may be bad for one, but they're all right for two."—Yonkers Statesman.

Blot out vain pomp, check impulse, keep reason under its own control.—Marcus Aurelius.

RUSSIAN PROGIDY STAR FOR M'INTYRE CONCERT

Miss Tina Lerner, who will appear in a piano recital at the High School Auditorium on Thursday night, giving the last concert of the McIntyre season, was born in Odessa, Russia, in 1890. She studdied in Odessa under Rudolf Helm, and, at the age of ten, entered the conservatory of the Philharmonic at Moscow, completing the nine years course in five years and winning the highest honors.

At fifteen, a most unprecedented age for such an honor, she appeared as soloist with the Moscow Philarmonic Society. After a tour of Russia, appearances followed in Germany and England and then came her first visit to America. The success of that tour is a matter of musical history. Commenting on her initial appearance with the Boston Symphony, Philip Hale, Boston's foremost critic, wrote in the Boston Herald: "Her touch is singularly beautiful, and she has at command as a calorist a great variety of nuances. Her art is indisputable."

A second American tour served to make Miss erner known from coast to coast and she returned to Europe where new honors awaited her. Scarcely an orchestra or symphonic society in Russia, Germany, Holland, France or England but sought her services as soloist during the two years that followed. Among the eminent conductors she appeared under may be mentioned Dr. Hans Richter, Felix Weingartner, Senor Arbos, Sir Edward Elgar, Alexander Siloti, etc. She was re-engaged for the third successive season to appear as soloist at the London Symphony concerts under Arthur Nikisch and Manchester Halle concerts under Balling.

FORMER PRESIDENT CASTRO OF VENEZUELA DECLARES THAT HE HAS BEEN GROSSLY MALIGNED

CIPRIANO CASTRO
COPYRIGHT 1913, BY AMERICAN PRESS ASSOCIATION

New York, Jan. 4.—General Cipriano Castro, ex-dictator of Venezuela, who is awaiting deportation on Ellis island, declared today that he had been grossly maligned, that he was not going to try to win back Venezuela, that he was a peaceful man who had been robbed of his private fortune of 25,000,000 francs by the present president of his country, Gomez, and that, to quote his own words, often repeated, he had nothing left now but honor. Finally, to clinch the good faith of his statement that he had left Venezuela, shortly before the revolution that deposed him, because he had been obliged to undergo an operation at the hands of specialists in Berlin, he showed his visitors a long scar, the relic, he said, of the incision made at the time. He was very much excited throughout the talk. He danced and waved a folded newspaper when he denounced his successful rival, Gomez.

THE STORM IN OTHER PLACES.

(By Telegraph to The Daily Press.)

Baltimore, Md., Jan. 4.—Borne on the wings of a southwest gale that at times reached a velocity of 40 miles an hour, a storm visited Baltimore yesterday and passed out to sea leaving destruction in its wake. The greatest barometric depression in the history of the city was recorded. The temperature dropped more than 10 degrees and the humidity registered 100, while the elements were wrecking havoc and driving rafts to seek a haven of shelter in this port. The roof of the Baltimore county jail at Townsend was blown off and the panic among the prisoners was heightened by the noise of explosion as it crashed to the ground. Two men were injured by falling objects. Frame buildings were rocked, several telegraph poles fell. Plate glass windows where shattered and trees were uprooted by the gale. In the bay and its tributaries high waves sank vessels and endangered lives. A power boat manned by six men was caught in midstream in the Susquehanna and filled with water. The men saved their lives by beaching the craft at Port Deposit.

Old Point, Va., Jan. 4.—Large quantities of freight on the piers was swept into the sea here yesterday. Windows in large hotels were blown in and the beaches about the Virginia Capes were strewn with wreckage of small crafts. The Battleships of the Atlantic Fleet at anchor in Hampton Roads kept their moorings with difficulty, their launches and small boats attempting landings were swamped.

Philadelphia, Jan. 4.—One man was killed and four others hurt in the collapse of a building at 411 South Fifth street yesterday afternoon, due to the high winds. The injured are in the Pennsylvania Hospital. The police and firemen are working on the ruins as others may be buried in the debris. At 1:35 p. m. the velocity of the wind was the greatest, blowing 52 miles an hour.

Newport News, Va., Jan. 4.—The terrific gale swept the waters of the James River up into the lower portions of the city yesterday, inundating streets, warehouses and driving the people to the elevations. Ferry service across the river to Newport News was impossible.

LOADING BIG GUNS

They Get Quick Action on the Modern Monster Warship.

STORY OF A PRACTICE DRILL.

What Happened After the Order to "Fire!" Was Very Different From What Would Have Occurred Had Cordite and Projectiles Been Used.

The order is given to load. Some one touches a lever, and with a hiss a mass of bright steel turns and twists back, and the breech of the gun gapes open. Another touch on the lever, and from beside you a hydraulic ram shoots out like a golden tongue into the breech and immediately shoots back again. All is clear. Now, at your very feet, a hole gapes in the floor of the turret, there is a slat and crash of metal, and as you look down into the hole you see a small lift traveling up with incredible rapidity and infernal clatter bearing on it the immense projectile, weighing more than seven hundredweight, and, in another compartment, the two cartridges of cordite.

Up comes the lift, locks itself with a crash and spills out the projectile on a metal tray in line with the open breech. The golden tongue of the rammer shoots out again and pushes the projectile into the gaping breech, extending itself apparently indefinitely until the projectile has disappeared. The lift shifts a little, bringing into line with the gun its other compartment, which contains the two half charges, each a cylinder holding 130 pounds of cordite. Out shoots the ram again, with no more respect for them than if they had been sponges, and pushes them steadily home behind the projectile, and, having done its deadly business, retires again out of the way to be ready for another cycle of the same operations.

Half a turn of the wheel, and the breech block swings home with a slap and a click. "Right gun loaded, sir." Now you wait in suspense, and a voice in the conning tower gives the range—8,500 yards. The gun layer in his quiet corner has all this time never taken his eye from the glass. He turns one wheel, and the whole turret swings round over the ship's quarter; he turns another, and with a little hiss and sigh of imprisoned water the whole mighty tonnage of the gun, sweetly balanced on its trunnions, rises and tilts itself to the push of the hydraulic press.

The range is decreasing by some thirty yards a second, since the target is a ship approaching us at a speed equal to our own—fifteen knots—and as the falling ranges are given the gun metal wheel is turned an eighth or a quarter of an inch, and the muzzle of the gun sinks down a little as gently as a falling leaf. The sights are reported "on," the gun laid, and the word we have all been waiting for is sharply given—"Fire!" The gun layer pulls a trigger no bigger than that of a pistol and—

The projectile was a dummy one made of wood covered with leather, and there was no cordite in the cartridges. If it had been otherwise the pictures that adorned the commander's room, the mirrors and toilet accessories on the cabin tables and the various elegant adornments of the captain's suit would (unless they had been previously packed away) have come crashing down from their places, and the navigating commander, who happened at the time to be explaining to an unwilling listener on the quarterdeck by what skill and foresight he had avoided setting the ship's stern on to the breakwater at Portland, would have been blown off the deck.

These things were unnecessary, for I quite understood. The click and silence that followed the word "Fire!" were quite eloquent enough to me of all the shattering damnation they represented—a projectile weighing 850 pounds hurtling to its mark at the rate of almost a thousand yards a second.

But we in the turret would have known nothing, for before it had reached the target the breech block would have opened to the screech of the air blast which cleans out the burning fragments of cordite in the breech, the rammer would have shot in with its mop and out again, the ammunition hoist would have come clattering and screaming up, another projectile would have rolled into the tray with another two hundredweight of death packed behind it, the rammer would have pushed it home with a kick, the block would have swung to again, the great gun would have been sighted and swung in the air, again the word would have been given, and again the fragment of concentrated power that men had toiled in factories and drawing offices, in laboratories and foundries to perfect would have been sent winging through the sea air to spend itself in destruction.

And only one man in the turret would have seen its fate; only he with his eye to the telescope, who had seen the hull of that ship in the distance covering the threadlike cross on his glass as he pulled the trigger, would see and guess when the distant target would burst into yellow smoke what work had been done.—London Standard.

The Scrap Book

Didn't Understand.

The daughter of an old farmer was reading the local paper to him. She had got to the personal paragraphs and read this:

"Mrs. William Morritts, nee Black, has returned from a visit to her parents in London."

"I don't quite understand that," said the old gentleman.

"What don't you understand?" inquired the daughter.

"That part about Mrs. William Morritts, nay Black. What does 'nay Black' mean?"

"Oh, that's French and means that she was born Black."

"Born black!" exclaimed the father excitedly.

"Yes, 'Nee' is French for 'born.'"

"Well, it ain't so," ejaculated the old man, jumping up and shaking his fist. "I knew her parents, and they were as white as anybody that ever lived, and I'll write to that editor about it."

Before he started off, however, the daughter explained matters, and the old gentleman cooled down.

Carving a Name.

I wrote my name upon the sand
And trusted it would stand for aye,
But soon, alas, the relentless sea
Had washed my feeble lines away!

I carved my name upon the wood
And after years returned again,
I missed the shadow of the tree
That stretched of old upon the plain.

To solid marble next my name
I gave as a perpetual trust.
An earthquake rent it to its base,
And now it lays o'erlaid with dust

All these have failed. In wiser mood
I turn and ask myself, "What then?
If I would have my name endure
I'll write it on the hearts of men

In characters of living light,
Of kindly deeds and actions wrought
And these, beyond the touch of time,
Shall live immortal as my thought."
—Horatio Alger.

The Mayor Wanted to Know.

In an English town a man who was injured in a serious case of assault was driven to the hospital on a brewer's dray, and the shaking he received in transit considerably retarded his recovery.

"Why wasn't the police station ambulance there to remove him?" demanded the mayor, who was chairman of the justices.

"It was in use at the time, sir," answered the chief constable, with a visible embarrassment.

"It generally is when most needed," sarcastically commented the mayor. "In what way were you using it on this particular occasion? Don't evade the question, sir. I demand an answer."

"Very well, sir; as you insist I will tell you," replied the chief constable. "It was carrying back the gold and silver plate your wife borrowed for the mayoral banquet."

Then the mayor grew crimson and fiercely threatened to clear the court "if any more of that senseless tittering is heard."

He Balked.

A fledgling composer took his first opera to Massenet. "You know, of course," began the visitor, "that Moliere used to read his pieces to an old woman in the belief that scenes which found favor with her would be liked also by the audiences. My reason for asking you to listen to my work is somewhat the same. I know that whatever pleases you will also please the public." "You are very kind," replied Massenet, "very kind indeed, but really, since you are not Moliere, I see no reason why I should be your old woman."

Unreasonable.

A Scottish farmer whose farm was on the hills to the north of Strathmore had bought, while on a visit to Perth, his stock of matches for the winter. Possibly one or two of the boxes may have got damp on the way home. Anyway, when his wife took out the first box she found that the matches would not light. The farmer also tried them unsuccessfully, taking samples from several boxes.

On his next visit to Perth he took the pile of matchboxes with him and threw them indignantly on the counter of the tobacconist with the remark, "They winna licht!"

"Winna licht!" repeated the shopkeeper, surprised. He took out one match, drew it smartly across the side of his trousers leg and brought it up alight. The farmer watched him intently, and the shopkeeper repeated this with a number of the matches, each of which spluttered into flame.

"What do you mean," he demanded, "by sayin' they winna licht?"

"Aye," said the farmer, "but do you think I can come doon a' the road to Perth to hae a rub o' your breeks every time I want a licht?"

Well Satisfied.

A priest was giving a lecture on the evil of great wealth. In the audience was a man the priest knew. The man was the father of seven girls, and the lecturer pointed to this man as an example. "Think," said the priest, "of being the proud father of seven daughters. Think who is happier—the man with a million dollars or the man who is the father of seven daughters. I will ask you, Mr. Sheldon, who do you think is the happier?" said the priest, pointing to the subject of his argument. The man arose and said: "Father, I think that a man with seven daughters is the happier. A man with a million dollars worries for more. A man with seven daughters never does."

PROGRESS ON PANAMA CANAL NOTED BY PRESIDENT TAFT

INSURES COMPLETION OF WATERWAY AND LOCKS BY SEPTEMBER

REMOVING LUGGAGE FROM THE ARKANSAS

IN PANAMA GARB

IN THE CULEBRA CUT

President Taft brought back from Panama assurances that the canal will be ready to permit the passage of vessels by next September. All of the heavy work has been done, the locks are practically completed and the installation of the machinery really will move the ponderous gates has been begun. Mr. Taft and his party traversed the entire course of the big ditch, making much of the journey by water. At the Pacific entrance to the canal he noticed many changes since his previous visit, and the appearance of the country at Culebra cut, where the Atlantic scene, above, are still being cut wagon loads at a time, has been materially altered.

HEARON SISTERS PLEASE A LARGE AUDIENCE

The second entertainment in the series under the auspices of Holy Cross church was given at the Park Club, last night, by the Hearons Sisters Comedy Company in a pleasing musical and literary program. Despite the stormy night the auditorium was well filled and the audience enjoyed the entertainment throughout.

There are four sisters in the company, the Misses Frances, Winifred, Anna and Charlotte Hearons and each one is a finished artist. Perhaps the most enjoyable numbers on the program were those by Miss Frances Hearons, violinist, and Miss Winifred Hearons, reader. Miss Anna Hearons was the pianist, while Miss Charlotte Hearons played the clarionet.

The program comprised high-class selections; also a few humorous numbers, and was concluded with a Japanese sketch in costume. After the entertainment many of the young people remained for a dance, which proved a pleasing feature.

SUFFRAGISTS PLAN FOR NOTEWORTHY MEETING

The cause of women's suffrage will be ably presented next Thursday night, January 9, at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur B. Jones, 981 Central avenue, by Rev. James Grattan Mythen, president of the Maryland Men's League for Woman Suffrage, and Miss Janet E. Richards of Washington, D. C., well known to Plainfield audiences.

It will be interesting to those who so recently were profoundly impressed by the lecture of Dr. Howard A. Kelley, of Johns Hopkins University, to learn that Rev. Mr. Mythen succeeded him as president of the Maryland League.

No speaker attracted so much attention at the recent convention of the National Woman Suffrage Association at Philadelphia as did Rev. Mr. Mythen on the evening when the National Men's League for Woman Suffrage was in charge, and all the speakers were men of great reputation. He is said to posseses rare eloquence, wit and learning.

Miss Richards is well known for her admirable talks on current topics, in which field she has classes in many cities and towns and is so much in demand that it is with difficulty she can be secured for any additional talks. The meeting next Thursday night begins at 8 o'clock.

MENDING SOCKS TO HELP BUY CHURCH NEW FURNITURE

"Holey Stockings Called For, Mended and Delivered." A sign bearing that inscription would advertise the avocation taken up by the members of the Ladies' Aid Society of the Methodist church, of Scotch Plains, to assist in raising money needed for the purchase of furniture for the church.

The society members will call for and deliver when mended, any socks or stockings which have become perforated by wear, upon receipt of a communication sent to the church. Or the parcels post might be used and the apparel sent directly to the church, say the women. The Aid Society is planning for a "Poverty Social" to be held in the church the early part of March.

COLOR ILLUSIONS.

Curious Effects From Red and Blue on a Black Background.

If on a screen of black velvet placed at a distance of ten feet from the spectator large letters are pasted, some blue, some red, they will not appear to be at an equal distance from the eyes. To some persons the red letters will seem nearer than blue letters, while to other persons the contrary effect will be manifested.

To produce this effect both eyes must be employed. When one eye is closed the letters are all seen at the same distance. On opening the other eye one set of letters immediately appears to take a position in advance of the others.

The explanation offered for this effect is that a sort of stereoscopic illusion is produced in the eye itself, depending upon color. The image of a blue object is shifted by the eye toward one side and that of a red object toward the other side.

If on looking at blue and red letters on a black background placed ten or twelve feet away you see the red letters nearer than the blue, screen off one-half of the pupil of each eye on the outside and you will see the red letters retire behind the blue ones.

If you screen the pupils on the side toward the nose you will see the red letters advance apparently still farther ahead of the blue ones.

If, on the other hand, you naturally see the blue in advance screen the inner side of the pupils of your eyes and the red will come to the front.

Beautiful effects are produced with one eye alone when, instead of letters, red or blue rings are pasted on a background of the opposite color. Placing red rings on blue paper and using the right eye with the inner side of the pupil covered the appearance is that of circular red hillocks resting on a blue ground.

To produce this effect in its highest degree the paper must be held to the left and sloping in that direction. When the outer side of the pupil is screened the red rings will become circular trenches in the blue paper.—New York Sun.

A SYMBOL OF FREEDOM.

The Liberty Cap Dates Away Back to Early Greek Times.

From very early times one of the distinguishing marks of a slave, both in Greece and oriental countries generally, was the lack of any covering for the head. Accordingly the cap came to be considered the insignia of liberty, and when slaves were given their freedom they were presented with a cap as an emblem of it.

In Sparta the helots wore a cap of dogskin, and this was reckoned a badge of servitude, but upon gaining their freedom this was replaced by a cap of a different material, of another shape and ornamented with flowers. A similar custom was observed in Rome, where the presentation of the pileus, or cap, was always a part of the ceremony of manumitting a slave; hence arose the proverb, "Servos ad pileum vocare."

Also on medals the cap is the symbol of liberty and is unsually represented as being held in the right hand by the point. When a cap was exposed to the people's view on the top of a spear, as in the case of the conspiracy against Caesar, it was intended as a public invitation to them to embrace the liberty that was offered them.

The Goddess of Liberty on Mount Aventine was represented as holding a cap in her hand as a symbol of freedom. The Jacobins wore a red cap during the French revolution, and in England a blue cap with a white border is used as a symbol of liberty.

The custom which prevails among university students of wearing a cap is said to have had its origin in a wish to signify that the wearers had acquired full liberty and were no longer subject to the rod of their superiors.

The Bird of Death.

In New Guinea there is said to be a venomous bird called the bird of death. It is about the size of a pigeon, with a tail of extraordinary length ending in a tip of brilliant scarlet. It has a sharp, hooked beak and frequents marshes and stagnant pools. The venom with which it inoculates is distilled in a set of organs which lie in the upper mandible, just below the openings of the nostrils. Under them, in the roof of the mouth, is a small fleshy knob. When the bird sets its beak in the flesh of a victim this knob receives a pressure which liberates the venom and inoculates the wound.

Baby Seals.

Baby seals are at first snow white, which makes them invisible on the white ice on which they are born. Their eyes and noses are, however, black, and when the little ones are suddenly alarmed they close their eyes, bury their noses and lie quite still. It is only when they grow and begin to seek their own food that they become dark and sleek.

Too Full For Utterance.

"He invented a dandy story to tell his wife when he got home after midnight."

"Good one, was it?"

"A peach; it would satisfy any woman."

"Did it satisfy her?"

"It would have, but he couldn't tell it."—Houston Post.

STORM DOES LOT OF DAMAGE

reported that the gale averaged a velocity of eighty miles an hour, and reached a maximum of eighty-seven miles between two and three o'clock. At 4:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon, the wind dropped to sixty miles an hour, and maintained that velocity until eight p. m., when it began to drop.

Somerville, Jan. 4 (Special).—The high wind yesterday afternoon and last night played havoc with outbuildings and trees throughout the borough. Trees and branches were blown down in all directions, telephone and electric light wiring being considerably damaged. The fire alarm system was put out of commission every once in a while, keeping the repair men at work continually. In the outlying districts many of the farmers had their small outhouses overturned and stacks blown over.

MEN'S BROTHERHOOD ELECTS.

The Men's Brotherhood of the First M. E. church elected and made arrangements for the installation of these officers last night: President, Samuel Bingaman; first vice-president, L. D. Albin; second vice-president, Oscar L. Rose; third vice-president, David Donovan; fourth vice-president, Frances G. Crawford; secretary, Fred L. Martin; treasurer, E. L. Glover; chaplain, Eugene A. Edgar.

DRESS NOVELTIES.

The Princess Dress Is Adapted to Present Style Demands.

Long sleeves of contrasting material are used in some of the new bodices.

One maker has introduced sleeves of brightly flowered stuff coming from beneath the dropped armholes of dark or neutral tinted bodices.

Hats of white plush adorned with black coque plumes are being much worn. Frequently these are arranged flat about the base of the crown.

On many hats the crowns are extremely broad and when adorned with plumes produce the effect of the popular picture hat.

The compact bunch of red berries is much worn as a corsage bouquet. This vivid spot of color against a background of gray, brown, black or navy blue is decidedly artistic.

This semiprincess dress, which is suitable for misses and small women, is attractively trimmed with lace to give a tunic effect. The tucks over the shoulders impart a pleasing fullness to

The KITCHEN CUPBOARD

NICE POTATO SALADS.

POTATOES make one of the most useful salads on the winter bill of fare. Should it have to appear often on the table it may be varied from time to time, now being served with mayonnaise, now with a boiled and again with a French dressing.

The ingredients of the salad should always be thoroughly mixed. It may be garnished with radishes, sliced or cut in roses, or with sprigs of parsley or watercress.

Two Novel Salads.

Hot Potato Salad.—Take small potatoes, wash and peel these and take off the skins and slice. Pour over them a hot dressing made of one-half cupful of bacon grease, one-quarter cupful of vinegar, one teaspoonful of salt, pepper or paprika to taste, onion juice or chives, if desired.

Savory Potato Salad.—Boil small firm potatoes and when they are cold cut them into dice. Put a layer of them into a salad bowl, sprinkle with a small quantity of blended oil and vinegar and a little finely chopped onion; add a thin layer of sliced radishes and pickled gherkin, then more potatoes, and so on until the bowl contains the required quantity, finishing with potatoes. Around the edge put a border of cress, from which the stalks have been removed. Scatter some finely chopped parsley and the sieved yolk of a hard boiled egg over the potatoes, and the salad will be ready to serve.

Tempting Combinations.

Plain Potato Salad.—Take four cold boiled potatoes which have been sliced thin, one teaspoonful of finely chopped onion, one tablespoonful chopped parsley, one tablespoonful diced bacon, one-fourth teaspoonful of salt, a dash of pepper and one-half cupful vinegar.

Put bacon into a frying pan, add the onion and fry until light brown, then add the vinegar, salt and pepper. Mix the potato, chopped parsley and the hot vinegar dressing together and serve.

Rich Potato Salad.—The yolks of four eggs are used in this. The other ingredients are one teaspoonful salt, one teaspoonful sugar, one teaspoonful mustard, one of flour. Mix well together and add one-half cupful vinegar. Cook slowly until thick. Slice six good sized boiled potatoes thin and mix two onions, chopped fine with them. Thin the dressing with sweet cream and one tablespoonful melted butter. Pour over potatoes and onions, stir well and let stand fifteen minutes before serving.

ANTI-TUBERCULOSIS LEAGUE'S COLUMN

(Every Saturday).

Conducted by the Anti-Tuberculosis League of Plainfield and North Plainfield.

EDITOR
MRS. E. F. FEICKERT.

In addition to the thirteen Plainfield patients which are being treated for tuberculosis at Bonnie Burn, the County Sanitorium, there are now twenty tuberculosis cases in Plainfield which are being treated in their own homes by the doctors of the Anti-Tuberculosis League and the Nursing Bureau. During the month of December the Visiting Nurse paid seventy-seven visits to these patients.

The Washington, D. C., Association for the Prevention of Tuberculosis has just sent out a most interesting Health Calendar, each page of which shows conspicuously one of the twelve primary requisites for the prevention and cure of the white plaugue. Briefly stated these are: Good Air (Avoid badly ventilated, badly lighted, dusty, dirty, overheated, crowded or damp rooms).

Avoidance of House Dust (Breathing dust, notably house dust, often causes disease. Have loose carpets or rugs which can frequently be cleaned outdoors. Never sweep rooms with a brush which raises dust).

Pure Water. (Drink pure water. If in doubt as to its purity, boil the water. Avoid public drinking cups).

Safe Milk and Cream. (Tuberculosis, typhoid fever and other diseases are often caused by drinking raw milk and raw cream. All milk and cream, including that used for ice cream and butter, should be proper pasteurized to be safe).

Keep Clean. (Bathe daily; use soap freely; wash your hands before handling food; don't put fingers, money or pencils in your mouth; clean your teeth at least twice a day).

Proper Food. (Don't eat food that has been exposed to flies or dust, or touched by unclean hands. Raw food or vegetables so exposed should be thoroughly washed. Chew your food well).

Sleep. (Get enough sleep. Sleep with windows open, or better still, outdoors).

Proper Breathing. (Keep your head up; sit and stand erect; practice deep breathing; breathe through your nose).

Exercise. (Take plenty of outdoor exercise, but avoid excess in athletics; it may cause heart trouble. Don't eat or drink when overheated by exercise).

Liquor and Tobacco. (Avoid tobacco and liquors. They are particularly injurious to the young).

Don't Neglect Colds. (If you don't get over a cold promptly, go to a doctor or dispensary for treatment. Never cough, sneeze or breathe into another person's face).

Sunshine. (Admit plenty of sunshine into your houses and into your lives. Cultivate cheerfulness and kindliness; it will help you to resist disease. Your mind acts on your body).

About $19,000,000 was spent in the anti-tuberculosis campaign in this country during the year 1912. Two-thirds of this amount was public money, and came from federal, state, county or municipal funds. The remaining $6,000,000 was given by individuals to the work of the various anti-tuberculosis associations.

$16,800,000 has been spent in the construction of hospitals and sanitoriums and the treatment of tuberculosis patients. Over $500,000 was spent for dispensaries and tuberculosis clinics, and $115,000 for the maintenance and establishment of open-air schools and fresh-air classes.

New York leads the country in its anti-tuberculosis expenditures, her total expenses in 1912 having been $5,162,316. Pennsylvania comes next with a total expenditure of $2,219,827, while New Jersey occupies the sixth place with an expenditure of $646,470.

The Educational Exhibit Company has just gotten out a very interesting exhibit which is intended to warn people against buying any of the alleged consumption cures which are constantly being advertised, and which without exception are "fakes." This exhibit is a large bottle a label on which reads, "Doctor Fako's Consumption Cure, Guaranteed." In the center of the label is a picture of "Doctor Fako." Inside the bottle is an electric light which is turned on and off automatically, so that from time to time a skull and crossbones flash through the face on the label, with the word "Poison" just above the word "Guaranteed."

Woman Owner Says Baseball Team Is White Elephant

"IF ever a woman was left with a white elephant on her hands that woman was I when I fell heir to the St. Louis Cardinals of the National league," said pretty Mrs. Helen Britton at the New York hotel where she had been attending the meeting of the National Baseball league, the only woman delegate and the only woman in the world who practically manages a baseball team.

To look at this little dark haired woman, dressed in the most fashionable and most feminine of clothes, from the big taupe plush picture hat with curling plumes and her black velvet gown trimmed in heavy white lace to the tips of her patent leather shoes, one would never imagine that her occupation was that of owner and manager of one of the greatest baseball teams in captivity.

She says that she often wonders at herself. "I love my home and my children, and when my uncle left this baseball estate to me I nearly collapsed with surprise, for I had never in my whole life thought I would fall heir to such a thing. When I really found myself in possession of it I began to realize that I certainly had an outside career on my hands with a vengeance.

A Terrible Revelation.

"Let any woman dissatisfied with the 'drab reality of home life and domestic surroundings' just fall heir to a baseball team if she is looking for 'an outside interest'—a 'career.' Well, all I have to say is, that is the last thing I would wish to happen to another of my sex. It's been a terrible revelation into the dishonesty and meanness of some men.

"In fact, before I became possessed of this 'white elephant' I thought everybody was kind and that good nature and honesty were to be found everywhere among men, but this has been an eye opener. I have found to what degree of meanness men will go to take advantage of a woman whom they look upon as a novice in the business world.

"I have found how little chivalry and loyalty there can be in some men. I have learned a lesson which, after all, is such an unfortunate lesson for any woman to have to learn.

"While I have made a success where failure might have been made, I have done it at demands upon my femininity and my optimism. It has not really made a cynic of me, but it has made me feel that life for a woman left with an extraordinary inheritance need not expect to depend on chivalry and upon her status as a woman for a fair deal.

"I know there have been a good many stories going out of how I have handicapped the Cardinals by my personal interference—that I have blocked deals. I did not block them. Men who have been too cowardly to come out in the open and tell the truth when I have been accused are responsible.

"I will say there was one deal—and only one deal—I did block, and that was when Bresnahan tried to trade Huggins to the Cincinnati team. I certainly did block that, and I know everybody knows that I did right in the interest of the Cardinals," said the little Cleveland woman, with flashing eyes.

Mrs. Brush Shares Honor.

Mrs. John T. Brush, owing to the death of her husband, who was the president and principal owner of the New York National league team, now shares distinction with Mrs. Britton as a baseball queen. Mrs. Brush owns the controlling interest in the New York club and virtually has all the executive powers of her late husband. She has not become as active by far, however, as Mrs. Britton in taking up baseball engineering. Her son-in-law, Harry N. Hempstead, is the active president of the club.

If Mrs. Brush ultimately takes an active part in the affairs of her baseball team it is likely she will have bigger problems than Mrs. Britton.

To Readers About Advertisers

Merchants who use the columns of the Plainfield Daily Press deserve your consideration and trade. They represent the best in their respective lines and they spend their money for publicity in order to attract custom to their establishments. It costs money to advertise and the business man who seeks your patronage and makes a public bid for it is going to serve you well. The merchant who establishes a reputation by advertising can not afford to waste this money and unless you are pleased you'll not go to his store again.

Advertising has become a science, yet anyone can write an advertisement that will pull trade. The readers of the Daily Press will find the advertising column an interesting feature. It contains suggestions that will meet every want and those who use its columns are among the leading and most enterprising business men. Tell them you were induced to come to their store by their advertising in the Daily Press—it is of mutual encouragement. Besides, there is always a more satisfactory service in the store that advertises. Never have merchants made greater efforts to secure trade or have prices been lower, and no city in the country can supply you more comfortably.

We are glad to say a good word for our advertisers. They have been liberal space takers throughout—and they have secured results. They know that the Daily Press is their best medium to reach the buying public and that it has THE right kind of circulation—the hearthstone kind.

The usual clearing sales are held in January and February. The wise merchant continues his store news and makes busy months, clearing out surplus stocks, which Daily Press readers will be glad to take off their hands. The business man who stops advertising at the close of the holiday trade makes a mistake he can not correct. The big stores have become big by keeping their name before the public and "making good" in thier publicity. The money they spend during the so-called dull season is among their best investments. The Daily Press circulation brings their trade.

Philosophical Phelix Says:

BUNTS AND PUNCHES

The New York Yankees have signed Second Baseman "Dodger" Finley and Pitcher Patsy Martin, two clever Brooklyn semi-professionals.

Connie Mack has signed Pitcher Robert McGraw, of the Pueblo (Colo.) High School team, and intends to take him in tow before the season of 1913 is over.

Sir James Callahan, manager of the White Sox, says that sitting on the bench is not to his liking, and that he will play himself in left again next year.

After being out of the game for a couple of years, Orvie Overall, formerly of the Cubs, wants to come back and pitch for any big league team except the Cubs.

That $40,000 salary for five years' service as a teacher of base ball in France didn't look good to Jean Dubuc, so he will stick with the Detroit Tigers.

In Pitcher Martina, secured from the Beaumont (Texas) Club, the Boston Red Sox figure they have something genuine. It's a nice pleasant name to repeat, anyway.

Howard Fahey, the Dartmouth player signed by the Philadelphia Athletics when the college season closed last June, has been turned over to the Los Angeles Club, of the Pacific Coast League.

"Chick" O'Connor, who played first base for the Quincy (Illinois) team last season, was ordained in the Holy Name Cathedral, Chicago, recently, and is now the Rev. Father Edward O'Connor.

When Walter Regh, the Pittsburgh youngster, stepped to the plate in a game last season, Umpire Klem asked him how to spell his name. Walter glared at the arbiter and told him to whistle it.

Manager Johnny Evers, of the Cubs, will have at least ten players to release after the opening of next season. Each club is allowed to carry twenty-five men after the first of May and John now has thirty-five under contract.

Johnny Coulon's physician has ordered him to do no boxing for two months.

Ex-champion Tommy Burns, who will enter the wrestling game, has agreed to wrestle Zbyszko in Calgary, Feb. 3.

Kid Williams and Eddie Campi, the sensational California bantam, will box in Vernon, Calif., either Feb. 8 or 11.

In explaining his break with his manager, Aleck McLean, Matty Baldwin says that McLean did not get him enough bouts.

The lid on the boxing game in Milwaukee is expected to be tilted between Jan. 15 and 25, when Promoter Mulkern will stage some important bouts.

Jim Flynn's next bout will be with Tom McMahon, the Pittsburgh heavyweight, the muss to be staged in New York the latter part of this month.

Charles Ledoux, the French bantam, who has returned to France, may not box again for two years, as he will have to enter the army in the near future.

PLAINFIELD Y. M. H. A. IS EASILY DEFEATED

Outclassed at all Stages of the Game by Elizabeth Five.

Playing on the Library Court at Elizabeth last night the Plainfield Y. M. H. A. were defeated by a score of 50 to 13 by the Young Men's Hebrew Association of that city. Superior passing and accurate shooting were assigned as the causes for the overwhelming victory and the local aggregation proved to be no match for the County Seat players. In the opening half the home team scored twenty-two points against four made by the visitors. In the final session, however, the Queen City delegation came to life, but their best effort aided them to score but nine points, while the winners brought their total up to the half century mark.

DOUBLE BASKETBALL OFFERING AT Y. M. C. A.

Color League Teams Will Display Their Prowess in Main Game.

No game has been scheduled for the Ajax basketball team tonight, but the game will flourish at the Y. M. C. A. gym nevertheless. Two fast teams representing the Senior Department Color League will act as substitutes for the Ajax half of the program, while the Mohawks will play the Scotch Plains Parish House five in the preliminary. The Reds and the Oranges, the two leading teams in the Color League, will clash in the main game and some good basketball is expected. The result of the game will have no bearing on the league standing but a large amount of rivalry exists between the contestants in the organization and each will strive to do its best when appearing in public.

The big game tonight has been staged mainly to get a line on possible first team material, and the two teams have many stars among their numbers. While not considered as first team stock, the Mohawk A. C. will be able to give the 'Plains aggregation a tight struggle and unlike the preliminary games that have been staged in the past, the one tonight ought to be fast and exciting. In their previous meeting on the Parish House court, the Mohawks came home a 21 to 18 victor and the visitors tonight will be out to avenge this bitter defeat.

MATERIAL UNEARTHED FOR A Y. M. C. A. FIVE

Association Making Preparations to Place Representative Quintet on Court.

Although the local Y. M. C. A. boasts of over twenty minor basketball quintets, no effort has been made to put a first team on the court until the present time. It now looks as though the association was going to have a representative five. Definite steps have been taken to effect the organization and the initial practice will be held some time during the first part of next week. At present, there is an abundance of unusually fine basketball material available in the association's membership and one of the speediest aggregations in this vicinity could be turned out with a little experienced coaching.

Among those who are now connected with the institution and who signified their intention of trying out for the combination are several veteran Y. M. C. A. players and a number of basketball enthusiasts who have played on various teams in and about Plainfield, including the two High Schools and Leals. William Taylor, the former N. P. H. S. captain, together with Carlton Smith and Pierson Bailey, also former N. P. H. S. players, are conceded to be the originators of the popular movement and this trio in itself will form a fine nucleus around which a good team could be formed. The remaining two positions on the team to be filled have produced a wealth of promising material including the Farmer brothers, Bergen Naylor, David Clarin, Myrton Glover, James McNamee, Edward Mackey and Edward Bremble.

If enough candidates report for practice at the initial call regular nights will be set aside for the team when they can get together and perfect their playing as a unit.

FIVES OF TWO SEXES ON THE 'PLAINS COURT

Lively Contests Will Be Staged for Parish House Followers.

Another two-game program of basketball will be offered to the Scotch Plains followers of the game at the Parish House tonight, when the girls line up against the Dunellen feminine quintet and the boys against the Company K five. Much interest has been manifested over the Company K game as the cadets have been aching to get a whack at the Parish House representatives all season and now that their opportunity has arrived the result will be awaited with interest. Records seem to foretell a victory for the 'Plains aggregation, but on the other hand, the Company K combination is noted for springing the inevitable and may walk away with the game.

In the girls' contest, the much deferred meeting of the Dunellenites and the 'Plains maidens will be decided. Since their game with the Nonpareils last Monday night the Parish House girls have been polishing off the rough edges and entertain high hopes of humiliating the visiting aggregation. In order to secure better team-work and at the same time afford each of the players an opportunity to display her ability to the best advantage, several shifts have been made in the Parish House lineup. Miss Sadie Lee will be sent from guard to center, Miss Edith Jahn from guard to forward, and Miss Ethel Southard from forward to guard.

SUMMIT CLUB TEAM ON THE CHAPEL COURT

Same Team That Appeared Against Ajax Will Meet West Enders.

On the Hope chapel court tonight the Summit chapel club five will play the Hope chapel team. The Summit aggregation is the same that put up such a fine game against the Y. M. C. A. Ajax last Saturday night and their basketball ability will extend the Chapelites to the limit in order to keep in the running. The teams will lineup as follows:

Hope Chapel—T. Heron, J. Heron, forwards; Doig, center; Leighs, A. Snyder, guards.

Summit—T. Voeglen, Fisher, forwards; Dean, center; E. Voeglen, Cooke, guards.

Y. M. C. A. JUNIORS WILL START ANEW

Teams in Both League Redivided and Schedules Will Start Again.

In line with the reorganized boys' department schedule at the local Y. M. C. A., Boys' Secretary C. William Bingeman has re-arranged the members in the two junior leagues, the Indian and College. Certain shifts have been made which will make a closer and keener competition and the organizations will take the second schedule with renewed interest.

The names of the teams and the members on them are as follows:

College League.

Yale—Foster, Sheing, Marsh, L., Causbrook, Walter, Smith, Ed., Hall.

Harvard — Krausse, McDowell, Brower, Adams, Smalley, Stover, Story.

GAMES WANTED.

The Murray basketball five, a fast traveling aggregation from Newark, would like to arrange games with teams in and around Plainfield, preferably the Y. M. C. A. Ajax and the Hope chapel teams. In the lineup of the Murray five is Joseph Kiernan, a former Plainfield boy, and his friends in Plainfield will want to see him perform. Address William Lyons, 248 Astor street, Newark, N. J.

CATS WON RIBBONS.

Mrs. Guy E. Thomas, of Dupont street, returned home yesterday afternoon from New York with three prize cats she had on exhibition at the Atlantic Cat Club show held at Plaza Hotel, Wednesday and Thursday. All three of Mrs. Thomas' cats won ribbons. She was awarded two blues and one red.

"HOBEY" BAKER HANDS OUT A NEAT KNOCK.

"Hobey" Baker, the renowned football star, was lunching in his native Philadelphia.

A young girl over her pear salad mentioned the name of the Princeton sophomore who had played rather badly on his class team.

"He is an awfully nice boy," she said. "What was it he played on the eleven, Mr. Baker—halfback, quarterback, fullback?"

The handsome and herculean "Hobey" smiled.

"I think he played drawback," he said.

HOW JIM THORPE STARTED.

Indian athletes of exceptional ability have been numerous in the last decade, but there is one today who is the athletic marvel of the age. James Thorpe, a Sac and Fox Indian, is that individual. Thorpe is distinctively a Carlisle product. His start in athletics was ordinary, but his advance has been meteoric. And he is not yet through.

There isn't a thing in an athletic way that Thorpe cannot do and do it as well as the best, and incidentally he is one of the most learned Indians at Carlisle. Thorpe is at home in any event on the track and field, is the pitcher of the ball nine, left halfback on the football team, a forward on the lacrosse team, center on the basket ball team and a member of any other team that should happen along at Carlisle. And he captains every team he plays on. He is also an expert shot and likes to hunt.

One day in the early spring of 1908 there was the usual vast bunch of Indians doing stunts on the Indians' athletic field. A few feet away from the high jumping standards was a little Indian, very much interested. He was dressed in overalls and a blue blouse, just as he had come out of the shop in which he was learning a trade. When the high jumpers were through they went away without taking down the crossbar. The little Indian walked up to the bar and then under it, for it was higher than his head. Then he walked back a few paces and surveyed the bar. Taking a short run, he languidly approached the standards and easily cleared the crosspiece. The height was five feet eight inches. There was some one else watching the Indian in the work clothes. The watcher was Glen Warner. The latter had been watching the high jumpers from a distance and noticed the movements of the lad without a costume as the others moved away, and he never let his gaze wander.

The lad had no more than landed on Mother Earth than Warner was saying in his droll way, "Here, you, Indian; go over there to the gymnasium and get a track suit on and come right back here." And from that day to this Thorpe has continued to grow and improve. He was five feet seven inches in height at that time and weighed 127 pounds. He now weighs 180 pounds and is five feet eleven and three-quarters inches in height. And since then he has cleared six feet four inches in height.

ACTOR DONLIN IS TAKING BASEBALL AS SECONDARY CONSIDERATION AT PRESENT

Says He Has Not Been Told of Deal Transferring Him to Philadelphia—Thinks Pittsburg and Philadelphia Strong Pennant Possibilities—Without Chance Thinks Cubs Will Be Back Numbers.

Mike Donlin.

Mike Donlin, the ball player, who is under contract to play at the Plainfield theatre tonight in "Between Showers," took a few minutes off from the footlights this morning and indulged in a "fanning bee." He expressed his views on the National game as it was played during the past season and as he thinks it will be played during the 1913 season. Donlin said he did not wish to be classed as a dopester and seldom expressed his views on a baseball schedule that had yet to be played. His present theatrical contract calls for a tour that will extend far beyond the time when the Philadelphia club will leave for its southern training trip and Donlin said he did not know for certain whether he would be able to join the team before the league season started. "Baseball," said Donlin, "is a secondary consideration with me at the present time, as my contract with the theatre people pays me my salary the better part of the year and I have to look out for that as well as playing the game that is dearest to me."

When asked what he thought of the deal which resulted in his being transferred to the Philadelphia club, the wagon tongue wielder said he had not even been appraised of the terms and no official notification had come into his hands. He said, however, that he considered the deal as completed and that he would report to the Phillies as soon as his theatrical bookings ran out. Donlin said he had nothing to do with the deal and as much as he hated to be changing from one club to another he would put up his best article of ball no matter where he was played. While his favorite job is an outfield berth, Donlin said that there was a possibility that he would be shifted to an inside corner of the diamond.

He said that he was in the finest kind of condition at the present moment and could go against any pitcher and wallop the horsehide to the four corners of the lot. "Hitting in the National League," said Donlin, "is far superior to that in the other organization, although I am not a believer in statistics, they certainly show in this instance that the National Leaguers can whale the ball harder than their brother Americans. I cannot compare the pitchers in the National and American Leagues because I have not seen a game played on the American League for twelve years and therefore can offer no authoritative views."

"The National League pennant race will be one of the greatest in the history of the sport this year and I think if the Phillies have an even break with luck they will be well in the running in August and at the finish. The Philadelphia aggregation were pestered with the worst kind of luck last season and it was injuries to the Philly players that gave the Giants an opportunity to gain the wonderful lead which was the real cause of their winning the pennant. The pitching staff of the team I have been assigned to play with is one of the greatest collections in the big organization and with Chalmers and Brennan in excellent shape, which they enjoy at the present time, the Philadelphia club looks like a pennant proposition. The only team to be feared in my estimation, although every baseball club is likely to spring the inevitable, is the Pittsburgh delegation. Pittsburgh has an unusually speedy set of players who are proficient in every department of the game and the team that has pennant aspirations will have to consider the team from the 'Smoky City.'"

When asked what he thought of Chance, he replied, "without Frank Chance the Chicago club will not be in the running. That man was the life and soul of his club and if the New York Yankees get a firm grip on him it goes without saying that the Yankees will end up in the first division. Chance can take hold of any club that has been playing indifferent baseball and build it up until it assumes championship dimensions."

PARISH HOUSE BOYS LOSE CLOSE GAME

By Superior Team Work Local Team Wins at Scotch Plains.

In a speedy game of basketball last night, the team representing the Boys' Club of Hope chapel defeated the Parish House second team by the score of 23 to 18. The contest was played on the loser's court before a large crowd of enthusiasts.

Although outweighed twenty pounds to a man, the Chapelites worked their signals to perfection and had their opponents on the defensive the greater part of both halves. The Scotch Plains players however exhibited a vast amount of improvement over that shown in previous games, and with proper coaching should develop into a fast aggregation.

The lineup:

Parish House Second team—Hooker and F. Saunders, forwards; H. Paff, center; Hall and Anson, guards.

Hope Chapel Boys' Club—A. Wells and Porter, forwards; H. Overland, center; G. Hunter and Marsh, guards.

PRESIDENT-ELECT WILSON ENJOYED EVERY HOUR OF HIS VISIT TO HIS BIRTHPLACE IN OLD VIRGINIA CITY

Staunton, Va., Jan. 4.—Many men have visited the towns in which they were born and have enjoyed spending a few days among the scenes of their boyhood. But no other man ever returned to the place of his birth under such circumstances as attended the visit of Woodrow Wilson to Staunton. He celebrated his fifty-sixth birthday here, was a guest in the house in which he was born and slept in the room in which he first saw the light of day. He reviewed a parade of thousands who assembled to do him honor, he made a number of speeches, and he shook hands with many who remembered when his father was a preacher here. From the minute he stepped off the train until he again boarded the car for the return trip to Princeton Mr. Wilson enjoyed himself, and he showed it by his words and smiles.

Happenings Due Next Week

Washington, D. C., Jan. 4.—The possibility that a decision may be handed down in the State rate cases lends additional interest to the reconvening of the Supreme Court on Monday, following the holiday recess.

The Ways and Means Committee of the House will on Monday begin its series of hearings on the all-important subject of tariff revision. The hearings will be by schedule, beginning with chemicals, oils and paints with subsequent dates arranged for the hearings on the various other schedules and the free list. In this way it is expected that most of the preliminary work may be in hand by the end of February so that the committee may then begin on the drafting of the measure or measures for tariff reduction in readiness for the extra session beginning in March.

During the week another important series of hearings will begin before the subcommittee of the House and Banking and Currency Committee, which is seeking a substitute for the Aldrich currency plan. Many noted financiers and economists have been invited to appear before the committee and give their views.

The subcommittee of the House Banking and Currency Committee which is conducting the "money trust" investigation, which adjourned for the Christmas holidays after examining J. P. Morgan on Dec. 19 will reconvene Monday and will cover the remaining ground of the inquiry as rapidly as possible.

The trial will be resumed in Cincinnati Monday of President Patterson and other officials of the National Cash Register Company, who are charged with having violated the criminal section of the Sherman anti trust law.

A Democratic caucus of the House will be held Tuesday to fill committee vacancies. The most important seats will be one of the Ways and Means Committee vacated by Representatives Hughes, of New Jersey, one on the Appropriations Committee vacated by Representative Cox, of Ohio, and the chairmanship of the Foreign Affairs Committee, vacated by Representative Sulzer, of New York.

The House Committee on Merchant Marine will begin hearings Tuesday to investigate the methods and practices of domestic and foreign steamship lines, particularly as to any agreements, pools, or combinations with railroads. The committee first will consider the foreign steamship situation, the initial hearing to be on the Brazilian traffic.

The first annual convention of the Women's National Democratic League is to assemble Tuesday at the New Willard Hotel, in Washington, for a three days' session.

Most of the ranking army officers of the United States will gather in Washington Wednesday for an important conference with War Department officials with the purpose of arranging the details of the extensive plan of reorganization of the army, which will be the last important military action of the retiring administration.

Captain Amundsen, discoverer of the South Pole, is to be the guest of honor at the annual banquet of the National Geographic Society, which is to be held in Washington Saturday night. Rear Admiral Peary, of North Pole fame, will act as toastmaster.

During the week Legislatures will convene in numerous States and many new governors and other officials will be sworn into office.

IMPORTANT CASE.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 4 (Special).—A formidable docket will face the Supreme Court of the United States when it reconvenes Monday after the holiday recess. It is considered likely that some important decisions may be handed down on the opening day. The decision in the State rate cases and the decision as to the rights of the Union Pacific stockholders in the distribution of the Southern Pacific stock are the decisions that are awaited with most public interest. Among the important cases docketed for argument before the Supreme Court on the opening day is the suit of the Minehill and Schuylkill Haven Railway Company against the collector of internal revenue at Philadelphia. This suit involves the Government's right to impose a tax upon corporations that have leased their properties, which right has been denied by the lower court. The issue, if finally decided against the Government, will involve the loss of many hundred thousand dollars in revenues, since there are thousands of large corporations which have leased their properties and which will be affected by the decision.

MAY ESCAPE SECOND TRIAL.

Kansas City, Mo., Jan. 4 (Special).—The second trial of Dr. B. Clarke Hyde, convicted after a sensational trial, of the murder of Colonel Thos. H. Swope, a millionaire philanthropist, is scheduled to begin in the criminal court here Monday, but it is thought likely the case may not be called. District Attorney Virgil Conkling, who conducted the successful prosecution of Dr. Hyde at the first trial, died a short time ago, and many persons are of the opinion that the physician never will be called upon to stand trial a second time.

A CHARACTERISTIC SNAPSHOT OF THE LATE JAMES R. KEENE

New York, Jan. 4.—James R. Keene, who has been ill in Mrs. Alston's sanitarium, died there at 2:15 o'clock Friday morning. Only his son, Foxhall Keene, and the physicians were with him at the time. Mr. Keene grew steadily weaker after the operation Thursday until the end. Mr. Keene had been ill from an abdominal ailment for many years. He had spent many months consulting and taking treatment in Europe. In the fall of 1911 Mr. Keene, while in London, was operated on for what was said to be an intestinal malady of a serious nature. Since then he had been an invalid. The picture is a snapshot of Mr. Keene, showing him when he was a power in American finance and on the turf. It was made at a race track near New York.

NEW YORK AMUSEMENTS

Messrs. Klaw and Erlanger presented "Eva," the new musical play by Franz Lehar and Glen MacDonough, at the New Amsterdam theatre, in New York, New Year's week and it was enthusiastically received, proving a worthy successor of "The Court of Luxembourg," which, by the way, was by the same author and composer. The play is based upon the original of Willner and Bodansky and has created a furore in continental Europe. One great charm about "Eva" is that it is wholly different from the familiar time worn type of musical farce. It is far and away the finest work that Franz Lehar, the Viennese waltz king, has ever done, and in the book Glen MacDonough is seen at his best. The scenes of "Eva" are laid in the office of a glass factory in Montarlier, Belgium; the garden of the mansion of the owner of the factory, and finally in a fashionable apartment in Paris. The story deals with the love of Eva, a godchild of the factory employes, and Octave Flaubert, a young Parisian, who is the owner of the glass factory. There are many intensely dramatic moments, notably in one scene, where a hundred infuriated workmen break in upon the garden fete being given by Flaubert. The beautiful music of Franz Lehar, whose fame was established in "The Merry Widow," is interpreted by an augmented orchestra under the leadership of Hugo Reisenfeld, the former repetitor and first violinist of the Manhattan Opera House. Messrs. Klaw and Erlanger made the production of "Eva" upon an elaborate and artistic scale, and have provided a company of unusual merit, including Sallie Fisher, who is seen as Eva; Alma Francis, Walter Percival; Walter Lawrence, T. J. McGrane, John Daly Murphy, Wallace McCutcheon, Jr., and scores of others.

The longest run of any Shapespearean tragedy since the days of Edwin Booth is now in progress at the Garden theatre, with John E. Kellerd and his all star company in "Hamlet." In spite of counter attractions and new plays the production continues to draw large audiences demonstrating that Shakespeare is a popular as ever. Mr. Kellerd's interpretation of the leading character has come in for much merited praise, besides investing the part with great charm. In the way of scenic investiture and other details nothing is lacking and ever since the beginning of the present engagement the offering has proved a source of infinite delight and enjoyment. The original cast is still seen and includes Theodore Roberts, Amelia Gardner, Edward Mackay, Harvey Braban, Charles A. Stevenson, Marguerite Campbell.

JUST LIKE GHOSTS

The Norwegian Vardogrs and Their Curious Warnings.

A STUDY IN PSYCHIC FORCE.

Voices and Sounds and Visions That Foretell to Those Properly Attuned to the Phenomenon the Speedy Coming of Relatives or Friends.

In Norway, or at least in certain parts of it, there is a well known phenomenon, instances of which are of frequent occurrence, known locally by various names, but in the east of the country commonly called vardogr. By this term is understood a certain property, attaching itself to particular persons, by which their arrival at a particular place, most frequently their own home, is announced beforehand by distinctive sounds, such as are usually or naturally made by the person in question.

It is only a limited number of persons to whom this property is attached who "have a vardogr," as the phrase is, and the premonitory sounds are not always heard nor by all persons. Very often it is only members of the family or near relatives who notice them at all. Much more rarely the person is seen instead of being heard some time before his or her arrival. It is to be particularly noted that the idea of the vardogr is not one which is confined to the uneducated classes. It is equally recognized and its reality admitted by persons of education and culture.

The following interesting account was given by Miss P., a schoolteacher in the town of Drammen:

"It is nothing unusual to find people in Norway who have a vardogr—that is to say, that one can hear or see them before they really come in person. Such cases are found in nearly every family, but in some more frequently than in others. In the cases of my father and eldest brother it happens so often that we do not think it in the least remarkable. I remember one particular instance which I shall relate.

"We expected my father home from a long voyage and got word that he had arrived at a little harbor in the firth, but at the same time there came a message saying that unfortunately he could not get home for several days, as the ice prevented him from coming up. We were very much disappointed, because we were just then about to have a family gathering. When we had assembled in the evening we talked about how delightful it would have been if father could have come. My mother then took a book and read aloud, while we children worked, when we all heard the kitchen door open and father's well known step come in. He put down a box which he was carrying, and we heard him speak to the servant, who sat in a side room.

"'Oh, there is papa!' shouted three or four of us together and rushed out to the kitchen to be the first to welcome him. But there was no one there. We ran in to the servant, but she had heard nothing. We thought that perhaps he had gone out again, but no—there was no one. So distinctly had we all heard him, however, that my youngest sister, who was rather nervous, burst into tears, thinking it must be a warning that something had happened to him. It was the first time she had heard his vardogr, but my mother, who was well accustomed to it, said very calmly:

"'Go to bed, children. It was only papa's vardogr, and now we know for certain that he will be home for tomorrow.'

"Sure enough, an hour afterward we had him safely home. Now, since he has got older, and especially since he gave up going to sea, we hear him much more seldom. But in his youth his mother heard him constantly and sometimes even heard him knock on her window and call her by name. Sometimes it woke her by night, and she would rise and go to open the door, but there was no one there the first time. An hour later he would actually come. That happened particularly when he was expected home from sea."

Another lady, Miss R., gave the following account, which shows that the vardogr does not merely announce what might naturally be expected, but conveys impressions of facts quite unknown to the person hearing it:

"It was in the year 1901. I was staying in Christiania with my uncle and aunt, who had no children of their own. Uncle and aunt went away for two days and intended to come home between 11 and 12 in the evening. The servant girl had gone home that night, so I was alone in the house.

"I was just about to undress when I heard them come. I heard the sound of the street door, heard them come upstairs and open the hall door and talk to each other. It seemed to me that uncle carried something heavy, and I heard them talk about 'being careful.' I wondered what they could have brought home with them. I expected to hear them open the room door and go in, but suddenly all was quiet.

"About ten minutes after I heard exactly the same noises. This time they really came, and they brought a little cousin with them. She was fast asleep, and they had to be careful not to wake her. Next morning I told them what I heard, and uncle said:

"'That is not so wonderful. You have only heard a vardogr.'"

Innumerable other instances just as striking might be cited.—W. A. Cragie in Blackwood's.

PASTOR OPPOSES LIQUOR LICENSES

Rev. Gabriel Reid Maguire in Sermon Makes An Attack on the Saloon.

FOR PROHIBITION HERE

Drunkards Responsible for Insane, Epileptic and Idiot Children—More Asylums Needed Because of the Traffic He Declares.

Quoting from a newspaper report that "America is producing more imbeciles than all the asylums can hold," and that "New Jersey and Pennsylvania must decide quickly whether they will build more asylums or stop the breeding of more idiots and insane persons," Rev. Gabriel Reid Maguire, at the Park Avenue Baptist church last night, launched into an attack upon the saloon and vigorously opposed the granting of licenses here. The fourteen applications filed with the Common Council caused the minister to call upon the city fathers to refuse to grant licenses for saloons within the city limits and to assist in preventing "the breeding of lunatics, imbeciles and idiots." "Shall we build insane asylums or stop breeding lunatics; shall we build more retreats for idiots or stop breeding idiots," was a statement characteristic of the sermon last night.

According to Rev. Mr. Maguire one out of every three children of drunkard fathers is epileptic; one out of every four children of drunkard fathers is feeble-minded, and one out of every five children is insane. "The mother knows instinctively that she should not become the mother of any more children to a drunken man," he said. "She rebels and would cast him off. Within her struggle all of the most sacred emotions of the race, trying to preserve itself clean and wholesome. Nothing but the mad fear of seeing her children suffer want or to be taken from her makes the woman tolerate a man who is a real menace to the race.

"Throughout the country the cry is going up for more insane asylums. Doctors are calling for more homes for the feeble-minded. Judges on the bench are begging for sanitariums." Here the speaker cited the appeal of City Judge DeMeza to the authorities of Union county for such an institution and the judge's advice "instead of sending drunkards to jail and into criminal life, send them to a sanitarium where they may be taken care of and at the expense of the city."

"The mothers of the poor do not want any more insane, idiotic and abnormal children," continued the speaker. "These mothers want healthy babies and enough of the necessities of life to rear these tiny souls in continued health. Society owes it to itself to stop this plain breeding of degenerates, and should provide compensation for the destitute mothers."

REAL ESTATE LESSORS MEET TOMORROW NIGHT

An organization meeting of real estate lessors of Plainfield will be held in Coward's Hall on Park avenue, tomorrow night at 8 o'clock, when officers will be elected, bylaws and constitution adopted, and a plan of action mapped out. The purpose is to protect the interests of property-owners, to get after tenants who "jump" their rent, and to take steps toward regulating the rents throughout the city.

Jacob Sachar, who has taken the initiative in the matter, has secured more than one hundred signatures of property-owners who have signified their willingness to join the association.

DINNER IN CLERIC'S HONOR.

The Men's Club, of Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church, will give a dinner in the church parlors in honor of Rev. Gilbert Lovell, who is soon to return to the mission fields of China, on Tuesday night, Jan. 14, at 6:45 o'clock. The dinner will be a "family" affair, with a short address by Mr. Lovell.

STEALING FLAGSTONES.

Leslie M. Daniel, of 608 West Eighth street, reported to the local police Saturday that some Italians were stealing flagstones from the premises at 810 Plainfield avenue. Chief Kiely detailed one of his patrolmen to investigate, but the thieves could not be found.

JUDGE ATWATER ILL; IS TO TAKE A REST

Justice Bergen to Sit for Him in the Union County Court.

Elizabeth, Jan. 6.—Justice James J. Bergen will sit at the opening of the January term of court, tomorrow, in place of Judge Edward S. Atwater, who is still quite ill at his home. It is expected that Judge Atwater will soon take a trip south, his physician believing that a change of climate will prove beneficial. So far as known there is only one important case to be considered by the grand jury and that is that of Rev. Willis S. MacRorie, the Mt. Horeb Methodist minister.

Judge Peter F. Daly, of New Brunswick, will probably be called upon to do some work during the coming term of court.

REAR END COLLISION ON JERSEY CENTRAL

Bound Brook, Jan. 6.—Traffic was delayed on the New Jersey Central for more than an hour at this place, Saturday night, following a rear-end collision between a westbound freight train and a drill engine and several empty cars. No one was injured. The accident happened at the end of Church street, near the center of the town. The passenger tracks as well as those used for freight, were blocked and fully one hour was required to clear the wreckage. The cause for the collision has not yet been determined.

SOCIALISTS TO HAVE HEADQUARTERS SOON

Jacob Sachar, who recently acquired the large tract of land at Giraud avenue and West Front street, where he has erected one fine dwelling, is remodelling a building on the rear of the tract, facing Giraud avenue. The lower floor will be fitted up as a meeting room for the Socialists of the city who have a permanent organization, and the upper floor will be made into apartments.

The Socialists have been meeting in the West End for some time, and having outgrown their quarters made arrangements with Mr. Sachar for a more commodious place.

THREE YEARS AT EAST END CHURCH

Work Reviewed at Anniversary Services at Netherwood Reformed Church.

PASTOR IS ENCOURAGED

Rev. Royal A. Stout Explains How the Congregation and the Work Have Grown—Rev. John B. Lane Congratulates the Parish.

Special services both morning and evening marked the third birthday of the Netherwood Reformed church yesterday. Rev. Royal A. Stout, the pastor, preached on "The Divine Pattern" in the morning and in the evening on "Three Years of Discipleship." Rev. John B. Lane made a congratulatory address at the evening service in place of Rev. Frank Fletcher, who was detained at home on account of ill health. Mr. Lane's talk conveyed three thoughts. They were "Be Loyal," "Be Prayerful," and "Be Lovable." He declared that no one person, referring to the pastor, could do all the work of the church alone, but needed the help of the entire congregation. "The work will be more severe as the years go by," said Rev. Mr. Lane, "and the need of help by the pastor will become more plain every day, until he has secured the co-operation of every member of the church. There will be times when the burden, when it seems the heaviest, would be greatly lightened if only some one would offer his services, at times when it seems to him that his work is not becoming effective and he is downcast because of it, a smile or a hearty

CLERIC ON GRAND JURY HAVING M'RORIE CASE

Rev. J. Y. Broek, pastor of Trinity Reformed church, has been chosen as one of the Plainfield representatives on the grand jury for the January term of court, which is significant in view of the fact that probably the most important case to come before that body will be that of Rev. Willis S. MacRorie, former pastor of the Methodist churches at Mt. Horeb and Springdale. It is understood that the accused has resigned both charges and will not again resume pastoral work there.

Mr. MacRorie was arrested here several weeks ago on serious charges involving a young woman who attended his church. Following his arrest he is said to have made a signed confession to Assistant County Prosecutor Walter L. Hetfield, Jr. A little later there was a council of the officers of the church with Rev. Dr. D. B. F. Randolph, the District superintendent, and it was announced that the church authorities would believe the minister innocent until proved guilty in a court of law. It was also stated that Alvah A. Clark, who has since died, had been retained to defend the accused.

MISS GEIBLER BRIDE OF WILLIAM H. NICHOLS

Miss Margaret M. Giebeler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Giebeler, of South avenue, and Monroe A. Nichols, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Nichols, of Fairview avenue, were married Saturday afternoon at the parsonage of Grace M. E. church, by Rev. C. C. Cain.

The bride, who was attired in a blue traveling gown with cloak and hat to match, was attended by her sister, Miss Jennie Giebeler, while the groom was accompanied by his brother, Charles A. Nichols. Immediately after the ceremony the couple left on a short honeymoon trip. Upon their return they will reside at 658 South avenue, where the groom has furnished a home.

WHAT REV. J. Y. BROEK DID DURING LAST YEAR

During the past year, Rev. J. Y. Broek, pastor of Trinity Reformed church, preached 84 sermons, administered at five communions and at one private communion, delivered twenty-two special addresses in and outside the city, conducted forty-one prayer-meetings, officiated at ten weddings, conducted sixteen funerals, received twenty-eight into the church fellowship on confession and nine by letter, baptized fifteen children and seven adults, made 607 pastoral visits and attended 262 church and committee meetings, not counted in any of the above statistics.

A. L. Force and daughter, Miss Lillian A. Force, of Duer street, spent Sunday with relatives in Brooklyn.

He claimed the automobile was without lights.

THINK MAN BLOWN FROM TRAIN WAS H. E. GERDES?

Elizabeth, Jan. 6.—No news of the recovery of the body of the man who was blown from the platform of a Jersey Central train into Newark Bay during the storm of Friday night, has been received by the Elizabeth or Roselle police, who are of the opinion that the man was Henry E. Gerdes, of Fourth avenue, Roselle.

Gerdes is still missing from his home and his wife is prostrated over the absence of her husband and the probability that he was the victim of the storm.

GOVERNMENT TO CONTROL EXPRESS COS. BUSINESS?

(By Telegraph to The Daily Press.)

Washington, Jan. 6.—The railroads and the express companies today won a evolutionary decision in the Supreme Court when it was held that contracts limiting to small sums their liability for loss of shipments were not subjected to State laws, but to interstate laws. It was further held that contracts limiting liability to a small sum in return from a low rate were not in violation of the Interstate Commerce laws particularly the Carmack amendment.

FEAST OF EPIPHANY IS OBSERVED TODAY

Today being the feast of the Epiphany, the Holy Communion was administered at 9:30 o'clock at Holy Cross Episcopal church. The feast of the Epiphany commemorates the manifestation of Christ to the Wise Men, who followed the star from the East until it stood over the manger at Bethlehem, where the Christ child lay. The church also celebrates on this day those other manifestations of Christ at his patism and at the first miracle at Cana of Galilee.

At the organ recital given by Charles Davis, the organist and choirmaster, last night, several selections were splendidly rendered, including "March Triobphale," by Lemmens; "Andantino," by Chauvet; Shart's "Prelude" and "Evening Prayer," and the "Festal March," of Clarke.

PIERSON ELECTED BOARD DIRECTOR

Union County's New Board of Freeholders Assumes Charge of Affairs.

OWENS COUNTY ATT'Y

David County Collector, Krch Engineer, Daly Road Supervisor; Hughes and McCann Get on Good Committees.

Elizabeth, Jan. 6.—According to the announced plans, the new small Board of Freeholders, which is composed of six Democrats and one Republican, met at 10 o'clock this morning at the Court House for organization, ignoring the previous action of the "rump" board. The caucus slate went through. Thomas J. Pierson was elected director, Abe J. David, county collector; Henry Kerr, Jr., county engineer; John P. Owens, of Plainfield, county attorney; Michael Connell, custodian of the Court House; William A. Bourdon, clerk, and James Daly, of Rahway, supervisor of roads.

Director Pierson promptly named his committees for the year. The Plainfield members were well remembered. Thomas Hughes was placed on the committees on jail and prison, publication, roads, appropriation, hospitals, elections and soldiers' monuments, while James J. McCann was placed on the committees on auditing, lunacy, stationer, hospitals, elections, legal questions and miscellaneous.

The board received a communication from its counsel, John K. English and William R. Wilson, stating that they had gone carefully over the situation and in their opinion the small board was the legally constituted board and not the old board as claimed. Complications are apt to arise, however, regarding the disposition of county funds. Nathan R. Leavitt, the former collector, has the funds on deposit, and it is understood that the new board will notify the banks not to recognize any draft from Mr. Leavitt. This tying up of the funds threatens to embarrass the work of the county [illegible] may be the cause of delaying [illegible] that should be made, even [illegible]aries. The matter in dispute is now in the courts and a decision is expected within a short time. The new board will meet again on Thursday.

SAFETY LEAGUE SECRETARY TO SPEAK TO PUPILS

A. J. Brunt, field secretary of the New Jersey Safety League, will speak in Plainfield on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of next week on "Safety." The object of the league is "the prevention of street car, automobile, fire, live-wire, and other accidents in public places" and since its inauguration two years ago the membership has grown into the tens of thousands. The movement was started in Los Angeles, Cal., and after sweeping over the western country it has invaded the States on the Atlantic coast where thousands of young people have gone into its ranks.

Missionaries have gone into every State in the Union to tell of the dangers which beset the youth of the country in regard to public dangers, and great enthusiasm has been displayed by those who have joined. Since the organization was formed in Newark child accidents and killings have been decreased 47.8 per cent.

Mr. Van Brunt will speak at the High School on Friday, January 17, at 8:20 in the morning, and again at 1 o'clock in the afternoon. He will speak in the borough schools on January 20.

VON BERNSTORFF MAY BE FOREIGN MINISTER

Washington, Jan. 6.—Diplomats in Washington recall that just before Herr von Kiderlen-Waechter, who died suddenly, was appointed German secretary for foreign affairs in 1910 the name of Count Heinrich von

COUNT VON BERNSTORFF

Bernstorff, now German ambassador in Washington, figured prominently in the gossip over the office. Now the discussion of the possibility of Count von Bernstorff's nomination is revived. Count von Bernstorff is credited with favoring conciliatory methods, and this is thought by some diplomats to put him in line for selection as the successor to Kiderlen-Waechter.

SAYS FATHER WAS CRUEL.

Dominick Dilella, the fifteen-year-old son of Aniello Dilella of 1422 McCrea place, at police headquarters Saturday night told a pitiful tale of cruelty, which he alleged he was made to suffer with at home, adding that his father would not allow him into the house to go to bed. Patrolman Craig went to the boy's father and the latter readily opened the door when he saw the policeman. The older Dilella denied shutting his boy out of doors and claimed that the youth was incorrigable. He said he refused to go to school or work and had stayed out late at night associating with bad companions.

NEW YORK AMUSEMENTS

Proctor's Fifth Avenue theatre's dominant features will be Stella Mayhew and Bilee Taylor, Zelda Sears and Maurice and Florence Walton in the above named order, or in just the reverse order, as their admirers desire. The former will appear in new songs and character changes. Miss Sears supported by a company of distinction will present "The Wardrobe Woman," a playlet of stage life from the prolific pen of Edgar Allan Wolf, while the third team above mentioned will appear in the dances that caused the prevalent cabaret craze. Others on the bill are McKay and Cantwell, the Broadway boys, with new material in everything from songs to costumes; Frosini, the wizard of the accordeon; Clara Inge, the vaudeville Kitty Cheatham; Redford and Winchester, burlesque jugglers; Burley and Burley, acrobatic Scots direct from London.

TAXATION THE ISSUE.

Montpelier, Vt., Jan. 6 (Special).—The Vermont legislature reassembled today for its winter session. The calendar of business is not heavy and the lawmakers expect to be able to end the session by the end of the month. The principal bills to receive attention are those to give women a limited municipal suffrage, to change the date of the State election from September to November, and to readjust the methods of taxation of intangible property.

TENNESSEE CONTROL A PUZZLE.

Nashville, Tenn., Jan. 6 (Special).—With the assembling of the Tennessee legislature today much talk is heard of a bitter contest for the control of that body and possible combinations of parties and factions to promote or defeat legislation, including action on the prohibition laws which constitute one of the big political issues in the State. The "regular" Democrats, however, believe they have the situation thoroughly in hand and unless some of their members desert and join the Fusion forces, which is not considered at all probable, the Democratic leaders expect to control the course of legislation and also the election of the two United States senators who are to be elected, for the short and a long term respectfully.

PROGRESSIVES HOLD STATE.

Sacramento, Calif., Jan. 6 (Special).—The Progressive party, under the leadership of the Johnson State administration, holds the controlling hand in the California legislature which convened today for its biennial session. Proposed amendments to the primary election laws and a revival of anti-Japanese legislation promise to be the chief features of the session.

A GOOD PUBLIC SERVANT.

Reports from Trenton have it that Governor Wilson will reappoint General Lewis T. Bryant as the head of the State Department of Labor. It is to be hoped that the stories are not idle newspaper gossip, and that the executive will rename him. In no State department has the work been better or more faithfully performed than has been the case in the Department of Labor.

General Bryant was first named by Governor Murphy in 1904 as the first head of the department, which was created in that year by the Legislature. Prior to that time the factory inspection laws, such as they were, were inadequately enforced, child labor was in evidence in all parts of the State, there were but poor safeguards against fire in the manufacturing plants of the State, and the sanitary and health conditions surrounding many of the workers in factories and shops were of the worst. General Bryant took hold at once, and in spite of the fact that many of the inspectors who were given him to enforce the laws were mere politicians, so placed as a reward for past services, the work of the department has been prosecuted in such a manner that it has assumed first rank among the departments of all the States in the Union. In 1910, when General Bryant's second term was about to expire, it was suggested that he be made a judge of the Court of Errors and Appeals but a monster protest went up from civic associations all over the State against taking him from the splendid work he was doing, the idea was abandoned, and he was renamed for a third term in his present office, which expires in September, necessitating the sending of the name of his successor to the 1913 Legislature.

No officeholder at Trenton has a better record than has General Bryant. He has seen that the law has been enforced without fear or favor; he has never used his office for political purposes; he has been the author of many of the best labor laws on the statute books, and some of them were put there because he personally followed up the legislators until he saw the desired legislation put through. He has the endorsement of labor men all over the State, because of the helpful conditions he has brought about for them in their places of employment; civic societies, welfare workers and hundreds of others want to see General Bryant reappointed, and it is gratifying to know that Governor Wilson is expected to rename so efficient a public servant.

IT'S ALL VERY FUNNY.

Just where the Progressives come in on the gathering which W. de La. R. Anderson called at Trenton last Saturday, is hard to see. The Progressive party is entirely separate from the old Republican party; it is legally recognized practically in every State in the Union, and holds second place, being what is termed the minority party. The Republican party, according to the official returns, has become a third party for the time being at least. Just why the Progressives should give up all the advantage thus gained, and become a part of the Republican organization, is not quite clear. Have either of the old parties indicated in any way that they stand for the humanitarian planks in the Progressive platform as adopted at the convention held in Chicago last August and upon it the party makes its greatest plea for support.

At almost the same time that Mr. Anderson had gathered together a few Republicans at Trenton, to form a "Progressive" Republican League, President Taft, at a Republican "wake," as he referred to its facetiously, was telling an audience in New York what great service he had done the country by keeping Mr. Roosevelt from being elected. And the statement was vigorously applauded by such sterling "Progressives" and noble citizens as Boise Penrose, William Barnes, Murray Crane, John D. Archbold, Franklin Murphy and a few others, who presided over the destinies of the Republican party at Chicago last June.

THE PLAYGROUND.

The third annual report of the Plainfield Playgrounds Commission, of which that excellent citizen, George P. Mellick, is president, is most encouraging to those who believe that the playground is a great instrument for good in the community. That there has been a marked increase in the attendance of boys and girls at these free recreation places is a source of satisfaction and the instruction and amusement afforded at the several playgrounds is money wisely handled and well spent. What this "wholesome and healthful recreation" means is well stated in the report which says: "the city is not only preventing weakness, vice and disease in the men and women of tomorrow and thus insuring the continued soundess of its own life, but its operation of playgrounds also causes the child to think of the city as its benefactor and thus teaches a powerful lesson in patriotism. From these points of view, the value of the playground as a training school for citizenship cannot be overestimated."

The public playground is one of the best investments of the municipality.

Irwin D. Siegel's communication as published on Saturday should only be taken humorously, however much he intended it to be a serious letter. That he was not justified in any of his "kicks" was apparent and as for his complaint of his alleged treatment at the hands of the postmaster we know the efficient Mr. Bird so well that we feel warranted in saying that Mr. Siegel is mistaken in his man. But in a free press any reputable citizen should be granted the privilege of voicing his opinions provided he stands sponsor for them.

It is quite evident that Mr. Taft has had a change of heart since he appeared as a candidate for the Presidency last fall when he read the progressives supporting Roosevelt out of the party. Then he declared that there was no room in the Republican party for "half-baked" Republicans, as he termed them. Hearken to his words of last Saturday night: "Let us invite those Republicans who left us under an impulse, that calmer consideration shows to have been unwise, to return."

Then he declared the banquet was intended to show the country the party was a force for good.—New York World report of Taft's Saturday night speech.

Conclusive proof of the "force for good" was found in the presence of those patriotic "statesmen," Barnes, Penrose, Murphy, Guggenheim, Crane et. al., who no doubt blushingly acknowledged the tribute thrust upon them.

Governor Sulzer says he's the head of his party in New York State, but wait until Headsman Murphy gets his axe sharpened.

CAN LIMIT LIABILITY ON SMALL BUSINESS

(By Telegraph to The Daily Press.)

Washington, Jan. 6.—That Postmaster General Hitchcock in his forthcoming annual message will recommend that the government take over and operate the express business of the country is the statement of those who are in a position to know the plans of Mr. Hitchcock. It is believed he will make it as an extension of the parcel post.

HERE'S ANOTHER FOR KICKER CLUB

Geo. W. Pearson Follows Irwin D. Siegel in Applying for Membership.

HE'S KNOCKING HARD

George D. Pearson, of Prescott place, has joined the Knockers Club, which opens its meeting with the anvil chorus and then proceeds to discuss "What's the Matter With Plainfield?" Pearson didn't propose to let Irwin D. Siegel take the first money in the contest for the best plan by which to advertise Plainfield, and he has sent the following communication for publication without first submitting it to the Chamber of Commerce's publicity committee:

Editors, Plainfield Daily Press:

After reading Irwin D. Siegel's "diagnosis" as you term it, I must say that he has voiced my opinion regarding Plainfield to the letter. Plainfield, "The Queen City" (?) certainly has some evils that should be corrected.

I once heard a man remark that Plainfield was all right to work in, but that's as far as it goes. To work in the morning; home at night; eat your evening meal; read your paper; retire for the night. Then arise next day for the same routine. If you must needs go out at night it is good policy to carry a few matches with you in order to light your way until you reach the "Great White Way," better known as Front street. Then you can dispense with your miniature power house.

For a town this size, I must say that Plainfield has the poorest lighting system of any place I have lived in. I have lived (?) here for a period of six years, long enough to know of what I speak. One evening a few weeks ago, my brother and I had occasion to walk down Front street. When we had gotten within two hundred yards west of Plainfield avenue we saw a small crowd collected in the middle of the road. Upon investigation we discovered that a horse that was harnessed to a cab had fallen down a hole between the trolley tracks. The tracks were being repaired at this point and of course the streets being so well lighted the driver could not see where he was driving. However, after hailing a passing auto and placing the car in such a position that the search lights enabled us to see, we were fortunate enough to extricate both horse and cab.

The lighting is the most serious evil and should be attended to.

Another one: the sidewalks. For example, if it rains and you go out at night in the West End you must walk through mud (now then, gentle reader, don't imagine for a moment that you have to walk into the road to get this mud. Not at all. It is supplied right on the sidewalk) two inches deep, water over your shoe tops, and when you come to a crossing you must hurdle a stream deep enough to drown a cat.

How do our old and feeble citizens do? Perhaps they swim across.

A four family house is in course of construction on Prescott place a few doors from my residence, and, of course, it was necessary for the contractor to tear up all the sidewalk in front of the building, making another mud heap for a man to walk through in order to get to his home. Occasionally we have to scramble over a lumber pile or else work in the road. Why aren't such things as these placed under restriction and enough sidewalk left for pedestrians. This is not the only case. I could cite a dozen more.

Some people may term me a kicker. Perhaps I am. No doubt it would be a good idea if we had a few more kickers. Let us hear from them all. Perhaps we could form a kickers' club and then work in conjunction with our Chamber of Commerce.

They're looking for a slogan. Here's mine: "Do Something—Do It Now."

Trusting this will be published, I remain, yours, a kicker, hand shake will revive him and start him on with renewed vigor. To succeed as a church you must be prayerful, not only once in a while but at all times. I will give you these three thoughts to take with you into your fourth year of work and service to Him: Be loyal, be prayerful, and above all else be lovable, for did not the Lord say, 'If Ye Love Me Keep My Commandment, and My Commandment is Love One Another.'"

Rev. Mr. Stout gave a short talk on "Three Years of Discipleship." He spoke of the three years that the disciples served with the Lord in which they got their conception of the Kingdom of God before they were sent out to spread the Gospel. "The first year spent by the disciples," he said," was in learning of the kingdom of God and what it was capable of doing, the development of it and its powers. During the second year they learned the lesson of brotherhood. They learned that not only their intimate friends but everybody they saw were brothers and should be treated as such. In the third year they were taught whom they served. During that year they witnessed the great power of God in the Transfiguration, the Garden scene, and the scene on Calvary when the Lord was crucified. Then and not till then were the disciples ready to go out and scatter the words and the gospel of the Lord Jesus Christ."

Rev. Mr. Stout then went on to compare the three years spent by the disciples with Jesus to the three years of the church's history, during the first year it was singled out to work for the Kingdom, the second, more brotherly spirit. More spirit was shown in the organization and a more fraternality was shown, and finally the responsible spirit of the brotherhood of the community took form and developed. The missionary spirit was felt more in the third year than the special needs of the local church. The past year has fitted them for His work and helped to make them realize the value that can be derived from it.

A short review of the church work and its various organizations was given. The pastor said: "The Sunday-school started with but four classes, now there are eight and we have 125 names on the roll as members. In the cradle roll there are at present sixteen and nine have graduated from it in the past year. The Christian Endeavor became a recognized help for the younger folks of the church. The Ladies' Aid Society was organized and worked hard before the church was built, and have been one of the important factors in the church work since then. The Men's Club began in the second year of the church's existence and went in for the social life of the male members, but after a while they became dissatisfied with only the church members and branched out to be a neighborhood club. It was this organization that presented the church with its pipe organ. Then comes the Boys' Club. At present they go in for socials and athletics but they are working around gradually to the devotional side of life. The Girl's Mission Band, recently organized, is doing a great work among the girls of the community. These little sisters are sewing for their little sisters beyond the seas. It is stated that about ten per cent. of a church's congregation attend prayer services, but I am glad to say that there are twenty-five per cent. of this church's congregation attending midwek prayer services and I hope that it will increase greatly in the coming year.

"Three years ago tonight this church started out with a membership of thirty-four, tonight we have sixty-eight. The membership has doubled, but I am sorry to say that it has not grown fast enough, not that I am censuring anybody because I know that you have all done your best and the membership will grow.

"We now have sixty eight and the Lord sent forth seventy to scatter His Word. We are two lacking, but I feel that we have been chosen to scatter His Word and preach it here in this community. Will you not do your part? I will close with a verse from the scripture, 'Lo, I am with you always even unto the end of the world.' Won't you accept the challenge and with His help see how much you can do for His Kingdom."

Special music was rendered at both services, in the morning a male quartet rendered several pieces and in the evening the Christmas choir sang.

WOMEN'S FEDERATION TO MEET WEDNESDAY

At the monthly Federation meeting of Women's Clubs, to be held at the Seventh-Day Baptist church next Wednesday, at 2:30 o'clock, the subject under discussion will be, "What Club Women Can Do For the Public Health." Dr. Clara DeHart Krans will lead the discussion. The chairman of the civic and health committee of the State Federation will follow Dr. Krans. The discussion from the platform will be carried to the floor, where each speaker will be allowed two minutes.

Mrs. William Ropes, of Montclair, vice president-at-large of the State Federation, will speak. Miss Buttenheim, chairman of the legislature committee, is expected to be present and to express the function of the committee which she represents.

There are twenty-five women's clubs in this district, the Fifth, which are connected with the Federation and only two of these are in this city. All women's clubs are invited to send delegates to this meeting.

SERIES OF SERMONS ON CHURCH DOCTRINE

Asserting that the teachings of religion should be based on a reasonable and practical faith and that traditional theology creates misunderstandings and uncertainties, Rev. Arthur E. Wilson, pastor of the All the Unitarian Church," it was the fore the members of his congregation yesterday morning on the "Faith of the Unitarian Church." It was the first of a series of sermons he will deliver expounding the doctrines of Unitarianism. A more extended report will be published tomorrow.

PEACE CONFERENCE ENDED BY RUPTURE

(By Telegraph to The Daily Press.)

London, Jan. 6.—The Peace Conferences between the Turkish and Balkan allies representatives were suspended this evening. At 4 o'clock this afternoon the Peace Conference convened with all delegates present. The rupture in the negotiations came unexpectedly as it had been confidently expected that pressure from the powers would keep the negotiations in progress util Turkey had met all the demands of the allies. When the Turks tendered their latest proposals it was found that while they made further concessions to the allies in Thrace. They refused to give up Adrianople, which was the chief demand of Bulgaria.

Dr. Daneff said that while the negotiations had been broken off the allies had used the word suspended in making the announcement out of policy. There is a bare possibility that Turkey may back down in the next few days and meet our demands, but unless she does the Conference will not be resumed and we shall leave London, said Dr. Daneff.

BURGLARS!

A piece of home-made mince pie was the total amount of the loot taken by thieves who entered two houses in Plainfield, last night. E. B. Maynard, a barber, of 140 North avenue, is minus the pie. He reported to the police that entrance into his house had been effected by the use of a passkey which had broken off in the keyhole, after the lock had been turned. Nathan S. Wardner, of 524 Park avenue, notified the police that an attempt had been made to rob his house, as an old barrel which had been laying in his back yard was found under a window. When he returned home from church last night, his bureau drawer was forced open.

The Scrap Book

A Speedy Recovery.

On one of the visits of the American fleet to English waters Admiral Erben was in command, with Captain Alfred T. Mahan, the writer on naval affairs, as his flag captain. One morning Captain Mahan came to his admiral with an invitation to dine with a duke which he had received.

"I can't accept," said Captain Mahan, "as they forgot to invite you."

"I should say you cosidn't," growled the admiral. "I'll answer for you."

Whereupon the admiral wrote:

"Admiral Erben, United States navy, regrets that Captain Mahan, his flag captain, cannot accept the invitation of the Duke of Blank. Captain Mahan is on the sick list."

An hour or so later a messenger from the duke returned with invitations for the admiral and the captain, whereupon the admiral wrote again:

"Admiral Erben accepts with pleasure the invitation for Captain Mahan and himself. He wishes also to advise the Duke of Blank that he has taken Captain Mahan off the sick list."

The Superseded.

As newer comers crowd the fore
We drop behind.
We who have labored long and sore
Times out of mind
And keen are yet must not regret
To drop behind.

Yet there are of us some who grieve
To go behind,
Stanch, strenuous souls who scarce believe
Their fires declined
And know none cares, remembers, spares
Who go behind.

'Tis not that we have unforetold
The drop behind.
We feel the new must oust the old
In every kind,
But yet we think must we, must we,
Too, drop behind?

—Thomas Hardy.

Worse Yet!

Wilton Lackaye, the actor, once made a dramatization of "Les Miserables." He had spent much time on his work. The dramatization of the Hugo masterpiece had been one of the dreams of his early youth. Truly, the completed drama was to the actor as a child he dearly loved. But when Mr. Lackaye tried to interest theatrical capital in the production he found dearth of enthusiasm. Every one knew that Lackaye had dramatized "Les Miserables," and it was one of the live topics of Broadway. Oscar Hammerstein met Lackaye in this particular period, and his first question was:

"Wilton, have you got a manager to produce 'Les Miserables?'"

And to this Lackaye sarcastically replied:

"A manager to produce it! I haven't found a manager that can pronounce it."—Kansas City Star.

Result of the Chase.

John Burroughs is well known as one of the foremost of nature writers in this country. Some time ago he visited his brother, Eden Burroughs, who lives in the Catskills, at a place called Hobart. The two brothers went fox hunting together. The honor of the hunt came to Eden, who shot the only fox. It so happened that foxskins were worth about $5 at that time, and the successful Nimrod took much pride in telling how he got the better of the sage of Slabsides. Later, in boasting to a few friends about it in the presence of his brother, John, he was interrupted by: "You have bragged about that fox hunt long enough. You shot the fox, sold the skin and got $5. I wrote a little account of the hunt and got $75 from the magazine which published it. So there you are!"

Four of a Kind.

Judge Isaac Russell, chief justice of the court of special sessions of New York city, undertook a private and unannounced tour of inspection among the various corrective and charitable institutions of his jurisdiction, says the Saturday Evening Post. Late in the afternoon he entered the outer office of one of the insane asylums.

"I should like to make a trip through this place," he said to an underkeeper who chanced to be in sole charge of the office temporarily.

"Visitors' days are Wednesdays and Saturdays," said the keeper shortly, "and, besides, it's after hours."

"But I insist on being shown through," said his honor.

"Well, you've got a nerve!" growled the keeper. "Who are you to be givin' me orders?"

"I am Chief Justice Russell of the court of special sessions," was the answer.

"That'll be about all," said the keeper wearily. "We've got three of you in here now. Why don't you call yourself George Washington? There's only one of him."

Too Much Riding.

A Kansas man who stutters badly visited Chicago and got into the elevator of one of the skyscrapers. He worked his jaw frantically, but could not get the elevator boy to understand what floor he wanted until he had been carried up fourteen stories above where he wanted to go. Then he came down to the lower floor and started up again. After he had gone through this performance several times he stepped out in disgust and hunted up the man who was directing the running of the elevators. "S-s-say," he stammered, "w-w-w-would y-you m-mind speakin' t-to th-th-that f-f-fel-feller in th-that cage? I w-a-wa-wa-want t-to st-st-stop at the s-s-sixth f-floor, b-b-but b-before I can s-s-say s-s-sixth b-he has me up t-to t-the t-t-twenty-s-seventh."—Kansas City Star.

TWO CONSECUTIVE HITS.

An American Clergyman's Brilliant Performance in Paris.

A well known illustrator while studying in Paris was visited by his father, a dignified and amiable old clergyman from the west. The student took great delight in conducting his father about and showing off the real life of the Parisians. One evening in a quaint cafe the pair sat on a sort of balcony watching excitable men gesticulating and talking to each other, when the reverend gentleman inadvertently put his hand on a siphon of vichy and squirted a stream straight into the face of an anarchistic looking individual at a table below. The cafe was in an uproar at once. The two Americans were surrounded by Frenchmen, talking vehemently, demanding explanations and apology, and it was only on arrival of the proprietor that order was restored.

The men resumed their places, and the interrupted meal was taken up again. The clergyman, aghast at his mishap, kept brooding over the matter, showing a wistful desire to set himself right with his son at least.

"Why, Bob," he said earnestly, laying a trembling finger on the siphon, "I just touched the bottle—barely touched it—like this, you see"—

There was a hiss of charged water, followed by a rumble of fury from the table below. The clergyman had repeated his performance with unerring aim, the stream striking the long haired Frenchman in the identical spot of the first performance. There was no use attempting a second apology. The two Americans seized their hats and fled from the gathering wrath.—New York Press.

Risky Chance.

She was a little bit of a girl and was canvassing the neighborhood with a "chance" book in an effort to enlist public sympathy and ten cent pieces in an individual charity. She went up to the big brownstone house bravely in spite of her childish nervousness. A very pretty young woman answered the bell.

"Lady, please," she stammered out, "won't you take a chance on an old man sick in bed?"—Everybody's.

Beyond Him.

In our north of England town there was a shiftless man who would never accept gifts outright, although he was always depending on charity, says Al Priddy in his book, "Through the Mill."

He painted landscapes, and my aunt, when benevolently inclined, would hire him to decorate our walls with rural scenes, highly colored in glaring tints, as if nature had turned color blind. There were cows in every scene, and Aunt Millie noticed that all the cows were up to their knees in water. Not one stood clear on the vivid green hills.

"Jorvey," she remarked to the old man, "why do you always put the cows in the water?"

"It's this way, Mrs. Brindin," the old artist responded. "You see, ma'am, I never learned to paint 'oofs.'"

In Distress.

Not long ago a bottle, tightly corked, was picked up by a resident of St. Brevin, France. He took it to the maritime authorities. They saw that the message was written on stationery of an English steamship line and so hastily sent for the British consul. With much solemnity the message was handed to him, and this is what he read:

"Ship in distress. No whisky on board. Fill the bottle and return it."

A Very Funny Englishman.

A story is told concerning Beerbohm Tree, who, after an evening at one of the London clubs, called a hansom from a nearby stand he frequently patronized.

"Home," shouted Tree to the cabby, who was a new one about town.

"Beg pardon," said the man.

"Home," repeated Tree in commanding tone, and the driver whipped up his horse. He drove his fare about for half an hour or so and then returned again. Stopping his horse and arousing the sleepy actor, he apologized and asked to what number he should drive.

"Home," thundered Mr. Tree, this time thoroughly indignant.

"And where might your home be?" queried the cabby, shaking in his boots.

"You idiot," replied Tree, "do you think I'm going to tell you where my beautiful home is?"

Hanhe & Co.'s First and Best of Annual FURNITURE SALES

It has been years since we inaugurated Annual January Furniture Sales, and each successive year has shown an increasing interest on the part of the public in these mighty trade events, which have involved our entire colossal stock of the most dependable furniture.

That the public has profited by these January sales is evident from the fact of their increasing popularity and the enormous growth in our sales. Everyone now appreciates the fact that on these occasions we actually do reduce prices 10 to 50 per cent. No intelligent person doubts the proposition today. That is why we can go on and on, building a business greater every year than it was the year before, and that is why this sale will be the greatest we have ever held.

There are several reasons why this should be our greatest sale—

FIRST, stocks were never larger, more varied, nor finer in quality.

SECOND, people were never so appreciative of furniture of good quality nor so ready to buy it as they are at the present time. They realize it is most economical in the end.

THIRD, besides being able to buy this high-grade furniture at prices cut 10 to 50 per cent., trustworthy people can take advantage of our easy-payment Club Plan, enabling them to buy quantities of furniture without financial inconvenience.

A FEW EXAMPLES TODAY OF THE SAVINGS WE ARE MAKING POSSIBLE SHOULD BE TAKEN AS INDICATIVE OF THE SAVINGS POSSIBLE THRUOUT THE STOCK.

WORK AMONG THE SEAMEN GREAT AGENCY FOR GOOD

Each year it has been the custom of the W. C. T. U. to send to Captain George Benn a box of Christmas gifts for distribution among the sailors. This work has been carried on through the Mission Yacht Association, of New York, of which Captain Charles B. Parsons, of Red Bank, is the president. The local work was inaugurated by Mrs. M. C. Dobbins, who is superintendent of the soldier and sailor work in the union.

Captain Benn has acknowledged the receipt of this year's box as follows: "The Christmas work, which you started among seamen a few years ago, is now the greatest agency for good which is working among seamen. It has grown until tohusands of these men are today calling the blessing of the Heavenly Father on the W. C. T. U., of Plainfield, for starting this laudable and Christly work."

In commenting on this work, the Brooklyn Times says: "Captain Benn will this year act as Santa Claus and distribute 20,000 presents to sailors along the Brooklyn water front. To most sailors the joy of Christmas has faded from their boyhood visions. On the great fleet of canal boats in this big harbor there are thousands of little children who know little of the meaning and none of the joys of Christmas. Even officers and captains have felt the good influence of our Christmas work.

"On one boat from Nova Scotia, last year, the captain said he was willing to pay for presents or food for himself and men. Captain Benn told him that the gifts were consecrated and had been donated by Christian people and that no amount of money could purchase the presents. His heart was touched and he asked Captain Benn to pray with him. His wife joined and while on their knees the captain and his wife consecrated their lives to the Giver of every good and perfect gift."

The members of the local W. C. T. U. rejoice that this work has increased; the seed sown only a few years ago is now a whitening harvest, as others have added their efforts in the work. The local union also sent a fine gift to the Vineland Training School, it being a barrel of presents which delighted the pupils there.

New Equitable Life to Be Greatest Structure on Earth

NOT the tallest but the largest office building in the world is the latest boast to come from a building enterprise. This statement is made of the new Equitable Life building, construction on which will be begun in March, on the site of the old Equitable building, which was destroyed by fire, at Broadway, Pine, Cedar and Nassau streets, in New York.

The new Equitable structure will constitute a romance in building construction. It will have unusual equipment in many directions, looking toward the comfort and convenience of its thousands of tenants.

Thirty-seven stories high, the structure will have a greater floor area than both the Woolworth building, the highest business structure in the world, and the New York municipal building combined.

The interior of the building will be finished in the finest marble and the offices trimmed with mahogany. The building will be practically four immense towers, having courts on Broadway and Nassau street.

There will be groups of figures at the entrances.

In the basement will be a cafe and bar, a men's dining room, a ladies' dining room and a barber shop, and the first floor will provide for banks on the four sides, with stores in the interior on the arcade, which will run from Broadway to Nassau street.

There will be forty-six passenger elevators, twenty running to the twenty-second floor on the main arcade and twenty-four running to the top floor, sixteen of these being express.

The Equitable Life Assurance society will occupy the fifth floor and probably three and one-half floors in addition. The features of the building will be the ventilation, which will be natural and as nearly perfect as it can be made. Firms occupying several floors will be equipped with private elevators running through their floors, as in a building of their own. The floor on which a firm might be located will be reached by the public elevator, thereby making a building within a building. There will be safety deposit vaults in the sub-basements, which will be for public use and also the banks that occupy the spaces on the street level. There will be an entrance from the subway to the building direct. The building is estimated by the architects, F. M. Andrews & Co., to cost $8,000,000. Although title to the block still stands in the name of the Equitable Life, the building operations will be handled by the Du Pont company (T. Coleman du Pont, president), to which the Equitable has contracted to sell the property ever, the scales are in existence, and the parcel post problems are not really problems. The scales answer them all.

New Scales Solve Problems.

PARCEL POST SCALE.

Uncle Sam had to order over 30,000 of the delicate instruments, enough to supply every postoffice in the land with one. The picture shows one of these problem solvers.

When you place a parcel on it it tells exactly what the postage will be to send that parcel to any zone. The indicator points to the weight and rate.

GOVERNOR BEGINS FIGHT ON EDWARDS FOR TREASURER

Trenton, Jan. 6.—Governor Wilson today issued a statement why he is opposed to the election of State Comptroller Edwards as state treasurer, he says in part:

"I feel very strongly indeed that it is unwise and inexpedient that a banker should be elected to the post of treasurer of the State, no matter what his personal integrity. I believe that the opinion of the State will sustain this judgment and I sincerely hope that Mr. Grosscup will be chosen treasurer."

The Governor summoned by telegraph every Democratic legislator except those in Essex to a conference here tomorrow to begin the fight to prevent the election of Mr. Edwards.

FINGER AMPUTATED.

Obadiah B. Crane, of Westervelt avenue, who has been suffering from blood poisoning in the index finger of the left hand, was obliged to return to Muhlenberg Hospital, yesterday, and have the finger amputated. At first the physicians thought they might have to amputate the whole hand, but yesterday's operation, it is believed, will stop the spread of the disease.

CONVERSION ANNIVERSARY.

William Wright will celebrate the fifthy anniversary of his conversion at the Plainfield Rescue Mission, tonight. Rev. Dr. C. M. Anderson, of the First M. E. church, will make an address and there will be special vocal and instrumental music. Superintendent John LeMatty will also speak of the work being carried on by the mission.

CLERICUS IN SESSION.

The Plainfield Clericus is holding its regular meeting at the parish house of Grace church, this afternoon, the members being entertained by the rector, Rev. E. Vicars Stevenson. After luncheon, which was served at 1 o'clock, the ministers listened to an interesting talk on "Orders," by Rev. M. H. Medary, of Philadelphia.

FOUR WOMEN ARE NOTABLE IN NEWS FROM HERE AND THERE

"Mother Bartelme" Made First Woman Judge In Chicago.

Violet Asquith, Rosalie Jones and Queen Olga In Public Eye.

IN the recent news of national interest the names of four women figured prominently. They appear as doers of notable things. Each has certain achievements to her credit, and each is representative of a strong type of womanhood.

These women are Miss Mary M. Bartelme, better known as "Mother Bartelme," who has become Chicago's first woman judge; Miss Violet Asquith, daughter of England's prime minister; "General" Rosalie Jones, leader of the women suffragists, who undertook to walk to Albany, and Queen Olga of Greece.

Chicago's First Woman Judge.

"Mother Bartelme" for eighteen years was public guardian of Chicago. Her functions included taking care of wayward, parentless or otherwise unfortunate girls. In this position Miss Bartelme gave aid and advice to thousands of girls. To these she became a person attracting the highest reverence and was known as "mother." She inaugurated many new theories and practical ideas as to the proper care and instruction of girls and young women. Her methods along these lines have been adopted in many other cities.

Miss Bartelme was the choice of the judges of the circuit court, who considered several other women lawyers for the position she now has. She has now the definite function of assisting Judge Pinckney in the juvenile court.

Miss Asquith a Noted Guest.

Miss Violet Asquith, oldest daughter of the prime minister of England, who has a place as supporter of woman suffrage, is just now prominent in the United States. The accompanying picture shows the distinguished young woman in the act of making a drive on the golf links. This unconscious pose indicates truly Miss Asquith's favorite pastime. She is an ardent follower of the bonny game of golf and likewise is a formidable player.

Miss Asquith came over to this country with the Countess of Aberdeen to be a guest of Ambassador and Mrs. Bryce in Washington. When Miss Asquith declared her favor for the principle of votes for women, as is now intentionally credited to her, she did so in the face of strong parental opposition and pressure. Her noted father in his capacity as prime minister is the brunt and object of the entire English militant suffrage attack. He represents to the English suffragettes all that is inimical to them.

The American suffragists, when they learned of Miss Asquith's intention of coming here, immediately prepared a big reception for her. It was their purpose to have Miss Asquith definitely espouse suffrage.

Miss Asquith came to notice first when quite a child. She was bridesmaid at her father's second marriage to Margot Tennant. When William Watson wrote the poem "The Woman With the Serpent's Tongue" it was generally accepted that Miss Asquith was the one aimed at. A bitter controversy arose between the friends of each, and Miss Asquith declared the animosity of Mr. Watson arose out of his chagrin over the refusal of her father to recommend him for a literary pension and knighthood.

"General" Rosalie Jones Leads Host.

"General" Rosalie Jones, head of the little suffragist army which undertook to march to Albany with a message to Governor Elect Sulzer, has become a big public figure. Her host numbered thirty-four strong willed, brave women when she left New York city. Their purpose was to formally demand of Governor Sulzer his aid toward securing votes for women in New York.

Before the army had gone many miles the little host began to dwindle. The numbers shrank to four and then were recruited by two new members as the army trudged over the weary miles of road.

"General" Jones at all times was the guiding and cheering factor in the undertaking. She jollied the flagging spirits of her marchers or sternly commanded them to brace up and stick to the cause. The picture shows her summoning members of the host together from the step of an automobile. The auto, by the way, was not used to help any of the women on their way.

Queen Appeals to Us.

The appeal of Queen Olga for aid for the sufferers in Macedonia through the Greek legation at Washington met with a prompt response from the great hearted women of this country. Thousands of families are homeless after the devastating retreat of the Turks, and the wounded were in staggering numbers. The queen threw herself personally into the work of relief.

With the announcement that Mrs. Russell Sage had given $5,000 to the American Red Cross for relief work in the Balkan war the fund of the national organization really had its start.

IN WOMAN'S REALM

The Kitchen Cupboard

UTILIZING COLD MUTTON.

COLD mutton—the scraps which are scarcely nice looking enough to appear on the table as cold sliced meat—may be made the basis for a number of delicious dishes. The lean mutton is required for these, the fat and gristle being discarded.

Handsomely Arranged.

Minced Mutton With Jelly.—Take some cold mutton and chop it with a small quantity of red pickled cabbage or beets. Season this with salt, pepper, oil and vinegar. Chop hard boiled white of egg, add it to the mince and moisten with a small quantity of liquid aspic jelly. Fill small wet molds with the mixture. When firm turn out on a dish. Garnish the dish with olives, hard boiled eggs and aspic jelly.

Diced Mutton.—Take some cold mutton and cut into cubes; also cut into cubes the same weight of potatoes as of meat. Season the potatoes and toss them in butter. Then put half the vegetables into a saucepan with the meat and cover the whole with a few tablespoonfuls of tomato sauce and meat gravy. Heat without allowing to boil. Distribute the remainder of the potatoes, which should be crisply fried over the hash and sprinkle with a pinch of freshly chopped parsley.

With a Cereal and Vegetables.

Hashed Mutton and Rice.—Take one pound of cooked mutton, half a large onion, two ounces of butter, one teaspoonful of chopped parsley, the peel of half a grated lemon, three-quarters of a pint of stock or water, one teaspoonful of lemon juice, one teaspoonful of sugar, one dessertspoonful of meat essence, three-quarters of a teaspoonful of salt, half a teaspoonful of pepper, three tablespoonfuls of tomato ketchup. Put the butter into a saucepan. When hot put onion in, cut up, and cook till light brown. Add the mutton, free from skin and cut into dice. Then add other ingredients, cover the pan and cook all for an hour. Thicken with a dessertspoonful of flour and pour on to a hot dish. Have ready a wall of rice on the dish.

A Simple Hash.

Mutton Hash.—Take the cold meat left after you have had a cold shoulder or leg of mutton, six whole peppers, six whole allspice, savory herbs, half a head of celery, one onion, two ounces of butter, flour. Cut the meat in nice even slices from the bones, trimming off all superfluous fat and gristle. Chop the bones and fragments of the joint, put them into a stewpan with the pepper, spice, herbs and celery, cover with water and simmer for one hour. Slice and fry the onion to a nice pale brown color, dredge in a little flour to make it thick and add this to the bones, etc. Stew for a quarter of an hour, strain the gravy, let it cool and skim off fat.

NEW YEAR STYLES.

Beautiful Back Comb For the Evening Coiffure.

For hair worn low there is a long comb of French diamonds that reaches across the entire back of the head and is about an inch and a half wide. It is bordered with the brilliants set in platinum, and on the inside is an interlacing design of the Greek key of alternating platinum and diamonds.

FROCK WITH TUNIC.

This comb is set on shell teeth and curves slightly so it fits well into the back of the hair.

Few of the season's mantles reach the hem of the skirt.

The knitted jacket is much worn for out of door sports.

New motor bonnets are of ratine and are fur trimmed.

Buttons of striped porcelain are used for tailored suits.

Everything that suggests the tunic idea is fashionable, and the band trimming used on this frock gives this effect and transforms what would be a plain costume into an elaborate one.

CRUISER NATAL, WHICH BROUGHT BODY OF AMBASSADOR REID, SOON TO RETURN HOME

REMOVING REID'S BODY FROM the NATAL

© 1913 BY AMERICAN PRESS ASSOCIATION

New York, Jan. 6.—The British cruiser Natal, which brought the body of Ambassador Reid from England, will start on the return trip within a few days. The vessel reached this port in a fog so dense that the passage up the tortuous channel into the harbor was slow and difficult. The right of inspection was waived by the health officers of the port, and the Natal was not stopped at Quarantine. The Natal proceeded slowly up the North river to an anchorage opposite Ninety-sixth street. The body was taken on a launch to the foot of Ninety-ninth streets, from where it was removed to the Cathedral of St. John the Divine for the funeral services.

These distinguished coats are of the finest vicuna cheviot, black, Oxford and Cambridge gray, some with a barely visible, very distinctive design in the weave; Chesterfield cut; velvet collar; fabric, linings, trimmings, workmanship and style, identical with those in coats of the values quoted; coats that a gentleman may wear on any occasion and for several seasons. Their offering should make tomorrow the biggest day in Wanamaker clothing history.

One year ago we announced a similar opportunity—not quite so good—and the sale constituted a record.

Striving to do better, weeks ago we made a very satisfactory agreement with the makers of the finest vicuna cheviot overcoatings milled in America to take his over-plus. And, from another source, fortune favored us with an exceedingly choice lot at very low prices.

The lining and trimmings were selected and secured on the favorable terms of quantity buying.

The cutting was done by experts in fine overcoats, and the tailoring during quiet days at practically cost, by two of our best houses, whose work is not exceeded by any custom tailoring organization.

Part of the cloth purchased was used in the making of 100 overcoats—same style trimmings and workmanship—with worsted body lining and satin yokes; because some of our customers prefer it.

All of the coats, silk lined or worsted lined, have satin lining in the sleeves.

The coats in all sizes, will be arranged according to size on tables set widely apart for convenient choosing, and our floor representatives have been added to, that the service may be prompt.

GREATEST FUR SALE
Ever Held at Bamberger's

A mighty fur movement began at the Greater Store Monday. High grade, guaranteed fur coats, muffs and scarfs, 25 to 40 per cent. less than regular prices. And every coat and every fur piece is this season's product. The "Why?" of the sale finds its answer in two words—WARM WEATHER. The balmy days of November and December played havoc with furriers' sales. January found them overstocked, and anxious to sell. We succeeded in buying thousands of dollars' worth of reliable furs at prices far less than we ever expected to pay. In addition to this, we have taken furs from our own peerless stock and marked them down accordingly. We have no hesitancy in announcing that the values offered in this sale are the best ever made. This is a strong statement, but we make it in calm deliberation, realizing its significance. It is a good sale—a remarkable sale. Truly it is of great importance to you.

COMMISSION TO CONTROL INDUSTRIAL CONCERNS

(By Telegraph to The Daily Press.)

Washington, Jan. 6.—Senator Bristow, of Kansas, today introduced a bill in the Senate creating an industrial commission and giving it the power over industrial concerns that the Interstate Commerce Commission exercises over transportation companies.

A resolution was offered in the House today by Representative Borland, of Kansas, directing a drastic investigation of the American Beet Sugar Company.

FROM POLICE BLOTTER.

A Mrs. Huutchinson, of 679 North Sixth street, Newark, coming from Dnellen with two colored women whom she claimed as her daughters, were taken from the Main Line trolley car at the Watchung avenue junction, yesterday, and placed under arrest. One of the colored women, who gave her name as Mrs. Albert Pernell, was charged by the Dunellen police with the theft of a coat and hat from her own husband, whom she was leaving to return to her mother's home in Newark. Upon the arrival at headquarters of Marshal Davenport and Mr. Pernell, from Dunellen the alleged stolen goods were returned and the women were allowed to continue on their journey.

ALL-STAR CAST.

William A. Brady will present "The Woman of It," a farce comedy at The Plainfield theatre on Friday night with Cyril Scott in the leading role and an all-star cast, including Janet Beecher, Dallas Anderson, Josephine Brown and Wallace E. Erskine. The play will be staged in that elaborate manner for which Mr. Brady is noted and careful attention will be given to every detail. "The Woman of It" has received nothing but favorable comment since the first production and success is predicted for the fine production.

ENTERTAINED AT "500."

Mrs. Elizabeth Woodard, of Sycamore avenue, entertained a company of friends at her home, Saturday night, "500" being the feature. There were four tables. Mrs. Allen Coddington received the prize for the women and Arthur McVoy the one for the men. Refreshments were served after the play.

FALCON SOCIETY DANCE.

The Polish Falcon Society held a dance on Saturday night in T. A. B. Hall. There was a large attendance.

BIG THINGS OF OURS.

Texas, For Instance, and Counties Larger Than Some States.

"Is the United States as large as France?" a young Parisian once asked an American. "Sir," replied the proud Texan, "my own state alone is bigger than your whole republic."

An interesting method of demonstrating the size of the Lone Star State is to spread out a map of our country and stretch a string across Texas the longest way. Then, placing one end of the string at Chicago, it will be found that the other end will extend into either the Atlantic ocean or the gulf of Mexico.

The biggest counties in the United States are Custer, in Montana, and San Bernardino, in California. Both have a little more than 20,000 square miles. Inside the boundaries of either of these counties might be placed the states of Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Delaware and New Jersey. Contrast these with Bristol county, Rhode Island, the smallest of all—twenty-five square miles—and one gets a good idea of the geographical differences in this broad land.

New York county shows the largest population of any county in the Union.

An interesting geographical fact meets one at a point about fifty miles from Durango, Colo. There, by stepping a few feet in either direction, one can walk in four different commonwealths in as many seconds. These are Colorado, Utah, New Mexico and Arizona.

Within 100 miles of one another, California offers the highest and the lowest elevations in this country—Mount Whitney, with is 14,499 feet, and Death valley, with its 450 feet below the sea level.—New York Sun.

A Funny Naval Battle.

Not far from St. Thomas, a matter of perhaps a hundred miles, was fought the most wonderful naval battle in all history. The Dutch admiral detected the enemy in the early morning, when the sea was covered with a thick mist, and his guns opened fire at once without warning. The fire was returned with interest, the ocean fairly quivering with spasms caused by the shock of frequent discharges. Somehow or other the enemy's shots, which sounded like a bombardment, seemed to fall short or go wide of the mark, for not even a splash of a ball was heard, and the Dutch ships remained unscathed. On the other hand, the Dutch could not see the terrible execution their guns were doing until nearly the middle of the forenoon, when the fog lifted, revealing to their astonished gaze not the vessels of the enemy, but a great rock standing out of the sea. They had been firing at it for five hours, and the sound of the return shots they heard was the echo from the solid wall of granite. They named the place Redonda, which means sent, rolled or driven back, and Redonda it is to this day.

Mrs. Georgia W. Stuart, of Grove street, is visiting relatives in Newark.

George G. Whittemore, of South Framingham, Mass., spent the week-end with friends in town.

SARTORIAL CRUELTY.

Sad Story of a Parisian Smart Set Dame and Her Seven Gowns.

They tell a story of an unfortunate Parisian society woman who, being terribly pushed for a gown to wear at a great occasion and being also in debt to her dressmaker, sold seven gowns for the price of one to Mme. X., who is a shrewd dealer in castoff finery.

Among these gowns was one hardly rumpled and which, though very magnificent, had evidently been worn at most only once. This dress Mme. X. sold as a model to Mme. Y., who was the society woman's dressmaker and who had been obdurate about making another thing for the poor little woman without cash down.

When this "model" came the dressmaker saw a chance for a big return of money, so she compromised with her customer and agreed to let her have a new dress, just imported, for a very low figure, whereat the poor little woman paid all the money she had received for all her dresses, and out Mme. Y. brought the model, newly pressed and touched up.

The poor society woman talked herself blue in the face, but she could not say anything to protect herself without betraying her dealing with Mme X., so, poor thing, she danced in her old frock after all, having swapped all her other gowns for the privilege.

He Hit Back.

When the late Major General F. D. Grant was stationed at Fort Sam Houston as commander of the department of Texas the cook of the household left. Mrs. Grant spent several days trying to get another one.

One day an impudent, incompetent woman applied. She delivered as her ultimatum that she was to have two afternoons off, the use of the kitchen for the entertainment of her society friends and various other dispensations. General Grant came into the room and heard her.

"Do you speak French?" he asked.

"Who? Me? No, sir."

"Do you play on the piano?"

"No, sir."

"Well," said the general, "we can't think of having a cook who isn't able to speak French and play on the piano."—Philadelphia Saturday Evening Post.

A Liberal Offer.

One evening at the Eastern Star fair one of the fattest members sat down to rest her weary feet for a moment. Every one who passed by seemed to be much amused.

As she is very sensitive on the subject of her size and as the broad smiles of the passing throng were beginning to get upon her nerves, she rose to go in search of a less conspicuous seat. She glanced round, and then she looked up and saw that she had been sitting in front of the guessing cake table, directly under the placard:

"Guess my weight and I am yours."—Youth's Companion.

Needs a Dictionary.

Two young men who have a tumbling act appeared in a Manhattan vaudeville theater one Monday night and were closed by the manager Tuesday. They couldn't understand why.

"We got a swell writeup in one of the papers," said the younger of the two. "Here; I'll show it to you."

He drew a clipping from his pocket and continued: "It says, 'Their tumbling was fair.' Of course that's not so good, but listen how it boosts us after that." Then he read, "'but their comedy was atrocious.'

"Now, what do you think of that guy closing us after that boost?" concluded the offended tumbler.—New York American.

The Horse Was Brave.

It is said that General Crittenden used to tell with great glee of what his small son, then eight or nine years old, said to him a day or two after the battle of Chickamauga. The general had ridden during the battle a horse named John Jay that was a great favorite with the little fellow. The child, visiting the camp, asked after the horse and was told that in the fight he had acted badly, insisting upon taking his rider to the rear.

The boy considered gravely a moment, then, shaking a remonstrant finger, cried:

"Papa, that must have been your work. I know John Jay would never have acted like that of his own free will!"

To Readers About Advertisers

Merchants who use the columns of the Plainfield Daily Press deserve your consideration and trade. They represent the best in their respective lines and they spend their money for publicity in order to attract custom to their establishments. It costs money to advertise and the business man who seeks your patronage and makes a public bid for it is going to serve you well. The merchant who establishes a reputation by advertising can not afford to waste this money and unless you are pleased you'll not go to his store again.

Advertising has become a science, yet anyone can write an advertisement that will pull trade. The readers of the Daily Press will find the advertising column an interesting feature. It contains suggestions that will meet every want and those who use its columns are among the leading and most enterprising business men. Tell them you were induced to come to their store by their advertising in the Daily Press—it is of mutual encouragement. Besides, there is always a more satisfactory service in the store that advertises. Never have merchants made greater efforts to secure trade or have prices been lower, and no city in the country can supply you more comfortably.

We are glad to say a good word for our advertisers. They have been liberal space takers throughout—and they have secured results. They know that the Daily Press is their best medium to reach the buying public and that it has THE right kind of circulation—the hearthstone kind.

The usual clearing sales are held in January and February. The wise merchant continues his store news and makes busy months, clearing out surplus stocks, which Daily Press readers will be glad to take off their hands. The business man who stops advertising at the close of the holiday trade makes a mistake he can not correct. The big stores have become big by keeping their name before the public and "making good" in thier publicity. The money they spend during the so-called dull season is among their best investments. The Daily Press circulation brings their trade.

GAS CONSUMERS GET REDUCTION

Public Service Cuts Its Rate to Ninety Cents per 1,000 Cubic Feet.

REBATES ARE STOPPED

Announcement Sequel of State Utilities Board Order to Lower Its Rate in the Passaic Division—Means a Big Saving.

The long-cherished hopes of the gas consumers of this State, and especially the householders, for a more reasonable gas rate have finally been realized. Through its president, Thomas N. McCarter, the Public Service Gas Company, in a letter to the Public Utilities Commission, declared its willingness under certain qualifications to obey the order of the Public Utilities Commission to make the rate for the Passaic division 90 cents flat per 1,000 cubic feet. Simultaneously the president announced that the same rate would be applied to the rest of the New Jersey territory served by the local concern. While, however, the Passaic district will enjoy the benefits of cheaper gas, the other parts of the State would not get this reduction until May 1.

With the new rate the 10 cents per 1,000 rebate will fall away even with prompt payment, as heretofore with the $1.10 per 1,000 cubic feet rate. Large consumers using gas for other than lighting purposes will still be allowed a discount, but it is expected that the sliding scale in force up to the present time will be less favorable.

Though giving in to the Public Utilities Commission's order, the gas company reserves the right to test in the courts the validity of the commission's valuation of its Passaic property, upon which the order is based.

The report of the Public Utility Commissioners, made yesterday, was as follows:

"The Board of Public Utility Commissioners having this day been apprised by Thomas N. McCarter, president of the Public Service Gas Company, of the proposed action by the Public Service Gas Company with reference to the order of this Board in the matter of gas rates for the Passaic division, makes the following announcement:

"While the Public Service Gas Company proposes to test the legality and constitutionality of the principle of valuation upon which the Board's order is based, the Public Service Gas Company will not attempt to enjoin the order in the Passaic division. In that division, therefore, after February 1 next, the price for gas will be ninety cents per thousand cubic feet.

"The Public Service Gas Company will also accept and put in force the recommendation of this Board that the price for gas be reduced from $1 to ninety cents throughout the entire area served by the Public Service Gas Company in this State. Outside of the Passaic division, however, the ninety-cent rate will not become operative until May 1 of the present year, inasmuch as approximately 150,000 pre-payment meters will have to be changed to register correctly at the new rate, the Board is of the opinion that the institution of the ninety-cent rate in the other districts by May 1 is fairly reasonable.

"The Public Service Gas Company will also accept and put in force the recommendation of the Board that its schedule for quantitative discounts be readjusted to the new ninety-cent base rate.

"The Board approves the desire of the Public Service Gas Company to test the legality and constitutionality of the principles of valuation on which the Board's order was based. The public, the company and the Board should welcome a definite adjudication of this matter.

"The result of the company's action in the premises will be that, instead of a ninety cent rate in the Passaic division only, there will be a State-wide rate for gas of ninety cents after May 1 next, said rate to obtain until or unless altered by the commission, or set aside by reason of judicial determination of the matter the rate will not be changed unless the commission decides in the interim that circumstances warrant a change in the rate."

While nothing has been said as yet whether the company would test the ruling of the Utility Board in the courts it is expected that in case this course should be pursued the point which the gas company will make the basis of its suit will be that the commission refused to take into consideration the franchise values when it arrived at the figures for the new rate.

The counties served by the Public Service Gas Company are Essex, Hudson, Bergen, Passaic, Middlesex, Somerset, Mercer, Burlington and Camden. These are served with gas exclusively from the Public Service; and, furthermore, parts of Union,

ANOTHER CIVIC BODY IS FORMED

Plainfield Property Owners Protective and Civic Association is Organized.

LOIZEAUX IS PRESIDENT

Idea is to Get More in Return for Their Taxes—Sachar Vice-President; Herman Schwed Treasurer, Van Sickle Secretary.

Hoping to be of assistance in improving the lighting and sewage conditions and the betterment of police protection, the Property Owners' Protective and Civic Association was formed last night in Exempt Firemen's Hall. After the objects of the organization had been outlined, J. D. Loizeaux was appointed temporary chairman and Leon M. Livingston temporary secretary.

In the nomination for regular officers which followed Mr. Loizeaux was made president; Jacob Sachar, vice president; Herman Schwed, treasurer, and Lamar Van Sickle, secretary. A committee of three was appointed by the chair to draft a constitution and by-laws to be presented at the next meeting of the association on January 21. W. Newcorn, W. A. Woodruff and Donald McInnis were the men named for this work.

During the meeting, at which there were thirty-five or forty owners, Mr. McInnes made a motion that the association choose a single press representative to act as press-agent for the body and to furnish only such news of the doings which took place in the meetings as the association would sanction. The motion was lost without putting the question before the house. Although not wanting an overdose of publicity the members deemed that the public wanted an unbiased account of the proceedings under discussion. An answer was made to Mr. McInnis' motions that the body appoint a committee to wait upon the Board of Health by saying that a severe shaking-up on the Board is due under the direction of Mayor Stewart.

COURIER-NEWS' HEADS OFF ON 3 MOS. TRIP

George H. Frost and his son, Charles H. Frost, president and manager, respectively, of the Courier-News, were among the passengers leaving yesterday on the Adriatic on a three months trip abroad. Among other passengers were Mrs. M. A. Eiseman, cousin of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Dreier, of this city, who will spend three months in foreign countries, and they were at the pier to see the boat leave. The fact that J. P. Morgan was a passenger on the big steamer also attracted attention.

The steamer ran aground before clearing the harbor and it was late in the afternoon before it was finally able to depart on its journey across the Atlantic. Several powerful tugs were engaged in getting the boat out of its difficulty.

Messrs. Frost will leave the Adriatic at Alexandria and will make a trip along the Nile.

DR. STEVENS TO WED MISS MARION POWERS

Miss Marion W. Powers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Jefferson Powers, of Phoenixville, Pa., and Dr. Raymond S. Stevens, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edmund P. Stevens, of Grandview avenue, will be married Tuesday night at 8 o'clock, at the home of the aunt of the bride-elect, Mrs. William O. Worth, 47 Washington avenue. The ceremony will be performed by Rev. John S. Burton, brother-in-law of Mr. Stevens, who is pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church at Suffern, N. Y.

Miss Powers has selected for her bridesmaids her sister, Miss Estelle Powers, of Phoenixville, Pa., and Miss Eleanor Lyon, of this city. Dr. Norman H. Probasco, of this city, will be the best man. After a trip the couple will reside for the present with Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Worth, of Washington avenue.

As in years past, the clan will offer a strong array of talent. It has been decided to give ten per cent. of the net proceeds to The Day Nursery, conducted by the City Union of The King's Daughters at 502 West Front street. Tickets may be secured of Robert Murray, 326 West Front street; Donald McInnes, 824 West Third street, or of any member of the Clan. This will be the program:

Miss Flora Hardy, contralto, of Montclair, "The Queen of Scottish Songs;" Miss Edith Hallett Frank, New York's favorite Scottish soprano; The Hamilton Brothers, the celebrated Scottish trio, of Newark, in costume; Big Browney Will Wilson, the great Scotch comedian, of Harrison; Willie Fullerton, the able Scottish tenor, of Brooklyn, in costume; the noted Lyon troupe of Highland dancers of Jersey City, including Miss Lulu Harkness, the champion Scottish lassie dancer; Herbert J. Harold, well known accompanist, and Arthur Mosher, violinist, of this city, and the champion MacIntosh Brothers, of Kearny, clan pipers, in costume.

At the conclusion of the service the annual congregational meeting will be held for the purpose of electing officers to the consistory for the coming year.

SEWER WORK PROGRESSING.

The new sanitary sewer extensions are progressing favorably despite the bad weather. The contractors, Mobus & Burke, were obliged to lay their men off for a few hours today on account of the weather, but the delay is expected to be only a matter of a short time. The contractors are now working on East Seventh street.

FINED FOR VIOLATING SUNDAY CLOSING LAW

Nercles Leontis, of 314 Watchung avenue, and John Combias, of 157 North avenue, the two fruit dealers arrested Monday charged with keeping their stores open Sunday, were arraigned before City Judge DeMeza this morning and fined $10 each.

UNSOUND OBJECTION TO BUILDING PLANS?

One of the points in dispute regarding the plans for a new theatre which it is proposed to build on West Front street was that the promoters desire to make the main entrance eighteen feet wide, while the State law was said to have contained a provision that it must be twenty-five feet. This is denied by those interested in the proposition. They claim that the local building code provides for twenty-five feet, while the State law specifies eighteen feet as the required width.

It is further stated that a width of twenty-five feet for the main entrance is not required anywhere and that it should be insisted upon here is considered an imposition.

BICKEL'S WIFE ASKED FOR MERCY FOR HIM

Clare Bickel, of this city, who was brought back from Florida by Police Chief P. S. Kiely and Assistant County Prosecutor Walter L. Hetfield, Jr., to answer to an indictment charging wife desertion, and who received a fine of $50 and was placed in charge of the probation officer by Judge Clarence E. Case, yesterday, got off comparatively easy for the reason that his wife refused to prosecute him.

Mrs. Bickel informed the prosecutor that she had forgiven her husband, that they were on friendly terms again and just as soon as he secured a position they would begin housekeeping. Of course, it was understood by the sentence of the court that Bickel would support his wife. Mrs. Bickel is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John F. McIntyre, of North avenue.

LAUNCH A CAMPAIGN AGAINST MORE SALOONS

The executive council of the Federation of Men's Clubs at the Y. M. C. A. last night decided to authorize the committee on "License Protest" to publish an advertisement, with coupons attached, in the local papers inviting all voters who desire to protest to the Common Council against the granting of any additional liquor licenses to send their names to the committee.

The members of the committee are Arthur M. Harris, chairman; Alexander Millar, J. G. McLaughlin, I. L. LaRue, W. T. Schmithman. It was reported that the signatures of practically all of the men in the fourteen clubs represented had been already secured.

SEARCH FOR RELATIVES.

Efforts are still being made to locate relatives of Charles Gregory, aged 34 years, who was found dead at his boarding house at Manville, near Somerville, Sunday night. The man died from a hemorrhage. The body was removed to Maxwell's undertaking parlors at Somerville, where it is being held, in the hope that relaties may be found and arrangements for the burial can be made.

RUNAWAY HORSE HIT TWO RIGS IN FLIGHT

Frightened at a railroad train while passing under the Washington street bridge yesterday, a horse, attached to a delivery wagon of Henry Meyer, the Scotch Plains grocer, ran away, smashing several vehicles before being brought to a halt. In an effort to stop the wild run of the animal, the driver, Henry Meyer, Jr., braced his feet against the foot-board of the wagon while tugging at the reins, the pressure detaching the body of the vehicle from the springs.

Continuing down Washington street the horse, with the shafts trailing behind him, collided with two rigs belonging to Daley Brothers, grocers, and P. A. McVoy, plumber, both of East Front street. In the mix-up the runaway horse was pacified. No one was hurt.

A COLLISION.

Some commotion was caused at Park avenue and Front street last night when an automobile bearing a 1913 New Jersey license No. 2031, struck and knocked over the hand cart used by the postoffice mail messenger. The automobile was moving slowly along Front street, because of the slippery condition of the wet pavements, when the mail carrier turned into Front street from Park avenue, just in front of the approaching machine. Although the driver applied the brakes to stop the car it was too late to prevent a collision. Damage of little account was done and after getting the license number on the automobile, the policeman stationed at the corner allowed its owner to proceed.

SAUNDERS QUITS DEM. COMMITTEE

Somerset County's Member Sends His Resignation to State Chairman.

LA MONTE IS OFFENSIVE

Former Assemblyman Too Officious, It is Alleged for He Meddled as to Appointments and Patronage Without Any Warrant for so doing

(By Telegraph to The Daily Press.)

Somerville, Jan. 8.—Because of former Assemblyman George M. LaMonte's usurpation of the prerogatives of a State committeeman, former Mayor William L. Saunders, of North Plainfield, has sent his resignation to State Chairman Grosscup, to take effect immediately. As State committeeman from Somerset county, according to political custom, it was up to Mr. Saunders to make recommendations as to all appointments and patronage to be alloted in that county but it is claimed on reliable authority that LaMonte has persistently and offensively meddled in such affairs and moreover that he gets the Governor's ear before either the State committeeman or the Assemblyman-elect Beekman, the county's Democratic representative in the Legislature.

The climax came yesterday when Saunders, it is said, found that LaMonte was "butting in" regarding the appointment to be made to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of County Judge Clarence Case. The State committeeman, so the story goes, found to his chagrin that LaMonte was attempting to dictate the appointment regardless of the wishes and views of both Saunders and Beekman and that apparently his views seemed to carry more weight with Governor Wilson.

As has been the case with Calvin E. Brodhead and other men in the Lower House, who when they were carried into office by the Wilson gubernatorial tidal wave, LaMonte became a Wilson ally and helped to pass the legislation he favored. All these men have been handsomely rewarded, LaMonte, when recently being defeated for the Congress, being given the State Banking Commissionship. LaMonte traveled with Wilson during the Presidential campaign and as he is a man of wealth and affability he stood in well. Saunders is a veteran Democratic leader of the Cleveland school and in both the Wilson gubernatorial and Presidential campaigns lost much time in his big business interests to help the Democratic cause. He was the organizer of the National Democratic Business Men's League. The Somerset county State committeeman was also a member of the New Jersey finance committee of the National Democratic Committee. Much of the success in the municipal campaign here was due to his efforts in stirring up interest and in planning the meetings. His pronounced views in favor of a revision of the tariff downward attracted widespread attention as he is the head of a giant manufacturing concern. Because of his unusual ability, the Somerset Democrats were eager to have him represent them on the State Committee.

CITY JUDGE THREATENS TO HAVE MAN DEPORTED

William Main, 22 years old, who works as a butler at 915 Madison avenue, arrested Monday for being intoxicated, was arraigned before City Judge DeMeza this morning who again suspended sentence, although the prisoner had been arrested on the same charge twice before. The last time he took the pledge to abstain from the use of liquor for one year. Main's employer interceded for his butler as he did in the previous instance. In passing sentence the court threatened to take steps to have the defendant deported to Scotland if brought to headquarters again. Main has been in this country about six months.

BEEKMAN NOT OUT FOR COUNTY JUDGESHIP

Somerville, Jan. 8.—Assemblyman Azariah M. Beekman states positively that he is not a candidate for judge of the Somerset county court to succeed Judge Clarence E. Case, and that he will not accept any appointment which will interfere with his representing Somerset county at the coming session of the State Legislature.

TENER WAKES UP.

The annual message of Governor Tener, of Pennsylvania, reads like a death bed repentence for it is widely progressive in both letter and spirit. It may be that Tener has at last awakened to the fact that the people of the Keystone State demand that their State catch up with New Jersey in enacting laws for the good of the masses, but whatever may be his real state of mind, the recommendations contained in his message are genuinely progressive.

Among the recommendations the Governor makes these are among the best and most important:

Creation of a Public Utilities Commission; limiting the dispensing of liquor in social clubs to hours provided for hotels and saloons; submission of the woman suffrage question to the people as a Constitutional amendment; election of judges and municipal and county officers on non-partisan ballots; liberal money for conservation of the public health; extension of the pure food laws; graded or progressive taxation through a classification of direct inheritance taxes; stricter regulation of the sale of all securities; extension of the banking laws to include all private banks; Development and conservation of the water resources; workmen's compensation law and constitutional amendment for a $50,000,000 good roads bond issue.

A newspaperman who deserves a good deal of the credit for the cleaning up of one of the most corrupt municipalities in the State is Harvey Thomas, of the Atlantic City Review, who was in Plainfield the other day. When Thomas started in to expose the grafters they threatened to put him out of business and actually succeeded in their attempts to intimidate advertisers. But the coast resort editor fought on until he accomplished his purpose. Now some of the grafters are behind the bars while others have made themselves conspicuous by their absence and the Atlantic City Review is a mighty power for good in that community, enjoying as much prosperity as the editor could wish.

Express companies claimed that they could not possibly reduce their exorbitant rates, but when the parcels post service went into operation they speedily did so. Public Service alleged that its gas rates were not too high, but when the Utilities Commission ordered a decided reduction in one district the company read the handwriting on the wall and made the reduction general. Now it is time to get after the telephone monopoly.

The Democratic State Committee lines much by the resignation of William L. Saunders as the Somerset county member. As a clean, able and progressive member of that body Somerset county was admirably represented, but from all accounts Governor Wilson tolerated the meddling of George La Monte and Saunders took the only dignified course and quit.

You will find it profitable to read the contributed editorial to appear in Saturday's issue. William G. Besler, vice-president and general manager of the Jersey Central, will be the editor and it goes without saying that every wideawake newspaper along the lines of the Jersey Central will reprint what he will have to say.

The freedom of the press guaranteed by the United States Constitution has been made a mockery by the action of an Idaho judge in throwing a couple of editors into jail because of the publication of a Roosevelt speech offensive to them. Is it any wonder that the movement for the "recall" of judges is stronger every day?

President Clay's councilmanic committee appointments appear to give general satisfaction. He gave the "square deal" such as might be expected of a man of his calibre.

More power to the Chamber of Commerce in its effort to better the city's lighting facilities. The present condition is nothing less than a travesty.

When William Rockfeller lands again on American soil will they attempt to keep him out as an undesirable citizen?

It will be interesting to learn who votes for giving back the Gloekler license.

WHO KNOWS BUT THAT COLE MAY GET MARRIED

The old saying that "love goes where it is sent" is illustrated in an incident in which Clifford Cole, the soda water clerk at Schreiner Bros.' pharmacy, figures. While unpacking some goods a few days ago, by chance this young man happened to open a box of pills. A card bearing the name of a woman was found therein with a request that she would like to hear from the owner of the package. Cole lost no time in writing her.

Within a remarkably short time he received a photograph from the girl who described herself as eighteen years of age. In a letter she explained that she was employed in a manufacturing concern in Jamestown, N. Y., which makes pills for wholesale drug houses, and that she placed her card in the one particular box just two years ago. She expressed her delight over the fact that it had been found and also the hope that in the near future she would have the pleasure of meeting the young man into whose hands the card fell.

Mr. Cole is now counting the days to the time of his vacation when he plans to make a trip on his motorcycle to Jamestown, N. Y. He refuses to disclose the name of the young woman, explaining that "it is a personal matter."

New York, Jan. 8.—The Berlin correspondent of the New York Times says that he is officially authorized to state that the powers have agreed to take immediate joint action with a view of giving Turkey to understand they would view a resumption of hostilities with the utmost displeasure. The action of the powers will take the form of identical steps at Constantinople and London.

"ANDY!"

"Anti-grouch" Giver Believes In the Gospel of Smiles.

Andrew Carnegie gets a great deal of joy out of life, even despite his wealth, for he himself has confessed that his cumbersome riches afflict him with a feeling of fatigue. He believes that, while life is a serious proposition, the more laughs you get out of it the more you are the gainer. But there are many persons who would be willing to forego laughter for some of the ironmaster's lucre.

Other persons are inclined to believe that the Carnegie fund for pensioning ex-presidents was a shrewd Scotch joke, designed to spur congress to take action. And this is what will probably come to pass in the next session. Senator McCumber of North Dakota introduced a bill in the Sixty-first congress, but it was defeated, although pensions of $5,000 each were provided for Mrs. Harrison and Mrs. Cleveland.

Mr. Carnegie ordinarily looks like a man who is not worrying himself ill, and while this photograph, which is one of his latest, does not show him smiling at the thought that he may pass away moderately poor, with a mere $25,000,000 to his credit, but gives a good idea of the ironmaster debating the answer to a question put to him by a sympathetic reporter asking what he thought of Morgan's reported declaration that he (Morgan) was not interested in world peace or any other peace movement. Mr. Carnegie replied:

"I am not thinking!"

Ready to Fight For It.

He was a grand actor and a wonderful man in tragedy. He could rip open a grave and learn all the secrets of sorrow and darkness. He did it every night, and in every town which he played he hired a large band of supernumeraries who played the part of the mob. Not knowing anything about art or the story of the play, the only thing that interested a supe was whether or not he got his 25 cents for standing up as a member of the mob.

One night a tough young man had been taken down into the coal cellar, which had been kindly turned over to the supes as their dressing room, and in a temperature where the mercury flirted with the freezing point he had gone through the more or less painful performance of getting himself into the fragile dress of a Roman citizen. He was hurried to the stage and appeared in the limelight just as the great actor, the hero, rushed toward the mob and shouted fiercely:

"No quarter! No quarter shall you have this day!"

This was the crowning touch to all that the young man had suffered in order to get his quarter.

"Don't get no quarter?" he called out in a shrill voice. "If I don't get that quarter tonight I'll bounce this spear off that bean of yours!"—Popular Magazine.

AFTER TRUST'S SHIPS.

(By Telegraph to The Daily Press.)

Washington, Jan. 8.—If the Senate would pass the bill already passed the House prohibiting entry into United States ports of trust controlled ships those abuses would be corrected. This was the statement by two members of the shipping trust committee today, while other members nodded approval. It followed testimony of William Lowry, manager at Rio De Janeiro for the Panama American Line, telling of discriminations against American ships by the trust owned ships and through application of the coffee rebate system since 1904.

SORDID HACKMAN IS ARRAIGNED IN COURT

An evil which has long been allowed to run unchecked among the hackmen of this city was brought to the attention of the police when John H. Barry was brought before City Judge DeMeza this morning. A Plainfielder was placed in an embarrassing position yesterday when after engaging Barry to take him to his home, the hackman, ever eager to grasp an additional penny under any circumstances, spied a party of three men also wishing to hire a cab. Realizing his fee would be greater by accommodating the later pary instead of a single passenger he immediately ushered the three individuals into his vehicle.

An offense of this kind is a violation of the hack ordinance and Barry was arraigned on this charge. After a reprimand the court suspended sentence. Barry has been before the court on several other occasions for various offenses committed around the Central Railroad depot.

HERE AND THERE

With the record of having shipped the first pound of cultivated mushrooms into the New York market through Archibald Deacon, a Barclay street commission merchant, S. W. Workman, of this city, is the proud possessor of several beds of the quaint vegetable on West Front street. It was in 1885 that Mr. Workman, as a youth, carried a pound and a half of mushrooms which he had grown in a soap box under his bed in New Dover and carried them to the city in search of a purchaser and found one in the person of Mr. Deacon, who supplied produce to many of the larger hotels in Manhattan. The New Dover youth received the princely sum of $5 for his possession and from that time on he has been one of the principle cultivators in the State. In 1900 the local man shipped a record single consignment in shoe boxes to the metropolitan market amounting to 4,460 pounds and has supplied that market since his first sale 60 years ago. His crop this season totaled 300 pounds. The beds on West Front street are five in number and lay in length about 16 feet. The cultivation of the fungi is a most interesting study and Mr. Workman, now in his later years, takes great delight in showing his visitors over the grounds at No. 222. The cost of the delicacies is fifty cents a pound, 15 cents below the cost a few months ago.

LOCAL AMUSEMENTS.

"The Woman of It," an English comedy of the present day, will be produced by William A. Brady, Ltd., at the Plainfield theatre on Friday evening of this week. In the cast will appear Cyril Scott, Janet Beecher, Josephine Brown, Dallas Anderson, Wallace Erskine and other exceptionally well known players. Further than that the comedy has had extraordinary success in London and the other large cities of Great Britain, Mr. Brady steadfastly declines to give any details prior to the opening performance. "I am convinced," declares the most active of our American managers, "that it is a great mistake to rush into print in advance with an outline, or plot, of the play to be produced. The system informs the public just what to expect, with the result that the element of suprise is completely destroyed. This surprise feature, in my opinion, based upon many years of producing management, is the most vital and valuable of all the materials which go to make up a successful play. I have witnessed a number of instances where a drama or comedy (more particularly comedy) was going along without any particular interest to almost certain failure, when things began to happen that were totally unlooked for, and in an instant the audience was sitting bolt upright, laughing and applauding like mad. How absurd it would have been to disclose the saving incidents ahead of time—yet the thing frequently is done with little apparent heed of the natural result. 'The Woman of It' is distinctively a comedy of surprises, occurring one after the other in unceasing succession. This is the first time I ever have taken pains to conceal all knowledge of the details of a piece to be presented under my direction, and when I come to think it over, I am rather surprised that I did not adopt the plan before now. It will be a part of my regular system hereafter." "The Woman of It," after the single performance in Plainfield, will proceed immediately to the Thirty-ninth Street theatre, New York, for a run; with this company, especially organized by Mr. Brady for this purpose. It is a particularly strong cast of metropolitan favorites.

Crowned with twenty-seven years of success, the Al. G. Field Greater Minstrels come to the Plainfield theatre, Saturday afternoon and evening, with a brand new entertainment, new and original in every detail. Together with offerings that surpass all former efforts in stageland's electrical and mechanical realms, the entire performance is builded on lines that Field considers has resulted in the banner performance of his career. The Al. G. Field Greater Minstrels has been looked forward to by thousands of patrons for years. Other minstrel companies have come and gone but Field and his merry monarchs of Momus annually appear as regularly as the change of seasons. This year in addition to a new opening spectacle, the opening of the Panama Canal is shown in its entirety, and the first boat passing through the locks with the attendant celebration offers an avenue for a military and patriotic pageant that enlists the services of every member of the company. Headed by Al. G. Field himself, the company includes a dozen shining lights in minstrelsy, while the Gold Band, the latest novelty, offers two concerts every day. Each musician is equipped with a beautiful tuneful instrument finished in gold, a real departure in the amusement world. The company in its entirety will offer the newest program, and one which dramatic critics along the route agree is the best the minstrel star and manager has ever devised.

—Press Wants outline in plain, concise terms the chances that are at hand for the great army of workers, renters, landlords, agents, those who would buy, sell or exchange.

PLAYED A PRACTICAL JOKE ON WATCHMAN

William Taylor, nightwatchman at the Potter Printing Press Works, was made the butt of practical jokers late last night and so frightened did he become that he whipped out his revolver and emptied its contents into the walls of the shop. The shooting caused some excitement in the neighborhood. Men jumped from bed into their clothes and ran to the scene of the disturbance. Walter Halliwell, of 208 Spooner avenue, telephoned to the police and Roundsman Higgins and Patrolmen Craig were sent to investigate.

A few workmen employed at the works stretched a wire across one of the rooms so that the watchman, making his rounds in the dead of night would trip and fall. Their pranks worked to perfection for shortly before midnight Taylor, with a lantern in hand walked slowly from one part of the plant to another, searching for any chance prowler, when suddenly his foot struck the wire and the watchman's nose struck the floor. Revolver shots followed and about a dozen men from the neighborhood appeared on the scene. Charles H. Halliwell, a painter, called to his son to ring up the police, and when the men from headquarters arrived they found the frightened watchman still gripping his empty gun, but refusing to be comforted.

OFFER REWARD FOR HIS BODY

Family of H. F. Gerdes, Who Fell From Train into Newark Bay Offers $200.

SURE HE WAS VICTIM

No Body of Drowned Man at Either Staten Island or Bayonne Morgue—His Photograph Recognized—Was Building Home at Roselle.

A reward of $200 is being offered by the family of Henry F. Gerdes, at Roselle, for the recovery of his body. It is now believed certain that he was the man who was blown from a Central train into Newark Bay during the storm last Friday afternoon. Following is the statement from the family regarding the reward:

"A reward of $200 is hereby offered by the relatives for the recovery of the body of Henry F. Gerdes, as it is supposed to have been lost from a train crossing Newark Bay Bridge about 5 o'clock Friday afternoon January 3."

A picture of Mr. Gerdes, seen by a Mr. Hurty, of the Netherwood section of this city, who is a member of the New York Stock Exchange, and who was on the train at the time and also by the conductor, convinced Mr. Gerdes' family that he is the man who was blown from the train.

Mr. Gerdes was a traveling inspector for the Harris Automatic Press Company, of 50 Church street, New York city. He was 36 years old, and lived at Fourth avenue and Poplar street, Roselle. He had been living there three months, and was building a house in the borough.

Inquiries at the morgues in Staten Island and Bayonne revealed the fact that no body of a drowned man has as yet been found.

OUR GREAT NORTHWEST FREE LECTURE SUBJECT

An illustrated lecture on "Our Great Northwest," describing in particular Montana, Wyoming and Washington, with glimpses of the great national parks, the Glacier, the Yellowstone and Mt. Ranier, will be given at the Washington School, tomorrow night by Robert G. Weyh, under the auspices of the Board of Education. This will be one of the series of free lectures arranged for the winter by the board.

Mr. Weyh spent three years in that section of the country, studying conditions along Puget Sound and throughout the Northwest. The lecture will be profusely illustrated by first-class lantern slides, many of them taken especially by the lecturer.

DR. STRONG SPEAKS AT UNION PRAYER SERVICE

Rev. Dr. Philip B. Strong, pastor of the First Baptist church, addressed the union prayer meeting at the Trinity Reformed church last night. The topic of his talk was "The Church of the Living God," and it was taken from the passage of Scripture found in 1st Timothy, 3:15. He spoke of the church's divine origin, of the work done by it and the far spreading influences of the churches at a whole. He told what the church stood for and of his personal love for the church and its work.

Rev. John Y. Broek was in charge of the service. Rev. Dr. C. M. Anderson read the Scripture lesson and Rev. Dr. C. E. Herring led in the opening prayer. At the close of Dr. Strong's address a testimonial meeting was held at which a number of those present took part.

The service tonight will be held in the First Presbyterian church and will be in charge of Rev. Dr. C. E. Herring. Rev. Dr. Anderson, of the First M. E. church, will address the meeting.

PARCELS POST WORKS WELL IN PLAINFIELD

Since the inauguration of the parcel post system the business at the local postoffice has steadily increased each day. While other postmasters have reported having experienced annoyance because people will not follow the prescribed regulations, Postmaster E. H. Bird says that he has had very little trouble from that source. Thus far there has not been a single instance where the sender of a parcel has failed to place the return address on the package, and there have been but few cases where the sender has failed to affix the prescribed postal stamps.

In the few cases where ordinary stamps have been used the postal clerks have had the address of the sender and have been able to rectify the trouble quickly. So far as known no one has attempted to place packages in the mail boxes, as has been the case in some cities, chiefly for the reason that the sender would not know the amount in stamps required and for another good reason that it has been impossible to put the package in the box. Because of the varying rates charged for carrying packages into the eight zones into which the country is divided, it is necessary to have all parcels weighed and stamped at the main postoffice. The service has not been extended here to the sub-station in North Plainfield for the present.

IN WOMAN'S REALM

The KITCHEN CUPBOARD

SOME SAVORY OMELETS.

OMELETS may be combined with cheese and vegetables to make exceedingly nutritious and attractive dishes. The lightness of the omelet makes it particularly appropriate to feed to children and those members of the family who are troubled with indigestion. If the ingredients are varied omelets may be served frequently without becoming monotonous.

Rich Omelets.

Baked Omelet.—Take one tablespoonful each of flour and hot butter, one cupful hot milk, a half teaspoonful salt, one-fourth teaspoonful pepper, six beaten eggs, one teaspoonful baking powder. Stir the flour into the butter and add gradually the milk, salt, pepper. Cool slightly and add the well beaten yolks of the eggs, then the beaten whites and the baking powder. Bake in moderate oven.

Cheese Omelet.—Take four eggs. Break these in a dish. Add four tablespoonfuls cold water and beat until light; add one-half teaspoonful salt. Put two teaspoonfuls butter or drippings into a pan, when hot pour in the eggs. With a fork lift the edges of the omelet to allow the soft portions to run underneath, shaking the pan constantly. Put in four tablespoonfuls grated cheese and then fold over half the omelet. Serve on a hot platter and garnish with parsley.

Made With Vegetables.

Tomato Omelet.—Take a half cupful of pulp of canned tomatoes. Beat three eggs without separating the yolks and whites and mix them with the tomatoes when the latter are well drained of juice. Make the omelet as usual, seasoning with salt and paprika. Fold and serve garnished with parsley.

Potato Omelet.—Take a cupful of cold mashed potatoes which have been passed through a sieve, three eggs, yolks and whites beaten separately, a scant teaspoonful of salt, a dash of white pepper, one-half cupful of sweet milk, a heaping teaspoonful of flour. Heat and butter a saucepan or frying pan and pour the mixture into it. Keep on top of stove at moderate heat till set and browned on under side, then place in the oven to brown.

VOTES FOR WOMEN

Conducted by the Equal Suffrage League of Plainfield and North Plainfield.

The month of January, 1913, bids fair to be a notable one in the annals of the Equal Suffrage League of Plainfield. Tomorrow evening, January 9, at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Jones, 981 Central avenue, two of the ablest speakers in the country will present the cause of Woman's Suffrage before what promises to be a very large audience, so great is the interest manifested. The Rev. James Grattan Mythen is an Episcopal clergyman from Baltimore, Maryland, and he has recently been made president of the Men's Equal Suffrage League of Maryland, succeeding Dr. Howard A. Kelly, the noted gynicologist. For eloquence, wit and forcefulness, he is said to be unsurpassed as a speaker. Miss Janet Richards has perhaps even greater attractiveness to a Plainfield audience than any stranger, since she is firmly established as a prime favorite here and has a host of admiring friends.

On next Monday afternoon, Jan. 13, Miss Rosalie Jones, better known to the world since the now famous "hike" to Albany as "Gen. Jones," is to speak at the residence of Mrs. C. L. Riley, president of the Plainfield League. Gen. Jones is planning to organize an army to march to Washington in the near future, perhaps in order to join in the great suffrage parade on March 3. She has had a part in the recent Ohio campaign and has many interesting things to tell about it and about the march to Albany. Associated with her on Monday will be Mrs. Edward Feickert, the newly elected president of the New Jersey Woman Suffrage Association, who will tell of her plans and hopes for the new year. Mrs. Feickert is a resident of whom Plainfield is justly proud since she has demonstrated unusual power and efficiency along several lines and has earned many well deserved honors.

On the afternoon of Jan. 28 at the First M. E. church parlors the cause of Woman Suffrage will again be presented, but on this occasion both pro and con by able speakers. The suffragists have been fortunate in securing Mrs. Frances Manle Bjorkman, of New York city, as the "outside" defender of their cause. Mrs. Bjorkman is the secretary of the Literature Committee of the N. A. W. S. A., and in this capacity must read and pass upon a great mass of books, pamphlets, leaflets, etc., on the subject of suffrage. It is confidently asserted in New York city that no one is better informed on her subject and that she adds to her vast fund of information an unusual gift of presentation. She is well known as a magazine writer on social topics and in her early days was a newspaper reporter in Denver, Colorado, where she also voted. Mrs. Feickert will be the local speaker for Woman Suffrage on the 28th. Miss Minnie Bronson, of New York, and Mrs. Hugh Fox, of Plainfield, will speak for the anti-suffragists.

On the last day of the old year, "General" Rosalie Jones placed the secret message sent by the several suffrage organizations of New York in the hands of Governor-elect Sulzer, and received from him a pledge of fealty to the suffrage cause. Mr. Sulzer had already assured Mrs. Harriet Stanton Blatch in New York city that he would be the "best suffrage governor New York ever had," but a good deal of anxiety was current about the way in which he would receive the pilgrims. The message said:

"The suffrage hosts of the Empire State send greetings and renewed congratulations to Gov. William L. Sulzer, and express the earnest hope that his administration may be distinguished by the speedy passage of a woman suffrage amendment."

"I received this message in the spirit in which it was sent," said Mr. Sulzer. "As a matter of political justice, I have always favored equal suffrage for men and women, and have recommended in my message that the Legislature submit, as soon as possible, a woman suffrage amendment to the constitution of the State of New York.

"You ladies deserve commendation for your enthusiasm for a great cause that ought to be respected by everybody and receive the consideration it merits. I congratulate you on the successful outcome of your pilgrimage and assure you that in the future, as in the past, all I can do for your cause will be done."

Mr. Sulzer said later that he had introduced an equal suffrage bill in the State Legislature 20 years ago. After receiving the message, Gov.-elect Sulzer was photographed, surrounded by the army.

Great Furniture Sale Now Going On.

Aggressive buying of furniture has characterized the annual sale, which began its second week at Hahne & Co.'s Monday, indicating a growing appreciation on the part of the people of the value and economy of these annual trade movements. It has been many years since Hahne & Co. began the holding of January furniture sales, and they have set a pace difficult to follow by making reductions for January apply to every piece of furniture in the stock with only those trifling exceptions necessitated by manufacturers' rulings. The privilege of selecting from such immense assortments at reduced prices is taken advantage of by people seeking to economize because they know that the furniture is of the most dependable sort. By extending the privilege of the "club plan" to their patrons, Hahne & Co., make it easy for people to buy quantities of furniture without financial inconvenience. The white sale and the general clearance sale will continue throughout the month with constantly varying attractions.

FREE FOR FRAMING.

The beautiful pictures in colors that have been given free with copies of the New York Sunday World have made such a hit that it has been decided to give away another set of three pictures, reproductions of works by famous artists, with next Sunday World. Dan Faly, Jimmy Dinne's latest hope, has such a bid hand that special gloves have to be made for him when he boxes.

Ex-Champion lightweight Dick Burge, of London, who has been out of the ring many years, wants to get back in the game.

George Bernard, the French middleweight, who was mussed up by Bill Papke recently, is to meet Jeff Smith in Paris, Jan. 15.

After looking over Jess Willard, Bob Fitzsimmons declared that the big Texan is the only one of the present crop of heavies that looks good to him.

Archie Johnson, son of the Governor of California, is a clever amateur boxer and will compete in the tournament to be held in San Francisco, January 25.

The National A. A. U. boxing championships have been awarded to the B. A. A. and will be decided at Mechanics Building, Boston, May 5 and 6.

BASEBALL NOTES

First baseman Fred Merkle, of the Giants, is being sued for $5,000 damages, arising from an alleged attack on a bartender.

Arlie Latham, the former big leaguer and coach of the New York Giants, is looking for a job as umpire during the coming season.

Cedar Rapids and Waterloo are in tough luck. Both cities have been granted franchises in the Central Association but have no ball park to play in.

Manager Dahlen thinks so well of the men he has signed up for 1913 that he has picked out a place in the first division for the Superbas.

Morley, the youngster secured from Knoxville, will most likely give Frank Laporte a hard tussle for the second base job with the Washington team next season.

During their spring training trip the Boston Braves will play a game with the All-Georgia team, which is to be organized by Ty Cobb and Nap Rucker.

No piloting of a major league team for Fielder Jones. The former manager of the White Sox was recently elected president of the Northwestern League for a term of three years.

It is said that the veteran Jim Sheckard will be released by President Murphy and that the Cubs will depend upon Schulte, Clymer and Mitchell in the outfield.

Kenneth Nash, the former Brown University shortstop signed by the Cleveland Club last season and afterward sent to Toledo, will rejoin the Naps at the Spring training grounds in Pensacola, Fla.

Pitcher Hurley, of the Denver team, is quite a hurler, but as a batter Hurley is absent. Last season he took part in 37 games, had 82 times at bat and finished the season with a batting average of .000.

BIG BILLIARD MATCH.

Pittsburgh, Pa., Jan. 8.—George Sutton, the Chicago cue expert who lost the world's championship at 18.1 balkline billiards to Ora Morningstar last spring, will seek to regain the title in a match to be played with Morningstar in this city tomorrow night. The game will be at 500 points, and the winner will receive the title, a gold trophy emblematic of the championship, a share of the gate receipts and a purse of $1,000. In addition, each man has wagered $500 on the result, or a dollar a point. For several weeks each of the principals has been training for the big strain he will have to undergo, and both have been playing in excellent form.

P. H. S. CHESS SCHEDULE.

Manager Henderson, of the Plainfield High School chess club, has scheduled the following games in the tournament now in progress to be played off before Friday, January 10: Shaw vs. Sacher; Thompson vs. Smith; Sattels vs. Cockburn; Fleming vs. Mann; Thompson vs. Henderson; Sattels vs. Smith; Cockburn vs. Mann; Fleming vs. Sachar.

ELKS' BOWLING.

The local Elks' bowling team will entertain the New Brunswick tribe on the East Second street alleys tomorrow night in one of the Elks' League contests. New Brunswick is at present leading the antlered league and the Queen City aggregation will have to hit the wood for some high scores if they want to take the series from the top-notchers.

GAMES WANTED.

The Jolly five basketball team wishes to arrange games with teams averaging 110 pounds or over. Address Charles Post, Jr., 260 East Third street, Plainfield.

LOCAL ELK BOWLERS HAVING HARD LUCK

New York's Aggregation Makes High Scores With Plainfield as Opponent.

Hard luck is still on the trail of the local B. P. O. E. bowling team. Last night in defeating the Plainfield squad in New York by scores of 835-824, 1022-845, and losing 825-906, the metropolitan pin-men made record runs and rolled better than at any other time this season. Plainfield has had the misfortune to be the opposing team in most of the records made by league aggregations and in every match lost to the local team in the league schedule the winners have hung up high-water marks. Last night's match was no exception to the rule.

Westphal, a veteran on the New York team, rolled two 200 scores in a match for the first time in his life and Starr jumped from seventh to second place in the individual averages by way of his scores of 191, 242 and 201. Westphal's record counters were 221, 242, 159. The New York team were victors in the first and second games and in the latter went over the thousand mark with 1022. Nash was the only local man to reach the 200 mark. The scores last night were:

NEW YORK.
Westphal	221	242	159
Markey	146	188	137
Schuler	191	171	188
Engeling	146	179	140

P. H. S. FIVE WILL PLAY SOMERVILLE

First Basketball Game of the New Year Will be Played With Crippled Lineup.

Basketball will be resumed, after a Christmas respite, tomorrow afternoon by the Plainfield High School quintet when it goes to Somerville to hook up with the High School five of that place. Although the local schoolboys have had no competitive contests for over two weeks, two hard practices have been held since school has reconvened and those interested say that P. H. S. will duplicate the trouncing it administered to the Somervillians earlier in the season on the local court. Several members of the P. H. S. squad are suffering from minor injuries which, while not of a serious nature, are bound to impede their playing ability when they line-up against the speedy county seat aggregation.

Brynarski will be out of the line-up for some time to come with an injured knee. Hetfield is also suffering from a bad support, while Peacock is nursing a strained hip joint.

Reports from Somerset county are predicting a victory for the wearers of the Orange and Black and their playing of late certainly entitles them to a worthy consideration. The Somerville court is much larger than the one at P. H. S. and this will also prove somewhat of a handicap for the Queen City delegation.

THEY WANT GAMES.

The manager of the second team of the Young Men's Club of the First Presbyterian church wishes to arrange games with church second teams or any other teams averaging 150 pounds or less. Communications may be addressed to Paul Manning, 214 East Sixth street, Plainfield.

THOMPSON'S TEAM DEFEATS WANDERERS

Captain Thompson and his team of erstwhile basketball tossers won a somewhat one-sided game on Monday night in the local armory from an organization named the Wanderers. The score was 39 to 8. The whole trouble with the visitors was that they did altogether too much "wandering" and failed to get a particle of team work into their play. Nolan and Darling, Co. K's sharpshooters, dumped baskets at will and were never in any great fear of loosing the ball as a result of possible stone-wall defensive tactics on the part of the weary Wanderers.

The first half ended with the count, 16 to 6, in favor of the soldiers, and the final period developed itself into a farce. Nolan and Darling were in a marathon of basket-shooting while Gennerich on the opposing side was forced to be content with a lonely marker. The forwards of Uncle Sam's gunners contributed many long and sensational shots. Their guarding featured. The score follows:

COMPANY K.

	G.	F.	P.

Here's an Economical Boiler

If you are interested in house-heating at minimum up-keep cost, look at this sectional view of a Square Pot Boiler. It shows a deep, square firepot, surrounded by water surfaces down to the grate line. It shows interior water connections built low in contact with fire and trending easily upward to facilitate circulation. It shows a large body of fire in a square cornered pot, which increases heat radiation about 20%.

These are features that produce efficiency at an actual lessening of running expense—they make Square Pot Boilers a paying proposition for interested parties to investigate. Any BOYNTON dealer will show you.

The Patersonians will present the same team that the local contingent defeated on Thanksgiving Day.

THE FORUM.

Editors, Plainfield Daily Press:

In answer to an editorial appearing in Monday's issue of the Daily Press concerning my recent harmony dinner held in Trenton, I would say that the Daily Press was entirely right in stating that the Progressive party is entirely separate and apart from the old Republican party. The statement that the Progressive party is legally recognized in practically every State and that it holds second place is absolutely untrue. So far as I know there are only one or two States where the Progressive assembly ticket ran ahead of the Republican. According to our constitution and the constitutions of all of the States with which I am familiar the vote on the assembly ticket is that which shows which shall be the leading or minority party. The statement that the Republican party has become a third party is incorrect and untrue.

In answer to the question "Have either of the old parties indicated in any way that they stand for the humanitarian planks in the Progressive platform?" I would say that the Progressive platform in that respect was made up from the acts passed by the Republicans and which are now laws on the statute books.

I would call attention to the forty odd acts and amendments to acts coming under this heading passed in the year 1912 alone in this State. In answer to the reference to the Taft dinner at which the Daily Press says Boise Penrose, William Barnes, Murray Crane, John D. Archbold, Franklin Murphy applauded Mr. Taft's remarks while I was holding a harmony meeting at Trenton, I would say that none of these men attended my meeting nor did any of the leaders, either old-time Republicans or self-appointed and annointed Progressives in New Jersey attend. The meeting was merely composed of good, solid representative men of both factions who believe that there is no essential difference between the rank and file of the two factions. I do not believe in the negativing or the will of the rank and file by splitting it in the support of two party machines.

Sincerely yours,
W. deLa R. ANDERSON.

NURSES WILL ENDOW BED AT MUHLENBERG

The executive board of the Alumni Association of Muhlenberg Hospital at a meeting to be held on Wednesday, January 15, will take up the question of endowing a bed at the institution. It is expected that at that time all the necessary data on the subject will have been secured so that the association can go ahead and complete arrangements.

The object in endowing a bed at the hospital is to provide a place where members of the association can be taken care of when ill, without being compelled to pay the full hospital rates. These nurses are altogether dependent upon what they earn themselves and for that reason want to make some provision whereby they can receive consideration when taken ill.

SHILOH BAPTIST HAD A PROSPEROUS YEAR

The excellent progress made by the Shiloh Baptist church during the past year was shown in the reports presented at the annual meeting held last night, by the clerk, Arthur S. Venable and Charles C. Irby, treasurer. It was reported that the money received and paid out, coming from various sources amounted to $2,550. The sum of $1,100 was paid on the property and in addition about $400 was spent in making extensive improvements to the church.

These persons were elected for the coming year: Clerk, Arthur S. Venable; treasurer, Charles C. Irby; choir leader, Richard E. Randolph; organist, S. W. Venable; deacons, James Hill, Richard E. Randolph and William Boyd; assistant secretary, Charles Lumpkins; superintendent Sunday-school, Richard E. Randolph. Dr. E. W. Roberts, the pastor, expressed his appreciation to the members and friends for help during the year and for the many kind remembrances at Christmas and New Year's.

DEADLOCK IN ILLINOIS.

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 8.—The forty-eighth general assembly of Illinois, which convened at noon today, will be called upon to elect two United States senators, one to succeed Shelby M. Cullom, whose term will expire next March, and the other to fill the vacancy caused by the expulsion of William Lorimer. With a band of twenty-five legislators from the Progressive party fighting Republicans and Democrats and no party holding a majority in either house or on joint ballot, all signs point to one of the liveliest sessions seen here in years. Not only does a deadlock in connection with the senatorship appear to be almost a certainty, but a bitter contest over the organization of the legislature, which may delay the regular work of the session for weeks, is indicated today.

SENATORIAL CONTEST.

Charleston, W. Va., Jan. 8.—With the close of the short special session of the West Virginia legislature and the opening of the regular biennial session today, the contest for United States senator to succeed Clarence W. Watson is on in earnest. The Progressives possess the balance of power in the legislature and as a result former Governor W. M. O. Dawson, who is the West Virginia committeeman of the Progressive party, is believed to hold the key to the senatorial contest. Mr. Dawson's choice for the senatorship is Col. William G. Edwards, a wealthy oil operator of Charleston.

LEGISLATION IN WISCONSIN.

Madison, Wis., Jan. 8.—With no great issues at stake and no United States senator to be elected the Wisconsin legislature which convened today nevertheless promises to make for itself an important place in the history of the State. With social betterment as a keynote of the legislative program, humane legislation will characterize many of the bills to be introduced.

BATTLE ANNIVERSARY.

New Orleans, La., Jan. 8.—The city, State and national flags were raised on the City Hall today in commemoration of the ninety-eighth anniversary of the battle of New Orleans, which occurred January 8, 1815. The day is a legal holiday in the State of Louisiana.

GIRL IS HELD FOR THE GRAND JURY

Mae Hahan, of Dunellen, Arrested for Getting Money Under False Pretenses.

GOES TO COUNTY JAIL

Grocer and Confectioner in Westfield Her Accusers, and She Admits Receiving Money and Goods as Alleged by Them.

Westfield, Jan. 8.—Miss Mae Mahon or Mrs. Mae Miller, as known by some, aged 20 years, was held for the action of the Grand Jury by Recorder Springstead yesterday on charges of obtaining money under false pretense, made by P. J. Windfeldt, grocer, and L. Dughi, confectioner, of Broad street.

Miss Mahon was employed by Mrs. Lafon, of Ripley place, and in December telephoned Mr. Windfeldt, representing herself as Mrs. Lafon, it is said, stating that her hired girl had gone downtown without any money to do an errand in Plainfield and would Mr. Windfeldt lend her $6 and charge the amount to Mrs. Lafon's bill. Mr. Windfeldt agreed to do so, and when Miss Mahon came to his store he handed her the money.

Miss Mahon also secured $1.50 in cash and nearly $5 worth of fruit and candy at Mr. Dughi's store, telling him that the goods were for Mrs. Lafon. The authorities believe that she borrowed money from other stores, the proprietors of which have not as yet sent in their bills to Mrs. Lafon.

The girl was fond of moving pictures and automobile joy rides, and occasionally hired one of E. B. Woodruff's cars. Recently she hired a car for two hours and neglected to pay Mr. Woodruff in full for the trip. When brought before Recorder Springstead she admitted receiving the money and goods from Mr. Windfeldt and Mr. Dughi. She said she was 20 years of age, that her home was in Dunellen and that she was once married to a man named Miller.

Miss Mahon told the court that she did not telephone Mr. Windfeldt, but that she got another girl to do so. Being unable to furnish bonds, she will be taken to the county jail.

INSIDE THE MAGAZINE

The Wide World for February contains a wonderful collection of articles and stories dealing with adventure, exploration, customs in foreign lands and weird experiences. Marion E. Shaw, a heroine of the wilds, tells of her "Adventures With Horses." Henry Taylor describes and illustrates a famous "Japanese Pearl-Farm," while J. Sydnel Boot writes of "The Parachutist's Peril." Douglas Carruthers continues his absorbingly interesting account of his travels through the wilds of Asia and E. W. Hawkes contributes an article dealing with the little-known "Cliff-Dweller of the Arctic."

In the Strand Magazine for February there is a very interesting article by William Brown, M. A., in which he gives the latest views of appeal to everyone who dreams, and who does not? W. T. Roberts has an official article on "Queen Alexandra at Marlborough House," which is illustrated by special photographs selected by her Majesty. "The Nature and Nurture of Beauty," by C. W. Saleeby, will appeal very strongly to parents.

FOR BOYS AND GIRLS.

Beginning on Sunday, January 12, the Philadelphia Record will make a new departure in the publication of its Sunday issue. Besides the regular general and special features that make up this excellent newspaper, a step will be taken for the benefit of the boys and girls. This will take the form of a magazine for boys and girls, covering about eight pages of excellent story matter, and will carry such stories as usually appear in publications like St. Nicholas, Youth's Companion, etc. The cover of this additional magazine will be printed in color. The departure should be of interest to thousands of boys and girls. No increase in the price of the paper will be made, it remaining at three cents as usual. By reason of the probable increased demand for next Sunday's Record, it would be well for prospective subscribers to place an advance order with newspaper carrier or dealer.

ITALIAN QUEEN'S BIRTHDAY.

Rome, Jan. 8.—Queen Helena today celebrated her fortieth birthday anniversary and was the recipient of many presents and messages of greetings from her relatives and the various royal families of Europe. In accordance with the wish of her Majesty the anniversary of her birth is not a state occasion, but is always celebrated by a quaint family gathering at the Quirinal. The Queen is a daughter of the ruler of Montenegro and, quite naturally, it is with a strong feeling of personal interest that she has followed the progress of the stirring events in the Balkans the past few months.

A GREAT RECORD.

Hard to Duplicate It in Plainfield.

Scores of representative citizens of Plainfield are testifying for Doan's Kidney Pills. Such a record of local endorsement is unequalled in modern times. This public statement made by a citizen is but one of the many that have preceded it and the hundreds that will follow. Read it:

Mrs. O. C. Moore, 57 Manning avenue, Plainfield, N. J., says: "You may continue to publish my endorsement of Doan's Kidney Pills which I gave in August, 1905. I endured much misery from backache which was caused by my kidneys. Many nights I was unable to rest at all and when I arose in the morning my limbs were so stiff and sore than I could hardly get out of bed. Whenever I caught the least cold it settled on my kidneys and any strain on my back always made my aches and pains worse. I was treated by physicians but their medicine did not help me and it was not until I got Doan's Kidney Pills at Randolph's drug store that I had any hope of getting rid of my trouble. This preparation made me feel like a different person and I have never had any serious trouble since. I use Doan's Kidney Pills once in a while however, and they keep my kidneys in good working order."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other. **

N. P. H. S. NOTES.

At a meeting of the junior class yesterday morning, Lucille Ewart, as treasurer, submitted a report and it was figured that the class had cleared over $70 on the play. Miss Ewart handed in her resignation as secretary and treasurer and suggested that a pupil taking a commercial course be chosen for the position. The resignation was accepted and the following were nominated for the position: Roy Love, Ashley Burner, Donald Ketcham and Marguerite Woolston. Miss Woolston won.

The Boys' Athletic Association has voted to purchase basketball shoes for the members of the first team. In the last few games the team has been at a decided disadvantage owing to the slippery condition of the floor. At the meeting yesterday there was a long discussion as to what sort of an annual entertainment should be given this year by the association. Some are in favor of a regular play as has been given in former years, others want a vaudeville show, while a few would like to have a minstrel show. The question was left unsettled but it will be decided within the next few days. Mr. Mertz, as in previous years, will undoubtedly pick the cast and coatch it, possibly with some outside help.

Henry Spencer is arranging a good baseball schedule for this spring and already has about a dozen games booked with strong teams of this vicinity, which include Somerville, New Brunswick, Flemington, High Bridge, Battin and Rahway High Schools. The city scholastic schedule with Plainfield High School and Leal's School will be arranged in the near future. Although the team was a failure last year, Principal Phelps as coach is confident that a nine equal to the one of 1911 can be put on the diamond this year. All of last year's players with the exception of "Bill" Taylor will play. Ralph Smalley will be an able successor to "Billie" behind the bat.

The girls' basketball team has been resting during the vacation but will start again next Monday evening at the Hope Chapel court against the girls of that Sunday-school. Manager Elsie Debele is still booking games which will keep the team busy for the next two months.

Mary Bennett, who has been ill for the past two months, has returned to school and entered upon her regular course of study.

Watchung Council, Knights of Columbus, held its monthly meeting last night, transacting only routine business.

The installation of officers will be held by Queen City Lodge, No. 226, Independent Order Odd Fellows on Wednesday night, Jan. 29.

NEED ISOLATION HOSPITAL HERE

In Health Board's Annual Report, President Murray Makes Suggestions.

REVIEWS YEAR'S WORK

Municipal Sanitary System for Collection of Garbage and Ashes Urged for 'Steenth Time—Water Bugaboo Disturbs Board.

The importance of making provision for the care of certain classes of cases of scarlet fever and diphtheria in a properly equipped isolation hospital, is referred to by Dr. William H. Murray, president, in the twenty-fourth annual report of the Board of Health, which has just been presented to the Common Council. He urges prompt action in the matter. Dr. Murray also calls attention to the fact that in his opinion the city does not possess sufficient control of the local water supply, and he expresses the hope that the city will secure that control in the near future.

The question of the collection and disposal of ashes and garbage by a municipal system is again referred to and the hope is expressed that such a system may be adopted soon.

The report of the treasurer, A. S. Voorhees, shows receipts during the past year, including the $7,500 appropriation from the city, of $8,213.19, with disbursements of $4,756. The general expenses amounted to $1,242.39, that for the care of communicable diseases, $627.45; laboratory supplies, $190.12; printing, stationery and office supplies, $465.45. There is a reported balance of $931.73.

In order to ascertain the general sanitary condition of the trolley cars running through Plainfield, inspections were made on all four lines at different hours of the day and night. Thirty such inspections were made and in most instances cars were found to be fairly clean.

There were 568 cases of communicable disease during the year and 23 deaths. There were 538 complaints received of various nuisances and 426 were abated.

During the year milk was distributed in the city by seventy-six dealers, divided as follows: 25 retailed by means of wagon, 38 sold from stores and 13 sold a few quarts only. There were 620 inspections in connection with milk supply. At present there are 184 dairies and five creameries supplying milk in Plainfield. Plans for the continuation of the campaign against unsanitary condition of all kinds have been formulated and the Board expects to carry them out with renewed vigor. Dr. John H. Carman, medical inspector made a total of 56 examinations and inspections during the year. A total of 293 specimens were examined by Dr. G. Thornton Longbothum, bacteriologist.

Miss Harriet O. Mattison, registrar of vital statistics, reported 298 deaths. Twenty-two deaths were among non-residents. The death rate for 1912 was 13.55 per thousand population. The returns follow: Marriages, 181; births, 494; still-births, 28; deaths, 298. Of the marriages, 141 were contracted by white persons and the remaining by colored. The rate per thousand of the population was 8.23. The bureau issued 200 marriage licenses. The nationality table of marriages, births and deaths shows that nearly every nationality is represented from Austria-Hungary to the West Indies.

LEAL'S SCHOOL NOTES

The prospects for having a hockey team this season are not bright, chiefly because Jack Frost has not been on the job.

Although the basketball team was defeated again by the team from Carteret Academy, the local five put up a good fight against the victors. What the team wants is more team work, while there is room in the line of ringing baskets.

The boys will meet North Plainfield High School basketball team Monday afternoon at the Y. M. C. A.

ATWATER QUITS THE JUDGESHIP

Continued Ill Health Prompts Him to Send Resignation to Governor Wilson.

SCRAMBLE FOR BERTH

Connolly, Wilson, Gilhooly, Hetfield, Hyer and Coddington Are Prominently Mentioned For the Union County Job.

The resignation of Judge Edward S. Atwater, of the Union County Court of Common Pleas, has been sent to Governor Woodrow Wilson to take effect at once. Ill health is the direct cause of this action. His term would have naturally expired at the close of the session of the Legislature, which convenes next week and adjourns early in the spring.

Pending the selection of a successor a judge from another county must sit at Elizabeth, which entails considerable inconvenience upon him and his home court. Judge Paul A. Quien, of Hunterdon, was designated recently to substitute for Judge Atwater. Judge Clarence E. Case, of Somerset, has always taken Judge Atwater's place in the past, but he, too, has presented his resignation to Governor Wilson, and will leave the bench as soon as the State executive can name his successor. Judge Case's resignation was due to the death of his law partner, former Congressman Alvah A. Clark, and the request of the latter's family that Judge Case continue the entire work of the firm.

Judge Quien is scheduled to preside in Union county beginning next Monday, and he will be relieved to a certain extent by Judge Peter F. Daly, of Middlesex, who will sit in the Naturalization Court. This arrangement will hold until Judge Atwater's successor is appointed.

The retiring judge, Edward Sanford Atwater, named for Edward Sanford, a judge of the Supreme Court of Connecticut, was born in Fairfield,

RUTGERS' MUSICAL CLUBS FINE PROGRAM

Annual Concert of Collegians at Auditorium Tomorrow Night.

One of the most pleasing numbers on the program of the Rutgers College Glee and Mandolin Clubs, which appear at the Hartridge Auditorium tomorrow night for their annual concert in this city, will have to be omitted before the local audience. The number has met with an athletic mishap, Theodore Sullivan, of Stelton, being prevented from participating in the mandolin quartet selections by three broken fingers, sustained in a basketball game in the college gymnasium yesterday afternoon. Mr. Sullivan played second mandolin in the quartet which has been unusually well received this season, and as no substitute could be worked-in on such short notice, it was deemed advisable to substitute another number in the place of the harmonious mandolins.

Albert G. Leeds, who has won fame for himself on both the glee club stage and the Rutgers diamond, will fill in the vacancy on the program with mandolin impersonations. Mr. Leeds is the leader of the quartet, as well as leader of the mandolin club.

Many of the Rutgers men will accompany the musical clubs to this city in order to take in the dance which is to follow the concert.

The program for tomorrow night's concert will be as follows:

Part I—Opening chorus, Rutgers Songs, Arr. by McKinney, '13, both clubs; Song of the Cannibal, Scott, glee club; "That Haunting Rag," Kunzberg, mandolin club; recitation (selected), G. Stanley Robins, '13; "Good Night, Good Night, Beloved," Reed, glee club; quartet, "Pickaninny Lullaby;" "Winter Song," Bullard, glee club.

Part II—"Jenk's Vegetable Compound," Macy, glee club; bass solo (selected), Harry K. Davies, '14; selections from "Little Boy Blue," mandolin club; "What You Will," G. Stanley Robins, accompanied; "Canoeing Song," Bowles, glee club; mandolin impersonations, Albert G. Leeds, '14; "On the Banks of the Old Raritan," Fuller, '74, glee club.

O'BRIEN'S HEARING JAN. 14.

Alfred DeCoster, referee in bankruptcy proceedings, has fixed Tuesday, January 14, as the time for the hearing in the voluntary petition in bankruptcy filed by John O'Brien, former health officer of Plainfield. The papers were returnable yesterday, at which time Mr. DeCosta set the date for the hearing. Mr. O'Brien is no longer connected with the city health department.

CANNOT FIND BODY OF DROWNING VICTIM

Reward Offer Results in More Activity of Boatmen on Newark Bay.

Roselle, Jan. 9.—Still no information or trace of Henry F. Gerdes, of Stockton avenue, near Fourth avenue and Poplar street, who is believed to be the man blown from the Central Railroad train into Newark Bay last Friday afternoon during the ninety-mile gale, has been found. None of the morgues in Bayonne, Staten Island or Jersey City had any bodies taken from the bay and there is no positive knowledge that the unfortunate man was Mr. Gerdes, but his continued absence from home is considered a strong indication that he was the victim.

Since the offering of the $200 reward by the relaties of Mr. Gerdes for the body of the man blown from the train, there has been greater activity in the search for the body by boatmen and others in the vicinity of the bay, and it is confidently expected that the body will be recovered shortly.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerdes had been living in one of Warman & Boardman's new houses in the eastern section of the borough at the termination of Fourth avenue while a new residence is being erected in Third avenue. Mrs. Gerdes is in a very nervous condition from the suspense and is anxiously awaiting information of her husband. While stepping across a water-filled gutter yesterday afternoon at the corner of Third avenue and Poplar street, she slipped on the edge of the sidewalk and fell to the concrete walk, badly cutting and bruising one knee.

Mr. Gerdes' brother, of Philadelphia, was in the borough and vicinity yesterday doing what he could to locate the missing man, who was a traveling inspector for the Harris Automatic Press Company, of 50 Church street, New York city. He was 36 years old.

MRS. G. B. LEE DIES OF ACUTE PERITONITIS

Young Woman Succumbs After But Four Days' Illness.

Mrs. Gertrude Belknap Lee, wife of Ronald Currie Lee, and stepdaughter of Mrs. Morris R. Belknap, of Louisville, Ky., died suddenly yesterday at her home, 817 Hillside avenue, following a four days' illness which began with an attack of bronchitis and developed into acute peritonitis. Her illness at first was not considered serious. In response to a telegram Mrs. Belknap reached Plainfield just before Mrs. Lee passed away.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee were married on April 20 of last year, the same day that Miss Annie G. Fisk and J. Ford Johnson, Jr., were married in this city, and after a honeymoon made their home in Plainfield. Mrs. Belknap was Miss Marion Dumont, being the daughter of John B. Dumont, of this city. She lived in Louisville since her marriage. The remains of Mrs. Lee were taken to Louisville yesterday, where the funeral and burial will take place.

MRS. MARY E. WILLIAMS DIES IN HER 64TH YEAR

After a long lingering illness, Mrs. Elizabeth Williams, wife of W. D. Williams, of 215 East Front street, passed away early this morning in her sixty-fourth year. Heart trouble was the cause of her death. She had lived in this city for a number of years.

The funeral will be held at the Friends' Meeting House, on Watchung avenue, Monday morning at 9 o'clock and the interment will be made at Hackettstown following a service in the Presbyterian church there.

DENTISTS' GATHERING.

Following a luncheon in Truell Hall last night, members of the Plainfield Dental Society held their regular monthly business meeting. The speaker of the evening was Dr. Herbert L. Wheeler, of New York, who delivered an interesting address on "Oral Hygiene and Hospital Free Dental Clinics." There were fourteen members present.

ORGANIZE SEWING CIRCLE.

The Young Misses Sewing Circle was recently organized at the home of Miss Leila Walker on East Fourth street, for girls over nine years of age. The circle meets once a week to receive lessons in sewing at the residence of Miss Ines Grobes, the next meeting being announced for tomorrow afternoon at 3:30 o'clock.

PLAN TO WIDEN THOROUGHFARES

Councilmanic Street Committee Considers Scheme to Widen Two Avenues.

FOR PERMANENT PAVE

"Dollar Wide" Pavement May Be Introduced—Improvements For the West End Are Promised—Second Street May Be Widened.

The proposed widening of Madison avenue, from Front street to the railroad bridge, and laying of a permanent pavement similar to the brick pavement there and the laying of permanent pavement on Second street, between Madison and Watchung avenues were some of the matters discussed at the first meeting of the Councilmanic Street Committee last night. All the members were present.

Commissioners are now at work on the proposition to widen Madison avenue and their report is expected within two weeks. If this thoroughfare is widened and arrangements made for the trolley to run through it to Fourth street, the committee believes that a permanent pavement should be laid.

The importance of improving Second street was also shown. Whether it is advisable to continue the brick pavement is a debatable question. The committee has learned of a new pavement called the "Dollar Wide," for the reason that it costs $1 a square yard to lay it. The foundation consists of five inches of concrete with a top dressing. It has a smooth surface similar to asphalt but is considered more sanitary than the latter. If approved it may be decided to lay this kind of a pavement on Madison avenue, Second street and even extend it to other streets.

The plan to widen East Second street, between Watchung avenue and Church street was also discussed. This improvement is considered a necessity, especially in view of the fact that the government expects to erect a Federal building at Watchung avenue and Second street. The plan is to widen Second street to sixty feet. At present it is but forty feet wide. Above Washington street it is sixty feet wide.

In addition to improving streets in the business section of the city, the committee intends to devote considerable time and attention to the thoroughfares in the residential section and it is expected that the West End of the city will be looked after more than in the past. The residents there feel as though they have been neglected in many respects and have repeatedly petitioned the Council for street improvements.

PROVISIONS OF CLARK WILL ARE MADE KNOWN

The will of the late Alvah A. Clark, which was offered for probate in the office of Surrogate William J. DeMond at Somerville, yesterday, is dated June 21, 1909. The household and personal effects, including everything about the house and barn, are left absolutely to his widow. She may, is she so desires, sell or dispose of everything, with the exception of the household furnishings, which at her death, are to be divided equally between the two daughters, Mrs. Charles A. Reed, of this city, and Mrs. Madeline C. Mack, of Somerville, the survivor to inherit the goods in the event of the death of the other.

All other goods and chattels are to be sold by the executors, who are also empowered to sell all the real estate, with the exception of the homestead property on Mountain avenue, which the widow may occupy if she desires. Should she not wish to do so, the premises may be sold by the executors and the purchase price added to the estate.

The income from the estate is to be paid to the widow, and after her death, $15,000 of the estate is to be placed in trust with the Plainfield Trust Company, the income from which is to be paid in quarterly dividends to the son of the deceased, Eugene R. Clark, and in the event of his dying without issue, this sum is to revert to the two daughters of deceased. The remainder of the estate is to be divided into two equal shares between the two daughters.

The executors to the will are the son-in-law, Charles A. Reed, of this city, and Mrs. Katherine L. Reed and Mrs. Madeline C. Mack, daughters.

The value of the estate is not mentioned, and the executors are not required to file any inventory.

DOBBINS WOULD BE PROSECUTOR

Rahway Lawyer Covets Union Co. Appointment Sought by McAdams and Stein.

THREE-CORNERED RACE

His Chances Hurt By Fact That Hyer Is In Line For a Job—Elizabeth Is Likely to Get the Plum—The Other Candidates.

Another candidate for prosecutor has appeared in City Attorney Frank V. Dobbins, of Rahway, who is urged for the office upon the grounds that he would make a good compromise. In view of the conflicting ambitions of those aspirants with hats long in the ring, Mr. Dobbins' supporters point out that it would be a better solution of the problem to select a newcomer into the ranks of possibilities.

Mr. Dobbins has been in communication with party leaders during the last twenty-four hours, and was much in evidence at Trenton yesterday, when there was a big gathering of Democrats at the State House. He was a candidate for an Assembly nomination at the Democratic primaries in the spring, but was defeated when the vote in Elizabeth for the local candidates counterbalanced his run through the rest of the county.

Mr. Dobbins was admitted to the bar about thirteen years ago, and besides his Rahway practice, has an office at 15 Exchange place, Jersey City. He has been city attorney of Rahway for about five years.

Robert H. McAdams and former Mayor Stein, both of Elizabeth, have been vigorously contesting recently to procure the organization leaders' support for prosecutor, and it has been regarded by their friends as most probable that either one would be appointed. Whichever one lost the prosecutor race would be in line for Judge of the District Court, it was believed.

Just how Mr. Dobbins' candidacy will fare cannot be ascertained yet, but it appears well established that if an appointment of any kind connected with the courts is given the county outside Elizabeth, it will go to Fred C. Hyer, of Rahway. He has excellent popular backing, and it has been learned from a well-informed Democrat that the party leaders in Elizabeth admit that politically Mr. Hyer has a good claim for recognition.

He was a candidate for State Senator in 1908 against Ernest R. Ackerman, and went down to defeat in the Taft landslide, polling more votes than any Democrat who came out of the 1913 election victorious. He has always been a Democratic worker. His father, the late Lewis S. Hyer, was a judge under a Democratic administration many years ago. Mr. Hyer was elected city attorney of Rahway several years ago, but resigned because of the demands of his private practice.

"JACK" MARTIN JOINED THE BENEDICTS LAST NIGHT

John C. Martin, ball player, and son of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Martin, of West Second street, was married last night, his bride being Miss Myra E. Hinkle, daughter of Mrs. Luella Hinkle, of Manning avenue. Rev. Philip B. Strong officiated, the ceremony taking place at the First Baptist parsonage. James V. Emery, a chum of the American League infielder, was best man and presented the groom with a parlor lamp. The bridesmaid was Miss Julia McCann, of this city. Miss Hinkle was attired in a traveling suit of grey with hat to match, while Miss McCann wore a striking blue creation. The groom's gift to the bride was a beautiful diamond brooch.

RECOMMENDS FREE USE OF THE PUBLIC SCHOOLS

In connection with the larger use of the school buildings that is now prominent in public discussion, at a meeting held last evening by the committee of the Board of Education, which has the school auditoriums in charge it was decided to recommend to the Board of Education that as the meetings of the West End Civic Association are of a public nature it should be given the use of the auditorium free of charge.

The committee also decided to recommend to the board that the request of the West End Republican Association for the use of the Washington School auditorium for a meeting be granted on the same terms. It did not seem wise to the committee that smoking should be permitted at any of the meetings since the room will be used the next morning by the children of the school.

MUST GET NEW SIGNERS

Petitions to Be Circulated—Pass Resolution Deploring Passage of Burnett Bill By the Federal House—Meeting Tuesday Night.

Renewed agitation in favor of a commission form of government for Plainfield was the feature of the Democratic club meeting on Tuesday night and preliminary plans were made to launch a campaign for a special election for the adoption of the provisions of the Walsh act. The club went on record as favoring a meeting of those endorsing the scheme and for public discussion of the plan.

Steps will be taken shortly to get the required number of signatures and this work will have to be done all over again as the law provides that all signatures must be obtained after the last general election at which assemblymen are chosen. The signatures of the required number on the petitions circulated last spring are therefore of no use and those who signed will be requested to do so again.

On motion of LeRoy J. Ellis, the Democratic club also passed the following resolution:

Resolved, That we greatly deplore the passage by the House of Representatives of the National Congress of the Burnett Bill providing an educational test for foreign immigrants and we earnestly ask that our representatives in the Senate do their utmost to defeat the measure in the Senate, for we are firmly convinced that it is not only opposed to the best sentiments of humanity but to the best interests of this country, since education is no test of worth as to character or as to ability to help in the development of our resources whether agricultural or mining, or in any other kind of manual labor whether it be road construction or domestic service. An educational test would seriously curtail the supply of this much needed labor.

We point out to our representatives that the demand for this legislation is most insistent from those most remote from the immigrant and therefore least acquainted with his worth and the great need he fills; and their demand should be considered accordingly.

NOTABLE CAST FOR "THE WOMAN OF IT"

"The Woman Of It," which will be presented by William A. Brady, Ltd., at the Plainfield theatre tomorrow night, is an English comedy drama of the present day by the well known author, Frederick Lonsdale. This successful comedy, originally produced in London, England, is said to provide a series of laughable incidents, the effect of which will be greatly heightened by the fact of their being totally unexpected. Mr. Brady has selected a most notable cast for its interpretation, including such well known players as Cyril Scott, Janet Beecher, Dallas Anderson, Josephine Brown, Wallace Erskine, John P. Campbell, George Putnam, Jack Gordon, etc.

"The Woman Of It" will be seen here with all the special scenery, furniture and accessories for this initial performance exactly as it will be given at the 39th Street theatre, New York, where it will begin an all winter run Tuesday evening of next week, and should prove a great social event and appeal to the very best class of theatre-goers of Plainfield. No production given by Mr. Brady has been made with the same careful attention to the selection of cast and scenic embellishment as this, his latest offering, as it has been in active preparation for over a month and under his immediate direction.

Seats are now on sale and from the numerous calls at the box office there is scarcely a doubt but that "The Woman of It" will be greeted by one of the largest and most representative audience of the season.

Attention! Mothers, Wives, Daughters, Sisters, Sweethearts.

The Federation of Men's Bible Classes requests you to read the call "To the Voters of Plainfield" on Page 10, and if you approve the call ask your sons, husband, father, brother or best fellow to sign the blank and send in at once. ***

SET TRAP TO CATCH YOUTHFUL THIEVES

Butcher Places Marked Coins and When They Disappear Two Arrests Are Made.

Charles Stenzenberger, aged 15 years, of Watchung avenue, and Samuel Hennegan, aged 17 years, of 520 West Third street, were arrested yesterday on a charge of "breaking and entering," the complaint being made by Jacob Paritz, a West Second street grocer. The youthful prisoners, who it is believed are guilty of a number of petty burglaries, are said to have confessed. When arraigned before City Judge W. G. DeMeza this morning they were remanded for further examination until tomorrow.

The arrest followed a bit of strategy on the part of Walter E. Lane, the West Front street butcher, by whom Hennegan was employed. The lad was caught climbing through a dining-room window at the Lane home on Leland avenue on Monday. He was arrested and according to the police inplicated Stenzenberger and also confessed to a number of thefts. It is claimed that Hennegan had entered Mr. Lane's home at least six times within the past few weeks.

Suspecting the youth, Mr. Lane placed marked coins about the house, and they quickly disappeared. Monday Mrs. Lane and her sister planned to hide and catch the thief. They did not have to wait long when it is alleged they saw the boy climbing in the window. Part of Hennegan's duties was to collect bills and Mr. Lane is unable to tell how much money he has taken. The lads, it is alleged, have confessed to attempted robbery of the delicatessen store on East Front street, conducted by James Parrish, and to the theft of cigars, cigarettes and candy.

FOR PUBLIC USE OF THE SCHOOLS

Sup't Maxson Favors Idea of Holding Meetings in Schools Auditoriums.

STATES HIS POSITION

"A School Building Could Be Used Quite Extensively By Adults," Says Dr. Maxson, Who Announces Board's Attitude.

Plainfield's Board of Education, it is reliably reported, favors a more general use of the public school auditoriums for meetings of a public nature and for public advantage, despite reports in some quarters to the contrary. Superintendent Maxson is in hearty accord with the plan according to a statement made by him today.

"The past year has brought increased public attention to the question of the wider use of school buildings. I have long held the conviction, myself, that a school building could be used quite extensively by adults without interference with its proper use as a place for educating children, and that such use would be greatly to the profit of the community, and have advised it from time to time in my annual reports.

"As the year drew to a close, I was interested in looking back to see what progress we have made in these matters, and thought perhaps your readers would also be interested. Nearly all of our school buildings are now used regularly by parent-teacher associations for afternoon or evening meetings, which have more or less of a social nature, outside of school affairs, bringing the people of the neighborhood together in a common interest. In the evening, a considerable number of the fathers are present, and in various schools they have entertainments and social affairs.

"The Mothers' Association uses the High School as its place of meeting, and a year ago the State Convention

WOMEN TO CONQUER IN VICE CRUSADE

Strongest Force Against Social Evil Declares Dr. Clara Krans.

Declaring that women compose the strongest force in the country's fight against commercialized vice and without their aid that great social problem could not be solved, Dr. Clara DeHart Krans, of this city, spoke yesterday afternoon before the meeting of the Fifth District of the Federation of Women's Clubs at the Seventh Day Baptist church, on "What Club Women Can Do for the Public Health." Dr. Krans asserted that the ability of women to aid in protecting the public health by helping to establish a single standard of morality for men and women has been underestimated. "Women most privileged in educational and cultural opportunity are awakened to the fact that this is the woman's problem, and will never be settled without her co-operation," asserted the speaker.

During the course of her talk Dr. Krans told of the Consumers' League work and the interest which its members have aroused in the conditions of shops and factories, which have re-

LOCAL KENNEL CLUB'S CONDITION PROSPEROUS

Reports from the show committee and the treasurer were received at the annual meeting of the Plainfield Kennel Club held at the Queen City Hotel last night and there was a general discussion of club affairs. The report from the bench committee showed that last year's exhibition was a great success, all expenses having been met, leaving a substantial balance in the treasury. The report of the treasurer was also satisfactory, showing the club to be in excellent financial condition.

After a general discussion the meeting adjourned until Friday, January 24, at which time officers will be elected and the date for next year's bench show will be fixed. Due notice will be given as to the place of next meeting. There was a large attendance of members at the meeting last night and much enthusiasm and interest were shown in the success of the club.

NEAR BURGLAR HAS 'PLAINS ALL EXCITED

Reflection on Window Causes Hasty Gathering of Home Defenders.

Scotch Plains centre was all excitement last night, when Bryant C. Johnston, of Westfield avenue, imagined he saw a light through the shades of the temporarily vacated house at the corner of Westfield avenue and Forest Road. He came to the conclusion that burglars were responsible for the light. Seizing his double-barreled shotgun, and spreading the alarm Mr. Johnston led a band armed with clubs, axes, revolvers, rifles, etc., in an effort to capture the supposed robber.

The house is owned by Mrs. Adelle Lyons, who is ill at the home of her sister in Westfield. The shades are pulled down and the residence presents a deserted appearance.

Scotch Plains was clothed in a blanket of darkness and formed an ideal setting for the "tragedy." The Johnston family was preparing to enjoy the evening meal when Bryant Johnston thought he saw a light shining in the interior of the Lyon house. He and his brother Edward started from their home. The sight of them running to and fro with rifles cocked for immediate action caused the alarm to be sent broadcast and soon Harry Paff, also armed with a rifle, and Albert and Henry Meyer, all of Park avenue, arrived on the scene. Henry Walbach, of Stout avenue, Thomas Paff, Edward Johnston, John Pomp, John Onerio and scores of others followed armed with the hastily procured weapons.

Part of the posse surrounded the house while Harry Meyer climbed to the roof of the front porch to see if the second story windows were unlatched; others tried to batter down the front door and many tried the cellar sashes, but every opening where a human being could enter was found securely barred.

Soon the crowd realized that a mistake had been made and slowly retraced their steps, all telling what would have happened to Mr. Burglar had there been one.

The "light" that caused all the excitement was the glare of the electric lights in a shoemaker's shop across the street, reflecting on the windows of the Lyon residence.

POWER OF REVIVAL SUBJECT OF DISCOURSE

Rev. Dr. Chas. M. Anderson's Theme at Union Prayer Service.

Rev. Dr. C. M. Anderson, pastor of the First M. E. church, made the address at the second in the series of union prayer services at the First Presbyterian church, last night, his topic being "Church Revivals." "A complete history of the world cannot be written," he said, "with the work of the Church omitted. What the average individual is apt to associate with this word revival is the conversion of unsaved people, large religious meetings where you witness a number of people publicly announcing their sins and giving their souls to Christ. The result of revival services when applied to church work is to re-liven the beliefs of the members who often in some degree, collectively and individually, backslide. The work accomplished by these services is to reclaim these backsliding members and to strengthen those that remain. Does not the Scripture say 'Strengthen those things that remain and are ready to die.' A good theme for a sermon could be taken from this verse. It also shows how the work in revival services can help along the work of the church, for does it not say to strengthen those things that remain and are ready to die. Could the work of revival services be better explained? Another passage of Scripture says 'God will not break the bruised reed nor quench the spark, but will heal the bruised reed and fan the spark into a flame.' There is a spark of divine life hidden away somewhat in the heart of every man. The work for us to do is to find out where it is and then do something to revive it and bring it back to a healthy flame.

"Look at the experiences of Hezekiah when he came to the people of Juda. The people of God had fallen away, sacrifices lay unburned, the doors of the Temple were closed and the Feast of the Passover neglected. When he came to the people of Juda as a man of God he made it understood that the Feast of the Passover had to be celebrated whether anything else was or not. A seven days' revival was held and at the end of that time the people gathered together and discussed the subject of continuing the meetings. The result was that the services were continued another week. At the end of the two weeks' services there was greater rejoicing than there had been since the days of Solomon.

"It is claimed by some that the Christian Church was born in a genuine revival meeting, but a question asked by the Lord of Peter and the answer of the Lord settles that question. The Lord said to Peter, 'Who am I according to your thoughts, Peter?' Peter answered and said, 'Thou art the Christ, the Son of the Living God.' The Church of Christ was not erected on what Peter had said but was built on the fact that Peter had confessed whom the Lord really was. What has kept the Church of Christ, even that the gates of hell could not prevail against it? Nothing but revival services, held to awaken the deadened senses of the people."

Rev. Dr. C. E. Herring was in charge of the service and conducted a short song service early in the evening. Rev. Dr. Philip B. Strong offered prayer and Rev. John Y. Brook read the Scripture lesson.

TO HOLD CONFERENCE.

FOR USE OF SCHOOLS

of the Mothers' Association, in which many of the Plainfield people are interested, used the High School for its annual meeting. Next month, the State Charities Association is to use the High School in similar manner for its annual meeting. The High School has been used thirty times during the last twelve months for purposes having no direct connection with the schools: Lectures, concerts, peace meetings, receptions, moving pictures, plays, etc. Seven years ago, when the High School building was erected, comparatively little had been said about the larger use of school buildings, but the Board of Education had the foresight to build the auditorium on the first floor, with good ante-rooms, easy access and a level floor. In the basement is a cooking department and a gymnasium where refreshments can be served, so that the building is admirably planned for extensive evening use for social purposes of various kinds. As far as I recall, no request for the use of the auditorium during the year has been denied. In fact, the Board is glad to have it used for any good purpose of general public benefit.

"In the Stillman School, there are seven evening classes with an enrollment of something over 200 pupils, learning the rudiments of the English language. The pupils are largely of foreign birth, coming from nearly every country in Europe from Spain to Russia, and Norway to Italy. The earnestness and eagerness with which the pupils work show the high value of such use of the school building.

"The Jefferson School has for some time been used regularly as a substation of the Public Library, where the people of the neighborhood may go and draw books and use the advantages of the library without the trouble of going to the central building.

"The Washington School is used regularly for lectures, also for the meetings of the West End Civic Association, and has been used at times for a course of dancing lessons and sociables. Permission has been given to the Third Ward Republican Club to use this place for its meetings. The Board is also planning for a series of social meetings in co-operation with a committee of young people from the evening schools.

"The yards and part of the building in three schools are regularly used in the summer as playgrounds by the Playground Commission, and the others are available when needed by them. The Board of Education would be very glad indeed to see the schools used much more widely than they are for neighborhood meetings of every kind, and they welcome the movement in that direction. It is to be observed that in each the large buildings it has erected in the last ten years it has made an auditorium with it and has put the auditorium on the first floor with easy access to the street so that it may be convenient and attractive for use by the neighborhood. All the new class rooms are fitted with electric light so that they are ready for evening use whenever needed.

"The addition to the High School will contain an auditorium seating 1,100 people, with a large stage suitable for almost any use, and the purpose in arranging it is that it may be used not only by the school but by almost any company of citizens for a worthy purpose. It is to be noted that the school auditoriums are the only public meeting places owned by the city. The new High School auditorium will be admirably fitted to become the civic center of the city. The building when completed will contain work-shops, domestic science rooms, commercial rooms, a large gymnasium, and a swimming pool, all suitable for evening use, as well as for the use of the pupils. The swimming pool, either under the direction of the Playground Commission or otherwise, ought surely to be opened day and evening through the summer months, and will confer a great boon on old and young, in addition to its invaluable work in teaching the day pupils the art of swimming."

A BROAD POLICY.

There was a time when the Board of Education stood in bad odor in the community, but there has been a decided change for the better during recent years and now it is trying mighty hard to please the public generally, and what is more it is succeeding admirably. Its latest move and one that will be applauded by all the taxpayers, we think, is to allow the school auditoriums to be used as a meeting place for any affair of public benefit. To be more precise, this is the recommendation of the Board's committee on buildings, but in an interview with Superintendent Maxson published in another column we learn that he not only endorses the plan but that the Board highly approves of the idea. Suiting the action to the word, the Board's committee has recommended that the West End Civic Association and the West End Republican Club be granted the use of school auditoriums.

It will be recalled that some time ago, the Jersey City Board threw open the school auditoriums for all meetings of any public benefit, and that a futile attempt was made by some selfish public hall owners to restrain the body from continuing the policy. More recently, Governor Wilson in a speech declared himself in favor of using the school auditoriums throughout the State as a place for political meetings and for public debate. The local Board apparently shares his views but is even broader for it throws open the buildings for all purposes of benefit to the people.

Former Assemblyman William de la R. Anderson's dream of a reunited Republican party was proven to be a nightmare already. State Chairman Osborne at a meeting of the Essex County Progressive committee on Tuesday ridiculed the alleged harmony feast, declaring that "not a member of the Progressive State committee was present. No Progressive county chairman attended the dinner, and, so far as I know, not a single Progressive leader partook of the harmony feast. The Progressives are not interested in any proposition to 'get together' in the Republican party. I do not know of any Progressive layman or leader—who has the slightest idea of returning to the Republican party. It is perfectly futile to talk about uniting the Progressive party and the Republican party in New Jersey."

It takes two to make an agreement, but thus far the self-annointed political Moses has only been able to get one party to consent to the bargain. But William means well and so why disturb him from his slumbers when he seems to be enjoying such a pretty dream.

Governor Wilson is making a serious mistake from both a personal and party standpoint in allowing some of his political lieutenants to set themselves up as patronage dispensers. That is clearly the business of the State Committee and if the Governor keeps up his practise of taking advice of others he will destroy his party organization. When, for example, George M. LaMonte, who has been a friend of the Governor in more ways than one, had the impertinence to make the recommendation to the Governor for the Somerset county judgeship appointment without even consulting State Committeeman W. L. Saunders, the proper thing for Wilson to have done would have been to tell LaMonte to mind his own business. But according to report he didn't do that and very properly Saunders resigned as a member of the State Committee and thereby Wilson loses a very able and very loyal party official.

The Federal House has very foolishly passed the Burnet bill, requiring an educational test for immigrants. It seems to us that there is not enough attention paid to the moral test and it would be a better plan to enforce that provision of the present law and let there be no educational test whatever, for the majority of those who come to make their homes in this country are prompted by a desire to better their condition mentally and financially and to get away from oppression.

Edward Caspar Stokes, who now and then indulges in the harmless pastime of chasing the U. S. Senatorial rainbow, says he favors the Munsey harmony plan and claims to be the pioneer in the get-together movement. He's right about being the first one to crawl back into the G. O. P. tent, but at the time he did so, Edward Caspar had an idea in his head that the Republican party would win out in New Jersey and it wouldn't do for him to fall behind in the Senatorial chase. In fact the bosses told him what he might expect if he followed Roosevelt.

TINA LERNER WILL PLAY AT BIG RECITAL

The appearance of Tina Lerner, the brilliant Rusian pianist, who gives her recital at the Plainfield High School Auditorium, Thursday night, January 16, will be the next important musical event for Plainfield. This will be the concluding concert of the McIntyre series and will bring to eclat this remarkable quartet of concerts.

The Boston Globe in reviewing her concert of November 15, has this to say of Miss Lerner:

"Tina Lerner gave a pianoforte recital yesterday afternoon at Jordan Hall after an absence from the city of several seasons. A large audience was charmed by her exquisite art as a pianist and by her no less exquisite beauty as a woman, fresh and with the bloom of youth, yet quaint with an Old World grace; her profile at the piano, filled with sweet repose, and her pretty acknowledgement of applause—both studies for a painter. Keenly sensible by nature to hidden and poetic beauty which would pass unnoticed or misconstrued by a less refined mind, she has absorbed the true spirit of lyricism and for an hour in her presence it is possible to forget that the piano is a pulsatile instrument, one with wires to be struck, an instrument which some are prone to confound with an orchestra.

"There was a ravishing fleetness in the Weber Rondo; purling streams of notes in a limpid flow, crystaline and with perfect continuity. It was music scintillating upon the surface, made to pass brilliantly, and vanish as a breath of air. In all her playing, what a sense of proportion, how perfect the symmetry, how free from excess or incongruity in the balance and contour of the phrase and with what unfailing clarity each measure was delivered."

It has been a long time since Plainfield has enjoyed a fine piano recital and much interest will be aroused by Miss Lerner's advent.

At the close of the prayer service at Netherwood Reformed church last night these officers were elected as members of the consistory for two years: J. C. Hansen, elder, and A. P. Wahlig and B. P. Hansen, deacons. The subject of Rev. Mr. Stout's talk tonight will be "The Possibilities of Soul Winning."

"Stormy Petrel" Is Barred From U. S. as Undesirable

ONCE the president of a nation, next a revolutionary leader, then a world famous exile. General Cipriano Castro finally came to notice recently as an undesirable alien at the threshold of the United States.

Ex-President Castro of Venezuela arrived at Ellis island intending to be merely a tourist in this country for a short time—so he said. But it was not fated that he should accomplish that peaceful mission. Whether the high government officials or Venezuelan diplomats suspected Castro's purpose as being political or not, was not definitely stated, but the powers at Washington gave Castro to understand he could not land. He was forced to turn back from Ellis Island, at New York, without having set foot on the mainland of the United States.

Castro is known as the "Stormy Petrel" of South America. It is declared he has been the biggest trouble maker among the excitable, revolutionary, Latin-American republics for fifteen years. For ten years, after capturing the government by leading a revolt, he ruled Venezuela with an iron hand. He waxed enormously rich the while by giving out concessions on his country's resources to foreign capitalists. He crushed out many incipient rebellions by the use of bloody methods. In the end the dictator became ill and was forced to go abroad for his health. In his absence the enemies of his government struck quickly and hard. They overthrew Castro's supporters, tried them and punished them for conspiracies and murder and declared the president himself an exile, to be summarily dealt with should he return.

From that time on the "Stormy Petrel" has kept diplomatic circles in many countries in a state of uneasiness. Once he actually led a futile revolution to regain his power, leaving the country only when his forces were badly whipped.

Three departments of the United States government were called into play in dealing with Castro's case when he arrived here. They were the department of public health, the department of commerce and labor and finally the department of state. First officers of the health department subjected General Castro to the most rigorous sort of a physical examination.

The physicians were forced to report that they found absolutely nothing about the visitor's health or mental or physical being which would warrant his exclusion from this country.

Then the department of commerce and labor tried to find a reason for barring the alien. The officials, however, discovered that General Castro had plenty of money and was not likely, therefore, to become a public charge; that he was a tourist and knew where he was going, was not a contract laborer; had not been convicted of a crime involving moral turpitude and was not a fugitive, and, finally, did not intend to settle in this country anyway.

That left only the state department to act. This department has more leeway than the others, particularly where a friendly nation or the ruler thereof has lost his taste for a former citizen. The department did not like to appear in the matter if it could be helped, but on the failure of the other arms of the government this was unavoidable. Diplomatic pressure, the exact details of which are unknown outside government officialdom, was then applied. General Castro then issued a statement to the effect that he was ready to leave for Germany on the next available ship.

Castro embarked in coming to this country on the steamship La Touraine under the name of L. Ruiz. When his identity was discovered he resumed his real name.

Castro at first railed at his fate when apprised of the objection to his landing. He declared there was no such thing as the much vaunted American liberty. "You will have to dump the Liberty statue in the ocean if you bar me," he is said to have declared.

While the investigations were going on and from then until Castro re-embarked the exile was given the most luxurious quarters available at Ellis island and was treated as a guest.

METAL TOOK WINGS; BOY AND GIRL HURT

Ten-year-old Edward Rooney, of Somerville, was walking along Main street, in that place yesterday when a horse attached to a delivery wagon reared and cast one of its shoes. It travelled fifty feet and struck the boy on the side of the head. He was knocked unconscious and was taken to his home in a serious condition.

Annie Murtora, nine, also of Somerville, was later found lying on the sidewalk with a deep gash in her right leg. She said she had heard a loud report while she was playing on the street, and then felt as if her leg had been cut off. She had been hit b ya piece of a railroad torpedo covering. It had been placed on the tracks of the Central Railroad of New Jersey several hundred feet from where the girl was playing.

SOMERVILLE MAN HELD FOR BLACKMAIL THREAT

Trenton, Jan. 9.—After being arrested by Patrolman Frank Hughes, Edward Rusk, of Somerville, admitted that he was the author of the letter received by Police Justice Samuel E. Naar, demanding $1,000 under penalty of burning down the home of Mr. Naar.

Rusk, who is thirty-five years old, is said to have served a three-year term in State prison for burglary, and a one-year term for another offence. About a year ago he was sent to the workhouse by Police Justice Naar. Rusk declared after his arrest that he would have carried out his threat against Mr. Naar is given an opportunity.

The case was turned over to the secret service office of the government, who has been trying to trace the author of the two threatening letters recently received by Mr. Naar. Rusk admits that he was the author of both. He explained that he had gone from Somerville to Bound Brook, where he mailed the second letter.

A Dead Loss.

This is one of Sir Thomas Lipton's stories:

During the month of May I was motoring through France. I had as my guest Sir Thomas Dewer. At the end of our trip we arrived in Boulogne and were obliged to wait an hour or so for our boat. While waiting Sir Thomas went out and got a great pile of newspapers and gave them to me. Then he went away for awhile. I was standing there with all the papers under my arm when a Yankee, evidently a tourist, came rushing up to me and without waiting for a formal introduction said:

"Say, have you got any New York papers?"

"No," I said, "but I've got all the London dailies," for Sir Thomas had been most generous in his purchases.

"Give me this one," said the Yankee, picking out a paper. "How much is it?"

"A tuppence," I told him. He paid it and took the paper.

When my friend returned I handed him the tuppence and said:

"See, I've made you 100 per cent profit on your paper."

"Profit!" he roared. "Don't you know you are on the continent? I paid thrippence for that, and I've lost 33 1-3 per cent on the paper."—New York World.

Now's the Time.

Now's the time to be a-doing
If there's work that must be done.
While the earth itself is wooing
Favors from the shining sun.
Not tomorrow. You may never Hear the bells of morrow chime.
But for every brave endeavor
Now's the time.

Now's the time to be a-moving
If in life you've any aim.
If you're anxious to be proving
What in merit is your claim.
Don't, ah, don't today postpone it!
Is not idleness a crime?
If you have not overthrown it
Now's the time.

Say not even, "I will do it Without failure by and by."
That's a time with no date to it.
In the shadows let it lie.
Seize the present! It is flying
Ever from you as you climb.
Now, if you are bent on trying—
Now's the time.

SONOMA SAFE; PANTHER MAY BE LOST IN GALE

(By Telegraph to The Daily Press.)

Washington, Jan. 9.—The sea going naval tug Sonoma, which was with the United States naval repair ship Panther, has arrived at Guantanamo. She reports that she passed through a terrific gale on Friday last and got out of touch with the Panther of which she has heard nothing since. Although the little boat was almost swamped by the huge waves that broke over her she escaped from the gale with but little damage to her machinery. All her life boats and superstructure were carried away. The Sonoma was not equipped with wireless.

BALANCE OF TRADE.

Editors, Plainfield Daily Press:

By today's newspapers I learn that "The British Board of Trade" reports an increase of imports into Great Britain for the year ending December 31, 1912, of $323,684,935 and an increase in exports of $166,573,520, making a total import into that country for 1912 of $3,724,482,570, and a total export for same time of $2,437,170,010, which shows a total import of $1,287,312,560 over exports.

When the United States exports more goods in value than she imports in a year we call that a balance of trade in our favor. If that is true would not it appear that Great Britain is a great sufferer because she has received more than she has paid, and is on the highway to bankruptcy, because she has received so much for so little. I have never been able to see things that way. It has been my idea that if I as a tradesman took more value into my business than I sent out, put out, or paid out, I was that much in pocket to the good, as I never heard of any tradesman going into bankruptcy under such circumstances.

Can you or any of you readers enlighten me on this matter? If so, I would be glad.

J. W. HARRISON.

TWO ARKANSAS MEN WHO SEEK TO SUCCEED DAVIS AS U. S. SENATOR

Little Rock, Ark., Jan. 9.—When the Arkansas legislature meets in about a week to choose a successor to the late Jefferson Davis in the United States senate there will be many candidates. Prominent among them are Representative William A. Oldfield and Governor-elect Joseph T. Robinson. Mr. Robinson is just ready to assume his gubernatorial duties, but he would rather go to the senate. Jerry South, chief clerk of the United State house of representatives, is also a candidate, and as he was largely instrumental in having Robinson nominated for the governorship he is hopeful of inducing Robinson to withdraw from the senatorial race.

TO VOTE ON A SITE FOR A SCHOOL BLDG.

Election This Afternoon in Warren Township to Choose Location in Mt. Bethel.

The Warren Township School Board is conducting a special election this afternoon at Mt. Bethel for the purpose of selecting a site for a new public school to be built at that place. Acording to law the women of the township are permitted to vote and it is expected that a large number will avail themselves of the privilege.

The school sessions at present are held in Fairview Council Hall at Mt. Bethel, but the State school authorities have opposed this use and have informed the township board that a new school must be built. The question of selecting a site has been one of controversy for the past two years. After voting for the Stultz site last September, the opposition to the proposition took the matter to the courts and won out.

County Superintendent of Schools H. C. Krebs has approved two suggested sites, one owned by Alfred Binz and the other by William Kirch and it is now for the voters of the township to say which one they want. By many, the property owned by Mr. Binz is considered the best suited for the new school. Either site can be purchased for about $300. If today's election results favorably the Board of Education will at once take steps to secure plans and arrange for the issuing of bonds for the purpose of building a school, subject to the approval of the county superintendent. The State will loan the township the necessary money at two and a half per cent.

WOMEN IN VICE CRUSADE

sulted in the making of laws regulating bettering sanitary conditions where such a large proportion of the population is employed, the hours of work, age limit for children, proper toilet facilities, rest rooms, places for eating, lighting and ventilation, all vital matters in the health of a community. The agitation for recreational opportunities for those employed all day, the impurities in various foods and drugs, pollution by insects, and important need of pure, fresh milk were discussed by the speaker in great length.

"Investigators have determined," said Dr. Krans, "that pure, fresh milk cannot be sold for less than ten cents a quart, yet many will patronize eight and nine cent milkmen, whose records are not what they should be. Plainfield has a painstaking Board of Health, which on request will furnish information about the quality of all milk dispensed in this city so that anyone may know the exact condition of the milk purchased. Milkmen not conscientious about one point are not likely to be about another. Epidemics of contagious disease have frequently been traced to dairies where a case of contagion has been concealed from the authorities.

"When we consider that it is our babies and young people, and among adults, the invalids and delicate persons, who are the greatest consumers of raw milk, we must surely realize how important becomes the assurance of its purity," said Dr. Krans. She also spoke of the marvelous rapidity in the decrease of the dangers and current fears of small-pox since vaccination has been systematically practised. According to the speaker antivivisectionists at the present time are trying to have laws passed that would have prevented, had they been in existence, the present knowledge concerning vaccines and anti-toxines. She said that all cases of contagious and infectious diseases no matter what their nature, should be immediately reported to the Board of Health.

In conclusion the physician recommended that women study these important subjects bearing on the public health.

Mrs. William Ropes, of Montclair, vice president-at-large of the State Federation, told of the Federation work. She is a prominent candidate for the next president of the Federation when the organization selects a new leader at its semi-annual meeting the latter part of April.

Mrs. Mary Compton, of Orange, State chairman of the Federation's civic committee, urged the "swatting" of the house-fly and discussed the pure food laws. Miss Buttenheim, of Madison, chairman of the legislative committee, explained the work done in the legislature. Other speakers were: Mrs. Bates, of Cranford, and the Misses Florence Tweedy and Mabelle Phillips, of this city.

The meeting was under the auspices of the Monday Afternoon Club and the Rasores. Delegates were present from women5s clubs in Union, Middlesex, Somerset and Essex counties, which comprise the fifth district of the State organization.

TROLLEY CAR ABLAZE; WOMEN HURT IN RUSH

Raritan, Jan. 9.—Passengers on the trolley leaving this place shortly after noon yesterday were badly frightened when the rear of the car caught fire from the motor. The car had made the usual stop at the railroad crossing on the way toward Somerville, when the rear was noticed to be all in flames. The car was principally filled with men, with the exception of two young women, Misses Nellie A. Phelan and Minnie Kitchen. In their frantic efforts to escape from the car the men knocked the young women down and shoved them to one side. Both were severely injured in the rush and their clothes were almost ruined. The fire was put out before much damage was done, but the young women decided to walk to Somerville in spite of the heavy rain.

FROM POLICE BLOTTER.

George A. M. Alexander, a sign painter of 212 West Front street, visited Mayor Percy H. Stewart, City Judge De Meza and Police Chief Kiely, respectively, yesterday, complaining that several children of his neighborhood were annoying him by calling him vile names. Each official in turn promised to investigate. The result was the mother of the children mentioned in Alexander's complaint was communicated with and the children who were "annoying" Mr. Alexander were found to be less than nine years old and small for their age.

A number of the International secretaries have written for the plans too so that they can send them to physical directors all over the country. The information mostly desired is how to build up the membership of the senior classes. In the article that Mr. Ostlin has written he explains how with the aid of several members of classes how he outlined his program at the first of the gymnasium season, giving each step as it happened. Mr. Ostlin has headed his paper, "How to Make a Successful Gymnasium Class."

IN WOMAN'S REALM

The KITCHEN CUPBOARD

PRIME ROAST TURKEY.

SELECT a turkey with firm flesh and plump without any excess. After dressing wash thoroughly in cold water and wipe dry. Then fill with stuffing and place in a very hot oven to sear the skin so the juices will not escape. Then regulate the heat, keeping it at a moderate temperature, allowing twenty minutes to a pound, besides the first half hour for the heating.

How to Cook.

Roast Turkey.—Rub the skin of the turkey with one-third of a cupful of butter. Dredge lightly with flour. Place the fowl on its breast in a large pan. If the breast is turned to the bottom of the pan instead of being dry and tasteless the meat will be richly flavored and juicy. Place the turkey in a hot oven and when the flour begins to brown reduce the heat. Add two cups of boiling water. Baste every fifteen minutes during the cooking, using one-half cup of butter melted in one-half cup of hot water. It will take about three hours to roast. The last half hour turn the turkey on its back to brown the breast.

When done garnish with balls of dressing and bright red cranberries.

Nice Gravy.

Giblet Gravy.—Cook giblets tender in one quart of water, boiling away until only one pint remains. Pour fat from the pan, add to the liquid, put in enough flour to absorb the fat and add the giblet liquor, salt, pepper and chopped giblets. Stir until it thickens.

Sage Dressing.—Take half a loaf of dry bread, a small piece of finely grated corn bread and a piece of butter the size of an egg. Make a stiff batter, using a cup of broth, one teaspoonful of salt, pepper and sage. Put in the turkey and bake until brown.

Savory Dressings.

Oyster Dressing.—Pour boiling water over a loaf of bread, crumbed fine; drain and cover, add one-half pound butter, teaspoon of salt and pepper and the liquor from a quart of oysters. Bring to a boil, skim and pour over breadcrumbs, add two eggs and the oysters. When the turkey is half done stuff and return to oven.

Chestnut Dressing.—Take two pounds of chestnut meats and cook with the giblets until tender. Mash all but a dozen nuts and mix with six cups of breadcrumbs. Add three cups of hot sweet milk in which one cup of butter has been melted. Then add two beaten eggs. Season with salt, pepper and sage. Stuff the turkey with this. Make some of the stuffing into balls, with the extra chestnuts in the center. Put in a pan and bake a light brown.

MOTHERS' WORK

Conducted by the Plainfield Mothers' Association. Every Thursday

Contributing Staff.
Mrs. G. Stuart Simons, Mrs. Jos. Smith, Mrs. Wm. M. Sandford, Jr.

The Daily Press for Thursdays containing the column on Mother's Work will be sent by mail for one dollar a year, in advance.

Simple Colds.

The urgent need of disinfection of handkerchiefs used by sufferers from simple colds is being emphasized more and more. "As a matter of established fact," says a recent writer on the subject, "a certain proportion of apparently simple colds are in reality nasal diphtheria. While the child may not seem in danger at any time, the infectiousness of the diphtheria is none the less a menace to the child's associates. Were disinfection the universal rule instead of the universal omission, a very prolific source of sporadic diphtheria epidemics might be eradicated."

If disinfection of handkerchiefs is advisable in the home how much more necessary becomes the disinfection of clothing sent to laundries and the floors of class rooms in the schools where infected material is allowed to accumulate, the germ being inhaled with the dust which is kept in constant commotion during school hours.

The adoption of disinfecting measures in laundries would effect valuable results in the prevention not only of harmless complaints but of consumption, eczema, venereal diseases etc.

The great wish of Robert Burns that we might see ourselves as others see us was realized by the children of the New York playgrounds at a holiday party given them by the Playground Commission on December 26 in the Amsterdam Opera House. The grownups were first entertained by the children with songs and dances in which dolls were given a share and by a circus where tiny Marceline vied with big Marceline to produce hearty laughter. The children then joined the audience and had the pleasure of seeing themselves as a moving picture show. Their delight was evident. "That's me, mother, by the see-saw." "Look mother, I'm third from the end," and "Oh, oh! That's me a-standing on muh head." Mayor Gaynor, society women, Park Commissioner Stover and many others interested in the playground movement were among the guests. The ticket for admission for grown-ups was one child.

The Plainfield Board of Education through the efforts of Superintendent Maxson, has been fortunate in securing for a lecture on "The Art of Prevention," Miss Margaret Slattery, formerly of the Fitchburg Normal School, who is so widely and favorably known as a public speaker and a successful Sunday-school worker. The lecture will be given at the Plainfield High School Monday evening, Jan. 13, at 8 o'clock. It will repay all parents and teachers, particularly those of girls, to hear her.

Miss Slattery's book, "The Girl in Her Teens," should be on every mother's shelf and well worn by use. It is inspiring, spiritual to a high degree and at the same time practical and replete with suggestions for those mothers whose hearts and minds and strength are facing the intricate problems of the daughter, "Standing—where the brook and river meet."

Bryant School.

The tea served at the Parent-teacher meeting yesterday was indeed "the cup that cheers" and Miss Erwin's talk was bright and interesting as well as instructive. She told of her work among the ungraded classes in New York and the defects of mentality which made such classes beneficial to the school. She showed how necessary it is to safeguard the defective child after leaving school as well as during school life. Superintendent Maxson added the information that New Jersey by having certain laws governing defectives, was ahead of any other State in the Union. The next meeting will be held Wednesday, Feb. 5.

PARCELS POST PROVES TO BE POPULAR HERE

NEW YORK SUFFRAGISTS ARE TRYING TO CONVERT MEMBERS OF THE 400

SUFFRAGETTE MISSIONARIES TO SOCIETY

MRS. ELRICH'S HOME

New York, Jan. 9.—A dozen or so of the prettiest suffragettes that New York can boast have been sent out on a missionary band to labor with the dwellers of Fifth avenue and other fashionable thoroughfares. They intend to find out if the members of the Four Hundred are in favor of votes for women and, if not, why not. And their method of finding out is to go to them and ask questions—that is, they will ask questions if they can get inside the houses and approach the company. But their efforts were not particularly successful. Most of the fashionables frequent that they were not at home, and in other cases the English butlers shooed the disturbers away. Those shown in the pictures are: Back row, left to right, Miss Elizabeth Fisher, Miss Marion Murphy, Miss Vera McCord, Mrs. G. Remington Charters. Front row, left to right, Mrs. Elizabeth M. Becker, Dr. Mary Halton, Miss Ida Washington, Miss E. Carroll.

REPRESENTATIVES OF ALL GREAT NATIONS JOINED IN HONORING WHITELAW REID AT IMPOSING FUNERAL SERVICE IN NEW YORK

COLONEL ROOSEVELT — MAJ. T. ROOSEVELT, JR.

THE REID FUNERAL CORTEGE

New York, Jan. 9.—Representatives of every great nation in the world joined with their fellow countrymen in the last tribute of respect to the memory of Whitelaw Reid, the dead ambassador of the United States to the United Kingdom. The funeral services in the Cathedral of St. John the Divine were even more impressive than that held in Westminister abbey before the body left London. President Taft, Secretary of State Knox and other cabinet ministers, members of the diplomatic corps, headed by Ambassador James Bryce, with his entire official household; senators and representatives in congress, officers of the army and navy, the officers of the British cruiser Natal, which brought the body across the ocean; representatives of societies and clubs, and personal friends filled the great nave of the cathedral to its utmost capacity. The pall-bearers were: Hart Lyman, Donald Nicholson, Ambassador James Bryce, W. D. Sloane, Admiral William Sheffield Cowles, Robert Lincoln, Senator Elihu Root, John Cadwalader, Secretary of State Philander C. Knox, Joseph H. Choate, Senator Henry Cabot Lodge, J. Pierpont Morgan, Judge Gray, Chauncey M. Depew, Robert Bacon and Henry White.

Philosophical Phelix Says:

CHANCE SIGNS TO MANAGE YANKEES

He Could Not Resist Farrell's Offer to Pay Him $75,000 for Three Years.

The American League brought out its heaviest batteries yesterday and captured Frank Chance. The Chicago National League team's former manager was signed to manage the New York club at a salary and interest which amounts to $120,000 for the three years for which he signed—the largest amount ever paid a baseball player. Of this sum $75,000 is salary and the remainder is the estimated value of 5 per cent. of the net earnings of the club.

Two days of negotiation between Chance and Frank Farrell, owner of the New York club, were brought to a climax yesterday afternoon when the principals quietly visited the office of B. B. Johnson, president of the league. There they came to their agreement after less than an hour's conference, and there the announcement that Chance had signed was made.

"Gentlemen, let me introduce the new manager of the New York Americans," said Mr. Farell to the reporters as he, Johnson and Manager Chance emerged from the conference.

What part the league had in concluding the negotiations was, of course, not given out. It was remarked, however, that President Johnson had remained away from the meeting of the National Commission at Cincinnati and that the announcement of the conclusion of the negotiations was given out only after the head of the organization had been consulted. Rumor, therefore, concluded that the Johnson circuit had decided the opportunity to get Chance must not be overlooked and had resolved to back Farrell in any proposition he might make.

Both Farrell and Manager Chance kept secret the actual details of their conferences. Chance candidly admitted that he had had a change of heart since he arrived in Chicago, and said he had been offered terms which no one in his right mind could refuse.

"I honestly did not expect to sign," he said last night. "When I arrived yesterday I had fully made up my mind that my interests lay in the West and that I could not afford to leave them at least for a year. Mr. Farrell, however, offered inducements much better than I had dreamed of, and, even excluding my love for the game as a factor, I could not decline them.

"I am not at liberty to give out the terms, but I can say I am to get the largest sum anybody ever got for piloting a ball club, and I am going to come as near earning it as I can."

The terms, learned from an authoritative source, though not officially announced, include for Chance a contract to manage the club for three years at $25,000 a year and 5 per cent. of the club's net earnings for the three seasons. The latter, it is believed, will amount to $15,000 annually, perhaps more.

Chance will assume active management of the team Feb. 11, when he will reach New York to attend the American League meeting. He will then arrange the details for the training trip. The New York club will do its Spring work in Bermuda, where Farrell has engaged a cricket field for the baseball practice.

Plans for "Chance day" in Chicago already are under way. The New York team wil make its first visit to Comiskey Park in May.

American League leaders, including President Johnson, C. A. Comiskey, of the Chicago Club, and others openly rejoiced at the acquisition of the former Cub star.

Farrell left for New York today. Chance expects to remain in Chicago until Saturday, when he will return to California for a brief stay.

FIRST HOME DEFEAT FOR PATERSON GIRLS

Invincible Plainfield Basketball Five Carries Off an Easy Victory.

In defeating the Paterson Y. W. C. A. team on the Paterson court, last night, the Nonpareil girls' basketball team, of this city, practically paved the way to their second consecutive South Jersey title, and in trimming the Patersonians to the tune of 26 to 8 they recorded the first victory carried away by a visiting team this season. The home girls represented the Wesley Methodist Church and have just returned from a most successful trip over most of Jersey and a good slice of Pennsylvania and in the event of their winning over the Plainfield misses they were making preparations to lay claim to the feminine championship of South Jersey. Soon after the contest started, however, the game began to tend toward the Queen City basket cagers and after the first few minutes of play the final outcome was never in doubt.

Although the winners made but ten field goals and the losers two, all of the two point scores came from difficult angles and were the one redeeming feature of an otherwise slow and listless contest. At the end of the first period of play the Hummel sisters had totaled up eighteen points against a single foul goal made by the "silk city" aggregation and when the final period started the game resolved itself into an individual scoring match with Plainfield always the aggressor. Frequent overhead shots on the part of Miss Ida Hummel and Miss Helen Hummel's usual contribution of foul and field goals brought the score up to 26 in this period. For the losers, all of the scoring was done by Miss L. Hornbeger, who put up a star game both on the defense and offense. She played single handed, however, and a number of easy opportunities were missed by her teammates.

The low Paterson score can be attributed to the work of the victor's guards who spoiled many an opportunity to raise their opponents' tally card. The score:

NEW BRUNSWICK ELKS BOWL ON LOCAL ALLEYS TONIGHT

Captain Blatz and his tribe of antlered pinners will entertain the Elks' bowling team of New Brunswick on the local alleys tonight in a three game series scheduled in the Elks' Bowling League. New Brunswick is generally conceded to be one of the best aggregations of wood smashers in the organization and it goes without saying that the local "Hello Bills" will have to roll in top notch form tonight in order to make a creditable showing against the speedy visitors.

BASKETBALL LEAGUE STARTS NEXT WEEK

Leals Will Usher in the Season With Two Games at Y. M. C. A.

Although the basketball managers representing Plainfield and North Plainfield High Schools have not been able to reach an agreement regarding their Interscholastic League schedules, the third factor in the organization seems determined to get the league going. Leal's School completes the trio of teams of which the league is composed and the private school has carded two of its contests for the Y. M. C. A. gym next week. On Monday afternoon the private school basket cagers will lineup against North Plainfield High School and on Thursday afternoon against Plainfield High School.

Much interest has been manifested in the Interscholastic League every year since its organization and the hitch this year has caused much regret to those who are looking forward to the annual championship games. Manager Grisley, of P. H. S., contends that the series should be played on the Y. M. C. A. court, which has heretofore proven so satisfactory, but the borough pilot will not consent to this agreement because the local quintet is made up largely of Ajax players who are more or less familiar with the Y. M. C. A. court. Taylor, the N. P. H. S. manager, thinks Saengerbund Hall, the boroughites' court, is a fit place to stage some of the games on and the condition of the floor at Saengerbund certainly justifies his contention. The borough hall is large and a gallery surrounds the gym which is even better than the one at the Y. M. C. A. as far as the spectators are concerned.

On the other nand, the Y. M. C. A. has built up a basketball reputation and it is likely that the contests would draw better crowds in the latter place. The matter is totally up to Grisley and Taylor and a decision will probably be forthcoming from them in a few days.

BATTIN HIGH QUINTET DISAPPOINTED N. P. H. S. TEAM

The members of the North Plainfield High School basketball team and a large crowd of spectators were disappointed yesterday afternoon, when the Battin High School five, of Elizabeth, who were scheduled to play the borough boys, failed to put in an appearance. The Elizabeth manager failed to notify Manager Taylor that they would not appear. About sixty people were present.

That the spectators might not be totally disappointed a second team was put into uniform and an interesting game was played. At the end of the first half the score stood 44-12 in favor of the "varsity." In the last half the first team practised passing and the "seconds" shot frequently. The teams lined up as follows:

FIRST.		SECOND.
Van Mater	foward	Woolston
G. Townley	forward	Day
Dunning	centre	Mersu
Abrams	guard	Chandler
Burner	guard	W. Townley

Carroll Taylor and Roy Love are both on the sick list and will probably not play until next Monday afternoon, when the borough boys meet the Leal's School aggregation in the first game of the City Interscholastic League title at the Y. M. C. A.

HOPE CHAPEL TOYS WITH THE N. P. JUNIORS

Hope Chapel basketball players slaughtered the North Plainfield juniors at Hope Chapel last night by a score of 45 to 6. Dawe, a borrowed Hope Chapelite, was in the lineup of the borough team. After the first minute of play it was only a question of how big a score the Fourth street men could secure before time was called, and from the blast of the opening whistle a veritable stream of baskets fell through North Plainfield's basket-ring. The star of the contest was Boylan, the victors' centre, who shot ten goals from the field.

The score:

FEMININE SCORING RECORD NOT MARRED

Battin High School Basketball Player Totals Twenty-four Points in Single Contest.

Miss Josephine Greene, of the Battin High School basketball team, which plays the North Plainfield High School misses in this city Wednesday, January 22, made somewhat of a mark for individual scoring against the Springfield High School girls' team yesterday afternoon when she chalked up a total of 24 points, which was more than double that made by all the other nine players taken together. Battin is conceded to have one of the speediest girls' quintets in the State and the borough players will have to put up a stellar article of the indoor game in order to pull out ahead.

Although the morning papers are giving Miss Greene credit for hanging up a new individual scoring record, it is a well known fact in this section that the mark hung up by the Battin player has been passed with a considerable margin to spare by a local player last season. Miss Helen Hummel, who was then captain of the North Plainfield High School girls' team, totaled up forty field goals or eighty points when her team played Hope Chapel on the latter's court last season. The latter record is one that will stand considerable weathering and it will probably be a long time before another girl player approaches it.

THE OREGON IDEA.

Salem, Ore., Jan. 9.—Although the Oregon legislature, which will convene here next Monday, will be overwhelmingly Republican, it will be compelled, in compliance with the State law which provides for the direct election of United States Senators, to name Harry Lane, a Democrat, as the successor of Jonathan Bourne, Jr., in the United States Senate. At the fall election, when the voters registered their preference for the senatorship, Dr. Lane was the Democratic choice and polled more votes than the other candidates, Ben Selling, the Republican nominee, and Jonathan Bourne, Jr., who made an eleventh-hour start in the race as an independent. Some historic interest attaches to the election of Dr. Lane as United States Senator from Oregon, since he is a grandson of General Joseph Lane, who was Oregon's first territorial governor, one of her first senators and a candidate for vice president of the United States on the Breckenridge ticket in 1860.

NEW GOVERNOR IN N. DAKOTA.

Bismarck, N. D., Jan. 9.—Republicans of North Dakota rallied here in force today for the inauguration of Governor Louis D. Hanna and the other Republicans elected to State office last November. The new governor is well known in public life, having been a member of both branches of the North Dakota legislature, chairman of the Republican State Committee for six years and a representative in Congress since 1909. He succeeds John Burke, Democrat, who has served three terms as governor and is now prominently mentioned among the possibilities for the Wilson cabinet.

TEXAS CORN-GROWING STATE.

Greenville, Texas, Jan. 9.—That Texas is able to grow corn as well as cotton is strikingly evidenced by the large number and high class of the exhibits at the seventh annual show which was opened here today by the Texas Corn Growers' Association. More counties are represented in the display than at any of the previous shows given by the association. The show will continue through the remainder of the week. In connection there will be daily sessions of the corn growers, with lectures and addresses by noted agricultural experts.

LOCAL AMUSEMENTS.

Silver bands once were considered the last word in minstrelsy. With the progress of the world of amusement, however, these instruments have become more or less common-place, and the twentieth century novelty is the Gold Band. It is quite natural that the Al. G. Field Greater Minstrels introduced this innovation, and when the company appears here at the Plainfield theatre, Saturday afternoon and evening, Professor William Walters' Banner Gold Band will be one of the "really new" novelties that Field annually prepares for his friends and admirers. The instruments used by the band musicians, while being of an exceptional tonal quality, are all finished in gold. The only organization of its kind on tour with a minstrel company, the aggregation will offer two concerts daily besides heading the parade which is one of the anticipated features of the minstrels. In the opening specialty "Minstrelsy Past and Present" the curtain rises just as the Gold Band is concluding a concert on the lawn in front of a hotel at Ormond Beach, Florida, on the eve of the big automobile races.

SIR FRANCIS H. LAKING.

Sir Francis H. Laking, the eminent physician who was for many years the most trusted medical adviser of the late King Edward VII., was born January 9, 1847. His education was received principally at Heidelberg University. For many years he was intimately connected with the house of the late King, his official title being Physician in Ordinary and Surgeon Apothecary in Ordinary to his Majesty. He has also been one of the chief medical advisers of the present King and of the Duke of Connaught, now Governor General of Canada. Sir Francis is regarded as one of the greatest authorities in the world on children's and skin diseases. He is a Knight Commander of the Royal Victorian Order and has received decorations from the rulers of Germany, Italy and other countries.

CHARGED WITH KILLING.

Louisville, Ky., Jan. 9.—The case of Walter Philpot, charged with the murder of his brother, Jacob Philpot, was called in court today for trial. The accused shot and killed his brother on August 31 last, while they were in a boat with several companions in the Ohio river opposite this city. Philpot claims that the killing was an accident as he had no intention of shooting his brother.

ATWATER QUITS JUDGESHIP

that State, on February 8, 1843. He is the son of the Rev. Lyman H. Atwater, D. D., LL. D., for thirty years a professor in Princeton University. Judge Atwater was graduated from Princeton, and read law with John F. Hagerman, of Princeton. He was graduated from the Columbia Law School in 1866 and was admitted to the New Jersey bar in the same year. He went to Elizabeth about that time, and was later married to Miss Gertrude Oakley, daughter of Dr. Lewis W. Oakley.

In July, 1895, he was chosen city attorney of Elizabeth and in 1896 was appointed judge of the District Court in Elizabeth by Governor John W. Griggs. He was reappointed by Governor Foster M. Voorhees in 1901 and by Governor Edward C. Stokes in 1906. He was appointed judge of the Court of Common Pleas in May of the same year by Governor Stokes, when Judge Benjamin A. Yall was raised to the judgeship of the Circuit Court. The field was practically left clear to Judge Atwater, no other candidate having been mentioned.

The appointment by Governor Stokes at that time was ad interim to fill out Judge Vail's term, and Judge Atwater was later named at a session of the Legislature for the full term.

Judge Atwater only recently retired from the State Presidency of the Sons of the American Revolution, and has long been a member of Elizabethtown Chapter, No. 1. He is also a member of Court Childs, Independent Order of Foresters; of the Elizabeth Town and Country Club, and the Princeton Club, of New York. He is an elder of the First Presbyterian church, of Elizabeth, and was for many years superintendent of the Sunday-school.

His resignation has made the race among Democrats aspiring to succeed him more furious than ever. For the last year the various candidates and their friends have been diligently advancing their claims, and in anticipation of the vacancy occurring in April were preparing for a grand final dash through the winter months.

Now, however, their calculations are upset and they suddenly find themselves upon the homestretch, for it is believed that Governor Wilson will submit the name of the successful candidate to the Senate for confirmation early in the coming session. It is said that some of the candidates and their supporters learned of the resignation, and the presence of several of them at the capital Tuesday, Governor's Day, was concerned with the appointment. It is further declared that they found the Governor a fine listener, but shy on promises.

Through the support of General Dennis F. Collins, treasurer of the Democratic State Committee, and Congressman William E. Tuttle, Jr., chairman of the Union County Democratic Committee, City Attorney James C. Connolly has been regarded as the leading candidate for the judgeship.

That this does not ensure his appointment, however, is evidently believed by the other candidates, for their booms have only grown in vigor recently. The list is a formidable one, including such well known lawyers as former Prosecutor William R. Wilson and former District Court Judge P. H. Gilhooly, of Elizabeth; District Court Judge Walter L. Hetfield, and former City Judge W. A. Coddington, of this city, and Fred C. Hyer, of Rahway.

Ex-Judge Gilhooly became a real factor last month when a number of lawyers and business men in Elizabeth held a meeting, and, without his knowledge, outlined a campaign along aggressive lines. He had previously disclaimed any intention to make a fight for the honor, as he believed judicial appointments should not savor too much of politics. Hetfield, Coddington and Hyer are strengthened in their candidacies by the demand throughout the county outside of Elizabeth, that the Democratic party discontinue its policy of handing all choice plums to Elizabeth. With this city alone, it is declared, the Democratic party cannot carry the fall elections.

Mr. Wilson's candidacy has always been a source of worry to the Connolly supporters, and this holds doubly true now. He has substantial backing among leaders in other parts of the State, which it is thought might offset General Collins and Congressman Tuttle's advocacy of Mr. Connolly. One of those whom Mr. Wilson is known to be intimate with is Ex-Judge F. W. Westcott, of Camden, who placed Governor Wilson in nomination at the Baltimore convention, and who retired from the Senatorial race in order to ensure the defeat of ex-Senator James Smith, Jr.

While former Mayor Stein and Robert H. McAdams are viewed as candidates for prosecutor, either would be willing to become judge. It is declared that Governor Wilson would make the appointment regardless of organization or political backing, if he believed the man he favored was best qualified to fill a judicial office.

IN HONOR OF MRS. CLEVELAND.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 9.—At a reception given at the home of Mrs. John Hays Hammond this afternoon, Mrs. Grover Cleveland made her first appearance in Washington society since she ceased to be mistress of the White House fifteen years ago. Miss Esther Cleveland shared with her mother the honors of the occasion. Many of the foremost representatives of official and resident society attended the function.

TO THE VOTERS OF PLAINFIELD:

Have you ever stopped to think that one of the arguments which has appealed most strongly to many of our best citizens of all classes to make Plainfield their home city is the fact that an unwritten law had led the Honorable Members of our City Council to grant no additional liquor licenses either inside or outside the so-called "Tyler Saloon Zone?"

Do you realize that a strong effort is being made to induce the members of the Council to grant additional licenses and renew others heretofore cancelled, also to enlarge the "License Zone" further into the residential district?

Every voter who is opposed to the granting of such licenses and the enlarging of the zone is urged to sign at once the following blank and forward promptly to Wm. T. Schmittman, Secretary, 208 Madison Avenue.

The undersigned, a resident and a legal voter in the City of Plainfield, hereby protests against the granting of any new or additional licenses or any extension of the so-called "Tyler Zone" in this city.

WOMEN'S VOTES AS THE PANACEA

Equal Suffrage Arguments Made by Miss Richards and Rev. J. G. Mythen.

FOR REAL DEMOCRACY

For the Moral Uplift the Ballot Should Be Given to Woman Declares One of the Speakers—Mrs. Riley Presides.

Miss Janet Richards, of Washington, D. C., addressed a large gathering of citizens at the residence of Mrs. A. B. Jones, on Central avenue, last night, when she made an address on "Woman Suffrage." She declared that it was generally conceded by most intelligent persons that woman should have the ballot but it still remained a question in many minds whether it is expedient for them to have it. She asserted that no true democracy could exist where one half the population is disfranchised since a government derives its just powers from the consent of the governed.

It is also a fact, Miss Richards said, that the more defenceless and the poorer classes need the ballot most. For this reason the ballot has been given to the colored race and is now being considered for the Indian for his own protection. She deemed it eminently unfair that these should be enfranchised and that woman alone, because of sex, should be classed with children, idiots, insane and criminals. Women are conceded more moral than men, only about one in every three hundred being immoral, she said.

As to the menace of the votes of the immoral women, Miss Richards stated that they rarely ever voted, since to do so they must register their name, occupation and residence. In Seattle, where 23,000 women voted against Mayor Gill, but 1,000 were of the red light district, and even their vote was cast for the reform movement in many instances.

Miss Richards declared that the question now is not what women will do with the ballot, but how has it worked out where they have it. She asserted that nowhere, either in Australia, Norway, Sweden or in the United States had any of the evils predicted resulted from woman's vote, but that many good things had been accomplished. She spoke of a certain cardinal of the R. C. church who, after summing up the results of the advantages of suffrage for woman, said that any woman who opposed it now was "a silly creature."

Dr. Edward Krans, of this city, representing the New Jersey Men's Equal Suffrage League, introduced the Rev. James Grattan Mythen, secretary of the Maryland Men's League for Women's Suffrage.

Rev. Mr. Mythan asserted that the question now is whether woman is anybody, that is, whether she is a citizen. He claimed that only when she possessed the ballot would she become a recognized citizen, a creator, and not a mere creature. To his mind he said the principal question is now, "Is the ballot worth while?" He said that it was amusing to him to have heard at a recent great meeting in Philadelphia, a certain Miss Bronson, who, he alleged, was employed by the liquor interests, assert that women were too good for the ballot and would be degraded by it. Another speaker, also an "anti," but a man, said that woman would degrade the ballot and that wielding it she would therefore become degraded, and as a result there would be a large class of degenerates.

The Maryland pastor said that it was the lack of knowledge as to the power of the ballot that made men and women indifferent as to its possession, but that it was the positive knowledge of what the ballot could do that made the bad men unwilling to let women, who fight the saloon, the brothel, and the gambling den, possess this powerful weapon. He declared that good men do not dominate in politics because there are not enough of them, and that women must help to lift up the race through the ballot which enables and educates all who rightly use it.

At the conclusion of his address a half hour was spent in a free discussion into which both men and women heartily entered. Replying to a question as to whether woman would not be soiled and made less attractive by mixing in dirty politics, Miss Richards declared emphatically that it had not been proven to be so where tried and that women were tired of being angels and wanted to give the men a chance to sprout a few pin-feathers.

Mrs. C. L. Reilly, president of the local Equal Suffrage League, introduced Miss Richards and at the conclusion of the meeting gave an outline of the work planned for New Jersey by the joint legislative committee of all the suffrage organizations, and asked for financial and other help from interested citizens.

ORGANIZE TO PROBE BOROUGH'S FINANCES

Investigating Committee Enlarged and Sub-committees Are Appointed.

Members of the "Special Committee on Borough Finances," appointed recntly by Mayor Robert Clark, Jr., and Dr. J. H. Cooley, president of the Board of Education, to examine into the educational system and investigate the financial condition of the borough generally, held a meeting last night in the Somerset School building for the purpose of organization. The original committee as appointed was composed of three members of the Council, three members of the Board of Education and five representatives of the citizens at large, but upon the motion of Councilman Milne a resolution was adopted to enlarge the investigating body by the addition of W. L. Smalley, M. C. Van Arsdale, Captain W. C. Smith and Horace Conover.

In calling the meeting to order, Chairman George T. Rogers said the time had arrived for a careful examination into the borough resources. After the facts and figures had been obtained, he said, the Council and Board of Education would either approve present methods or recommend such economies or changes as the situation in their judgment calls for.

Mr. Rogers appointed several subcommittees which are as follows: Resources, C. W. McCutchen, chairman; E. A. Edgar and Allan Cowperthwaite; Council examinating committee, J. B. Betts, chairman; Alexander Milne and Hiram A. Woodruff; Board of Education examinating committee, S. S. Mc Cutchen, chairman; E. S. Boyer and A. A. Lee. Mr. Betts was appointed vice chairman of the general committee.

PARENT-TEACHER ASSN. HOLDS ENTERTAINMENT

The parent-teacher meeting held at the Lincoln School yesterday afternoon, partook of the Christmas spirit in that it was a surprise. The customary announcements gave no hint of the delightful lullabies sung by Mrs. Harry Moyer, nor of the inspiring thoughts contained in the talk given by Mrs. J. Hervey Doane on "The Heart of a Child." The entire meeting was given over to entertainment, at the conclusion of which coffee and cake were served by an hospitality committee under the chairmanship of Mrs. Dunn.

Mrs. Moyer sang Kate Vannah's beautiful "Slumber Song," with "Mighty Like a Rose," and "Is Yo'," for encores. She was accompanied by Mrs. Guy Bender.

Mrs. Sandford gave notice of Miss Slattery's lecture at the Plainfield High School Monday evening and urged all parents and teachers to attend. This lecture, she said, was a treat no one in Plainfield could afford to miss and when so much is being done for the boy a lecture on girls is opportune to save them from neglect. Miss Slattery is the author of "The Girl in Her Teens." She will speak here on "The Art of Prevention."

UNUSUAL OFFERING AT PLAYHOUSE TONIGHT

An event in the annals of amusements in this city will be the production at the Plainfield theatre tonight of the latest successful English comedy of the present day entitled "The Woman Of It," presented by Wm. A. Brady, Ltd., by one of the most notable casts seen here, including Cyril Scott, Josephine Brown, Janet Beecher, Dallas Anderson, Wallace Erskine, Jack Gordon, J. P. Campbell, Geo. Putnam and other well known metropolitan favorites and under the personal direction of Wm. A. Brady.

"The Woman Of It" is a comedy in three acts, originally presented in London, England, and the principal cities of Great Britain, scoring the most phenomenal success of the present decade and promises to be one of the most distinct features of the local dramatic season.

FIREMAN IS BURNED AT BLAZE AT NOON

Careless Handling of Gasolene Responsible for Damage at Cleaning Shop.

Buildings in the business section of East Front street were threatened by fire at noon today, when the careless use of gasoline in the cleaning establishment of Miss Mary A. Brown, in the rear of the United States Shoe Repairing Company's building, caused an explosion and fire. Before the flames had been extinguished the interior of the cleaning shop and several buildings in the vicinity had been badly scorched.

Captain George Fehring, of Engine Company No. 2, while carrying a receptacle of burning gasoline from the building, had his face and hands badly carched. Arthur Groff, an employe in the cleaning works, who was responsible for the fire, was slightly burned about the face.

According to Groff's story he was bending over a large can of gasoline rinsing a customer's dress in the fluid. The friction caused by this operation caused the explosion. Several years ago Miss Brown, while cleaning a dress in a similar manner, caused an explosion in which she was badly injured. According to Chief T. O. Doane she has been given instructions in the correct use of the dangerous fluid by him several times.

NEED SOUND BODY FOR THE ACTIVE BRAIN

E. C. Ostlin Gives Talk on the Necessity for Physical Exercise.

E. C. Ostlin, physical director of the Y. M. C. A., delivered a five minute lecture before the Senior class of the physical department last night, taking for his topic "It it Worth While?" What he said in part was: "I spoke to you before on the subject 'Who are the successful men of our country today,' and told how much a physical education was desired, tonight I will tell you of some of the athletic feats accomplished by the ancients, and how they became renowned by their work in gymnastics and exercises. Socrates, the heathen philosopher of Athens, was a strong man and made his school in a workshop and a gymnasium.

"In Harrison's story of Greece we are told that, Socrates surpassed all men in physical endurance. Demosthenes, the great Greek orator, when but a boy was weak and sickly, the stammering of his tongue by practicing with pebbles in his mouth. His voice he strengthened by vigorous exercise. Cicero, Rome's great orator, had stated hours for his exercise. Caesar was an extremely skillful swordsman, horseman and good swimmer. Hannibal and Alexander were great generals whose bodies were strong, who could endure the extremes of heat and cold. Lycargus and Coriolanus were devotees of manly sport. Alcibades became master of the Athenians, by reason of eloquence and grace of person and strength of body. Themesticles excelled in gymnastics, and Seretoreus is said to have swum the Rome in full armor. By these men we see that they gave a great deal of their time to gymnastics and exercises and in return had bodies that were like steel, robust in nature and went through life's journey without the ills that their weaker brothers suffered.

"In the present days, take Roosevelt, the world-wide known politician, he spends certain hours each day in exercising, because he knows the value of exercise. A Republican governor in Wisconsin was considered a Presidential possibility, had a remarkable developed brain, but in developing it he had done so at the expense of his body and a short time ago he died of consumption. By that example we can see the value of stated exercise on man's body. There are a number of men in public life today who have strong physiques. They hold that stated hours of exercise is the only thing that keeps them in perfect health. Therefore we see that exercise is necessary in every stage of our lives."

At the close of Mr. Ostlin's talk the class then went in for their class and apparatus work with a vim that showed that the words they had heard had sunk in and had taken firm root in their minds.

SURVIVES SHOCK OF 2,300 VOLTS

Public Service Lineman's Form Found Hanging From Pole.

RESCUE JUST IN TIME

A School Principal and a Letter Carrier Act Quickly and Save the Life of Daniel J. Arnold, of Westfield.

Cranford, Jan. 10.—Shocked by 3,400 volts of electricity, Daniel J. Arnold, a Public Service repairman, is alive today. He was found by Clifford Schindler, a letter carrier, and Principal Cook, of the Sherman School, hanging limp and apparently lifeless on the arm of a pole at Lincoln and Walnut avenues.

The two men rushed to the pole, Schindler climbing up to where Arnold was suspended, and with the assistance of Mr. Cook he lowered him to the ground. Both men worked frantically to restore Arnold to consciousness. They worked over him for fifteen minutes before any signs of life appeared.

In the meantime Hartley Schindler, another letter carrier, arrived on the scene, and while Mr. Cook ran to the Sherman School for the Red Cross case Mr. Schindler took his place. When Principal Cook returned he administered a dose of spirits of ammonia and Arnold revived.

Arnold said that he climbed up the pole to make repairs, and while passing the street light fixture he noticed a wire which was crossed with the fixture. He said he touched the fixture and immediately 2,300 volts shot through his body and down the wet pole to the ground. He was knocked unconscious and in falling struck the crossarm of the fire alarm system, from which he was rescued. His hands and feet were terribly burned.

Cook and Schindler took Arnold to the office of Dr. Vail, where the burns were treated, after which Mr. Schindler took Arnold to his home at 320 Central avenue, in Westfield.

When asked further about the accident today Mr. Arnold said that he was having no trouble to keep warm, as the pain in the burns was most severe. He said the wet pole caused the electricity to run down to the ground, giving him all the voltage in the primary wire. Mr. Arnold said that he expected to be about again in ten days' time.

HIS LIFE IS CRUSHED OUT BY AN ELEVATOR

Charles H. Hall's Brother Killed While at Work at Worcester, Mass.

Samuel Hall, aged 38 years, brother of Charles H. Hall, the Watchung avenue druggist, was killed at Worcester, Mass., Wednesday night where he was engaged as constructing engineer in the erection of a large building which was being put up by the Norton Emery Wheel Company. In some way he was caught in an elevator, which was not quite completed and not in running order, and his life was crushed out in a few seconds.

Mr. Hall's body was wedged so tightly between the elevator and the sides that it was two hours before a large force of men was able to remove it and it was then found necessary to tear down a large section of the wall.

The victim's brother went to Worcester yesterday in response to a telegram and arranged for the care of the body. It was sent to the dead man's former home at Fishkill, N. Y., where the funeral and burial will take place tomorrow afternoon.

Mr. Hall had been employed by the Norton Emery Wheel Company for twelve years. He formerly lived at Niagara Falls, but had recently removed to Worcester so as to be near his work. He is survived by a wife and a brother, Charles H. Hall.

LECTURER PICTURES GREAT NORTHWEST

Its Beauties and Possibilities Described by Robert G. Weyh, Jr.

The beauties and possibilities of "Our Great Northwest," were described in words and pictures by Robert G. Weyh, Jr., in one of the series of free lectures under the direction of the Board of Education at the Washington School last night. The large auditorium was filled with people from all parts of the city.

Mr. Weyh appeared here last year and his lecture proved so popular that he was engaged for this season. Beside displaying an unusually fine lot of pictures of the northwest taken by himself, Mr. Weyh's interesting talk was particularly instructive as to the conditions of the country.

The views included Montana, Yellowstone Park, Washington, Seattle, Puget Sound, there being a number showing the beautiful snow-capped mountains and peaks which were ascended by the lecturer. He also illustrated the agricultural industries, showing upon what a large scale fruit growing is conducted. There are so many advantages in that section of the country that Mr. Weyh apparently had not time to speak of any possible disadvantages.

"Rump" Board Members Stay Away From Courthouse During Meeting.

Elizabeth, Jan. 10.—The new small Board of Freeholders held its second business session in the Court House yesterday afternoon without interruption on the part of any one connected with the old board. It was announced that in all probability the small board's county attorney, John P. Owens, of Plainfield, and John K. English, counsel for the board, would go to Trenton today and institute quo warranto proceedings against the old board in an attempt to prevent the latter from carrying on the business of the county. The proceedings will be similar to those instituted by the Morris county small board.

The small board yesterday accepted the $50,000 bond of Abe J. David, who was elected county collector by the new body. After Mr. David was qualified he submitted a tentative budget, which was approved. It provides for appropriations totaling $267,000 for the maintenance of the courts and other county institutions. The board adjourned to meet again on Thursday, January 23.

Rev. Dr. H. K. Carroll, of North Plainfield, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church, Scotch Plains, was again requested to occupy the pulpit for another year at the last quarterly conference of the year held last night. The new stewards appointed were Miss Mammie Clark, Mrs. E. J. Reeder, O. C. Reinhart and Mrs. Henry Frazee. The following were reappointed to serve as stewards: W. H. Hull, Mrs. Millie Lewis, Mrs. M. A service of welcome to the new pastor, Rev. A. E. Wilson, is being planned by the members of the All Souls' Unitarian church to be held in the church Sunday night, January 19. GIANT'S 'WIDOW' LOSES HER SUIT

Typical Southern "Mammy" Fails to Prove She Was Wife of "Col." Goshen.

NO CAUSE FOR ACTION

End of Long Battle to Establish Her Dower Rights in the Somerset County Court—Plaintiff Much Confused.

After a futile fight in the courts for many years, Eliza Scott, aged 82 years, a typical old Southern "Mammy," has failed to prove that she was the widow of "Colonel" Ruth Goshen, the Middlebush giant, and entitled to a dower right in the estate. The jury before whom the case was tried in the Somerset county court, returned a verdict of no cause for action.

Judge Benjamin Vail had charged the jury that it must be satisfied that there was a preponderance of evidence that there had been a legal marriage between the giant and Eliza Scott, before the Civil War, to find a verdict for the plaintiff. This it was unable to do because about the only direct evidence placed before the jury on this point was that of the aged colored woman.

She told the story of her early life and her alleged marriage, claiming that Col. Goshen's right name was George Washington Scott and that she was married to him nine years before the Civil War in Scott county, Kentucky. She could not remember the exact date, but asserted that it was on Christmas eve. Her description of the wedding was graphic, as she told of the many old families of the south who were present. She declared that "Jim" Dudley, a colored preacher performed the ceremony, and that by the union three children were born, George, Eliza and Margaret.

Even if the plaintiff had been given a verdict, her share in the estate would have been small. The estate is not valued high and one-third would have given the plaintiff but little upon which to live.

YOUTHFUL THIEF SENT TO THE COUNTY JAIL

Samuel Hennegan, 17 years old, of 520 West Third street, arrested several days ago on a charge of breaking and entering preferred by Jacob Paritz, a grocer, of West Second street, was arraigned before City Judge DeMeza this morning and held in $500 bail to await the action of the grand jury. In default of bonds he was taken to the county jail this morning. Charles Steinenberger, 15 years old, of Watchung avenue, brought before the court on the same charge, was placed in charge of the probation officer.

Following their arrest the youthful prisoners, according to the police, confessed to burglarizing the home of Walter E. Lane, a butcher, living in Leland avenue; stealing cigars, cigarettes and quantities of candy from Mr. Paritz's store, and with attempting to enter the delicatessen store of James Parrish, in East Front street.

MET DEATH ON TRACK; SEARCH FOR RELATIVES

Somerville, Jan. 10.—The body of Benjamin Nichols, aged 23 years, was found along the tracks of the Philadelphia & Reading, near the Harlingen station, at an early hour Wednesday morning. It is claimed that Nicholas and a companion slept in the Harlingen station during the night. Nicholas' companion stated that the dead man lived in Philadelphia, and was beating his way home from the Johns-Manville plant at Finderne, where he had been in search of work. It is believed that Nicholas was killed while attempting to board a freight. The body is being held here while efforts are being made to locate his relatives.

WIT IN THE PULPIT

Preachers With a Sense of Humor or the Gift of Repartee.

A DUEL BETWEEN PUNSTERS.

The Exchange of Compliments That Spiced the Sermons of Rev. Mr. Walker and Rev. Mr. Read—Brother Moore's Grim Retort.

When the march of pulpit oratory and humor was less advanced than at present a number of pious parishoners resolved to compliment their beloved pastor with a horse. After a great deal of scraping together they accumulated funds sufficient to purchase a saddle, which was forthwith dispatched to the minister, with an intimation that the horse would be sent at a more convenient season.

Week after week, however, passed on, and no word of the minister's nag. This dilatoriness would never do, thought the reverend gentleman, and accordingly one Sunday afternoon he took occasion to introduce the subject in winding up a discourse on the unspeakable loveliness of charity.

"Now, my friends," said the preacher, "if that said horse be na nipping grass yont by at the manse in a day or twa, I ken what I'll do"

Here the minister smote the pulpit in a manner that made the hearts of the congregation melt within them like wax, while he, stern man, continued his appeal to their pecuniary feelings so long, and repeated the fearful threat, "I ken what I'll do!" so often that one frightened hearer said:

"And what wull you do, sir?"

"Why, man," said the minister coolly, "I'll just sell the saddle."

The Rev. Mr. Walker of Connecticut saw his friend, the Rev. Mr. Read, sitting in one of the pews on a Sunday morning and, leaving the pulpit, went to Read and urged him to preach for him. Read begged off, as he was providentially detained in town over the Sabbath and had no "preparation" with him. But Walker was pressing, and at length his friend yielded to his importunity and entered the pulpit. But he had no text, and after some reflection pitched upon Job i, 7, "Then Satan answered the Lord and said, From going to and fro in the earth and from walking up and down in it."

From this passage he drew the doctrine and announced it boldly, that the devil was a great Walker. He rung the changes on the name of his friend till the people signified their notice by a general smile.

Walker took the pulpit in the afternoon and returned his friend's compliments by taking for his text Matthew xi, 7, "A reed shaken with the wind." "The doctrine of the text," he said, "is the instability of Reads." On this theme he discovered till Read wished that he had never ventured his wit in the pulpit at the expense of his friend Walker.

In the south of New Jersey some years ago there traveled over some of the hardest counties a good, faithful, hard working brother named James Moore. He was devoted to the itinerancy and a true loyal Methodist, plain, pointed and sharp in all his preaching and exhortations. He had been laboring a year on one of his circuits, and, before leaving for his new field, he gave his people his farewell sermon. At the close he said:

"My dear brethren, this is my last address to you. I am going from you, and you may never hear the voice of James Moore again."

"Amen!" came loudly from the seat before him.

He looked at the man with a little surprise; but, thinking it was a mistake, went on: "My days on earth will soon be numbered. I am an old man and you may not only never hear the voice of James Moore, but never see his face again."

"Amen!" was shouted from the same seat, more vigorously than before.

There was no mistaking the design now. The preacher looked at the man. He knew him to be a hard, grinding man, stingy and merciless to the poor. He continued with his address: "May the Lord bless all those of you who have done your duty, who have honored him with your substance, who have been kind to the poor, and," pausing and looking the intruder straight in the eye and pointing to him with his finger, "may his curse rest on those who have cheated the Lord and ground the poor under their heels! Say amen to that, brother!"

He was not interrupted again.

It was the Rev. Rowland Hill's habit to ride to church in an old family carriage, a practice too aristocratic, in the judgment of one of his flock, who determined to rebuke it. It was customary in his chapel for notes to be sent to the pulpit, requesting prayers for various objects, and one Sabbath Hill was proceeding with the reading of these requests as usual when he found himself in the midst of one to the following purport:

"Prayers are requested for the Rev. Mr. Hill, that he may be more humble and, like his divine Master, who, instead of riding in a carriage, was content to be borne on an ass."

Having read the notice, he lifted the spectacles to his forehead and, looking around the house, observed, that it was quite true he had been guilty of the fault alleged, but if the writer would step around to the vestry door after service, saddled and bridled, he would have no objection to ride home, after his Master's example, on the back of an ass.—George Bancroft Griffith in New York Tribune.

TO MAKE HOUSE CHAMBER LOOK LIKE PARLIAMENT

(By Telegraph to The Daily Press.)

Washington, Jan. 10.—A resolution adopted by the House today may possibly postpone the calling of the extra session of Congress a week or two. The work is to be done between March 14 and the assemblying of the new Congress.

It is as yet uncertain whether the work can be accomplished in two weeks. The change is necessitated by increased membership of the next House, which will be 435.

PLAINFIELD'S NEIGHBORS

Plains & Fanwood.

The burglar scare Wednesday night, when it was thought that the home of Mrs. Adelia Lyons was being robbed, is still the main topic of conversation around town. Early yesterday morning, C. A. Smith, a real estate dealer of Westfield, who had a key to the house, met Constable Fred Clarke and the two made a round of the premises. No evidence of an intruder was found, however, and the supposition that Bryant Johnston's eye-sight failed him, reverted to fact.

ROUNDED OUT THE JOKE.

Two Well Set Traps, Each of Which Snared Its Quarry.

At the recent homeopathic convention at the Delaware Water Gap Dr. August Worndoerfer, Jr., told a story about a brother specialist who is an authority on the stomach.

"Blank," he said, "was traveling in the west, where they are all great jokers. At a western country club a jovial looking stranger accosted Blank and said:

"'Dr. Blank, I believe?'

"'Yes, sir; thank you.'

"'The great Dr. Blank?'

"'Well, er—I—well, yes. I have been called—er—by that name.'

"'The Dr. Blank who treats stomachs?'

"'Precisely, sir.'

"'Then, Dr. Blank, as it's the luncheon hour and our table d'hote is excellent I wish you'd treat mine,' said the joker.

"Dr. Blank's veins, as we all know, run rich with generous sporting blood, and he treated the stranger—an amiable western millionaire, as it turned out—to luncheon. But he got his revenge. Later on in the afternoon he approached a group of men with a roll of small bills in his hand.

"WHAT DID YOU WANT THAT BILL FOR?"

"'Has anybody here,' he asked, 'got a ten spot?'

"The western joker promptly produced a ten dollar note and handed it to Blank. Blank thanked him, thrust the note in his pocket and turned away.

"'Look here,' said the westerner; 'what did you want that bill for?'

"'What did I want it for?' asked Blank blandly. 'Why, for treating your stomach, of course! It's my usual fee.'"—New York Tribune.

RELIABILITY.

Don't Buy Cheap Clothes—They're Too Expensive

If cheapness is the only thing a suit has to recommend it—steer clear of it. If you don't it will prove mighty expensive to you in the end.

Remember a suit of clothes isn't purchased for a day, or a week or a month, but for 6 months or a year, or perhaps, 2 years.

At least that's what you can expect of Rothberg's clothing.

TALK ON UNREST AND DISCONTENT

Miss Richards Explains the Causes Making for the Spread of Democracy.

AMONG OTHER NATIONS

Situation in China, Mexico, Balkan States, Norway, Austria and England Described—Her Next Talk on America.

Reviewing the spread of democracy through the world during the last four years, Miss Janet E. Richards, of Washington, D. C., gave her first 1913 talk in Plainfield yesterday afternoon at the Hartridge Auditorium, her subject being "Current Events." She defined democracy as a growing demand on the part of the individual, colony, State and nation to have a part in and a say about how they shall be individually and collectively governed, and said in part:

"Greater than the facts of the last few years are the lessons which we have gained from the growing discontent among certain nations over their existing forms of government. We have traced the spread of democracy among large peoples, from the Napoleanic period and it has always been hastened by undiplomatic tactics on the part of the rulers. Today, in this country, the greatest problem which we have to face is that which takes in the conditions of the industrial workers. The people are discontented. At the present time there are eight million families, each averaging four members, whose net earnings amount to $500 a year for each household, just $125 per annum for each person to clothe, feed, house and live a good moral, physical and religious life. Can they do it on that sum?

"China has thrown off the shackles of the old dynasty. When we were looking to her to establish a kingdom she surprised all the world by putting into power a republican form of government but as yet China has not been recognized in her new attire by nother nations of the earth. There is an international custom which says that no newly-made nation can claim recognition until it has shown its powers to maintain law and order within its boundaries, to protect the foreign residents in the country and to carry out treaties with other nations. This, China says, she has satisfactorily performed but as yet she has not been recognized. The chief handicap in the Orient is the lack of money and China has appealed to the great nations for loans. The foreign bankers have made the conditions by which the funds may be secured so ridiculous as to make it impossible for China to accept.

"There has been a civil upheaval in Mexico during the last two years. Everything is in a great state of disorder. Diaz outlived his usefulness and the people revolted. The Mexican government in order to replenish its army is opening the jails and putting the criminals into the ranks. People are being arrested on the slightest pretence, most of them unjustly, and the authorities are railroading them into the fighting ranks. The natives are deserting the streets and the country. On one occasion the police built a great bonfire in a public square and when the people ran from the houses and gathered around the flames the officers swooped down upon them and marched them to jail and to the army for starting the fire. 'Gerilla' warfare is in progress and the only hope is that some strong man shall rise from all of the chaos and lead the people out of the wilderness.

"In the Balkan states disruption and strife are current. The Balkan people are rebelling against the wrongs of centuries. At the bottom of all the trouble is human oppression and race antagonism. In the negotiations for peace Turkey is not to be driven entirely out of Europe. It will still hold Constantinople and a small territory in Thrace. The great powers have no idea of permitting the war to be continued and will prevent any further hostilities. It is a war of humanities brought on by the rapid spread of democracy.

"In Norway the people are gently opposing the young King Haakon and his consort Maud because the monarchs are said to have taken no vital interest in the country and to have done 'all their shopping in England.' Austria is fearful less their beloved ruler, Francis Joseph, should pass away and his nephew, Franz Ferdinand, who is a reactionary, ascend the throne. England is fighting home-rule for the Irish and in France the probability of a Frenchman with an American woman for a wife being chosen for the presidency is exciting much interest."

In her talk on Jan. 23, Miss Richards will confine herself to conditions in America.

GAMBLING CHARGE.

Amos B. Stites, 36 years old, of 206 West Front street, proprietor of the pool and billiard parlor at 231 West Front street, was arrested by Detective Sergeant Flynn last night, the complaint against him alleging that gambling was allowed among the frequenters of his place. One of the games the police say was played in the Stite's parlor at the knowledge of the proprietor was the "dead man's game," widely known among pool sharks. When appearing before City Judge DeMeza this morning, Harry C. Runyon, counsel for the defense, moved for an adjournment of the hearing until Monday, January 13, which was granted.

LOTS OF PLUMS.

As Acting Governor, Senator Fielder will have no less than sixty-five choice appointments at his disposal. These are for various offices the terms of the incumbents not expiring until after March 3, the date on which Governor Wilson has decided to surrender the reins of government in New Jersey.

None of these appointments can be filled by the Governor in advance, the Constitution acting as a bar. A paragraph of that instrument provides that: "The terms of office of all officers elected or appointed pursuant to the provisions of this Constitution, except when herein otherwise directed, shall commence on the date of their respective commissions; but no commission for any office shall bear date prior to the expiration of the term of the incumbent of said office."

EDITOR BESLER.

Don't be remiss by not reading the regular contributed editorial in tomorrow's issue. Big men of big business write these editorials and they do it for us and for Plainfield gratis and there's where you get something for nothing. For magazine editors to publish them the cost would be great.

Tomorrow's editor of the Plainfield Daily Press will be William G. Besler, vice president and general manager of the Jersey Central Railroad, and one of the greatest railroad men in the world. His time is valuable, it means money, but the fact is that like all our other contributing spokesmen we pay him nothing but our readers get wisdom without extra charge. It will profit you to read, mark, learn, and inwardly digest what Mr. Besler will have to say exclusively in the Daily Press tomorrow.

More or less interest is taken in the matter of the corporation sounsel appointment to be made by Mayor Stewart and two names are prominently mentioned in that connection. The ones considered it is reported are William A. Coddington and Charles A. Reed. As Mr. Coddington is a Democrat it would not be surprising to see him named, but his friends declare that he will not seek the place believing that such an honor should come unsought. As to Senator Reed, while it is admitted generally that he would make an ideal counsel, there is a question as to his eligibility for he has not resided in the city proper for the required length of time.

Munsey's scheme for a holding company to take over the Republican and Progressive parties is simply to be viewed as a first class bit of advertising for his New York daily.

GROSS INJUSTICE IS WORKED ON INDIANS OF EVERY TRIBE

Peruvian, U. S. and Alaska Redskins Suffer Many Persecutions.

Monroe Doctrine May Be Invoked to Stop the Cruelties In Peru.

As the result of reports from numerous sources, covering a period of several years, the United States government at last is giving stern attention to the relief of persecuted Indians. It has been proved by thorough investigation that the red men of Alaska, the United States and South America, comprising all the races of aborigines on the continent, have been receiving ill treatment and have been exploited in one way or another in an outrageous fashion.

To a large extent the sins of the warlike forefathers of the living Indians have been atoned for. Now, according to the movement on foot, the race shall be given justice. Developments to this effect have been numerous in the news of the past few weeks.

"BUCKSKIN CHARLIE" AND GRANDDAUGHTER.

For instance, an expedition recently returned from the Putumayo rubber district of Peru with an official report to Washington of the atrocities worked upon the native Peruvian Indians by the English rubber contractors. It is said the government may invoke the Monroe doctrine in intervening on behalf of the red skinned sufferers. The reports as to the latter are that they have been more hideously outraged with torture and enslavement than were the natives of the Kongo rubber district of Africa.

American Consul Reports.

Stuart Fuller, formerly United States consul at Goteborg, Sweden, was detailed by the government to investigate the atrocities said to be practiced in Peru. He has returned with a very elaborate report of actual conditions, which, though its details are held in secret, is well understood to corroborate the cruelty tales. This is further supported by an Englishman's report. Hubert Carr-Gomm, Liberal member of parliament for Southwark, notified Sir Edward Grey, the foreign secretary, to ask a question in the house of commons whether it was aware that 122 bodies of murdered men, women and children were seen in one district last March. The government would be urged, the notice said, if the reports were true, to communicate with the Peruvian government at once.

GROUP OF RUBBER TREES.

This matter comes up again through a batch of dispatches from the Colombian consul at Manaos to the British consul at Iquitos, copies of which the Colombian consul in London handed to the Anti-slavery Society there. The dispatches contain harrowing revelations of renewed barbarities such as those mentioned in Sir Roger Casement's report last spring.

The Putumayo district is a remote region at the headquarters of the Amazon river, to the east of the Andes mountains. In 1896 the rubber possibilities were discovered, and the concession for gathering the product was given by the Peruvian government to English contractors. The district was inhabited by a peaceful, harmless race of Indians.

A campaign of the most wasteful exploitation was begun. The Indians were reduced to the most abject slavery by the most barbaric methods. Not only the men, but women and children, were forced to gather their share of rubber or suffer the most horrible torture.

In 1905 thirty-six Barbadian negroes were imported as deputies, and the cruelty increased.

Indians who couldn't or didn't produce rubber were suspended with their arms twisted and bound over their heads and their feet swinging, while they were flogged. Two hundred lashes a day constituted no unusual flogging.

Pouring kerosene over the bodies of men and women and setting them afire was a pastime. Many were burned at the stake.

The accompanying pictures show a group of rubber trees and a native at work making rubber "biscuits."

How Rubber Is Produced.

The rubber produced in the Putumayo district is classified as jebe and caucho. Jebe is divided into lowland—fine (smoked), entre fine (smoked) scrappy (not smoked) and highland—weak fine (smoked) and weak scrappy (not smoked). Jebe is obtained from the Hevea brazilensis, trees which grow close enough together to enable the worker to handle a group of 100 trees, called an estrada or walk, a day, visiting and tapping them. One man can manage two estradas on alternate days.

INDIAN MAKING RUBBER "BISCUITS."

The rubber worker builds his hut within easy reach of the river and visits the trees early in the morning, returning about 2 o'clock in the afternoon with a pail full of milk to smoke and work into balls. The quality of the jebe varies according to soil and method of preparation.

It is declared that right in the confines of the United States persecutions have been worked on nearly all the Indian tribes, in that their lands have been fraudulently taken from them and in other ways they have been robbed by fake Indian agents. Notably it was charged that the Apache prisoners of war, held captives for a generation, were being forced to agree to settle on land in the Mescalero reservation, in New Mexico, when they were to be set free, without having the choice of remaining in Oklahoma, which was the only territory they had known for twenty-five years. The original injustice of holding these human beings captive at Fort Sill for twenty-five years is now removed with their emancipation.

Government Censored.

Again, the government is taken to task on its treatment of the Indians in Alaska. Dr. Emil Krulish, in the educational service in Alaska, reported that the redskins were neglected so that the government was virtually imposing a cruelty on them. It is declared they suffer ravages of fell diseases without any means of combating them.

The difficulty in obtaining potatoes in that region is the cause of terrible suffering from scurvy. This disease has been the greatest enemy of the region.

A big congress of Indians is to be held at Denver's great pageant in 1915. At least twenty-five reservations will be represented. Among the notable redskins expected to take part will be Chief Buckskin Charlie, a Ute, and his little granddaughter, who are shown in the picture.

Barbers Ages Ago.

The first barbers of whom there is any record plied their trade in Greece in the fifth century B. C. In Rome the first barbers operated in the third century B. C. In olden times in England the barber and the physician were identical. Thus a king's barber was also his chief medical adviser. In the time of Henry VIII. of England laws were made concerning barbers, of which the following is an extract: "No person occupying a shaving or barbery in London shall use any surgery, letting of blood or other matter, except the drawing of teeth."

The Real Simon Pure.

"The real simon pure" is one of those phrases which every one understands and not one in a hundred could account for. Simon Pure was a Pennsylvania Quaker in Mrs. Centlivre's "A Bold Stroke For a Wife," produced at Drury Lane theater, London, in February, 1718. One Colonel Feignwell passes himself off as Simon and wins the heart of a Bristol heiress, Miss Lovely, after which the real Simon Pure turns up.

"MISS SSIPPI"—A COTTON SPECTACLE.

A field of real cotton is growing at Bamberger's store in Newark. There is now in progress in the auditorium at the new store a cotton spectacle entitled "Mississippi." This spectacle derives its name from the fact that the scene is a faithful reproduction of a real plantation situated near Vicksburg. An entire field of cotton is shown in the production of which there are over 18,000 separate pods or "bolls," as they are more commonly known in the South. In the distance is an old time Southern mansion, an exact duplicate of one which is still standing, and which is said to be in as good state of preservation as it was before the Civil War. A prominent Mississippi planter still resides there. Beyond this is shown the muddy Mississippi upon whose placid bosom an old time steamboat is making it tortuous way to New Orleans. When the audience enters the Bamberger Auditorium the sun is shining brightly. Old Mammy Belinda is busily engaged over the wash tub. Far in the distance is heard the sound of the returning cotton pickers, who, weary with their day's toil under the burning Southern sun, approach the cabin and deposit their cotton burden on the ground. They enter the cabin, partake of their evening meal, after which is begun the night's frolic. The sun sets and the moon rises and the plantation songs begin. This spectacle has been viewed by over 25,000 people during the last week. It has been pronounced the most realistic cotton field staging ever attempted in this part of the country.

WORKHOUSE FOR CHAUFFEURS.

(By Telegraph to The Daily Press.)

Albany, N. Y., Jan. 10.—Urging necessity for immediate action, Majority Leader Robert F. Wagner yesterday had the State Senate pass Senator Fitzgerald's bill under which drunken chauffeurs who speed in New York city may be sent to the workhouse.

NEW YORK AMUSEMENTS

Good Shakespearean acting is so rare nowadays that it requires some courage to proclaim one play as the single attraction for a run of one hundred nights. Such is the intention of John E. Kellerd and his all-star company who have already passed the fiftieth performance mark at the Garden theatre, New York city. It is an asknowledged fact that Mr. Kellerd at the present moment is one of the few good Shakespearean actors. We have many men and women on the stage of various and picturesque talents; but we have few actors more capable of so serious, so intelligent, so carefully finished, and so vital work. The run of Mr. Kellerd in "Hamlet" is a matter to be noted carefully; in the rendering of the play he, and his associate company have shown themselves at their best. The play is presented for its own sake, for Shakespeare's sake, not for the sake of the actor-manager. And from this intelligent, unostentatious way of giving "Hamlet," the public naturally derives the benefit and has shown its appreciation by filling the theatre at each performance.

At the Astor theatre Eugene Walter's latest play "Fine Feathers," in which Wilton Lackaye, Robert Edeson, Max Figman, Rose Coghlan, Lolita Robertson, Amelia Sumers and Helen Hilton comprise the all-star cast, has scored a sure success. The play deals with ordinary human beings, who are not involved in a love story in the ordinary sense of the word, yet display the truest affection of all—the love of husband and wife—that has to fight selfishness and vanity as well as the romantic ambitions which come into all lives. Briefly, the story of "Fine Feathers" is that of a young wife, living humbly on her husband's meagre salary, who falls under the influence of better dress and better living. Vexed at the petty economies their income demands and blind to the principles of business, she urges her husband to accept a proposition made by an old school friend (now grown rich in the world of commerce,) to lend his services to a dishonest deal, which will turn a modest fortune his way. The wife is innocent of any wrong doing in this case, as she is firmly convinced that the business proposed is above reproach. The husband, too weak to fight against his wife's rebellion, finally decides to put his hand in the financial grab bag, and sells his ideals for a mess of pottage. The absence of the sex question, or mamby-pamby romance, has given the author his opportunity to lead deftly and unerringly to the great tragedy—the gradual reaping of the whirlwind at the climax.

The series of Travelogues announced by Burton Holmes at Carnegie Hall on Sunday nights and Monday afternoons, represents more actual miles of travel than any series offered to his patrons by this well-known exponent of "Wanderlust," since the commencement of his career as a lecturer, twenty years ago. Although Mr. Holmes has circled the globe four times and has to his credit approximately three quarters of a million miles, this past Spring and Summer's journeyings have added upwards of thirty thousand miles to his score. India was the objective point in his search for new material for the coming season and he has returned with a wealth of photographic records in the form of still pictures for colored slides and wonderfully realistic motion-pictures taken by him en route and in India, which will bring to his patrons a wonderfully truthful impression of a personal visit. In his coming series here, he will offer a splendid opportunity for comparison between the methods and modes of living near the Equator on two sides of the world, for his first two topics will be "The West Indies," and "The Panama Canal." Then will follow two Travelogues on India; one relating his experiences from Bombay to Delhi; and the other from "The Taj to the incomparable Himalayas." His fifth subject is to be "Burma and Ceylon."

WILL NOT INCREASE THE ARMY.

(By Telegraph to The Daily Press.)

Tokio, Japan, Jan. 10.—The new Japanese Cabinet under the premiership of Prince Katsura has decided to abandon the project of increasing the army by two divisions, which brought about the recent political crisis. It will also limit its naval program to the maintainance of the normal standard.

TEXAS LEAGUE MEETING.

HAHNE & CO., Broad, New & Halsey Sts., NEWARK, N. J.

N. P. H. S. NOTES.

The members of the North Plainfield High School Junior English class presented portions of Shakespeare's "Macbeth," this morning during their English period. The class has been studying this play and as they have now completed it Mr. Mertz, who has charge of the class, picked a cast before the Christmas recess to enact several of the scenes. Those who took part in the performance were Edith Dalley as Lady Macbeth; Ashley Borner, Macbeth; Roy Love, messenger; Robert McGunnet, King Duncan; Gibson Fairman, as Malcolm; Attwood Giddings, Sergeant; Donald Ketchum, Ross; Frank Dunning, King Duncan; Roy Love, Malcolm; Charles Beckman, Macbeth; Ashley Burner as Banquo; Lucile Ewart, Lady Macbeth; Atwood Giddings, Macbeth; Kathryn Reed, Servant; Estes Small as Mentieth; Roy Love, Angus; Charles Beckman, Caithness, and Augustus VanDeventer, Lennox.

The first games of the city interscholastic basketball league will be played on Monday afternoon when the borough High School boys will meet the Leal's School team.

The girls' basketball team will start their schedule after a long vacation on Monday night at the Hope chapel court. Manager Elsie Debele has about fourteen more games booked and the team will be busy from now on. The borough girls will line-up as follows: Lucy Douglas and Marion Mair, forwards; Mildred McAuliffe, centre; Elsie Debele and Clara Smith (capt.), guards.

The Fairview basketball team, composed of High School students, has reorganized and Charles Beckman, the manager, would like to arrange games with such teams as Grace church Jrs., Hope chapel second, Scotch Plains Parish House second, and quintets of like strength having a home court. Address 83 Fairview avenue, or telephone 309-J.

Principal Phelps has arranged a basketball schedule which gives the class team a chance to practice and play games.

The Misses Helen and Nora Meeny, who last year went to P. H. S., have entered the borough school as sophomores. They recently moved from the city to the borough.

Principal Phelps has congratulated the members of the Freshmen class on their excellent tardy mark record. There are fifty-seven enrolled in this class and last month there was only one tardy mark registered.

Manager Carroll Taylor has not yet succeeded in arranging the basketball league games with Plainfield High School. He wants one game played on the Y. M. C. A. court, one at Sangerbund Hall and the third, if necessary, to be decided by a toss.

The annual mid-year examinations will begin on Tuesday, Jan. 22, and will last for one week. A new rule which provides for exemption from exams has been made and every pupil is working for this exemption. If a pupil has an average of 85 per cent. or above in any subject for the first five months, he is not compelled to take the examination.

Edmund J. Kenney, salutatorian of last year's graduating class, has returned to school to take a special course.

POLE DISCOVERERS TO MEET.

C., Jan. 10.—With honors befitting his achievement, Captain Roald Amundsen, discoverer of the South Pole, will be entertained in this city tomorrow night as the principal guest at the annual banquet of the National Geographic Society. CONGREGATIONS UNITE FOR PRAYER SERVICES

Rev. Dr. Chas. E. Herring Speaks on "In the Individual.

Rev. Dr. C. E. Herring, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, was the speaker at the third of the union prayer services held at the First M. E. church, last night, and his topic was "In the Indivigual."

"I am going to speak of our personal relationship to God," said Dr. Herring. "I have a book at home in which the words 'me' and 'I' are prominent in each chapter. 'I' and 'me' are great words. They can stand for God the great infinite Jehovah that holds us fast to Him, when strong and unresistable evils confront us and we are liable to wander away from him and lose control of ourselves so that our enemies get the best of us. With the talk I will begin with ourselves or in other words the church, at Jerusalem.

"The work of the church started with separate individuals. No committee met in a council chamber and then gave you foundations of the church for which we are working today. Some one individual stood up for the pure truth and gave us the church.

"Oh that God will bless those men that are working in the forest spot of the earth, Africa. Look at the man who works in the prison converting numbers of hardened criminals. All that work is being done by individuals. There are a number that are standing back to see what the other fellow is doing and when they see him lead they will say, 'I'll do that, too.' Organizations are great things, but they cannot do the work accomplished by the individual. For example you take a stick. You can break in singly, but when it is united with a bundle it is strengthened. When you want a stick for a cane or to strike with you cannot use a bundle, because it would be practically impossible for you to use them. t is the same way with the organization. Each individual must get out and work singly for the Master's cause.

"We all have an ordinary and commonplace work to do, which is important in the sight of God. We may not have any power to boast of, and we may wish that we could pray like this brother or that sister, but don't feel disheartened. God has given you some individual power that you do not know that you possess. 'Ye are God's Workmenship' or as it will appear when you look into it, 'Ye are God's Poets.' I am preaching to the individual and am speaking to each and every one of you about the Word. At some time you will realize that you have a certain place and a certain power in this life which you may think is insignificant.

"That place and power is given to you because you have a work to do that no other can accomplish. I have work that no other one can do. It is the same with all of us. Ask the Lord to make you His servants so that you can do His work. When we get on the other side of some deed it may look to be very little, but the talent that we used to do it is going on, on, on. God gave us the little talents to use for His work and we ought to thank him for it.

"To give an illustration of how our talent can be used without our knowledge I am going to tell of an incident that took place in Plainfield a number of years ago in one of the Baptist churches. At the close of a meeting testimonies were called for by the leader. A young lady arose and said, 'Jesus is so precious to me.' It was only a line but she spoke with such a fullness of heart that a man whom God had so ruled, who was not a church attendant, but who had come to the service with his wife, was touched with the way that this young woman told of her love for her Master that he became converted before that meeting came to a close. God used the talent of that young woman to win a soul, where He could not have used the power of all the ministers in Plainfield.

"Few people can be counted on to help along with the work of the church. It is the same in all churches, yet the responsibility rests upon each and every member of the parish. I want the men to go out from this meeting saying to themselves that they will do all that they can to try to win souls for Jesus Christ. Pray for people to be brought into the Master's Kingdom. Take a small note book with you and as you walk through town jot down the names of those that you would like to see saved and brought into the Kingdom of Jesus Christ. When you pray, pray that they may be saved, and not of the world as a whole, although while you are praying for the souls of other people do not forget to pray that you may be forgiven of your sins and taken into the Kingdom.

Rev. Dr. C. M. Anderson presided and conducted a song service early in the evening. Rev. Dr. Philip B. Strong offered the opening prayer, while Rev. Frank Fletcher gave a closing prayer and Rev. John Y. Brook read the Scripture lesson. Mrs. Downer, the contralto soloist of the church choir, sang two solos. The union services will close tonight with the service at the First Baptist church. Rev. J. Y. Brook will be the speaker.

IN WOMAN'S REALM

The KITCHEN CUPBOARD

POT ROASTS.

WHILE inferior cuts may be used for pot roasting, the top sirloin makes the best roast. Top and bottom round, the cross ribs, chuck and rump all may be pot roasted.

One secret of successful pot roasting lies in not getting too much water in the pot. The meat must be turned often in order that it may brown all over.

Roasted With Sweet Potatoes.

Southern Pot Roast.—Take any kind of meat you prefer. Use a large enameled saucepan or an iron pot in which to cook it. Place in the vessel a tablespoonful of butter; let it brown; wash off the roast and put it into the pot. After it begins to fry pour in enough water to half cover the meat, season with salt and pepper, cover and stew slowly.

A half hour before serving add either Irish or sweet potatoes or turnips and let them brown with the meat.

A French Recipe.

Parisian Pot Roast.—Fry three or four onions in a little bacon in the vessel in which you are to cook the roast. When tender lay in the meat and let it brown well.

Roll the meat round and round and tie in place with a piece of cotton cloth in order to keep it in shape for slicing. Have ready a bunch of carrots scraped and sliced, a turnip sliced and peeled, a little chopped parsley and a cupful of tomato sauce.

When the meat has browned on both sides put in the vegetables and cover with hot water, not allowing it to come above the level of the meat. When it begins to simmer season with salt and pepper and cook slowly for two hours, turning the meat once.

Put the meat on the platter and set in the oven to keep warm. Then with skimmer remove the vegetables, arranging them in a circle about the meat. Thicken the gravy remaining, pour it over the vegetables or serve separately.

Flavored With Carrots.

Vegetable Pot Roast.—Take about three pounds of rump beef, season with salt, pepper and a sprinkle of cayenne. Heat some finely cut beef suet in a saucepan and brown the meat all over, turning it frequently. Add half a cupful of boiling water and a whole onion and cook slowly for an hour.

Peel and slice some carrots, just cover with boiling water, add a teaspoonful of sugar, boil for half an hour, drain and add to the meat along with some finely cut turnips, potatoes, tomatoes or any vegetable you like. Cover and cook slowly for another hour.

Arrange the meat in the middle of a dish, the vegetables around it, and pour over it a gravy made by adding some hot water and thickening it with browned flour.

LOCAL AMUSEMENTS.

"The melodious melodies of yesterday are the songs I like to sing," Jack Richards declares. He is one of the soloists with the Al. G. Field Greater Minstrels, and his rich baritone voice has endeared himself to thousands during his tour with the Al. G. Field Greater Minstrels. "The old songs alway contain a story that is really a story, and it is mainly because of this that I like to sing them. However, the up-to-date lyrics are quite fascinating to the stage singer, but as a rule I sing this character of songs because the audiences attracted by the Al. G. Field Greater Minstrels like to hear the tunes of today as well as the ballads their fathers and mothers sung." Mr. Richards is one of Paul LaLonde's chief assistants, and in the opening spectacle, "Minstrelsy Past and Present," renders solos that have been requested by the patrons of the Al. G. Field Greater Minstrels. The twenty-seventh season of the company will be characterized by its visit to Plainfield, where afternoon and evening performances will be given at the Plainfield theatre tomorrow. The Gold Band, one of the distinct novelties this season, will give two free concerts daily during the engagement in this city. Every instrument used by this organization is finished in gold.

HALF-YEARLY CLEARANCE SALE OF MEN'S AND BOYS' CLOTHING

The big semi-annual movement began in the men's and boys' clothing departments today. This is decidedly the clothing event of the season. It offers better values than all previous Bamberger clearance sales of men's and boys' clothing, because stocks are much larger and offer greater variety than ever before. Almost every suit and every overcoat is included in this sale. The only garment excepted are men's plain black, blue and full dress suits and boys' blue serge suits. But the great volume of suits and overcoats—the largest and best stocks in Newark—are reduced in price—and greatly reduced. No more determined clearance sale of men's and boys' apparel was ever started by the Bamberger store. We have determined to "clear the decks," and know that the following price reductions will do it. This is your golden opportunity to save on clothes. Take advantage of it.

E. H. BIRD, P. M.

TO THE VOTERS OF PLAINFIELD:

Have you ever stopped to think that one of the arguments which has appealed most strongly to many of our best citizens of all classes to make Plainfield their home city is the fact that an unwritten law has led the Honorable Members of our City Council to grant no additional liquor licenses either inside or outside the so-called "Tyler License Zone."

Do you realize that a strong effort is being made to induce the members of the Council to grant new additional licenses and to renew others heretofore canceled, also to enlarge the "License Zone" further into the residential districts?

Every voter who is opposed to the granting of such licenses and the enlarging of the zone is urged to sign at once the following blank and forward promptly to Wm. T. Schmittman, Secretary, 208 Madison avenue.

FEDERATION OF MEN'S BIBLE CLASSES

The undersigned, a resident and a legal voter in the City of Plainfield, hereby protests against the granting of any new or additional licenses or any extension of the so-called "Tyler Zone" in this city.

THE DUMB WAITER

It Played a Low Down Trick on the Master of the House.

A HOT TIME ON A COLD NIGHT.

The Trouble Was the Direct Result of a Thirsty Man's Craving For Drink and His Dogged Persistence In Attempting to Satisfy It.

One of the old time humorous writers was "Sparrowgrass," and the following account of his adventure with a dumb waiter gives a good idea of his amusing style:

One evening Mrs. S. had retired, and I was busy writing when it struck me a glass of ice water would be palatable. So I took the candle and a pitcher and went down to the pump. Our pump is in the kitchen. A country pump in the kitchen is more convenient, but a well with buckets is certainly most picturesque. Unfortunately our well water has not been sweet since it was cleaned out.

First I had to open a bolted door that lets you into the basement hall and then I went to the kitchen door which proved to be locked. Then I remembered that our girl always carried the key to bed with her and slept with it under her pillow. Then I retraced my steps, bolted the basement door and went up into the dining room. As is always the case, I found when I could not get any water I was thirstier than I supposed I was. Then I thought I would wake our girl up. Then I concluded not to do it. Then I thought of the well, but I gave that up on account of its flavor. Then I opened the closet doors. There was no water there. Then I thought of the dumb waiter! The novelty of the idea made me smile. I took out two of the movable shelves, stood the pitcher on the bottom of the dumb waiter, got in myself with the lamp, let myself down until I supposed I was within a foot of the floor below and then let go.

We came down so suddenly that I was shot out of the apparatus as if it had been a catapult. It broke the pitcher, extinguished the lamp and landed me in the middle of the kitchen at midnight, with no fire and the air not much above the zero point. The truth is I had miscalculated the distance of the descent. Instead of falling one foot, I had fallen five. My first impulse was to ascend by the way I came down, but I found that impracticable. Then I tried the kitchen door. It was locked. I tried to force it open. It was made of two inch stuff and held its own. Then I hoisted a window, and there were the rigid iron bars. If I ever felt angry at anybody it was at myself for putting up those bars to please Mrs. Sparrowgrass. I put them up not to keep people in, but to keep people out.

I laid my cheek against the ice cold barriers and looked at the sky. Not a star was visible. It was as black as ink overhead. Then I made a noise. I shouted until I was hoarse and rubbed our preserving kettle with the poker. That brought our dogs out in full bark, and between us we made the night hideous. Then I thought I heard a voice and listened. It was Mrs. Sparrowgrass calling to me from the top of the staircase. I tried to make her hear me, but the infernal dogs united with howl and growl and bark, so as to drown my voice, which is naturally plaintive and tender. Besides, there were two bolted doors and double deafened floors between us. How could she recognize my voice, even if she did hear it?

Mr. Sparrowgrass called once or twice and then got frightened. The next thing I heard was a sound as if the roof had fallen in, by which I understood that Mrs. Sparrowgrass was springing the rattle! That called out our neighbor, already wide awake. He came to the rescue with a bull terrier, a Newfoundland pup, a lantern and a revolver. The moment he saw me at the window he shot at me, but fortunately just missed me. I threw myself under the kitchen table and ventured to expostulate with him, but he would not listen to reason. In the excitement I had forgotten his name, and that made matters worse. It was not until he had roused up everybody around, broken in the basement door with an ax, got into the kitchen with his cursed savage dogs and shooting iron and seized me by the collar that he recognized me, and then he wanted me to explain it! But what kind of an explanation could I make to him? I told him he would have to wait until my mind was composed and then I would let him understand the matter fully.

Thrift.

Tonal—Eh, yon was a powerful deescourse on "Thrift" ye preached the Sabbath. Tother—Ah'm glad ye were able to profit— Tonal—Profit! Why, mon, I would have sloshed fra saxpence into the plate wi'out a thought if it had not been for your providential words—they saved me fourpence there and then!—London Opinion.

The Miracle.

Woodland—What is the difference between a wonder and a miracle? Lorain—Well, if you'd touch me for $5 and I'd lend it to you it would be a wonder. Woodland—That's so. Lorain—And if you returned it that would be a miracle.

Laughter is day, and sobriety is night. A smile is the twilight that hovers gently between both, more bewitching than either.—H. W. Beecher.

HE GOT THE PICTURE.

The Sporting Editor Put One Over on the City Editor.

There is no more enthusiastic follower of the ristic gentry than Charlie Horan. Years ago he was sporting editor of a New York paper, which later went by the boards. During his connection with it the paper was run "upon the cheaps." Penny paring was the chief occupation of the managing editor. As illustrations cost money, nothing short of a national disaster could force a picture in the paper.

Horan was a firm believer in the star of Jim Corbett, then matched to fight John L. Sullivan. One day Corbett visited New York, and Horan sent his staff out to get a photograph of the great man. None was available. Horan got angry, slammed on his hat and announced that he would get one himself. He found a full length picture in the lobby of the theater where Corbett was showing, put it under his arm and started back for the office.

In the meantime word had come to the city desk that William Windom, then secretary of the treasury, had died while addressing a dinner of the chamber of commerce in Chicago. The city editor sent his men out to get a picture of Mr. Windom. By and by Mr. Horan appeared, bearing an enormous framed picture under one arm.

"I got it," he announced cheerfully. "When I go after a picture I get it."

The city editor leaped for him, seized the picture and then threw it down noisily.

"That," said he tersely, "is not a picture of the secretary of the treasury."

"What do you care about the secretary of the treasury?" replied Horan defiantly. "That's a picture of the next champion of the world!"—Chicago News.

A Shakespearean Abysm.

The late Andrew Lang had many amusing tales to tell of his treatment by printers and proof correctors. In one of his articles he had quoted the Shakespearean phrase, "In the dark backward and abysm of time." When he received his proof he found a query against the word "abysm." Scribbling the word "Shakespeare" on the margin, he returned the proof, not unnaturally imagining that this would recall to the reader the quotation from "The Tempest." To his horror, Mr. Lang found when he opened the magazine containing his article that his sentence ran, "In the dark backward and Shakespeare abysm of time."

Carlyle and the Ax.

Carlyle as a schoolmaster was a terror to evildoers. Even the biggest and boldest boys wilted when he growled out "dunce" or "blockhead."

THE JOINER RUSHED IN.

He did not thrash often, as his scowl was enough to hush a whole school, but when he did thrash he meant business. One day a joiner passing along the road heard the most piteous howls and cries for mercy and help coming from the schoolhouse. Through the window he saw Carlyle doing the flogging act in his most approved and vigorous fashion. Jumping to the door, the joiner rush in, handed his ax to the perspiring Carlyle and exclaimed:

"Jist doo't ootricht, mon, and go mince matters."

Taken at His Word.

When Rossetti was a student of art he one day happened to go with some fellow students to the east end of London. There at a wharfside inn he saw an immense canvas on the barroom wall. After laughing at it for some time and thus provoking the innkeeper's wrath the following conversation took place:

"Where did you get that picture?"

"Oh, never mind, young man, where I got it!"

"What price do you set on it?"

"More than you can afford."

"Indeed!" said Rossetti. "Now, how much?"

"Three thousand pounds," replied the innkeeper.

At this there was a loud burst of laughter from the young artists.

"Do you know how much I would give you for your £3,000 picture?"

"How much?" asked the innkeeper.

"Three pounds," said Rossetti.

"Done," said the innkeeper promptly. And to his amazement and amusement Mr. Rossetti found himself the owner of the colossal daub.

No, the Lawyer Wasn't a Dentist.

One dull day in a law office in a small Kansas town the lawyer and his assistants were much surprised to see entering the door a man with a badly swollen face tied up in a big handkerchief. Before saying anything he sank wearily into a chair. Scenting an assault and battery case, and perhaps a damage suit, the lawyer briskly inquired what he could do for the weary one, and the answer he received was:

"Say is this the place where you pull teeth?"

"No," replied the lawyer. "We sometimes help people to cut their teeth, but we never pull them."—Kansas City Star.

Free at Last.

It is the custom among some of the New York theatrical managers occasionally to entertain the members of the local ball teams at their theaters. A young recruit from the high grass joined the Giants one day, and that night went with his new teammates to a play as guests of the management.

The piece did not appeal to the men, though, and they failed to applaud with any degree of heartiness. After the curtain fell McGraw scolded them for this lack of warmth.

"Here, you fellows come in here free and have the best seats the house affords, and then you sit stock still like a row of dummies!" he said. "I hope this doesn't happen again."

The very next afternoon one of the veterans hailed the youngster at practice on the Polo grounds.

"Well, kid," he said, "more big doin's tonight! Mac's going to take us to the theater."

"What's the show?" asked the green hand.

"The show," said the veteran, "is 'Bought and Paid For.'"

"Thank the Lord for that!" said the youngster fervently. "If it's rotten we won't have to applaud."—Saturday Evening Post.

A Brave Ache.

Of brave deeds done upon the battlefield and amid the thunder of cannons and the cries of the wounded and dying, of heroes of the Victoria cross, and great generals who rose from small beginnings, the teacher told her class, firing them with enthusiasm for their mother country. "Please, miss," cried one little girl excitedly, "my father was in the Boer war!" "And did he fight in any of the battles?" inquired the teacher. "Oh, yes," answered the little maid. "'E was at Graspan an' Modder river an' Pardyburg, an'—" "And was he wounded in any of them?" pursued the teacher. The little girl's face fell. "No, miss, he wasn't wounded," she replied. And then she brightened again. "But, please, miss, 'e had a awful 'eadache!"

IS GUADALAJARA, "THE FLORENCE OF MEXICO" DOOMED?

The Beautiful Square or Plaza at Guadalajara

Court or Patio in a Large Home

Market Place

Guadalajara is Noted for Its Pottery

IS Guadalajara, the second city of Mexico, often called the Florence of Mexico, doomed? So say scientists connected with the seismographic branch of the observatory at Mexico City and they contend that after spending several months investigating, noting the sudden cropping out of hot springs in the vicinity, the rumblings of the earth and other signs that sooner or later this beautiful city will be the victim of an upheaval. At any rate enough credence is given to their calculations to transport the government papers to the palace in Mexico City and to call a meeting of citizens to debate the question for this is the first time in history that a town has been warned that danger may sometime impend. People living there are divided in opinion, some asserting that it would be well to leave and settle in Juanacatlan, a town not far away but separated by hills from the Guadalajara district and others laughing to scorn any suggestion of danger.

That the citizens of this magnificent city will leave it to build up a town elsewhere is doubtful. The city lies in the charming valley of the Lerma River and it is called from old Spain "Wad-a-laja-ra." All the products of the temperate zone are raised at their very doors, and the surrounding country is a sort of "Garden of the Lord" favorable to the production of coffee, tobacco, and all kinds of fruit. It is also a rich mineral district, a distributing port, and a drink called tequila is exported in large quantities. On the great Mexican plateau, a mile above sea level, Guadalajara, the "City of Winter Sunbeams" stands forth as a thing of beauty, art and culture. Its churches show the influence of Byzantine art, its residential section is beautiful and its plazas and public buildings are artistic and interesting. The state palace is large and holds many valuable papers and it is from this building that all documents have been removed.

This place is irrevocably associated with history. Here the Aztecs made their first stand against the power of Spain and here Alvarado met his fate in a terrible battle and the champion of an ancient race saw his dream of an empire vanish. It is a beautiful city, an ancient city and a great city. Already it is a railroad center—and this means much in Mexico—one road leading to the Pacific and the other an American railroad opening up a new country. There are manufactures without number. Cotton goods, shoe leather, flour, pottery, knitted goods, hats and blankets are made here and sent all over the country. Too much has been spent on this city, its historical associations are too great, its inhabitants have too much affection for it for them to migrate hastily to another town unless forced too even though there are those who look on the dark side and urge that the city be abandoned.

It was only twenty years ago that this ancient city of Guadalajara founded in the sixteenth century began to be modernized, yet it now has a fine electric lighting system, is sanitary and the residential section is filled with comfortable homes surrounded with gardens filled with bright flowers or built around beautiful patios. Many of the public buildings in this up-to-date town, that is up-to-date for Mexico—are elegant and there is a well managed hospital or home for aged persons and children. There is also a prison, said to be a model, something needed in Mexico where the prisons are not all they should be. This one is built with the cells radiating in rows from a large circular court, and one standing in the court can look down every corridor. The prisoners are taught trades and there is a band recruited from them which plays remarkably well.

But the crowning beauty of Guadalajara is its plaza in the heart of the town. This is surrounded by business streets lined by stores which have portals over the sidewalk. Under these portals the women do a thriving trade at their little stalls and here can be found everything from a shoe string up to a rare carved piece of onyx. Here one can find at certain seasons the wonderful penates or dolls which the Mexicans use for Christmas instead of a Christmas tree. These penates are of all sizes and conditions, some dressed elegantly and others clothed in modest raiment. They hang in the markets suspended from wires placed high over head and are cut down when sold and handed to the buyer who may drive home in an elegant carriage with one beside him or may sling the penate over his back and in this democratic way carry it home to the children. As these queer Christmas dolls are made of pottery bowls, with heads, legs and arms of straw affixed they cause no end of amusement. At Christmas they are suspended in the patio or some convenient place and each child tries his hand at giving a blow. One good hard blow—and presto! the doll's stomach falls to pieces and out of the pottery's depths come tumbling down all sorts of sweet meats, toys and knicknacks. It is great fun for the old people as well as the children.

In the plaza in front of these portals or covered sidewalk booths there are all sorts of tropical plants and flowers for this is really the heart of Guadalajara and a beautiful one it is. In this plaza the rich and poor congregate to listen to the music, gossip and see the latest in fashion. There are fine cement walks and two such walks with seats at the sides extend around the four sides. One might suppose these walks were for the indiscriminate use of all pedestrians but this is not so. Guadalajara is particular. On one walk only the rich and aristocratic are allowed, while the peons or lower classes enjoy the other promenade. The two classes never mingle.

Nor is this the only peculiarity of the tiled plaza of Guadalajara. If one watches closely he will see that the men walk in one direction and the women promenade in the opposite. This has the advantage of bringing them face to face everytime they pass, and as all courtship is done sub rosa, it affords delightful opportunities for a melting glance, the exchange of a rose, or a whispered compliment. All together it seems a happy arrangement, though the cold outsider may go to this plaza because the moonlights are superb, and it is the center of all that is bright, joyous and gay. The people enjoy the music from the military band in the Moorish pavilion, the soft tropical nights, the flowers, the sentiment. It is a fine place to woo and to be won.

This plaza is not the only thing for which the charming city is noted. Long before one reaches the town the roof of the great Basilica can be seen. This alone would cause its citizens to refuse to leave. Art critics say that its impressions are so beautiful, the view from its Gothic-Tuscan towers so wonderful that the surrounding hills and valleys seem aglow with sunlight. In the sacristy of this Cathedral is one of the choice paintings of the Western Hemisphere, a jewel of art, Murillo's Assumption. It is one of the few noted paintings to be found in Mexico.

Of course Guadalajara has markets—what Mexican town has not?—and in these can be found all kinds of drawn work on linen and cotton and several styles of the pottery for which the town is famous. In fact, though pottery is found all over Mexico, the Indians in all the villages making it, and parting with it for a few cents, the trade is in no place so well developed as in Guadalajara, from whence it is shipped extensively. Two renowned sculptors make this town their home. They have wonderful facility in modeling, working the clay with their hands into remarkable likenesses and many noted persons—some of them presidents of our country—have sat for them.

Some Americans live on ranches near the town and there is quite an American colony at Lake Chapala, not far distant. This lake is surrounded with high mountains and dotting its shore are beautiful haciendas. The Ribera Castelanos, as the American settlement is called, is owned by a company and it is a favorite spot for sportsmen and persons who wish to rest. The main building was once a Spanish fort but it and the surrounding houses have been modernized and the wealthy owners cultivate wheat, corn, alfalfa, oranges and various fruits. The people of Guadalajara love this place as much as the Americans and it is a favorite week-end resort.

Yes, it is better to laugh any forebodings to scorn for it would be terrible if anything should happen to Guadalajara, the beautiful. Nor can its inhabitants desert the city. It would take hundreds and hundreds of years to create another such city. Moreover it is the heart of western Mexico. This Western coast is developing rapidly and sections before little known are being appreciated because of the railroad building. One road goes to Manzanillo, a port of great importance, even before the advent of a railroad. It was through Manzanillo that many of the American gold seekers passed to and from California in the year forty-nine. Broad government highways stretched all the way from the boundary of the Louisiana Purchase territory through Guadalajara to Manzanillo, crossing mountains and plains with hardly a break. It was a better route to California than by sailing vessels around the Horn, or across the continent by the trails in the United States. The Mexican government has spent over eight million pesos (four million dollars in our money), in improving harbor facilities at Manzanillo, and getting it ready for the commerce that is already coming from central and eastern Mexico via Guadalajara. This growing harbor on the Pacific Coast has a breakwater 11,446 feet long, which gives a protected harbor that covers 165 acres. The length of the interior seawalls is over two thousand feet, thus relieving the harbor of swells from the ocean. There will be a uniform depth of thirty feet and one hundred vessels can anchor at once besides the forty boats that can be accommodated at the wharves. It is this part of Mexico that the Japanese are credited with desiring for coaling stations, and there is no doubt about the wonderful facilities afforded by improvements. Even the seawalls of Cherbourg and Plymouth do not excel in proportions. It was in this same harbor that Hernan Cortez three centuries ago constructed a fleet of ships for the purpose of exploring the unknown waters of the Pacific Ocean and it was this identical fleet that won the Philippines for Spain.

In all this coast trade, for Pacific steamers are piping up and down the coast continually, Guadalajara plays its part as the largest and nearest inland town. No, Guadalajara is too important a city to be easily frightened by reports of scientists and it is too beautiful for anyone to leave unless absolutely forced to do so. If it had nothing else its great Basilica recompenses the fatigue of a long pilgrimage to see it and its soft tropical nights amid the flowers, beneath the orange trees in bud, bloom and fruit, the surrender to the "dolce far niente of the hour" endears the city to every inhabitant and visitor.

GIANT TERRORS of the SEA

IN tropical waters, where bathing and swimming are carried on to a more general extent for the greater portion of the year, than in the colder waters farther north, there is much dread of those swift swimmers of the sea, called sharks.

Upon the Atlantic Coast there are to be found some twenty species of sharks, some of which are only an annoyance to the fisherman, while others are of considerable economic value.

The one species which merits most fear from the people is the great blue shark or "man-eater" of the temperate and tropical seas. This great fish attains a length of some forty feet and his dark blue, almost black body, with a strip of clear white along the throat and under parts, is universally dreaded in every place where he is to be seen. A monster such as this, with shining white, backward pointing teeth—sharp as saw teeth—with a gap of jaws of some two feet, is enough to make any swimmer hesitate a little before he thinks seriously of swimming out very far in the ocean beyond the sand bar.

All of us have heard stories of people having been eaten by sharks, and we have read a few of such accounts, but when it comes right down to the actual facts, authorities on such subjects say that there are very few really authentic cases where people have been attacked and eaten by this particular shark—or any other one, but, without doubt, people who have fallen overboard from some ocean steamer have been swallowed by these terrible-looking scavengers of the seas.

Not very long ago, a young sea-lion weighing one hundred pounds, was found, whole, in the stomach of one of these "man-eater" sharks which measured thirty feet in length. This shark was caught as far north as Soquel, California.

Scientists have found fossil sharks' teeth of enormous size in the phosphate beds of South Carolina which from their size would indicate that the owner of them must have been at least eighty feet in length. At the time of that horrible calamity of the blowing up of the Maine, it was reported that some of our sailors, who were thrown into the sea from the force of the explosion, were afterward torn and devoured by the sharks which were and are quite abundant in those waters!

This great blue shark, as most others of the shark family, swims quite close to the water's surface when in search of food, so he is easily seen and distinguished by the tall, black, dorsal fin which projects out of the water. The sight of this fin has caused many a swimmer in tropical waters to shout "shark! shark!" to his companions who needed no further warning to make haste shoreward!

A shark story in which some young fellows got badly frightened, was related to the writer some years ago, by one who shared the ever-to-be-remembered experience. A few young swimmers, at one of our Atlantic Coast resorts, were having "a fine time" sporting in the ocean much farther out at sea than most swimmers ever go. Suddenly, one of the party sighted a dorsal fin of a shark! He knew well what it meant, and although scared almost stiff, he shouted "shark!" to his companions.

Memory didn't fail them, even at the point of danger, so they made as much splashing in the water as possible by the kicking up of their feet, which commotion frightened the unwelcome caller away, temporarily. Then energetic efforts were turned toward gaining the shore, when the shark made his appearance again, and got so close to one of the young men that his feet came in contact with the cold body of the creature as he swam across back of the young man! At this experience, all waited again and raised a huge foam in the water by several pairs of feet used to their best. Again the dreaded animal left their company, only to return later after things had quieted down. This process of scaring off the enemy was kept up until the swimmers neared the bar when the shark gave up, and went out to sea. The writer understands now why the relator of that story never swims outside of the bar now—his were the feet which felt the cold clammy side of the shark! This may have been only one of the "dog-sharks" which abound on our Atlantic Coast, but even such a creature could make things rather disagreeable for the swimmers and he not often frightened off so vigorously.

In constrast with the dangerous creature described, we have the basking-shark or bone-shark of the polar seas, which is one of the largest of living animals, being full fifty feet long in some specimens. This is one of the harmless sharks, except that when occasion warrants, he can easily smash a small boat to pieces with a slap of his great powerful tail. His teeth, however, are small and he feeds upon fishes and small crustaceans to be found floating upon the surface of the sea. He gets one of his names—"basking-shark"—from his habit of remaining quiet for a considerable time at the surface of the sea without moving about. You will notice from the accompanying illustration how the nose projects ahead of the front of the mouth in this species, and the great length of the side or pectoral fins which are such powerful swimming instruments.

This is a valuable fish commercially as the liver of a good specimen will yield from ten to twelve barrels of oil of the very best quality. It was Bishop Gunner, of Norway, who first described this species of shark, and who attempted to prove that this was the kind of "great fish" in whose interior the prophet Jonah was entertained for a spell.

This shark is often harpooned by whalers along the Pacific Coast, who may approach very near it without disturbing its laziness in the least—until it feels their harpoon, then it is immediately transformed into a very active creature and swims away

The gill-rakes of this fish, which are five in number, as in most sharks, indicate that it strains its food as does the whalebone-whales, and finds its food at the surface of the water, as has been mentioned above.

One of the most peculiar members of the shark family is the "hammer-head" shark, a small species which only attains a length of eight feet or so. It is a very common caller all along our coast from Cape Cod southward into the tropical regions, and may be found the world over in tropical waters. It is not large enough to be dangerous but is small enough, as sharks go, to be a great nuisance to the fishermen, becoming entangled in their nets and causing endless trouble. Residents and visitors at our seaside resorts have sometimes had an opportunity to see one of these sharks as he was hauled up on the beach by the fishermen. The shape of the head, from which his name is derived, is very queer, with one eye at each end of the "hammer" head. It will be noticed that the gill-rakes of this species are much smaller than those of the other sharks illustrated in proportion to the size of the fish. Judging from the position of the eyes of this fish he has an excellent chance to look to the rear and take notice of any danger which might approach from that quarter.

Whale Shark.

One of the most graceful and active members of the shark family, is the tiger-shark of the Indian Ocean and Coast of Japan, which was first seen in our waters by Captain Atwood. This is a very ferocious animal with razor-like teeth which he uses with terrible effect upon other fish upon which he feeds. Captain Atwood once found nearly a whole sword-fish within the stomach of one of these sharks, and the many wounds along the sides of the shark showed very plainly what that meal had cost him. This shark has about as bad a name for terrorizing people along the coast as has the great blue shark, and it is very probable he deserves all the credit given him for bad behavior.

Those who frequently sail the seas during the hot summer season may often see a very peculiar fish as he leaps repeatedly out of the ocean among schools of small fish upon which he feeds. This is the thresher-shark which makes a specialty of attacking certain of the whale family, which he strikes terrifically with that long tail of his as he leaps upon or over their huge backs. His method of attacking the whale is calculated to tire out the great creature, and worry him into exhaustion, before he and his company feast off the huge animal.

This shark may be recognized at a great distance by the very long tail nature has given him, and which he seems to know how to use to such great advantage. His body is shaped much like a cigar and like other members of the shark family, he is a swift swimmer. The form of the body is a great aid to various fishes in allowing them to move with high speed through the water, and you will notice that those which swim the fastest are shaped much like a torpedo, while those of slower movement are more bluntly formed at the head, and have greater width of body as well. The large dorsal and ventral fins help them to keep steadied in the vertical position while the pectoral fins and tail send the body along and steer it at the same time. The basking shark is also provided with a small keel, along each side near the tail, which aids as a balancer in swimming fast. This sort of a balancer has been copied along the sides of many of our cruisers and battleships, to aid them in keeping level when at high speed, and also when guns from one broadside are fired. This same idea is also used on the arrow by its "keel" of feathers which hold it steady in its swift flight through the air.

The largest of all sharks, and one of the largest of existing creatures, is the great whale-shark which was first discovered near the Cape of Good Hope, but which since has been seen in the waters of Japan, the Indian Ocean, South America, Panama and California. This immense fish, credited with attaining a length of some seventy feet, is a very dangerous companion for sailing boats to meet, on account of its size only, but its teeth are small and it is not adapted to fighting. The huge, dark-colored body of this fish is covered with whitish spots, and several keels traverse the body for nearly its whole length. The head is very blunt and the pectoral fins are immense. It has been reported that a fisherman of sperm whales once harpooned one of these monster sharks in the Indian Ocean, by mistake, and the creature instantly made a lightening-like dive for the bottom, exhausting the surprised fisherman's harpoon line in short order and carrying himself and his crew so far beneath the surface that they were all drowned! In this case, they got a ride downward, instead of one along the surface as when a whale is harpooned.

UMBRELLAS WITH WINDOWS.

THE French usually originate the unique novelties, and the latest idea to come from Paris is an umbrella with windows of tinsel or mica. The latter are either arranged to be inserted into the ordinary umbrella or may constitute a part of the article itself. These windows permit one to see clearly when carrying one's umbrella in front of one. It is prophesied that the next step will be toward transparent umbrellas.

SPORTS OF ALL SORTS

Philosophical Phelix Says:

WILL LAJOIE PLAY BALL IN NEW YORK?

Cleveland Also Hears That Second Baseman is to go to White Sox.

The story from New York that the Cleveland Baseball Club is preparing to trade the famous second baseman, Napoleon Lajoie, and Terry Turner, once star shortstop, for Harry Lord and Rollo Zeider of the White Sox, has caused much comment here. While the club officers deny the story, it is said upon authority that some deal of this sort is in the air.

President Somers of the club has often said that Lajoie would end his ball-playing days in Cleveland, but recently the many rumors that the big Frenchman might go elsewhere have not been strongly denied.

Lajoie during the past two years has slowed up considerably. In fact, he slows up the entire infield, and speed is what Cleveland is after. The most insistent rumor here for weeks past has been that some sort of a deal might soon be pulled off that would send Lajoie to New York to help Chance strengthen the Yankees. Larry is a great drawing card and a hitter that would help any team while Turner has several years of good baseball in him yet.

"ARREST THE GIANTS" IS CRY OF PITTSBURG CRITICS

One of the Pittsburgh critics who refuses to join the army that is claiming the pennant of 1913 for the Pirates arises to a point of order with the following terse comment on the Giants:

"Getting sued is all the rage in the camp of the Giants. McGraw should sign a dozen lawyers instantly to look after the interets of his recalcitrants.

"Pitcher Kirby is the latest defendant in a damage suit. A Detroit girl wants $25,000 from this youngster for jilting her. An outraged husband asks $25,000 from Rube Marquard, and a girl on the Pacific coast wants $25,000 from Fred Snodgrass. A Toledo bartender who said something to Fred Merkle about not touching second in 1908 now wants Merkle to issue bonds in the sum of $5,000 to repair a damaged countenance and a broken head. Here's to the constable who can get the goods on Larry Doyle, Chief Meyers and Christy Mathewson and have them indicted for dynamiting or some other heinous crime. That would help Pittsburgh more than a dozen Bresnahans and Konetcheys.

AJAX WILL RESUME SCHEDULE TOMORROW

Association Quintet Will Line up Against a Team of Old Rivals.

A basketball revival, after a two weeks' letup, will be held in the Y. M. C. A. gym tomorrow night when the Ajax team lines up against the Young Men's Club, of South Bound Brook. A number of the Ajax players have been suffering from injuries sustained in recent games, but most of the regulars are well on the road to convalescence now and will be able to put up their old time article of basketball.

Tomorrow night's opponents are some of the finest players in this section and last year the Y. M. A. had the honor of being one of the three teams that lowered the association boys' colors. The Bound Brookers are equally as strong this season and those who have been following up the team, say that the Ajax will have to play better than they have been in the last few games in order to annex a victory. In the visitor's lineup will be Naylor and Ulmer, two former Y. M. C. A. stars, and Mingle and Haegney, a pair of Bound Brook High School athletes. Captain Brynarski will still be out of the Ajax lineup but his place will be filled with a capable substitute. Brynarski's loss, of course, is always keenly felt by his team-mates and their recent reverses have been assigned to his absence.

UNITED STATES GOLF ASSOCIATION TO MEET

New York, Jan. 10.—Golfers are arriving from all directions to attend the annual meeting of the United States Golf Association to be held tomorrow night at the Hotel Astor. The ticket of officers for the ensuing year as presented by the nominating committee is expected to go through without opposition according to the usual custom. Several changes have been made since the ticket was first announced. Robert C. Watson, who has served four terms as secretary of the association, is slated to succeed Silas H. Strawn, of the Glenview Club, Chicago, who has been president two years. Milton Dargan, of Atlanta, now second vice president, is to take the place of Joseph S. Clark, of Philadelphia, in the first vice presidency, while Frank L. Woodward, of Denver, is to become second vice president. John Reid, Jr., of the St. Andrew's Golf Club, is to succeed Mr. Watson as secretary, and Percy R. Pyne, of the Garden City Golf Club, is to become treasurer. The most important business of the meeting will be the selection of the courses for the championship tournaments this year. Half a dozen of the leading golf clubs of the East are bidding for the national amateur championship, which is the event most sought. The tournament was held last year in the West.

HOPE CHAPEL TEAM ALLOWED RESPITE TO GET INTO TRIM

Owing to the crippled condition of the Hope chapel basketball team, Manager Leighs has scheduled no game for tomorrow night with a view to giving his players a chance to rest up before they tackle the hard schedule he has arranged for the remainder of the season. All of the Hope representatives have been subjected to considerable banging in the last few games and if they played with the team in the condition it is at present the strength of the aggregation would be far from representative.

Basketball will not be blotted off the program of Hope chapel tomorrow night, however, as two minor games have been arranged which will prove ready appetizers for the Hope chapel enthusiastis.

"LEFTY" FLYNN, YALE'S FAMOUS FOOTBALL PLAYER, AND HIS BRIDE WHO IS COMIC OPERA CHORUS GIRL

New York, Jan. 10.—Maurice Bennett Flynn, whose ability to kick a football with his left foot gave him much fame at Yale and also the nickname "Lefty," will not return to the Sheffield Scientic School at Yale, and that university has lost a star athlete. The reason for his quitting his college career is found in the fact that he is a married man. His bride has been a chorus girl in various musical organizations under the name of Irene Claire. They are planning a honeymoon trip of a few weeks, after which Mr. Flynn expects to go into business, perhaps with his father, who is wealthy and is a director in several enterprises, with an office at 2 Rector street. Mrs. Flynn's real name before her marriage was Rena Leary, and she is the daughter of a cab driver in Holyoke, Mass. Dispatches from Holyoke say that when the girl was there on a Christmas visit she said she was the wife of a broker named McDonald. She denies that she made any such statement or that she had ever been married before the ceremony that united her to the football player.

MAC SAYS

"Jack" Martin, who was married on Wednesday to Miss Myra E. Hinkie, as a diamond star, was "made" on the sand lots of this city. He has been a baseball enthusiast since he first toddled from the cradle and to participate in the national pastime in the summer months is as food and drink to him. His first recognized playing was with the old Clinton Avenue Club, many years ago, when Jack cavorted around shortstop. That field has been his berth through all of his "twilight" league playing.

Martin played on numerous local organizations up to four years ago, when he entered minor league squads in various parts of the East. Last year the New York Highlanders secured him from Richmond, in the Virginia League, but he was hit by Walter Johnson and sent to Rochester to recuperate. The youngster batted well up among the leaders during his stay there and this season comes back to the Yankees by order of President Farrell. Martin is 25 years of age, while his bride is 22.

P. H. S. FIVE AT YONKERS.

By a mutual agreement effected between the respective managers at the last moment, the game scheduled to be played at Somerville yesterday afternoon between the High School basketball team of that place and the local schoolboys, was postponed until Monday afternoon. Manager Grisley, of the P. H. S. five, however, scheduled the Yonkers High School clash for today and the Plainfield representatives left for the Metropolitan district this noon.

CO. K'S FIVE TO FIGURE IN THE SPOTLIGHT

Arrangements have been completed between James A. Thompson, captain of the Company K basketball team, and H. S. Sanderson, manager of the Plainfield theatre, to give an exhibition game of basketball in the theatre next Thursday night in connection with the motion picture show. Captain Thompson has secured the Company M. Cadet team, of Somerville to compete against his men in the first of these exhibits. The game will start at 8 o'clock, moving pictures will be given from 7:30 until 8 between the halves and after the game is over.

Great interest is being taken in the scheme which is new in this town but has proved a success in other places. The two teams scheduled are about evenly matched and a good game is expected as the result.

FINE MOTORCYCLES.

The new 1913 Twin model of the Indian motorcycle has just been received by Jack Horner, the Somerset street cycle dealer, and is the object of much admiring comment. The appearance of the cradle spring frame in this make machine, which is an exclusive improvement to the motorcycle to be found on the Indian vehicle is widely approved of by all motorcycle enthusiasts that have seen the new model. Other changes are the new patented luggage carrier footboards, and cushion-spring saddle.

To Readers About Advertisers

Merchants who use the columns of the Plainfield Daily Press deserve your consideration and trade. They represent the best in their respective lines and they spend their money for publicity in order to attract custom to their establishments. It costs money to advertise and the business man who seeks your patronage and makes a public bid for it is going to serve you well. The merchant who establishes a reputation by advertising can not afford to waste this money and unless you are pleased you'll not go to his store again.

Advertising has become a science, yet anyone can write an advertisement that will pull trade. The readers of the Daily Press will find the advertising column an interesting feature. It contains suggestions that will meet every want and those who use its columns are among the leading and most enterprising business men. Tell them you were induced to come to their store by their advertising in the Daily Press—it is of mutual encouragement. Besides, there is always a more satisfactory service in the store that advertises. Never have merchants made greater efforts to secure trade or have prices been lower, and no city in the country can supply you more comfortably.

We are glad to say a good word for our advertisers. They have been liberal space takers throughout—and they have secured results. They know that the Daily Press is their best medium to reach the buying public and that it has THE right kind of circulation—the hearthstone kind.

The usual clearing sales are held in January and February. The wise merchant continues his store news and makes busy months, clearing out surplus stocks, which Daily Press readers will be glad to take off their hands. The business man who stops advertising at the close of the holiday trade makes a mistake he can not correct. The big stores have become big by keeping their name before the public and "making good" in thier publicity. The money they spend during the so-called dull season is among their best investments. The Daily Press circulation brings their trade.

FIVE ROADS WILL USE TERMINAL

New Station to Be Built Now at Communipaw Ferries to Accommodate Service.

STATED IN EDITORIAL

Wm. G. Besler, General Manager of the Jersey Central, as Contributing Editor Discusses Transportation.

Among many of the important announcements made by Wiliam G. Besler, vice president and general manager of the Jersey Centraal, in the course of his contributed editorial in this issue, one of the most interesting is that within the year there will likely be five big system using the Communipaw terminal where now there are but three, the Jersey Central, the Reading and the Baltimore and Ohio. As has already been made known, the Lehigh Valley will leave the Pennsylvania terminal on May 1 and will run all its trains into the Jersey Central terminal. What the fifth big road is that intends to follow suit, Mr. Besler does not state. He does, however, make mention that the Jersey Central's terminal is the only union station for New York.

Another among the important information revealed in the editorial is the fact that the present station building at the Communipaw terminal will be torn down within a very short time and replaced by one of the Bush type, similar to those of the company at Liberty street and West Twenty-third street.

The new station will embody all the latest improvements in train shed construction. It will be of the short span continuous low roof type. The advantages of this type over the present high roofed structure are economy in cost of construction and maintenance, and better light and ventilation.

One of the main features of this type of shed is that the smoke, gases and cinders from the locomotives are discharged through a continuous duct running over the center of each track. Light will be provided by large skylights over each platform and between each pair of tracks.

When completed, the Jersey City train shed will cover an area of over seven acres, and will accommodate twenty tracks with an aggregate length of 15,550 feet.

The Central is also rebuilding its ferry house and slips at Jersey City, and when all these improvements are completed, it will have a terminal which will be modern and up-to-date in every detail.

SACHAR MAKES PLANS FOR BUILDING BOOM

Jacob Sachar, who purchased the Harbarger tract of land at West Front street and Giraud avenue several months ago with the idea of improving and erecting several dwellings, has decided to lay out a street there, extending from Giraud avenue to the line of property owned by Alvin E. Hoagland, parallel with Green brook, and open up a number of building lots.

The new street will be fifty feet wide and it is proposed to erect several dwellings on either side of the thoroughfare. At the end adjoining Mr. Hoagland's land, the street will be laid out in the shape of a horseshoe, permitting wagons or automobiles to turn around. According to Mr. Sachar's plans there will be fourteen lots on each side of the street.

COOPER OFFERS TRACT FOR MT. BETHEL SCHOOL

It was reported that the result of the special school election in Warren Township Thursday afternoon settled the question of a site for a new school to be erected at Mt. Bethel. At that time it was decided by a vote to buy the Alfred Binz tract at a cost of about $300, but immediately following the election some of the citizens expressed the opinion that the site is not central for all children in the township.

The Board of Education has now received an offer from John Cooper whereby he agrees to give the township a two acre tract for a new school. This tract is located near the Cooper home and is said to be more central than any other site considered. If it meets with the approval of the County Superintendent of Schools H. C. Kreba, the Township Board will probably arrange for another election to get the sanction of the voters in accepting Mr. Cooper's offer.

Quarterly Meeting of Local Association to Be Held on Monday Night.

The quarterly meeting of the Sunday-school Superintendents' Association of Plainfield and North Plainfield will be held at Trinity Reformed church, Monday night at 8 o'clock, and will be preceded by a dinner at 6:30 o'clock. The address of the evening will be made by H. W. Herrman on "Impressions of Sunday-schools in Plainfield and North Plainfield, with Suggestions for Improvement." LAST IN SERIES OF UNION PRAYER SERVICES

Rev. John Y. Broek, pastor of Trinity Reformed church, was the speaker last night at the fourth and last in the series of union prayer services held by the four large churches in the centre of the city. Herring, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, read the Scripture lesson, and Rev. Dr. C. M. Anderson, pastor of the First M. E. church, offered prayer.

At the close of Mr. Broek"s talk a testimonial meeting was held. Arthur Harris when called upon to make a few remarks on the work being done by the Federation of Men's Bible Classes in fighting the granting of additional liquor licenses, asked that every mother, wife and sister of the voters get them to clip the coupon out of either of the daily papers, sign it and mail it to the address given thereon.

NO CHARGE FOR USE OF H. S. AUDITORIUM

The Board of Education having decided to allow the free use of the public schools for meetings of a public character, has returned a check for $6.50 to W. J. BOY SCOUTS HEAR THE LOCAL FIRE CHIEF Department Head Tells History From the Days of the Bucket Brigade.

Reviewing the history of the local fire department from its inception, the time of the bucket brigade down to the present period of the automobile engine, and other modern apparatus for fighting fires, Fire Chief T. O. Doane, the head of the Plainfield department, held the close attention of the boy scouts in an address to them at the Y. M. C. A. this morning. As the chief recalled many exciting incidents in his life as a fire-fighter, the inl erent love for a "shine" was displayed in the face of every boy.

Chief Doane described some of Plainfield's big fires during the last half century, and even went back to the eighteenth century in describing fire fighting methods. Referring to the Boy Scout movement, the Chief told the boys that before they could become real scouts they must first thoroughly acquaint themselves with a relief map of the country in and surrounding Plainfield. An intimate knowledge of the roads and by-ways throughout the county as well as the State, the speaker said would prove of incalculable value.

MR. AND MRS. BROWER GIVE DELIGHTFUL DANCE

W. Bakewell, Allan Bakewell and Stanley Evans, of New York; Miss Elizabeth McCawley and Brannon Reath, of Philadelphia. The guests from the city and borough comprised many of the younger society people.

Music for dancing was furnished by VanEps Brothers. The program was a popular one and they responded to a number of encores. Supper was served during an intedmission about midnight, after which dancing was continued until the early hours of the morning.

CHIMNEY FIRE.

Fire was discovered early this morning in a chimney over the New Jersey Piano Company's store on West Front street. H. C. Hadley, who lives on the second floor of the building, was awakened shortly after 4 o'clock by a stenching odor of smoke which permeated every part of the apartments. Summoning John Bowman from the floor above the two investigated but could find no fire, but Hadley called headquarters. Chief Doane, the local head, found a blaze in a chimney. The tube was filled with soot and it took three extinguishers form the combination engine to put out the flames. No damage was caused by the fire.

WATSON SLANDER SUIT UP MONDAY

Trial of Saloonkeeper's Case Against Reville May Be Sensational.

IN THE SUPREME COURT

On Council Floor About a Year Ago Reville as a Member Attacked Character of Watson's Place and the Brand of Liquor Sold by Him.

The civil suit of Michael F. Watson, the Grant avenue saloon-keeper, against Councilman Patrick J. Reville, in which $10,000 damages are sought for alleged defamation of character, will come up for trial in the Supreme Court at Elizabeth on Monday. It is understood that both Mr. Watson and Mr. Reville have subpoened a large number of witnesses and the trial promises to be a sensational one. The plaintiff is represented by William R. Codington, while former Mayor G. W. V. Moy is counsel for the defendant.

The action is the outcome of remarks made by Councilman Reville at a meeting of the Common Council early last year, when the various applications for liquor licenses were before that body. In his capacity as a councilman Reville made an attack on the saloon-keeper, in which he referred to the alleged character of the place the latter conducted and also the alleged brand of liquor sold there. Reville voted against a renewal of the license.

Watson, through his attorney, filed a declaration many months ago, but there was a rumor that the case might never get to trial. At the opening of the Union county courts on Tuesday it was found that the cases was among those listed for the term. Both Mr. Moy and Mr. Codington are out of the city today.

MISS SLATTERY LECTURES HERE ON MONDAY NIGHT

Parents and teachers and all persons interested in training girls have a rare treat in store for them on Monday night when through the efforts of the Board of Education Miss Margaret Slattery, formerly of the Fitchburg Normal School and of such prominence in successful Sunday-school work, will speak in the auditorium of the Plainfield High School at 8 o'clock on "The Art of Prevention." The public is cordially invited to attend.

Here is a woman of rare personality who loves and understands girls—as girls—with all their individualities and tendencies who may in many other places open new avenues of thought and influence to the guardians of girlhood in whatever capacity.

Miss Slattery is most favorably known both as a writer and speaker out of her broad experience and an opportunity to hear her should not be passed by.

HOOD POLICE COURT HEARING ADJOURNED

Still Another Postponement in Disorderly Conduct Case is Taken Today.

The arraignment of Richard Haden Hood, on the charge of disorderly conduct preferred against him by his wife, Mrs. Frances Sparks Hood, on November 18, when it is alleged he broke into the Stelle avenue mansion which she owns and occupies, was again postponed today. Former City Judge W. R. Codington appear- before City Judge DeMeza this morning in behalf of Hood, who is being sued by his wife for a divorce on statutory grounds asked to have the hearing adjourned until a future date to be decided between himself and former State Senator Charles A. Reed, counsel for the complainant. Mr. Codington is representing Mr. Hood during the illness of his lawyer, Isaac P. Runyon.

In applying for the adjournment Mr. Hood, through counsel, said he would renew his promise to stay away from the Stelle avenue estate. When asked by Mr. Codington over the telephone if he would consent to stay away from his wife's domicile until decision has been made in the case Hood said: "Yes, anything to keep peace in the family."

RECOGNIZE LEAVITT AS CO. COLLECTOR

Action of State Officials Shows That He is Looked Upon as Regular.

State officials have officially recognized Nathan R. Leavitt, the incumbent under the old Board of Freeholders, of Union county, as county collector during the last few days, notwithstanding that the small board, controlled by Democrats, has appointed Abe J. David to the same office.

Mr. Leavitt paid over to the State the sum of $396,000, the county's share of the State school tax and was paid back from the State yesterday ninety per cent. of that amount, of $351,257.70, for the use of the county schools. Upon receipt of that money, Mr. Leavitt holds it, as county collector, until the State superintendent of schools issues drafts in favor of the city treasurer and the treasurers of the different municipalities in the county, which he in turn honors. When he forwarded the sum to the State, thirteen banks also recognized him as collector by certifying his checks for that amount.

The check for the portion due this county establishes the fact that the State recognizes Mr. Leavitt as county collector, for the check bears the signatures of the State Comptroller and State Treasurer.

The road commission also recognized Mr. Leavitt as collector a few days ago, when it paid over to him more than $20,000 for county roads. In Morris and Bergen counties, where dual boards are creating the same muddle as in this county, the small boards have not attempted to replace the old county collectors, because of the financial difficulties in which such action might involve the counties.

RUTGERS' CONCERT DREW BIG CROWD

G. Stanley Robins Makes the Big Hit at College Musical Club's Show.

"Rutgers night" was observed last night at the Hartridge Auditorium when an assemblage of young people enjoyed the combined offerings of the State College's Glee and Mandolin clubs. An informal dance after the concert added to the pleasure of the affair. The clubs presented a varied and typically college program in a highly creditable manner.

The feature of the entertainment was the excellent work of G. Stanley Robins, of this city, who captivated his audience with an old darky monologue-sermon in his role as recitationist. His southern dialect and portrayal of certain "liquor and terperintine spirits" was superb. He was twice encored in appreciation of his efforts. A close second to Robins' recitation was a specially arranged and danced by Robins and a "feminine" partner, Donald L. Havens. As G. Stanley entered from the wings in search of a mate Havens, in perfect impersonation of an attractive young woman arose from the audience and proceeded down the aisle and onto the stage where the two presented a "freak" dance.

From the opening chorus of "Bow-wow-wow" to the beautiful "On the Banks of the Old Raritan," Rutgers alma mater song, the program was given with a dash and a vim. Harry Smith, who, with Robins, were the two local men in the clubs, was listed as one of the first tenors. Theodore Sullivan, of Stelton, member of the mandolin quartette, was unable to appear owing to an injury in which three fingers were broken in a basketball game in the college gymnasium two days ago, and his place was filled by Albert G. Leeds. He was leader of the quartette as well as leader of the mandolin club.

H. K. Davies was presented with a large bouquet of sweetpeas as he concluded a successful bass solo, "Rolling Down to Rio."

One hundred and fifty couples participated in the dancing. The patroneses were Mrs. Charle W. McCutchen, Mrs. George H. Robins, Mrs. T. C. Overton, Mrs. J. A. VanMater, Mrs. H. W. Herrman, Mrs. Arthur Smith and Mrs. T. O. Doane.

The program follows:

Part I—Opening chorus, Rutgers Songs, Arr. by McKinley, '13; both clubs; Song of the Cannibal, Scott, glee club; "That Haunting Rag," Kunzberg, mandolin club; recitation (selected), G. Stanley Robins, '13; "Good Night, Good Night, Beloved," Reed, glee club; quartet, "Pickaninny Lullaby;" "Winter Song," Bullard, glee club.

Part II—"Jenk's Vegetable Compound," Macy, glee club; bass solo (selected), Harry K. Davies, '14; selections from "Little Boy Blue," mandolin club; "What You Will," G. Stanley Robins, accompanied; "Canoeing Song," Bowles, glee club; mandolin solo, "Pheghiera, Leon.' A. G. Leeds, '14; "On the Banks of the Old Raritan," Fuller, '74, glee club.

SHE DIED ALONE SITTING IN CHAIR

Miss Laura Randolph's Lifeless Body Found in Her Apartments.

PARALYSIS THE CAUSE

Apparently in Good Health Last Evening She Succumbed During the Night—Was Employed at the Recorder Press Office.

Miss Laura Randolph, aged about forty-five years, was found dead in her apartment at 402 Central avenue, about 10 o'clock this morning. The discovery was made by Mrs. Charles Davis, who lives at the same address. She summoned Dr. Norman W. Gurrie, who announced that death was due to a stroke of paralysis suffered during the night. She was evidently stricken before retiring for her body was found on a chair in the dining-room.

Dr. F. W. Westcott, the county physician, was notified and he is expected to view the body and issue a burial permit during the day.

Miss Randolph was about her apartments during the early part of the evening and she was apparently in her usual health. When Mrs. Davis failed to see her about this morning she became anxious and opening the door leading to her rooms was startled to find her sitting in a chair lifeless. For many years she had been lame owing to some hip trouble.

Miss Randolph was born at Alfred, N. Y., and during her residence here held a clerical position in the business office of the Recorder Press. She was a member of the Seventh Day Baptist church. Surviving her are a sister, who lives in California, and a number of cousins in this city.

"THE WOMAN OF IT" IS CONTINUOUS LAUGHTER

"Delightful," is the proper adjective to use when describing Frederick Lonsdale's successful English comedy, "The Woman of It," as presented by William A. Brady, Ltd., with Cyril Scott heading an all-star cast at the Plainfield theatre last night. Some comedies are really pathetic, but here is one that is genuinely funny and gives you the feeling that you have seen a real comedy superbly produced. The staging was most elaborate and all in very good taste but that is of minor importance when compared with the virtue of the cast selected by the Brady people. Cyril Scott was just himself and that is sufficient to make any play of this type a go, but Dallas Anderson essayed a role that proved an applause producer. His work was capital and the same thing might be said of that of Miss Janet Beecher, Miss Josephine Brown and Wallace Erskine.

"The Woman Of It" will be put on at the Thirty-ninth street theatre on Tuesday night, but before then there is apt to be some few changes in the last act—at least we think so.

AT HOLY CROSS CHURCH.

An opportunity to hear a young preacher of considerable eloquence and convincing power will be afforded at Holy Cross Episcopal church tomorrow morning. Rev. Franklin J. FOR SAFETY AT SEA.

Boston, Mass., Jan. 11.—Considerable interest is manifested in mercantile marine circles in the case of Captain John Hall, of the Allan Liner Numidian, who was given a hearing before United States Commissioned Tayes today on a charge of failing to have on board his ship efficient apparatus for radio-communication. Captain Hall was arrested under the provisions of the new law, passed as a result of the Titanic disaster, which requires high-power wireless apparatus on all ocean-going vessels.

LOCAL AMUSEMENTS.

The psychological effect of various scenes upon various audiences has long been a subject that has been studied minutely by scholars and students of humankind. No two congregations of people have been affected in the same way by the same scenes, so the authorities agree, but exception to this has been recorded by Al. G. Field who will bring his minstrels to the Plainfield theatre this afternoon and evening. Last season Mr. Field, in the spectacle "In Mexico" showed a gigantic ocean greyhound sailing across the stage. Suddenly without warning the liner sank, bow first. With the stern high in the air the miniature palace of the sea disappeared beneath the stage waters. The scene was most vivid, and throughout the season was one of the many hits of the performance. The night of the great Titanic disaster, the catastrophe that made the world mourn, the ship with the Al. G. Field Minstrels sank just the same as did the leviathan of the Atlantic. For weeks later the effect on the audience when that part of the performance was reached was the same—persons shuddered, and a pall settled over the audience that even the comedians felt. This season Mr. Field's aquatic display shows the Panama Canal with the first boat passing through the locks. While it is most instructive the comedy element is blended in Mr. Field's original way and every sense is satisfied. A mammoth historical and patriotic display is included in this spectacle which is but one of the several surprises that the noted minstrel has arranged for his twenty-seventh year.

STYLE SR RELIABILITY.

Don't Buy Cheap Clothes—They're Too Expensive

If cheapness is the only thing a suit has to recommend it—steer clear of it. If you don't it will prove mighty expensive to you in the end.

Remember a suit of clothes isn't purchased for a day, or a week or a month, but for 6 months or a year, or perhaps, 2 years.

At least that's what you can expect of Rothberg's clothing.

I like to give actual demonstrations. Will you give me a chance? Today is a good time to come in.

WHAT IS A "THOR" MORTORCYCLE

The Pride of the Boulevard and Boss Of the Turnpike.

(Finished in WHITE, & BLUE Striped)

Do you want a machine that has speed for the speed fiend, power for the mountain climber, quality durability, etc., perfect control, and when you go out for a ride you always ride back, you ride up the hills and do not push your machine up by mule power? Then ride a THOR. "WHY?" Because the THOR is built by the Aurora Automatic Machinery Co., who built the first gasoline motorcycle engine, or in other words they are the pioneers of the motorcycle, and the originators of the chain drive. If you are interested look me up. I will be at the THOR stand evenings from 6 to 10:30 at the Auto Show, Grand Central Palace, Balcony Floor Space No. 706 and would take pleasure in showing you the THOR 1913 models.

The Praise That Comes From Thankful Plainfield People.

One kidney remedy never fails.

Plainfield people rely upon it.

That remedy is Doan's Kidney Pills.

Plainfield testimony proves it always reliable.

Mrs. Earnest Dorflinger, 400 Clinton avenue, Plainfield, N. J., says: "I hold just as high an opinion of Doan's Kidney Pills today as I have for years. The cure they made in my case has been permanent and consequently I am glad to confirm my former testimonial." (Statement given January 19, 1911.)

On August 28, 1905, Mrs. Dorflinger gave the following account of her experience with Doan's Kidney Pills: "The first symptom of kidney trouble in my case was a dull, heavy pain in my back and head. This was followed by a tired, languid feeling and I knew that my kidneys were gradually giving out. I saw Doan's Kidney Pills advertised and getting a box at Randolph's drug store, I began their use. Before long my condition improved and I continued taking Doan's Kidney Pills until I was cured."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Happenings Due Next Week

Washington, D. C., Jan. 11.—William Rockefeller, the Standard Oil magnate, is expected to appear Monday as a witness before the Pujo Committee of the House of Representatives investigating the "Money Trust." Mr. Rockefeller's testimony is naturally awaited with great public interest, which his strenuous efforts to evade a subpoena have only served to increase.

The House Ways and Means Committee will resume its hearings on tariff revision Monday, taking up the schedules on wood and manufactures and silk and silk goods. Later in the week the important items of sugar, liquors, tobacco, pulp, paper and books will receive attention.

A national conference of the Prohibition party is to assemble in Indianapolis early in the week to plan for aggressive work in all parts of the country during the next four years.

The Customs Court in Washington will hear arguments Tuesday regarding the wood pulp and paper cases, in which European nations claim the right to send these commodities into the United States free of duty under the "most favored nation" clause of their treaties because free entry is granted Canada by the only operative section of the Canadian reciprocity agreement.

President Taft will go to Philadelphia Friday evening to attend a dinner to be given by the Clover Club of that city.

During the week the legislatures will begin their sessions in New Jersey, Wyoming, New Mexico, Texas, Iowa, South Carolina, Oregon, Utah, Idaho and Washington. In several of the States prospective senatorial contests add to the interest in the convening of the legislatures.

New governors will take office in Illinois, Missouri, Indiana, North Carolina, Kansas and several other States.

Plans for the celebration of the Perry Centennial next year will be discussed at Sandusky, O., Tuesday, at a meeting of the several boards and committees of the Perry Centennial Commission.

The entire membership of the two houses of the French parliament will assemble in the historic Palace of Versailles next Friday to elect a President of France for the next seven years. It is contrary to tradition for a President to accept a second term. Hence President Pallieres will not be a candidate. The latest dispatches from Paris indicate that M. Poincare, the present premier, is generally regarded as the probable choice of the national assembly for the presidency. Several other candidates are in the field, however, and the ultimate selection cannot be positively foretold.

BANKRUPTCY PROCEEDINGS.

Trenton, Jan. 11.—Involuntary bankruptcy proceedings were instituted in the United States District Court yesterday by Rose Tecotzky, of New Brunswick. The petitioning creditors are Benjamin Gertz, of Jamaica, Long Island; Henry S. Spritzer, of New Brunswick, and Carl Putterman, of New York. The claims of these creditors aggregate $775. Judge Relistab appointed Joseph P. Tepper, of New Brunswick, as receiver and fixed his bond at $5,000. A voluntary petition in bankruptcy was instituted in the United States District Court yesterday by Montefiore G. Kahn, a clerk, of Long Branch. He places his liabilities at $13,894, and assets at $200.

PLAINFIELD, NEW JERSEY, JANUARY 11, 1913.

The editorial columns of this paper are conducted on Saturdays by representative citizens who are free to express their own views. William G. Besler, vice president and general manager of the Jersey Central Railroad Company, is the contributing editor for today.

TRANSPORTATION.

"In considering the needs of any section or community in the matter of its transportation facilities, a railroad must endeavor to do so from the standpoint of absolute impartiality, taking into account each and every one of its other communities served, and what may be the effect of any action, not only upon the point under special scrutiny, but upon all of the others, by reason of their relation, direct or indirect, to the problem.

The law now provides that one may not grant to any locality, organization, association or individual, any special privileges or advantages not open alike to all under similar conditions and circumstances, and every person must be served alike and without discrimination.

The moral of the old song, "All Coons Look Alike to Me," finds its full application.

There has been some discussion on, "What's the Matter With Plainfield?"

Who has said, or who has pointed out specifically that there is anything radically wrong or "the matter with Plainfield," and what foundation is there in fact for any such remark?

To the exact contrary, there is nothing at all "the matter with Plainfield," and if there be any doubts upon this question, just observe the performance of some of our citizens after a few weeks' sojourn in some other locality.

Metaphorically speaking, they come back singing "Home Sweet Home" with such volume, and pitched in such key that their neighbors might well suspect they have have fallen off the water wagon.

Let us analyze for a moment just a few of the factors that go to make Plainfield a good place to live in:

First is its ACCESIBILITY. We need not to stop to argue concerning its unequalled passenger service. A comparison with any other point similarly situated establishes this.

Second, and of equal importance commercially, are its exceptional INDUSTRIAL ADVANTAGES, which are probably but little understood or realized by our average citizen.

Thus, Plainfield possesses the two great requisites which insure stability in growth and prosperity. It is an axiom that availability must be coupled with accessibility in successful commercial enterprise.

Next is its DIVERSITY OF INTERESTS. Let us consider the case of the simplest unit of society, viz.—the family: If it be a large one, there must be a division of labor and a diversity of employment.

This thought, carried to our larger and aggregate family which resides in Plainfield, finds full application in its resources for furnishing employment and sustaining a population. No community can prosper without it.

Property adjacent to railroad tracks is ordinarily not a desirable residential section, but it is ideal for factory and commercial purposes.

These in turn furnish employment for expert workmen, and as such men usually wish to live near or in the vicinity of their shops and places of labor, their modest but generally well kept homes come within the next zone of building operation. These people—good, honest, industrious citizens and taxpayers—make up our large middle class, and often from their homes come some of our very best young business men, they having had the advantage, as boys, of our excellent schools, with the possibilities of our High School, which in its course is the equal now of many of the smaller colleges and universities of fifteen or twenty years ago.

Beyond, and further back from the necessary disturbances of traffic come our better residential streets, with property values to correspond, and generally the homes of New York business men.

Our business section is centralized, as is the common practice, but we have a very fair scattering of smaller shops conveniently located, and serving each its local trade and taking care of local requirements.

Thus we have here a well balanced combination, with a fundamental symmetry which spells "Success;" but each and every element of which could not, or would not, live in Plainfield except for ADEQUATE TRANSPORTATION.

If this statement is seriously questioned, how is it in the case of Scotch Plains, New Market, or Pluckamin, all of which are situated topographically the equal of Plainfield, and are older in their existence?

Nor should we overlook the press.

It has been said that there are three things which nearly everyone feels he is fully competent to do, viz:—

Run a Railroad,
Run a Newspaper, and Run a Hotel.

Well, let some of us try to run a newspaper, for even only one day, and let us see the botch we would make of it, after which there might perhaps be more sympathy for those enterprising and energetic men in our community who are doing their part, and in the face of competition of the Metropolitan press, are giving to Plainfield and this vicinity our daily newspapers filled with matter of local interest and concern, and with sufficient condensed news of the outside world to keep anyone fully advised as to what is taking place right up to date.

Then there are our churches, our lodges and our public institutions. But these are topics for another paper and by another contributor.

There are some who are impatient concerning the growth and development of Plainfield and its vicinity.

Mushroom growths, unbalanced land operations and inflations of value in speculations and booms, are not a healthy growth or development, nor a desirable condition of affairs.

The speculator does not remain in the community. He unloads, if he can, at a profit, and disappears to fields anew. He usually leaves nothing of permanent benefit behind him.

Plainfield has all of the speculation in outlying properties that is good for it. It is far better to make a healthy sound growth based upon actual conditions and commercial requirements, than otherwise.

What answer may be given to the oft repeated question, "will the Jersey Central have a tunnel or tube connection?"

He would be a bold man who would undertake to say that the Jersey Cenral will never have a tunnel connection with New York.

When the existing McAdoo Tubes were planned, the Jersey Central was included in the scheme. Just what blocked its developments, or prevented its construction, we may not discuss here.

We believe that in its proper time there will be a choice offered to the Jersey Central patrons of tube or ferry transportation, as may suit their convenience.

In the reconstruction of the Communipaw Passenger Terminal consideration has been given to this feature, and provision made whereby a tunnel connection may be secured when such condition reaches the stage of its actual development.

Meanwhile, the lack of a tunnel connection, while inconvnient at times, has not been at all serious, as statistics covering the volume of passenger travel before and since the construction of the tunnels demonstrate.

On the first of May next, with the advent of the Lehigh Valley Railroad into the Communipaw Terminal, there will be four large trunk lines using that place, with the possibility of a fifth very large line also coming into that station.

We have, in fact, at the Communipaw Terminal, the only union depot serving the City of New York.

Just a word concerning the reconstructed Terminal.

The existing large train shed will be demolished early in the year, and in its place there will be erected the low modern type known as the bush shed, with increased width of platforms between the tracks, and with twenty tracks under cover.

Long ramps, with easy incline, will be provided at either side of the waiting room—a flight of stairs will lead up through the waiting room itself to the upper deck, where a large concourse capable of accommodating 2,000 or more persons if need be, will be erected above the team floor, and giving access to the upper decks of the ferries.

The ferryhouse itself will be pratically a duplicate of the frontage as seen at the Liberty Street and 23rd Street Terminals.

And now in conclusion:

The Jersey Central has conscientiously tried to live up to its motto that "A Satisfied Patron is its Best Advertisement," with its corollary that "A Contented Body of Employes is its Best Asset."

In this endeavor it has been fortunate, in that it serves the most loyal and best natured lot of patrons traveling in and out of the great Metropolis.

The explanation, if any be needed, for such a condition of affairs, may be found in the fact that a policy of co-operation, and a mutual attempt to please and to be pleased exists as the keystone of the arch of this relationship.

We appreciate the patience and forbearance of our passengers, and their cheerful disposition to accommodate themselves to the accommodations while the difficulties of endeavoring to maintain traffic under construction conditions is going on.

One does not grumble at nor find fault with a good servant, nor do good neighbors disagree and indulge in controversy.

So long as there exists a spirit of mutual helpfulness, so long does each endeavor to excel in praises of, and good-will toward the other.

When in any community there is a thoughtful consideration of the interests of that railroad company which is endeavoring to the best of its ability to provide satisfactory transportation to meet existing requirements, it is safe to predict that there will be found an efficint service, offering to the public reasonable facilities.

It should be borne in mind that there is only one thing of any size in this country the price of which has not gone up materially in the past fifteen years. That thing is RAILROAD TRANSPORTATION.

Finally, when all is said and done, not only are the people of this country dependent for their further growth and development, but for their very existence itself, upon a safe, serviceable and sufficient system of transportation.

EXPECT HOT FIGHT AT GOLF MEETING

Leighton Calkins Figures in Scrap in U. S. Association Which Meets Tonight.

There promises to be a lively time at the annual meeting of the United States Golf Association at Sherry's in New York, tonight, for much discussion has arisen of late over the alleged "autocracy" of the method of making nominations for the association's officers. The fight is now on between the radicals, composed of New Yorkers, and the conservatives, comprising the western golfers.

Now comes Leighton Calkins, president of the Plainfield Country Club and a noted lawyer (golf and regular), says the N. Y. Herald "to have his say, and it may be noted that Mr. Calkins has acquired a reputation for having his say ultimately 'go' he being a sort of John C. Spooner brand of 'great compromiser.'"

Mr. Calkins sets forth at great length arguments to disprove the statement that the nominating committee is a self-perpetuating body. He says that it used to be prior to 1909, because each year the executive committee appointed the nominating committee. Mr. Calkins says that his amendment which was adopted now provides that the committee shall be elected at the annual meeting, and he says that the charges are misleading; that there is no clique controling the situation. However, the matter is likely to be threshed out at tonight's meeting in lively fashion.

AL FIELD'S MINSTRELS HAS A GOOD BAND

Plainfield people today heard a gold band for the first time, the organization, a part of the Al. G. Field Greater Minstrels, offering a concert this morning during the parade the minstrel men made, and another program was rendered this afternoon before the matinee at the Plainfield theatre. The band makes another appearance tonight. All the instruments are finished in gold, even the double bass horns, the largest manufactured, being covered with a triple gold plate. Prof. William Walters, the leader of the organization, spent the past summer at the factory and personally inspected each horn as it was turned out by the makers. The gold scheme is carried out even to the decorative work on the brass drums.

UNION CO. PROGRESSIVES ORGANIZE FOR CAMPAIGN

The Progressives of Union county met last night in the Elizabeth Y. M. C. A. Hall and decided to continue their fight as a real political party without accepting any of the suggestions of Frank A. Munsey. In other words, they formed a genuine and ostensibly permanent organization to be known as the Progressive County Committee. The officers elected are as follows:

Chairman, Joan K. English; vice chairman, Frederick S. Taggart; secretary, Welcome W. Bedder; treasurer, John R. Rankin. The organization of the committee was the result of the obtaining by the Progressives of the right to participate in the primaries next fall, and means that the T. R. men will place a primary ticke in the field.

A committee was appointed to arrange for a dollar dinner to be held in Elizabeth in a few weeks.

Y. M. C. A. COLLEGE LEAGUE RESULTS ARE ANNOUNCED

At the second rally meeting held in the Y. M. C. A. auditorium this morning, boys' secretary C. Wm. Bingeman read the records of the week in both the College and Indian Leagues. On Thursday afternoon a leaders' examination was held in the gym for those who desired to qualify for the leaders' corps and resulted in six out of the seventeen passing the prescribed test with an average of over seventy-five per cent., the successful ones being Arthur Stout, Clarence Krausse, Russel Tomlinson, Chester Alpaugh, Lorenzo Brower and Russel Beekman.

The closing of the week's work in the College League resulted in Captain Krausse's team, known as Harvard, holding down the top rung with a total of 287 points. Penn, captained by Arthur Stout, was second with 229 points; Yale, led by Esty Foster, came next with 206; and Princeton, with Edward Ryder at the helm, pulled up in the rear with 198 points. Harvard's lead is due to two new members that were brought in by members of the team.

INJURED FIREMAN ON LEAVE.

Captain George Feiring, of Engine House No. 2, who was badly burned at the fire in the cleaning establishment of Miss Mary A. Brown, in the rear of the United Shoe Repairing Company's store, has been relieved from duty until Monday on account of the serious nature of the burns he received around his face and hands.

SALVATION ARMY.

A Strong Editorial

"Many of us 'kick' when premium-day comes; many have rather freely and ignorantly assailed the life insurance companies for certain past errors of a few; but every man jack of us feels a little prouder of himself and much surer of the future of his family when he has got his policy; many of us repent bitterly when we are too old or disease has caught us that we didn't 'take out' a plumper policy when we could; for the weaker or more prodigal of us life insurance is the only way of saving; therefore, more success to the companies and their indefatigable and persuasive agents, and may their rate books be as low and their doctors be as merciful as science permits."

SOME STRAY ONES OF OLD NEW YORK

News and Notes Culled for the Interest and Instruction of Busy Men.

New York, Jan. 11.—The New Yorkers, or at least a great many of them, evidently are not satisfied with the safe and sane celebrations which the municipality provides on special occasions like the Fourth of July, Christmas and New Years Day. They do not object to the entertainment provided, but they want in addition to it as much of the old unsafe and insane ways of celebrating as they can possibly get. The New Years eve celebrations in New York, especially during recent years, were a disgrace to the city. It seemed as if all the pent up rowdyism of the multitude, all the hysterical craving for noise and excitement sought an outlet and gratification on that night and all night panademonium reigned supreme along Broadway and practically all the streets of the Bowery and the Tenederloin districts. It was with the hope of putting an end to the senseless noise and the display of rowdyism on New Years eve that the city authorities, supported by the better elements among the citizens tried the experiment of arranging public celebrations with music and other features of entertainment. But the rowdyism would not be downed so easily and there was enough of it taroughout the city to satisfy the toughest hoodlum.

To makes things a little livelier the striking walters made an attack with bricks and paving blocks upon the Hotel Astor which was alive with merry-making crowds. The police reserves had to be called out to subdue and disperse the strikers. Some of them were captured and order was finally restored. It is safe to say that the striking walters did not win much sympathy from the recent element among the citizens by their violence.

The suicide the other day under rather peculiar circumstances of Barrington Hutton, a young man of twenty-one years, and the son of a wealthy retired business man, attracted considerable attention. Last winter the young man was working contentedly with the railroad company at Panama, but in the Spring his father, who missed the companionship of his favorite son, called him home. Since then young Hutton had nothing to do and being of an active disposition, the feeling of being dependent upon his father had a highly depressing influence upon him. In his morose condition the young man began to worry over religious matters and to attend church and Sunday-school exercises. He attended a meeting of the Y. M. C. A. at Tarrytown and heard a sermon by John D. Rockefeller, Jr., the sanctimonious son of the Oil King. Hutton's mind being in an abnormal condition made him receptive for all the cheap claptrap of the sermon. So deeply did the young man become impressed with Mr. Rockefeller's words that he went home and hanged himself. The fact that he took the sermon seriously is considered proof of the abnormal condition of the young man's mind.

The much talked-of Film Bill, which proposed the creation of a Board of Censors for moving picture films to be exhibited in this city, has been vetoed by Mayor Gaynor. He took the stand that such a law was unnecessary and would mean an infringeemnt upon the rights of free utterance and would interfere with the unhampered pursuance of a legitimate business. Mayor Gaynor requested the movers of the bill to give him a single instance where immoral or improper films had been displayed in the city, but they were unable to do so. In view of this fact the Mayor maintained that it was unnecessary to create such a law and to anticipate trouble that did not exist.

The other night the maid of Mrs. George B. McIntyre, wife of a wealthy builder living on West Ninety-third street, telephoned to Police headquarters that her mistress had caught a burglar in the house and asked to send some officers to the house to take charge of the prisoner. Two detectives were sent to the house in great hurry and arrived there breathlessly, only to find that the only one in the house who needed prompt relief was the burglar. When the detectives arrived the maid who received them, directed them to the bathroom. There they found the burglar, bent back over the edge of the bathtub, while Mrs. McIntyre, perfectly calm and smiling, held the intruder in his uncomfortable position, her strong hand clutching his throat and nearly strangling him. The burglar was evidently glad when the detectives arrived and released him from the grasp of Mrs. McIntyre's hand.

There has been a great deal of noise throughout the country about the high price of eggs, due to the tactics of the egg trust, but nowhere did the prices reach the record established last week by a poultry man exhibiting at the Madison Square Garden poultry show. He sold eggs at the price of $5 apiece or $50 a dozen and there seemed to be considerable demand for these eggs. These eggs come from a new breed of chickens which a noted fancier at Lakewood is raising and are, at least for the present, not intended for food purposes.

Burglars entered the office of a manufacturing concern in Manhattan the other night, removed a safe weighing 800 pounds from the building, carried the heavy load to Long Island City, blew it open in an open field and after taking all the cash they could find, left the shattered safe on a dump. The police did not know anything about the burglary until the broken safe was found by some boys who notified the police department. Now the authorities are looking for fingerprints.

The police were more fortunate, however, in another case, when they arrested five men and two young women, who, it is charged, have been blowing open and robbing safes in the Bronx for many months. Scores of safes in the Bronx were robbed during the past month or two, but the police authorities were unable to find any trace of the burglars. The timely arrest of one of the members of the gang upon another charge led to the discovery of the rest of the gang and eventually their arrest.

The other day a little boy was run over and killed by an automobile and five women claimed the body as that of their own offspring. It took several hours of search and investigation to convince four of the mothers that the dead boy was not theirs. Finally there was only one claimant left and as the child was proven to be hers, the body was turned over to her.

A. V. BIRD, P. M.

TO THE VOTERS OF PLAINFIELD:

Have you ever stopped to think that one of the arguments which has appealed most strongly to many of our best citizens of all classes to make Plainfield their home city is the fact that an unwritten law has led the Honorable Members of our City Council to grant no additional liquor licenses either inside or outside the so-called "Tyler License Zone."

Do you realize that a strong effort is being made to induce the members of the Council to grant new additional licenses and to renew others heretofore canceled, also to enlarge the "License Zone" further into the residential districts?

Every voter who is opposed to the granting of such licenses and the enlarging of the zone is urged to sign at once the following blank and forward promptly to Wm. T. Schmittman, Secretary, 208 Madison avenue.

ANTI-LICENSE COMMITTEE.

The undersigned, a resident and a legal voter in the City of Plainfield, hereby protests against the granting of any new or additional licenses or any extension of the so-called "Tyler Zone" in this city.

The Sacred Bo Tree.

On the night of Oct. 7, 1887, the tree worshipers of Ceylon met with an irreparable calamity. During one of the worst storms that ever raged on the island their sacred bo tree was thrown to the ground. The oldest written description of this wonderful tree known to exist is that by Fa Hiam, a Chinese historian and traveler, who visited the tree in the year 414 A. D. According to the learned Chinaman, it was then 702 years old, having been planted by King Devinipiatissa in the year 288 before our era began. If the above data be correct, and there is no reason for doubting it, the bo tree was more than 2,175 years old when the storm ended its career on the date mentioned above.

GEORGE F. BAKER LEAVING CAPITOL WITH HIS SON AFTER TESTIFYING

GEO. F. BAKER AND SON AFTER TESTIFYING BEFORE PUJO COMMITTEE
PHOTO © 1913 BY AMERICAN PRESS ASSOCIATION

Washington, Jan. 11.—New York's most active "money baron," George F. Baker, chairman of the board of directors of the First National bank, partner of J. P. Morgan and trustee in banking and railroad companies of huge resources, was the star witness before the money trust committee. Baker is known as the "active Morgan" of Wall street. He is said to be Morgan's personification of financial domination, filling the shoes of the magnate since the latter's partial retirement from active business. Many called him "Wall street's biggest man." The above was taken as Mr. Baker and his son were leaving the capitol.

MULAI-ABD-EL-HAFID.

He Is the Ex-Sultan of Morocco, Who Recently Abdicated.

All sorts of false reports have been published regarding the abdication of Mulai-Abd-el-Hafid. It was stated that he resigned the sultanate of Morocco because he found that his tendencies were German and that his rule therefore would obstruct the progress under a French protectorate. Then again it was said that he was hated immensely by the foreign elements, which have been growing so numerously in the empire of late, making it impossible for him to continue his reign.

The truth is told in his own words. On the day before his abdication he said to General Lyautey, commander of the French forces in Morocco, "I am no longer sultan. When the French took hold of the government of Morocco I became a puppet on the throne. I cannot exercise the autocratic sway of my ancestors. I shall formally proclaim my abdication and will hope that my people will thrive better under French rule."

Ruling Morocco does not seem to be a very pleasant job. Some five years ago Mulai-Abd-el-Hafid waged a campaign of revolt against his brother, who was then ruler, and succeeded in overthrowing the regime. He was proclaimed sultan at Marakash on Aug

MULAI-ABD-EL-HAFID.

25, 1907, and now this insurgent sovereign felt himself compelled to vacate the throne in favor of his younger brother, Mulai-Youssef.

And now again a pretender has arisen in the person of El-Hiba, a fanatic Moor, who does not hesitate to commit any kind of cruelty or torture to force his way to the palace at Fez.

The French forces have all they can do to deal with the guerrilla warfare of the wild tribes under El-Hiba.

It is understood that the new "prince of true believers" was selected with the consent of General Lyautey in accordance with a secret arrangement made between the French foreign minister and the abdicated sultan as far back as Nov. 7 of last year by which it was agreed the sultan should be permitted to choose his heir when the inevitable day of his resignation is come. This ended a brief reign of a crowded month which included the famous Agadir affair and the resultant settlement of the French protectorate over Morocco.

The ex-sultan receives a liberal allowance and the honors due to a sovereign who has resigned voluntarily.

Poisons in Foods.

In nearly all our condiments we eat poison. The oils of nutmeg, cloves, black pepper, cinnamon, peppermint, carraway, horseradish, thyme, etc., are all poisonous in large doses. Black pepper contains a fiery volatile oil capable of burning a hole in your stomach if it was not mixed on, while its piperine is a sure poison. Cayenne pepper is still more irritant.

Avoid greediness. In a cottage there may be found more real happiness than kings or their favorites enjoy in palaces—Horace.

IN WOMAN'S REALM

The KITCHEN CUPBOARD

CHRISTMAS CRULLERS.

THE children like these crisp and delicious cakes, which can be made in a variety of forms.

If you have a jigging iron you can make beautiful little lattice effects, first cutting your dough into small squares and then making slits with your iron. By pushing one or two of the strips in one direction and one or two in another you can make extremely pretty cakes.

Then make rounds with a hole in the middle and fry the "nuts," which come from the hole.

A Model Recipe.

Paragon Crullers.—Take half a pound of butter and cream it with three-quarters of a pound of powdered sugar. Stir into this six eggs, beaten light, the whites and yolks separately, a teaspoonful of mixed cinnamon and nutmeg and enough flour to make a rather stiff dough. Roll thin, cut into shapes and fry to golden yellow.

Have the fat deep enough and at the stage where a cake dropped into it will turn the right color in less than a minute.

Take the crullers from the fat with a wire spoon and put them to drain on a soft paper laid in a colander.

Sprinkle with powdered sugar.

The Children's Delight.

Plain Crullers.—Take one egg, one cup of sugar, one cup of sour milk, butter the size of an egg, one-half teaspoonful of soda and about three and one-half cups of flour. The softer the consistency of the dough the better, and as soon as they come out of the fat they should be sugared.

New England Crullers.—Mix together one large cup of sugar, two eggs, four cups of flour, butter the size of an egg, one cup of milk, a pinch of salt and one heaping teaspoon of baking powder. Roll out and cut. Fry in hot lard.

French Crullers.—Take two cupfuls of milk and boil with a quarter of a pound of butter. While the milk is boiling put in two cupfuls of flour, stirring the mixture until it loosens itself from the sides of the dish. Then turn the paste on a plate and when it is nearly cold mix with it the yolks of eight eggs, two tablespoonfuls of sugar and at the last the stiffly beaten whites of the eggs. Put the paste into a pastry bag and force directly into the fat. Fry the cakes a light brown and dust with powdered sugar.

SMART FANCIES.

Coats and Hats Are Much Trimmed With Fur.

Bolero coats of plain velvet in odd colors are still holding their place in fashion's favor.

A charming model of seal brown velvet had trimmings of old gold plush and skunk fur.

The small turbans of white fox are being worn by many Parisiennes. These are simply trimmed with a single flower, an ornament of braid or a small bunch of colored aigrets.

Children's hats are trimmed with plaited bands of velvet in several tones or fantasies of plumage.

The two piece skirt is still very popular. The model shown here is a very handsome one with its attractive side plaits and panel. Serge combined with velvet was used for this.

FADS OF FASHION IN GAY NEW YORK

Laces Being Much Used in Trimming Gowns, Coats, Blouses and Hats.

New York, January 11.—One of the most striking features of present day fashion is the extensive use of laces for the trimming of gowns, coats, blouses and hats. Every known variety of laces is used for some purpose, but it requires good taste and judgment to select the right kind of lace in each individual case. The use of white laces on dark gowns is always a dangerous experiment. When such a combination is used the laces should be of very good quality. A touch of real lace on a dark gown will lend distinction and dignity to it. But the dark colors bring the lace so much into prominence that it must needs be of a very good quality or the gown is hopelessly cheapened.

Inexpensive laces may be used to any extent on thin summer materials and they add a note of daintiness and airyness. The thinness and lightness of most summer materials do not vie with the laces for prominence, but the one blends in with the other and there are no sharp contrasts. Lace flounces on thin materials add both to the material and the general effect of the attire, but lace flounces on either skirt or bodice in dark winter materials give an appearance of fussiness which is always to be avoided.

Thin nets and laces which are not real may be used for high collars and yokes, for here they are not placed on the material itself and the flesh beneath them softens them. They are placed in juxtaposition to the material of the gown, but not on it. Wherever lace is placed on a material so that it brings out strongly the pattern of the lace and its quality, it must be one that can bear inspection or it had better not be used at all.

Crepe de Chine and China silk will be extensively used this spring, and crepe de Chine as a lining is really ideal. Women have grown rather accustomed to the heavy brocades and silk as linings for fur and evening wraps, and yet nothing could be a greater mistake, for these heavy garments need a soft lining to preserve the soft, clinging lines demanded this year.

Black crepe de Chine for mourning is used almost entirely for indoor gowns and trimmings of white crepe on these gowns are being used more and more. In fact white mourning crepe as trimmings and for entire waists is much in demand. White crepe is becoming more popular each day and the shops are showing all manner of neck-pieces made of this material. White collars and jabots are edged with it and entire bows made of it. There is a softness and simplicity about it which make it suitable for mourning where one wishes to relieve the heavy effect of first mourning.

There is every indication that straw hats will be worn a great deal during the spring season. The importers are already beginning to show some of the new models. There seems to be a gradual tendency toward hats that roll up at the side and back and are trimmed at the back. Some straw models with high crowns and tiny brims are also shown, though on the larger hats the crowns are quite flat or melon shaped. There is a scoop shaped hat which rolls up at the back and has almost a bonnetlike effect and with one single plume posed in the back makes a charming frame for a pretty face.

Most of the straw braids seen so far are extremely fine and narrow and as many of these hats will be made by hand they are likely to be rather expensive, in consequence of the cost of the extra labor required in the making. This is offset in a measure by the scantiness of the trimmings, for they still continue small.

Tiny little wings, shaped like Mercury or butterfly wings, are used as a flat low trimming, and for the high trimmings long narrow strips of velvet are posed to stand straight up in front, and look like long blades of grass. Jet, malines and Crede de Chine play an important part in millinery trimmings, and many hats have the entire crown covered with this self-same crepe.

There are straws too, so finely woven as to resemble crepe. Ribbons with borders in Greek pattern are extremely attractive, and one small hat which turned up sharply at the back had a large bow of this ribbon which fell gracefully over the hair and, in fact, completely covered it.

There is a great vogue of artificial flowers just now and they are used extensively for adornment. Lawn and satin flowers are more worn than velvet, and with colored gowns in the evening a very large black flower is often introduced on the front of the decolletage, or the left side of the waist. Orchids with maidenhair fern covered with tiny rhinestones, like dew, are great favorites, but they must be often renewed. Nothing is so unattractive as shabby flowers. Bunches of violets are very much favored, as are also preserved asparagus ferns. Many of the flowers women are wearing are perfumed. This requires some caution to prevent overdoing it.

For head-dress artificial flowers are not worn much, although ones in a while some bride may wear artificial lilies of the valley or orange blossoms in her hair. A good deal of care is needed in pinning bouquets to garments so as not to interfere with the line of the figure. The stems, if long and stiff, should be cleverly hidden, and when tucked into the front of a coat for day wear they should not be too near the face. Flowers should be chosen not only to accord with the gown, but with the complexion, the hair and the individual coloring generally, the great aim being to render them becoming.

Day coats are much the same as those for evening wear. All are made in conspicuous colors and stuffs, although the more elegant are in combinations of black and white.

Smart women are clinging persistently to the short skirt, although quite a number of clinging, trained skirts appear, bordered with fur.

Very novel is the double-breasted blouse coat, which below the waist is pointed at front and back, to form a knee-length tunic.

The Chinese influence is making itself felt strongly this winter, both in interior furnishings and in the embroideries on gowns and suits.

The separate blouse has by no means been consigned to the background. Tailored varieties of white satin and Crepe de Chine are trimmed with large gold ball-buttons and colored velvet collars and cuffs.

Colored neck bows adorn many blouses; these are fashioned of Crepe de Chine in robin's-egg-blue, coral, yellow and red.

The Roman striped silks now displayed in the shops are very effective when cut into sash length and worn on black, white or blue gowns.

In almost every instance gowns are draped and cleverly manipulated folds are caught up with buckles, flowers or bows.

Bright green tailored suits are a novelty worn by many fashionable women in Paris as well as here.

PANTHER, AFTER WEATHERING FIERCE HURRICANE, IS REPORTED SAFE AT GUANTANAMO, CUBA

COALING THE PANTHER.

COMMANDER DE STEIGUER.

Guantanamo, Cuba, Jan. 11.—Weathering the ninety mile hurricane which swept down upon her soon after she left New York and strewed the Atlantic coast with shipwreck and disaster, the naval repair ship Panther arrived safely at this port, halting a wireless search for her which had been in progress since Sunday night and allaying a growing feeling of uneasiness among those who had friends and relatives on board. Carrying abundant material for the repair of the vessels of the Atlantic fleet soon to begin practice in West Indian water and commanded by Commander Louis Rudolph de Steiguer, of Ohio, a seasoned naval officer who served with distinction on board the battleship Illinois in the famous globe encircling cruise of the American war fleet, the Panther left New York at noon on Jan. 2, bound for the naval station at Guantanamo. The alarm for her safety arose from the fact that no wireless communication with her could be obtained after the gale of last Friday, although she was equipped with a wireless outfit sufficient, it was believed, to enable her to keep in communication with vessels in the lanes of traffic to the West Indies.

SPORTS OF ALL SORTS

WITH THE BOXERS

Jack Britton, the Chicago lightweight, may go to England and clash with Freddie Welsh.

When Mexican Joe Rivers and Leach Cross meet in New York, January 14, they will weigh in at 133 pounds ringside.

Eddie McCoorty and Freddie Hicks, the Detroit middleweight, have been matched to box ten rounds in New York, January 15.

By knocking out Andy Morris in New York the other night, Fred McKay, of Winnipeg, has blossomed out as a new "hope."

After stopping Abe Attell, Ollie Kirk, the St. Louis featherweight, made a poor showing in his recent bout with Champion Kilbane.

Arthur Pelky, of Chicopee, Mass., has challenged Luther McCarty to box him for $5,000 a side. What is it, a new cough syrup or an ad for Chicopee?

Even if Luther McCarty were willing to fight Jack Johnson, it is a question whether or not a promoter could be found willing to stage the bout. Johnson will have to stand trial in the Federal Court under the "white slave" act, and it matters little to boxing fans whether he is declared innocent or guilty. He is pretty much a dead one.

BASEBALL NOTES

Jimmy Ryan, who was a star with Capt. Anson several years ago, is out to land a job as scout for the Chicago Cubs.

"Iron Man" Joe McGinnity has purchased the Wacoma Club, of the Northwestern League, and will manage and pitch for his team next season.

Pitcher Ralph Swett, of Fall River, Mass., has been signed by the Kewanee Club, of the Central Association. A pitcher with that name has no fear of hot weather.

According to Manager Jimmy Callahan no anti-drink clause is inserted in the White Sox contracts. Nothing like that in the Sox family, asserts Jim. Let the Cubs do it.

Manager Joe Tinker, of the Cincinnati Reds, has great faith in the "come back" of Pitcher Mordecai Brown, and believed that the "Miner" will deliver the goods next season.

Charley Buelow, the old Cleveland player, who has been out of the game several years, says that he is still there as a pastimer and wants a trial with the Cedar Rapids, Iowa, team.

There seems to be trouble ahead for Presdinet McAleer, of the Champion Red Sox. Only two regular members of his team, Yerkes and Cady, have, so far, affixed their monaker to 1913 contracts.

Bill Bergen, the Baltimore catcher and former backstop for the Brooklyn Superbas, has purchased a farm near Worcester, Mass., with the intention of leading the simple life when his baseball days are over.

For the second time in his baseball career Tommy McMillan has slipped from the big show back to the minors. Both the Cincinnati Reds and the Yankees have tried him out, but for some reason or other Tommy couldn't stick.

PARK CLUB BOWLERS WIN AT NEWARK BAY

Took Two out of Three Games Played on Rival's Alleys Last Night.

Bowling with a substitute in the lineup, the Park Club team, of this city, defeated the Newark Bay Club on the Newark Bay alleys, last night, taking two out of the three contests played. Barlow and Eoff, two of the best pinmen on the team, were unable to attend, but despite the weakened condition of the aggregation, it was able to annex the first contest, put up a good losing fight in the second and come out with colors flying in the third and deciding game.

Hard luck also hovered over the local bowlers, as they missed nine spares, but came back with a team average of 916 1-3 per cent. In the second contest, which was the one taken by the home team, a lot of splits put the Plainfield pinners in the rear. "Pete" Long averaged 210 for the three games and in the roll off it was his high-mark of 247 that made a victory possible for the visitors.

DONLIN ASKS DOOIN FOR SHORT RELEASE

Donlin Makes Good on His Statement to a Daily Press Reporter.

In keeping with the statement he made to a Daily Press reporter last Saturday Mike Donlin, the great baseball clouter, has notified Manager Dooin, of the Phillies, that he would not be able to report to the team in time for the spring training trip, because of his theatrical engagements, and he has asked the permission of the management to be allowed to report on April 1. From all reports Dooin does not seem to be at all pleased with the request as he feels that it will take a lot of work for the former Pittsburgher to get down to playing weight, and even though he is wanted only for his hitting, Dooin thinks that Donlin will hardly be in shape to be of much service to the club before midsummer if he does not go South with the team.

Mike, however, seems to have different opinions on the subject, as he said when here that he was in the finest kind of condition at present and could step up to the plate and clout them to the four corners of the lot at a moment's notice.

AUTOMOBILE SHOW OPENS.

New York, Jan. 11.—Madison Square Garden opents its doors tonight for the thirteenth National Automobile Show under the auspices of the Association of Licensed Automobile Manufacturers. If the number, variety and high class of the exhibits count for anything the show this year is certain to establish a new record for general success. Nearly 2,000 products of various makers are included in the display, the exhibits ranging from completed cars of the most luxurious pattern to the smallest fittings used in automobile manufacture. The decorations of the interior of the Garden are of a most elaborate nature. The general scheme is a reproduction of the Palace of Versailles.

AJAX WILL REOPEN SCHEDULE TONIGHT

After a Two Weeks' Respite it Will Take on Bound Brook Team.

Basketball will be reinstated at the Y. M. C. A. tonight, when the Ajax get back on the floor after a two week's respite. Their opponents will be the speedy Young Men's Club quintet, of South Bound Brook, one of the three teams that took the measure of the Ajax on the court last season. In the visiting lineup will be some former Plainfield court favorites who have drifted about the country playing with one team or another until they finally picked up at Bound Brook and herded together into a fast aggregation.

Among the most prominent of these is Louis Ulmer, a former Y. M. C. A. player. Ulmer was one of the speediest performers in this section when he played on the local team and his coming to Plainfield, even on a rival aggregation, is always hailed with interest by his many friends in this city. He is a deadly shot and the Ajax who plays against this versatile athlete will have to exert all his ability in keeping him covered. Other stars who will appear are Frezza, the speedy Bound Brook High School all around athlete, and Haegney and Mingle, two more Bound Brook High School players. The Ajax lineup has been rejuvenated and all of the old players will be back in the game tonight. No preliminary contest has been announced but it is barely possible that some game will be arranged during the afternoon.

CLOSE GAME WON BY LOCAL AGGREGATION

St. Stephen's Boys Defeated Mt. Pleasant by a Three Point Margin.

In a junior clash on the St. Stephen's court, last night, the St. Stephen's boys' club defeated the Mt. Pleasant boys' club by a score of 21 to 18. The game was nip and tuck at all stages, the score being tied until the last few minutes of play when the St. Stephen's forwards managed to get the ball through the ring twice in quick succession and sew up the contest. The first half ended 15 to 9 in favor of Mt. Pleasant but the local team took on a decided brace in the final half and came out with colors flying.

LOCAL BOY WILL PLAY ON RUTGERS' CLASS QUINTET

Captain Heines, of the Senior class basketball team of Rutgers College, announced his choice of players to lineup against the Freshmen next Wednesday afternoon in their first contest of the Interclass league and among the successful candidates is Harold Schenck, of this city. A large number of athletes turned out when Captain Heines issued a call for the class team and he experienced great difficulty in picking a representative aggregation. Schenck has been prominent in college athletics throughout his whole course at the New Brunswick college, and is a member of the varsity baseball team, having made the nine in his junior year.

BASKETBALL LEAGUE WILL OPEN MONDAY

Two Contests Have Been Scheduled by Leals for Next Week.

The Interscholastic Basketball League will open its schedule at the Y. M. C. A. Monday afternoon when the Leal's and North Plainfield High School teams lineup in the opening contest. A game was carded to be played between the local and Borough High Schools December 28, but because of certain conflictions, was deferred until a later date. When the league is once started it will probably assume the proportions of a city championship organization, at the takeoff, and when the High School managers get together and announce their contests for the title, all of the drawbacks which have been so prominent this season will be eliminated.

North Plainfield has been anxious to get the league going and welcome the opportunity to inaugurate it against Leal's. On Thursday afternoon the Plainfield High School team will lineup against Leal's on the Y. M. C. A. court in the second game of the title race.

BASKETBALL OF TWO SEXES FOR TONIGHT AT HOPE

Two games of basketball, one of each sex, will be decided on the Hope chapel court tonight, and although the Chapel first team does not figure in either of the contests, the substitutes are capable of putting up some speedy basketball. In the first contest the Hope second five will lineup against the Mt. Pleasant five, and as both of these teams are considered to represent the cream of junior material, much depends on the final score.

In the girls' game, the Chapel representatives will play the Dunellen feminine basket cagers in the deciding contest of a three-game series. Each of the teams has one game to its credit and each will present its strongest lineup for the final battle tonight.

COMPANY K PLAYS SOMERVILLE TEAM

Second Contest Between These Two Rivals Promises to Be a Corker.

On the armory court at Somerville tonight, the Company K basketball quintet, of this city, will line up against the strong Company M cadet five, of Somerville. These two aggregations have long been rivals and the announcement of their meeting is always hailed with enthusiasm by their respective bands of loyal cohorts. Their previous meeting this season resulted in a close and interesting contest and those interested predict a repetition of the first meeting, tonight.

Both fives have been playing regularly and are in the finest kind of condition for a championship battle. Captain Thompson, of the locals, says he can see nothing but victory in the future, while Manager Wittenbert, of the county seat team, says that the Plainfield combination will prove easy picking for him.

KRAMER TO RACE ABROAD.

New York, Jan. 11.—Frank L. Kramer, of Newark, the American champion cyclist, sailed today for Europe. He has signed for a series of match races with the speediest European riders. The races will take place in Paris.

MOHAWK A. C. PLAYS WOODBRIDGE QUINTET

Team Playing Preliminary Games Will Be Absent Tonight.

One team will be absent from this city tonight when the basketball fives lineup for their regular week-end games and the missing one will probably be made conspicuous by its absence, as it has been a familiar figure on the Y. M. C. A. court every Saturday night, sometimes playing and sometimes exhibiting. This quintet is the Mohawk A. C. which will lineup against the Woodbridge Parish House five at Sewaren tonight. Although the Woodbridge players are considered in the first rank, as far as basketball teams are concerned, and put up a fine game against the strong Y. M. C. A. Ajax, of this city, the Mohawks claim that they really intend to come home a victor even if they are playing on a rival court.

Woodbridge has been playing such teams as the Rahway Cubs, who administered the initial defeat to the Ajax last season; the New Brunswick High School five, and the Mystic five, a fast aggregation hailing from Perth Amboy. The Mohawks have been considered as a second rate aggregation but in taking on the Woodbridge advocates of the indoor sport they certainly lay claim to something better than second, particularly so if they put up any kind of a showing against their speedy opponents tonight.

LOCAL HIGH SCHOOL IN GAME WITH SOMERVILLE

Encouraged by the great game of basketball they put up against the fast Yonkers High School team on the latter court on Friday afternoon, the Plainfield High School basketball players will line up against the Somerville High School quintet on the Somerville court Monday afternoon with a determination to pile up the court at the expense of the Somervillians who were trounced to the tune of 54 to 15 when they appeared here earlier in the season.

All of the regulars will be back in the P. H. S. lineup by Monday and their best article of basketball ought to be forthcoming.

P. H. S. FIVE DEFEATED BY YONKERS H. S. 29-18

Yonkers High School basketball players defeated the local High School quintet at Yonkers yesterday afternoon by a score of 29 to 18. Plainfield took the jump at the start and darted out into the lead, which they held at half-time, 14 to 11, and although they showed the way at the three-quarters post the New York State men overhauled them a few minutes before time was called and romped away. The game was fast and owing to the hard playing by Yonkers the local team slowly succumbed as time progressed. Five minutes before the final whistle blew Coach Hastings, of the Yonkers brigade, put a new team on the floor and Plainfield was swamped.

TALK ON SEX HYGIENE.

Ostlin, has also secured Dr. Probasco to speak the following Thursday night. Dr. Probasco's talk will be on "Sex Hygiene." No speaker has been secured for Thursday night at the present time but Mr. Ostlin expects to be able to secure one who will speak on a subject that will interest the boys.

GAMES WANTED.

To Readers About Advertisers

Merchants who use the columns of the Plainfield Daily Press deserve your consideration and trade. They represent the best in their respective lines and they spend their money for publicity in order to attract custom to their establishments. It costs money to advertise and the business man who seeks your patronage and makes a public bid for it is going to serve you well. The merchant who establishes a reputation by advertising can not afford to waste this money and unless you are pleased you'll not go to his store again.

Advertising has become a science, yet anyone can write an advertisement that will pull trade. The readers of the Daily Press will find the advertising column an interesting feature. It contains suggestions that will meet every want and those who use its columns are among the leading and most enterprising business men. Tell them you were induced to come to their store by their advertising in the Daily Press—it is of mutual encouragement. Besides, there is always a more satisfactory service in the store that advertises. Never have merchants made greater efforts to secure trade or have prices been lower, and no city in the country can supply you more comfortably.

We are glad to say a good word for our advertisers. They have been liberal space takers throughout—and they have secured results. They know that the Daily Press is their best medium to reach the buying public and that it has THE right kind of circulation—the hearthstone kind.

The usual clearing sales are held in January and February. The wise merchant continues his store news and makes busy months, clearing out surplus stocks, which Daily Press readers will be glad to take off their hands. The business man who stops advertising at the close of the holiday trade makes a mistake he can not correct. The big stores have become big by keeping their name before the public and "making good" in thier publicity. The money they spend during the so-called dull season is among their best investments. The Daily Press circulation brings their trade.

SEVEN JUNIOR GYMNASTS QUALIFY FOR LEADERS

Seventeen junior gymnasts were examined in the Y. M. C. A. gym last Thursday afternoon for the rank of leaders in the boys' department, and Secretary C. William Bingamen has just announced the final standings which credit six of the athletes with passing grades. The successful candidates will be initiated in the already organized leaders' corps and will take up their new duties at once. Special uniforms will be provided for the leaders and they will be assigned to squads in the College League. The results of the examination were as follows: Stout, 89; Krausse, 80; Tomlinson, 77; Alpaugh, 77; Brower, 75; Beekman, 75; Adams, 73; L. Marsh, 72; Sheing, 72; MacDonald, 71; Kinney, 70; Giles, 68; Moyer, 65; Pennoyer, 65; Walter, 60; Bohl, 56; E. Smith, 54. Seventy-five per cent. was the passing mark.

TEWANIMA SAVED OLYMPIC MEN LOTS OF TROUBLE.

While he was at the Carlisle Indian school Lewis Tewanima, the long distance runner, learned the tailor's trade, and his knowledge along these lines saved more than one of America's Olympic athletes a trying situation during the trip to Stockholm last summer. Whenever there was a tear or a rip in coat or pants the athletes would cry. "Where's Lewis?" This little Hopi was always equal to the emergency and always refused compensation, no matter in what form it was offered. "No, no! Are you not my friend?" the little aborigine asked when his teammates offered something in the way of a reward.

The want ads will find tenants for property that could have been rented sometime ago—but for the delay of advertising it!

Fashionable Furs.

There is something irresistibly fascinating about fur, and there is not a woman living whose charms are not increased ten-fold when she adds a touch of fur to her costume. Never has fur played a more important part in feminine fashions than to-day, and now that the fashionable coutourieres have sounded its possibilities, and have tested woman's love for fine pelts, the chances are that it will be many years before fur will go out of fashion.

Fur is always a good investment, and when one is buying, one should purchase the very best that one can afford. A fur coat or a fur set will last two or three years, at least, without alteration or repair, and after that can be re-made at small cost. Perhaps the best opportunity to purchase furs is when a large house offers reductions on its goods rather than carry them over. Such an opportunity James McCreery & Co. are offering in their reduction sale of furs, which commences on Monday. Up to now the weather has been so moderate that one has not felt the need of the warmth that furs give, but the chances are that from now on to the end of the winter the addition of a fur coat or scarf will be grateful.

The reductions in this sale are really wonderful. The reliability of this house is unquestioned, and this quality adds its own value to the price values of the present offerings. A great variety of fine pelts is represented, from the expensive Russian sable to the attractive but more modest Caracul. The models follow the newest fashions, and many combine two or more furs. Coats of mixed fabrics or black cloth, fur lined, are included in the sale, and also men's coats for motoring or street wear, lined with fur, and provided with a Persian lamb collar.

Hunt the buyer who wants to buy and the seller who wants to sell through the Press cent-a-word columns, then your deal is two-thirds closed.

No salesmanship is required under these circumstances—and salesmanship costs money—many times the cost of a want ad.

Get that?

An Absolute Clearance Throughout Women's and Girls' Dresses, Suits, Coats and Furs

As this is the House of Fashions, wherein foreign styles are introduced to America, it is necessary for us to keep our collection of modes up to the minute, and not allow them to become congested with styles of a previous season. In other words, each season's styles must be disposed of at the end of that period. And, to make such a clearance absolute, we have lowered prices regardless of cost—in many instances, previous prices were even greater than those which we quote in this advertisement.

WRIT TO REVIEW ASSESSMENT.

Trenton, Jan. 11.—A writ of certiorari was allowed by Justice Trenchard in the Supreme Court yesterday to review an assessment of $159,080, levied by the State Board of Assessors against the property in Hoboken owned by the Hoboken Railroad Warehouse Steamship and Connecting Company. The company contends that $77,500 represents the full value of the property. The writ was made returnable January 28.

TRY A PRESS WANT AD

STUDEBAKER "25," "35" & "6" REPRESENT THE CAR OWNERS IDEALS

(By Andrew C. Thompson.)

You have all read the announcement of the new Studebaker cars and have recognized its epoch-marking importance. The beauty, correctness of design and real class of these cars have forced expressions of admiration from all motordom, present and prospective.

But this announcement did not by any means tell the whole story of these new cars. It is my purpose to tell you the big working motive back of the new Studebaker "25," "35" and "Six."

In the search for your ideals The Studebaker Co. found that you seemed to want a car of relatively great power. This has been secured by the long stroke motor which, while increasing the power, does not imply deviation from established lines of economy in maintenance.

Many of you wanted a "Six"—a Studebaker "Six"—that would sell at a popular price, here is just a little bit the handsomest car of the three. For those who want even more power than they can get from the "35," a car which combines Studebaker quality and class with the smooth running qualities of a Studebaker six-cylinder motor.

You wanted cars even quieter than the standby Studebaker types of 1912. This feature has been given special attention. The new cars operate pump and magneto in a manner absolutely noiseless. In addition, great improvements in silencing the transmission gears and differential has been made.

You wanted a car with a Self-starter. The "25" is equipped with a gas primer-starter of positive action and practical design.

On the "35" and the "Six" are installed the best electric cranking and lighting device that has yet been produced, it is built by the Wagner Electric Co. exclusively for the Studebaker cars. It will crank the motor at a speed of 80 R. P. M., for a half-hour if necessary.

You wanted a full floating rear axle. This on the "35" and "Six" is a bit in advance of anything ever used in the popular-priced field. It is light and strong. The weight of the car is carried on the ends of the housing; the axle shafts are separately removable.

You wanted larger wheels and tires. This suggestion has been followed out in all the new models. The "25" has 3½ inch tires front and rear; the "35" and the "Six" have 34 by 4 inches tires.

The new Studebaker cars feature a constant-level system of lubrication, automatic, smokeless and economical to a wonderful degree. A sight gauge on the dash permits the driver to watch his supply, affording plain view of a stream of oil constantly flowing to the timing gears and back again to the main reservoir.

Another improvement you asked for was a longer wheel base. The design is generous in this respect. The "35" wheel base is 116 inches; that of the "Six" 121. And every additional inch has been made use of in securing comfortable, roomy characteristics for the cars, along with increased passenger capacity.

The photographs of the new cars have shown you that they are in every respect cars that are graceful and beautiful. Nothing has been left undone in the endeavor to secure true, artistic effect, in finish as well as symmetry, these cars will admit of no superior. Furthermore, their beauty is more than skin deep. Their shining, clean-cut motors, with all moving parts enclosed will make you proud to left their hoods.

These cars are listed with full equipments, including tops, windshields, speedometers, electric horns, demountable rims, spare rims, and tire carrying brackets.

The Studebaker "25" with its long stroke motor, new style bodies, and larger tires lists at $885, fully equipped.

The Studebaker "35" with electric self-starter and lighting device, improved and larger motor, six passenger body, larger wheels and tires, and full floating rear axle, lists for $1,290, fully equipped.

The Studemaker "Six" at $1,550 presents value attainable at the price only by the Studebaker methods of manufacture.

Never before in the history of the industry has any manufacturer turned out a line of cars embodying desirable features as great as these. It is certain—yes, inevitable—that the Studebaker cars will even more notably than ever before, dominate their respective fields.

We Believe That Orders for Nearly Every 1913 Will Be Placed Before Winter Is Half Over

Cadillac — Electric Self-cranking and Lighting — second Year

The Cadillac has enjoyed many successful, many extraordinary seasons, and 1913 is eclipsing all former successes.

Never in its history has Cadillac enthusiasm been so strong, so widespread, so pervasive as now.

The new car has literally taken the country by storm.

The handsome lines, he deep, soft upholstery, the yielding springs, the riding qualities of almost velvety smoothness; the quiet engine of abundant power, the flexibility and the remarkable case of control; the standardization of parts, the durability, the simplicity and economy of manitenance; the practically 100 per cent. efficient Cadillac electric system of automatic self-cranking and electric lighting, now in its second successful year on the Cadillac; these and almost countless other marks of distinction stamp the Cadillac as a car which leaves nothing to be desired, nothing really worth while which a greater expenditure will procure.

The Cadillac production is large—15,000 cars for 1913—just one of the great elements which makes possible the Cadillac car at the Cadillac price.

Without seeing the car or even its photograph, more than 3,000 individual purchasers placed their signed orders. They had confidence in the Cadillac car and in the Cadillac company.

Four thousand of the new cars which have already been delivered have vastly intensified the early enthusiasm.

Nearly everyone you meet is—to use a common expression—"sold on the Cadillac." There seems to be almost none left who are not convinced of Cadillac pre-eminence.

As we said at the outset:—We believe that orders for nearly every 1913 Cadillac—including those for spring and summer deliveries—will be placed before winter is half over.

It behooves you, therefore, to arrange for an as early delivery as we can give you. By heeding this advice—given you in all sincerity—you will avoid disappointment. You will also avoid the necessity of compromising on some other car—a proceeding which almost invariably results in an unsatisfied longing in the mind of the man who has once concluded that the Cadillac is the car he wants.

THE STORY OF THE CADILLAC

PROGRESS. This in a word is "The Story of the Cadillac." Since the inception of the industry the Cadillac has become increasingly the criterion of excellence in practical construction. Each year the public looks to the Cadillac for that which represents the real progress in the development of the motor car; not for fads, not for features whose value ends in their utility as "talking points;" not features which are here today and gone tomorrow; but features which are practical and features which mark real and substantial advancement.

The pre-eminent position of the Cadillac, its recognition as America's leading motor car, its recognition as the standard by which motor cars are judged, are not matters of chance.

For ten years the Cadillac has been manufactured and marketed upon well defined principles. The adherence to those principles has been the dominant factor in Cadillac success.

The Cadillac has never striven after the achievements of other plants—it is a school and model unto itself.

The word "success" has always been associated with the Cadillac. The word "failure" never. The Cadillac Company has never produced a model or a tpye for which it was obliged to make apologies.

The "Story of the Cadillac" is one of that mechanical and commercial advancement which makes for permanency. The Cadillac Company has never yielded to clamor by producing that which catered merely to fancy, nor that which took advantage of the uninformed. On the contrary it has produced only that which it knew to be right, that which it knew would give to the purchaser "value received" in abundant measure.

The Cadillac Company has never been obliged to resort to exaggeration and overdrawn claims to dispose of all the cars that it could make—and more. Its policy has ever been to under-claim rather than to over-claim. It is gratified that the public accepts its representations at their full worth; because the public has never been misled and because the public could always expect and has always received more than was offered.

The Cadillac car of today has behind it the experience of ten years, during which period its makers have produced more high grade cars than any other plant in the world. Every car—more than fifty thousand of them—is a monument to the high ideals of the organization which produced it.

In the Cadillac there are more than 250 parts on which there are more than 400 operations which are not permitted to deviate to exceed the one-thousandth part of an inch—about one-third to one-half the thickness of a hair—from the prescribed limits of measurements. There are some parts in which the limits of variations permissible is cut down to the half of one-thousandth part of an inch.

The Cadillac is identified with no "class' excepting its own—a distinctive class. It finds its sale not especially among purchasers whose limit of investment is the Cadillac price. It appeals alike to the discriminating motorist who demands a dollar's worth for every dollar of investment, and to the motorist who places dependability, service and luxury above all price consideration.

The Cadillac is an honestly constructed car sold at an honest price, a price which gives to the user the greatest real value obtainable in a motor car. Its list price is its selling price, a price which affords but a legitimate margin of profit to the maker and to the distributor.

WOULD RID LAND OF THE SALOON

Rev. Dr. Strong Says He Would Put an End to Legalized Liquor Traffic.

STIRRING ARRAIGNMENT

First Baptist Church Pastor Declares He Will Do All in His Power to Hasten the Day of Prohibition Throughout the Country.

Forecasting his attitude toward the license applications, Rev. Dr. Philip B. Strong presented a strong arraignment against the liquor traffic in his sermon at the First Baptist church last night. He took his texts from Gen. 1:27, "God created man in His own image: male and female created He them," and Psalms 8:5, "Thou has made him but little lower than God, Thou crownest him with glory and honor."

"Man, God's crowning creation,' said Dr. Strong, "is created not in the physical image of God, but in mental and moral and spiritual image of God. He is one day to be superior to angels and to judge all the works of God's hands. Even the stars are but sparks from God's anvil, and not to be compared with the majesty of mankind.

"Reason and memory will link us to God in a way no other creation is linked to Him. How much a beautiful poem or a fine painting or a piece of sculpture mean to us. They speak of God to us; they represent things high and noble and divine. If one should come into my home and deface or mar a beautiful piece of sculpture there which I greatly prize, I should be very indignant and should deal with severity with such impertinence. Or if someone ruthlessly destroyed one of my pictures, I wouldn't want to say what I should do, but after all, these things are only a bust and only a picture, not made in the image of God.

"But what shall I say of one who deliberately and without apology destroys body, mind and soul of men made in the image of God? What words can fittingly describe an institution whose business it is to take clean, decent young men and women and turn them out a shame and disgrace to their home and to the community good for nothing to themselves or anyone else? What possible attitude but one of unequivocal and eternal hostility can a Christian take to an institution whose function it is to undo all the Church of Jesus Christ can ever do and whose whole policy from start to finish is anti-Christian?

"I want to go on record with this church as against it in every form and ready to do all in my power to bring to pass that day when the licensed saloon will no more be tolerated in our fair land than would an open cesspool in a park."

FORCE THEIR RECTOR TO RESIGN CHARGE

Rev. Sydney Cross Suddenly Quits St. Paul's Church, Westfield.

Westfield, Jan. 13.—It became known here yesterday that the Rev. Sydney Cross had resigned as rector of St. Paul's Episcopal church in this place at the request of the wardens and vestrymen, after charges against him had been brought to their attention. His resignation takes effect on Feb. 1.

"While the resignation came under pressure at this time," the pastor said yesterday, "I had contemplated resigning on account of literary work which now occupies most of my time."

He asserted that he had visited Bishop Scarborough in Trenton and that the Bishop had told him he had been too hasty in sending in his resignation, but as it had been submitted to the official body of the church it could not be recalled.

The Rev. Mr. Cross, who is senior members of the firm of Cross & Hurlbut, publishers of the Four-Year Lesson Course used in Episcopal Sunday-schools, came here six years ago from Brooklyn, where he was assistant in one of the large churches. He organized a boy's vestry choir at St. Paul's and each Summer took the boys on a camping trip. At one time he was editor of St. Paul's Messenger, a religious paper published here. Mr. Cross and the officials of the church refused to tell the nature of the charges against him.

THIEVES TWICE EMPTY WOMAN'S REFRIGERATOR

Mrs. Fred Bakker and her mother, Mrs. Daniel Randolph, of 301 Grant avenue, had a large supply of provisions stolen from their refrigerator on Friday night and again on Saturday night. After the second visit of the thieves, Mrs. Bakker reported the matter to the police but as yet there is no clue.

On Friday night, the refrigerator, which stands on the back porch, contained two chickens, frankfurters, mince pies, cake and other things, all of which were stolen. On Saturday, Mrs. Bakker stocked the refrigerator again and that night about 6:30 she discovered that everything had been taken, including a chicken, a large roast of beef, milk, etc.

SUPERSTITION IN BIBLE SAYS CLERIC

Unitarians Cannot Accept Holy Writ Blindly Declares Rev. A. E. Wilson.

GIVES CHURCH'S CREED

Jesus Not God, But a Teacher and a Preacher, Asserts the New Pastor of All Souls' Unitarian Church.

"We cannot accept the church as authority unless it keeps pace with our own knowledge and truth," declared Rev. Arthur E. Wilson in his discourse on "Authority,' at All Souls' Unitarian church, yesterday morning. "We cannot accept the creeds for the very reason they have not grown. We cannot accept the Bible blindly, for there is too much of gross material superstition in it.

"We will and do accept it where its teachings are high and pure and ethical and unassailable true and spiritual. Many are shocked to hear this. They think, as was recently said to me, this dethrones Jesus and denies His authority. Jesus never had a throne. Jesus was not God and is not God today. His authority was to seek God for ourselves as He had and find Him and then do as great or greater works than He did.

"Jesus was a teacher and preacher and a practiser of a lofty conception of a spiritual God and Father and a humanity filled with this divine spirit. We should heed His instructions, profit by them, follow His leadership. His authority is that which inheres in any leader who shows us a better way of life. It will last until all life has transcended his plane of thought and action.

"Our authority is a present living spiritual force making itself felt in man, revealing itself wherever true spiritual faith and love are found. Truth, wisdom, conscience, love are its messengers. Jesus' authority came as a direct intuition to Himself. It was His direct knowledge of the will of God and His consciousness of His power to execute the same so far as possible within the limits of humanity. His power came through faith in God and faith in Himself as God empowered. Something of this faith and conscious power came from His race's past history and religion. He had a Testament, the Old, but not the New. But the main source of His authority was personal inspiration through faith, through a sensitive spiritual nature, through conscience.

"It should help us to know where Jesus got His authority so that we may look to the same sources. But as Christianity is now constituted we see two divisions: First, those who look to the church; second, there is the great evangelical portion of Protestantism, that takes its authority from the Bible.

"Unitarians belong to that smaller division that find their authority within themselves. They take truth as far as it is known, but are always seeking for more light and truth, reason and conscience as their guides, commanding their obedience."

ALLEGED SLANDER CASE DID NOT COME UP TODAY

Elizabeth, Jan. 13.—The civil suit of Michael F. Watson, the Plainfield saloon-keeper, against Councilman Patrick J. Reville, of that city, in which the complainant seeks $10,000 damages for alleged deframation of character, was not called at this morning's session of the Supreme Court, owing to the fact that one or two other cases were given the preference on the list.

It is the opinion that the Plainfield case will be called within the next day or two. George W. V. Moy represents Mr. Reville, while W. R. Codington is Mr. Watson's counsel.

GOVERNOR ASKS ATWATER TO STAY

Democrats Puzzled by Wilson's Request That He Remain on Bench.

CONNELLY IN THE LEAD

It Now Appears That the Appointment Will Not Be Made Until Jan. 20 When Legislature Can Act on It.

Elizabeth, Jan. 13.—What is regarded by Democrats throughout the county as a significant development in the contest between the aspirants for the county judgeship appointment is a letter Governor Wilson has sent to Judge Edward S. Atwater asking him to serve as judge of the Court of Common Pleas for a while longer. Judge Atwater last week sent his resignation to the Governor. Ill health forced him to give up his duties on the bench.

When it was announced that Judge Atwater had resigned friends of the aspirants, who are City Attorney James C. Connolly, former Prosecutor William R. Wilson, former Judge P. H. Gilhooly, of this city, and Judge Walter L. Hetfield, of the Plainfield district court, believed that the vacancy could be filled immediately by the Governor.

It now appears that the appointment will not be made before January 20 and that Governor Wilson's action in asking Judge Atwater to serve for a short time longer means that he wants the Legislature to confirm the appointment. The Legislature will organize tomorrow. Adjourment will then be taken until Monday, January 20.

As Connolly's name has been recommended to the Governor by Congressman W. E. Tuttle, the Democratic county chairman, it is expected that he will be named.

NO WRIT REQUESTED BY SMALL BOARD

Counsel for Proceedings Against "Rump" Body Defer Taking Legal Action.

A writ of quo warranto was not taken at Trenton by the special counsel engaged by the small Board of Freeholders to bring before the Supreme Court the question as to the board's legality, although former Assistant Prosecutor John K. English and former Prosecutor William R. Wilson were closeted with Attorney-General Wilson for a long time discussing the question. Formal application for the writ will be made Monday or Tuesday, it was announced by Abe J. David, with whom the special counsel and John P. Owens, of Plainfield, are associated. Mr. David is the small board's selection for county collector and Mr. Owens for county attorney.

According to the practice, there are three methods of applying for the writ and which of the three was the best was the subject of the conference with the Attorney-General. Just what he advised, if he gave any advice, could not be learned as the attorneys do not care to make known their plans prematurely, it was explained.

Applications for the writ may be made by a citizen against the large Board of Freeholders, by one of the appointees of the small board or by filing an application based on information with the Attorney-General in his name. The proceedings in this classification brought against Chief of Police Ramsey, of Rahway, by Mr. Wilson were brought by a citizen, but whether this method will be followed in this instance is problematical.

The suggestion has been made that all of the writs taken by the five small boards in the State, whose right to the office is being contested by the large board members, be made returnable on the same day so that all of the lawyers could be heard at the same time, and the court in deciding the question would not have to take up each case separately. This idea is meeting with favor in certain quarters, but whether it will be acquiesced in or not is not known at this time.

ADD $6,000 TO A MILLION FUND

Crescent Ave. Presbyterians Give Largest Single Amount for Ministers Relief.

RESPONSE TO APPEAL

Rev. Wm. H. Foulks and Rev. Wm. H. Johnson Outline Plans for Endowment Fund and Congregation Donates Large Amount.

Ten million dollars to be raised as a perpetual endowment for the relief and sustentation of the aged and disabled ministers of the Presbyterian Church and those dependent upon them was the plan outlined yesterday morning to the members of the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church by the Rev. William Hiram Foulkes, formerly pastor of the Rutgers Presbyterian church in New York city, and the Rev. Wiliam H. Johnson, field secretary for the Presbyterian Board of Relief. This is the task which the General Assembly of the church has undertaken through the combined agencies of Ministerial Relief and Sustantation.

At the close of the service, Rev. Dr. John Sheridan Zelie, minister of the church, reported that the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church had given $6,000 for the purpose, the offering yesterday amounting to that sum. The local church gives $2,000 towards the fund for the immediate relief of the aged ministers and $4,000 towards the $1,000,000 being raised. The gift makes the largest offering of any church in the denomination so far.

The plan combining "The Presbyterian Board of Relief and the Ministerial Sustantation Fund of the Presbyterian Church in the United States of America" was submitted to the General Assembly of 1912 by the executive commission and was adopted. The Board of Relief was organized and chartered for the purpose of aiding aged and disabled ministers of the denomination, their widows and orphans needing aid, as well as men and women under appointment as missionaries and medical missionaries. There are now approximately 1,250 anuitants upon the roll, of whom 650 are widows. The average annual amount paid to widows under the care of the board last year was $172; to ministers on the honor roll, $342; to all ministers, $283.

In the sustantation department there is an annuity or pension fund in which the ministers who unite with it become is prospective beneficiaries and are permitted to help create their own annuity by contributing one-fifth, or twenty per cent. of the cost of the contemplated. Into the relief department 5,492 churches have contributed a total of $115,647.

The necessities of the aged minister or his widow and orphan demand recognition at the hands of the church, asserted the pastors. Upon salaries which do not average over $800, as far as it can be ascertained, no matter how provident they may be, very few ministers can provide clothing, books, education for their children, make benevolent contributions, besides buying their daily bread, and in addition to all of this make full provision for old age or disability. Ministers for the most part do not come from wealthy families, and must depend upon their salaries for their livelihood.

HAND BADLY BURNED BY REVOLVING EMERY WHEEL

William Arden, of Somerset street, an apprentice in the Pond Machine Tool Company's shop, had his left hand severely burned when it caught in an emery wheel, which he thought was not working, about a half hour before quitting time on Saturday.

Young Arden was busy cleaning the machine and placed his hand on the body while gathering up tools kept under it. His hand was caught in the machinery, which was revolving rapidly. One of the men working in the vicinity saw the accident and immediately turned off the power, but not before the ligaments and veins had been burned out.

Dr. A. K. Brennan was called in and he treated the suffering lad. Adren was taken to the office of Dr. George W. Endicott who again treated the mangled member and sent the sufferer to his home. Mr. Endicott said that the wound was serious but that with careful treatment the hand could be saved, if infection does not set in.

PROTEST TO BE MADE

Also to Object to Repeal of Tyler License Zone—All Men Invited to Participate in Big Meeting at Y. M. C. A.

The Federation of Men's Clubs and Bible Classes of the churches of the city has undertaken plans for an active campaign against the granting of any additional liquor licenses in Plainfield this year or the repeal of what is kown as the "Tyler License Zone." Arrangements have been made for holding a mass meeting at the Y. M. C. A. on Thursday night, under the auspices of the Federation of Men's Clubs, at which time extensive plans for carrying on an aggressive warfare against the spread of the saloon traffic will be considered. It is expected that W. H. P. Veysey will preside at the meeting.

The meeting on Thursday night will be for men only. However, it is desired that all women who are interested in the matter lend their influence in securing signatures to protests that have been circulated in all of the churches of the city and borough. These protests were distributed in the churches yesterday and a large number of signatures were secured. The committee in charge has adopted plans for reaching as far as possible every voter in the city.

The Common Council has already given notice that all protests against such licenses must be presented in writing before Monday, January 27, but a date will be fixed as usual for a public hearing and at that time the representatives of the churches will be present in large numbers to be heard.

In speaking of the rumor that the Council was considering the repeal of the "Tyler License Zone," a city official said today, that if this should be done it would not be effective until next year, and no licenses could be granted outside the restricted territory this year. The amended ordinance provides that all applications for licenses must be presented at the first meeting of the Council in January.

The question as to whether Christian Gloekler or Alex D. Findlay will secure licenses seems to be a debatable one. That influence will be brought to bear to have the Council grant these applications seems to be assured. Mr. Findlay has men at work now painting the front of his building on East Second street and otherwise putting the property in good repair, presumably with the conviction that he will get back his license.

RESERVES DECISION IN GAMBLING CASE

Amos Stites, proprietor of the pool parlor in West Front street, was arraigned before City Judge De Meza this morning, on a charge of violating a city ordinance aimed against gambling, and after testimony had been presented the court reserved decision until Wednesday morning. Stites was represented by Harry C. Runyon.

Michael Gillman, Richard Horton, Howard Van Arsdale and James Dadey, boys ranging in ages from 16 to 19 years, were placed on the witness stand, their testimony consisting mainly of the description of "dear man's game," or rotation pool, which it was alleged played in the defendant's parlors. Stites denied that he had violated the law and said he had always made it a practise to put a stop to gambling in his place whenever brought to his attention.

Mrs. Marshall Did Fine Work When the Campaign Was Hot

WHEN the general apportionment of rewards, official, political, social, or spiritual, occurs along about inauguration time there will be a comparatively obscure woman deserving of a big share. This statement relates to the happy new governmental family of president, vice president, cabinet officers, etc., and brings to the fore Mrs. Thomas Riley Marshall, wife of the vice president elect.

Mrs. Marshall is the particular, energetic and courageous member of the victorious Democratic ranks who deserves rewards and who probably will get them. Before she became "governor's lady" Mrs. Marshall put up the finest kind of a stumping tour with her husband. And in the presidential campaign also she was an ever present, willing aid to the governor.

It is expected Mrs. Marshall will hold a prominent place in the social life of Washington for the next four years.

Mrs. Marshall's entrance into public life came with Mr. Marshall's determination to be governor. This meant that Mr. Marshall would have to stump the state. At the time the Marshalls had been married fourteen years, and always they had taken all of their trips—pleasure or otherwise—together.

Mrs. Marshall never had stumped a state, but she saw no reason why she should not do so. There are no children in the Marshall home to demand her care; therefore she "mothers" her husband, who is not averse to second childhood under the circumstances. She argued that he needed her in his travels, and he knew that she did. She went along.

She is not conscious today that she gathered in votes for her husband, but she did. The people of the farming communities, the small towns and the cities in Indiana found her direct and comfortable without either quality having been assumed for the occasion. Her fame scattered as rapidly over the state as did that of her husband, and the beauty of it was she was having a perfectly splendid time. The women liked her, too, and gave her a round of luncheons and dinners while the men were making her husband earn his foods in campaign talks.

MRS. T. R. MARSHALL.

Miners Ask For Her.

One evening in the coal mining town of Clinton Mrs. Claude Matthews, widow of a former governor of the state, gave a reception in honor of the candidate and his wife. All the big people of the community were bidden. The guests had come and gone, and Mrs. Marshall, tired from much traveling and entertaining, had slipped upstairs to get ready for rest. Outside there sounded the tramp of many feet, and there came a knock at the door. Four hundred miners fresh from their work had come to shake hands with the man who wanted to be their governor.

"Where's the woman?" they asked. "We want to see the woman too."

Mr. Marshall sent word to Mrs. Marshall that more callers had arrived. Down the stairs she came in her evening gown, to be confronted by a small army of men black with the dust of coal. Mrs. Marshall never changed expression. She took her place at Mr. Marshall's side and grasped 400 blackened hands in turn. When the last man had passed Mrs. Marshall's gloves were ebony and down her dress was sprinkled coal dust, but in the party she had found one real enthusiast.

Meets "Joe—Democrat."

He had grasped her hand so firmly and had smiled so broadly that she had asked:

"And what is your name?"

"Joe," came the answer.

"Joe what?" she questioned.

"Joe, Democrat," he answered, believing that the "what" had referred to his political belief.

"Joe, Democrat," and his coworkers gave a rousing Democratic vote for Governor Marshall at the next election, but the governor is of the opinion that the vote was not cast for him alone.

AMERICA

In the opinion of a foreigner is a beautiful country of mountains, valleys and—"bluffs;" first inhabited by men who travelled miles and miles to find a place to settle, and now inhabited by men who travel miles and miles so they won't have to "settle."

But foreigners have respect for two American products—heiresses and men's clothing. I don't take my hat off to any clothier in America for having better clothing than mine. I don't have to—because I make it a rule to show the newest in "Things That Men Wear."

To Readers About Advertisers

Merchants who use the columns of the Plainfield Daily Press deserve your consideration and trade. They represent the best in their respective lines and they spend their money for publicity in order to attract custom to their establishments. It costs money to advertise and the business man who seeks your patronage and makes a public bid for it is going to serve you well. The merchant who establishes a reputation by advertising can not afford to waste this money and unless you are pleased you'll not go to his store again.

Advertising has become a science, yet anyone can write an advertisement that will pull trade. The readers of the Daily Press will find the advertising column an interesting feature. It contains suggestions that will meet every want and those who use its columns are among the leading and most enterprising business men. Tell them you were induced to come to their store by their advertising in the Daily Press—it is of mutual encouragement. Besides, there is always a more satisfactory service in the store that advertises. Never have merchants made greater efforts to secure trade or have prices been lower, and no city in the country can supply you more comfortably.

We are glad to say a good word for our advertisers. They have been liberal space takers throughout—and they have secured results. They know that the Daily Press is their best medium to reach the buying public and that it has THE right kind of circulation—the hearthstone kind.

The usual clearing sales are held in January and February. The wise merchant continues his store news and makes busy months, clearing out surplus stocks, which Daily Press readers will be glad to take off their hands. The business man who stops advertising at the close of the holiday trade makes a mistake he can not correct. The big stores have become big by keeping their name before the public and "making good" in thier publicity. The money they spend during the so-called dull season is among their best investments. The Daily Press circulation brings their trade.

JAMES F. FIELDER CHOSEN TO SUCCEED GOVERNOR WILSON

Trenton, N. J., Jan. 13.—James F. Fielder, of Jersey City, has been chosen president of the State Senate and under the law will become governor when Governor Wilson resigns. Mr. Fielder will serve as governor until next January.

GOV. MARSHALL STEPS OUT.

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 13.—Samuel M. Ralston today was ushered into the governorship of Indiana, succeeding Thomas R. Marshall, who is soon to take office as vice president of the United States. The inauguration ceremonies were of an unusually elaborate nature. The citizens committee of Indianapolis, in charge of the affair, had labored for weeks to perfect the smallest detail of the arrangements. A military escort accompanied the retiring governor and his sucessor to the State House. Waiting for the gubernatorial party in the main corridor of the capitol, where the ceremonies took place, were the members of the legislature, the State officers and general public. The ceremonies of the inauguration proper were the simplest of the day. Governor Marshall presided and delivered the opening address. The Rev. O. G. Carmichael, of Lebanon, Governor-elect Ralston's pastor, pronounced the invocation and Judge E. J. Felt, of Greenfield, who was a college classmate of the new governor, administered the oath of office. Governor Ralston followed with a short inaugural address and the ceremony was over.

KANSAS DEMOCRATIC GOVERNOR

Topeka, Kas., Jan. 13.—George H. Hodges (Democrat) was sworn in as governor of Kansas today, succeeding Walter R. Stubbs (Republican). Mr. Hodges is the first Democrat elected governor of Kansas in fifteen years and his installation was made an occasion of enthusiasm for the thousands of Democrats who came from all parts of the State to participate in the ceremonies. Governor Stubbs and Governor-elect Hodges were escorted to the State House by several companies of the Kansas National Guard. In the assembly chamber the oath of office was administered to the new executive by Chief Justice William A. Johnston. The other State officers elected in November, all of the Republicans, were sworn in. In a brief inaugural address Governor Hodges reaffirmed the ante-election pledges of his party.

ACCUSED OF KILLING.

Rockville, Md., Jan. 13.—The term of the circuit court which convened here today promises to be made notable by the trial of Norman Bruce McCleary, who is under indictment for the murder of Mrs. Fannie B. Henry, mother of his former sweetheart, Miss Lupah Henry. The case has been brought here on change of venue from Hagerstown. Mrs. Henry was found dead lying across a bed in her home at Hagerstown, August 19 last. She had been dead evidently several days. Her daughter, Miss Lupah Henry, who was employed by the city as a stenographer, had left Hagerstown August 15 in order, it is said, to escape the alleged unwelcome attentions of McCleary. A week later Hagerstown was startled by the intelligence that young McCleary had been arrested in Washington, suspected as the murderer of Mrs. Henry, and of having intentions to kill her daughter. Following his arrest McCleary is said to have admitted to the authorities that he had choked Mrs. Henry to death.

ADVICE FROM MILWAUKEE.

Golden rules for wives desiring domestic happiness have been framed by Milwaukee's probation officer who claims that they have never been known to fail in all his experience. In their order they follow:

Love, honor and obey your husband.

Get breakfast for your husband and see that he is properly clothed before going to work.

Be prompt with meals and expect him to be prompt.

Keep your home, your children and yourself neat and clean.

Don't tell him all your petty household troubles; meet him at the door with a kiss and a smile.

Don't continually upbraid him for past missteps. Cultivate the habit of forgetting disaggreable things.

Approach the mother-in-law question with gloves on. It's dangerous. Keep on good terms with both mothers-in-law, but don't tell your troubles to either. Never allow your own mother to reproach your husband.

The Federation of Men's Bible Classes which has started in on a campaign to interest the people generally in a protest to the Common Council against granting any additional licenses and against the abolordinance, might be able to learn who ordnance, might be able to learn who has given encouragement to Gloekler and Findlay, both of whom have the impertinence to apply for a renewal of their cancelled licenses. They might also canvas among those councilmen who did not go on record when candidates for office as to how they stand on these propositions.

Aiming to have the public schools kept out of politics, the State Board of Education has authorized the drawing of a proposed act fixing the number of members of a board at eight and providing either that it be non-paritsan or bi-partisan, Plainfield has not suffered in this respect, but many Jersey cities have and if the proposed law will remedy the conditions in those places it is to be hoped that the measure will be put on the statute books at an early date.

It can not be said that Elizabeth's forthcoming industrial exposition is not getting the full measure of publicity. The press agent works overtime and what he turns out is news concisely and attractively presented.

Woodrow Wilson's school opens tomorrow at Trenton and those who recite their parts will be known as good little pupils.

The one best bet—James C. Connolly to succeed Edward S. Atwater as Judge of the Union County Courts.

President Hibben plans great things for Princeton and they are going to cost a paltry $4,000,000.

ELECTORS DECLARE WILSON SELECTED

The Fourteen Votes Cast and New Jersey's Verdict is Sent to Washington.

Trenton, Jan. 13.—The selection of Woodrow Wilson and Thomas E. Marshall as the choice of New Jersey for President and Vice-President of the United States was formally completed today when the fourteen Presidential Electors chosen on the Democratic ticket last November, met at the State House and cast their ballots for those candidates. This action was pursuant to a Federal statute which provided that in each State the Electors should vote today.

A certificate showing the official vote of the State for president was: Democratic electors, 178,289; Progressive Electors, 145,410; Republican electors, 88,835; Socialists, 15,801; National Prohibition, 2,878; Socialist Labor, 1,321.

The electors were guests today at a luncheon served in Hotel Sterling by the Democratic State Committee in honor of the casting of the vote. It was a notable gathering of Democratic State dignitaries. Besides the fourteen electors and the members of the State Committee, those present were: Governor Wilson, who was the special guest of honor; United States Senator James E. Martine; United States Senator-to-be William Hughes; the Democratic Congressmen, the Democratic members of the Senate and Assembly, State officials of the Democracy, and others.

ATTACKS OF HICCUPS.

If Persistent They May Carry With Them a Grave Warning.

Hiccup is the spasmodic contraction of the diaphragm. It may be a symptom of the most trivial importance that yields to the simplest kind of treatment or of a serious and intractable affection that persists for a long time and even produces death by exhaustion. No one may hope to be entirely free from hiccup; in its simple form it is extremely frequent, but upon the whole it is more common with children than with adults.

Sometimes the attack comes on without any apparent cause, but it may follow a sudden chill, such as that caused by stepping from a warm bed to a cold room; it may accompany a violent fit of crying, or it may be due to the distension of the stomach by food or gas. Severe fright or nervous shock has also been known to lead to intractable attacks of hiccups.

A feeble infant with whom hiccup comes to be of daily occurence often falls into a state of extreme exhaustion. In such a case great care should be taken to ward off or put an early stop to the attack.

Where there is any serious disorder of the abdominal organs, persistent hiccup is a disquieting symptom, and when it occurs as an accompaniment of kidney disease it is almost always of grave significance.

In simple cases very slight measures are sufficient to put an end to the attack. Anything that causes a feeling of suffocation will generally effect a cure, because that feeling naturally results in a forced contraction of the diaphragm. One old fashioned remedy is the slow sipping of a glass of water; another is the drawing and holding of deep breaths at regular intervals.

In the case of small babies, a mere change of position will sometimes stop an attack. When the hiccup does not yield promptly to simple measures, careful search should be made for the cause. In the case of infants or small children, this is usually connected with the diet.—Youth's Companion.

KISSING IN ENGLAND.

Its Prevalence at One Time Used to Puzzle Foreign Visitors.

Kissing, which has been officially prohibited at the railway station of Sarmen, in Switzerland, flourished in England in the seventeenth century to such an extent that the foreign visitor was bewildered by its prevalence. Nicolaus de Bethlen, who traveled in England in 1663, writes that "my brother and I behaved very rudely on one occasion, being unaware that it was customary in that country to kiss the corner of the mouth of ladies, instead of shaking hands, as we do in Hungary. We were invited to dine at the house of a gentleman of high rank and found his wife and three daughters (one of them married) ready to receive us. We kissed the girls, but not the married ladies, and thereby greatly offended the latter. Duval apologized for our blunder and told us that when saluting we must always kiss the senior lady first and leave the girls to the last."

The learned and sedate Erasmus in 1499 wrote a Latin letter from England to his friend Fausto Anfrolini advising him to come here at once, for, he remarks: "Here are girls with angels' faces who will receive you with kisses. They come to visit you, kisses again. Should they meet you anywhere, kisses in abundance—in fine, wherever you move there is nothing but kisses."

In 1466 a Bohemian nobleman named Leo von Rozmital visited England and in the "Journal of His Travel," published in 1577, he noted, "It is the custom there that on the arrival of a distinguished stranger from foreign parts the hostess with all her family goes out to meet him and the guests are required to kiss them all, and this among the English was the same as shaking hands among other nations."—Chicago News.

Diminutive Aztecs.

The feminine direct descendants of the famous Aztecs are tiny creatures, exquisitely formed and refined in feature. They carry the head with the upbearing grace of the full blooded Indian; their skins are not red, but a clear, smooth copper color that shines like gold in the sun; their hair is coarse and black as ebony, and they are decorated with bright feathers and gay ornaments. These women make the most wonderful pottery that comes to us from Mexico, for they have kept the old Aztec forms and decorations in their art, and they also weave wonderful baskets and do exquisite embroidery.

WHAT C. O. S. DID IN MONTH OF DEC.

Remarkable Amount of Good Accomplished by Organized Charity Here.

Christmas was, of course, the chief feature of the Charity Organization work last month, $186 covering the expenses of Santa Claus and this amount was contributed for the purpose. The Society cared for 94 families with toys and gifts, the Salvation Army registered 67 families, the Good Fellows 87 families and other charities and individual benefactors took care of the rest of the 300 families remembered in this way.

Then there were the S. P. U. G. remembrances, dinners sent by the Charity Organization to 33 families, 112 others by the Salvation Army, churches and charities. Through the kindness of two Sunday-school classes two little girls in one family and three in another were fitted up with good warm clothing so that they might go to school. A quart of milk a day for a month was the useful and lasting remembrance in two families and coal was sent to 10 families through the generosity of a church. A ticket was given to one mother to enable her to visit her daughter in an institution. And so, on the whole, an understudy for Santa the Charity Organization Society had a varied and active season.

The regular work of the Society did not pause, however, 90 families came under the care of the secretaries during the month; 252 applications for aid were made at the office and 299 calls were made on or in behalf of families in need; 393 letters were written and 195 received; 10 committee meetings were held with an aggregate attendance of 101; 10 persons were placed in institutions and 5 were found work.

The usual demands were made upon the funds of the Society. Board cost $23.62, clothing $34.29, household goods, $23.65, milk $18.63, rent $20, and other relief the balance of $195, the total amount spent, exclusive of Christmas funds. Although a smaller sum than customary this monthly expenditure represents fairly the constant assistance the Charity Organization renders the unfortunate of the commtunity winter and summer. A continuance of the Christmas spirit is therefore assured all constributors to the general work of the association.

DID HE SEE MAN'S BODY IN THE BAY?

Engineer Thought He Spied Gerdes' Body But it Could Not Be Found.

Elizabeth, Jan. 13.—The body of a man, believed to be that of Henry F. Gerdes, of Roselle, was seen floating in the waters of Newark bay about 7:30 o'clock yesterday morning by the engineer of engine No. 270, drawing a train of freight cars. The body was seen about 200 feet from the Elizabeth end of the Central Railroad bridge, and to all appearances was caught in the mud.

When the engineer arrived in Elizabeth he reported his discovery to Morguekeeper Martin. With several boatmen Mr. Martin put out in a rowboat for the spot described by the engineer. There was no sign of the body when they reached there.

Gerdes is believed to be the man who was blown from a Central Railroad passenger train during the wind storm a week ago Friday. Members of his family have offered a reward of $200 for the recovery of his body. Gerdes was employed in New York. He has been missing since the day of the storm. The description of the lost man tallies with him.

HAMBURG-AMERICAN SHIP IN DISTRESS AT SEA

(By Telegraph to The Daily Press.)

New York, Jan. 13.—At 6:05 p. m. on Saturday last the White Star line steamship Cedric, westward bound, sighted the Hamburg American steamship Abyssinia, 5,752 tons, displaying distress signals. The vessel reported that her rudder and shaft had been broken. The Cedric had received calls by wireless from the commander of the Abyssinia and immediately hurried to her aid. The Cedric stood by the Abyssinia until 11:25 o'clock that night, in the mean time summoning by wireless the White star line freighter Armenian which left Liverpool for New York on December 29. When the Armenian arrived the Cedric proceeded to New York and the Armenian took the Abyssinia in tow.

Officials of the White Star line said they did not know the exact location of the Abyssinia but figured that the vessel must have been about 900 miles east of Ambrose Channel on Saturday.

WORLD'S GREATEST SKIER.

Camera Catches Francis Kempe in Midst of Great Leap.

If it is possible to personify the Winged Mercury the man in the picture has done it.

The man in the picture is Francis Kempe, the world's champion professional skier, and he is in the midst of a wonderful flight through the air a la Mercury. It is one of the finest sights imaginable—the feat of the expert skier. He leaves the frozen earth to rise up, up and up in a blood tingling leap.

The leap Kempe is shown in the act of making covered a distance of 132 feet. It was at the skiing meet at Stoughton, Wis.

The science of skiing ranks among the most dangerous known in the world of sport. It has flourished for over a century in various forms in Sweden and Norway, the winter countries. The development of skiing in this country has been comparatively recent.

An indefinable knack is required for the skier to leave the ground, pass whizzing through space, sometimes from the crest of a hill, and maintain his upright position in the leap. The slightest move on his part or even a strong gust of wind will suffice to throw him out of balance and in a heap at the end of the leap. More serious injuries and deaths have been recorded in the sport of skiing, in proportion to the number who entered it, than in any other sport indulged in.

Improving the Text.

Father was walking to Sunday school with little Johnny and endeavoring to improve the time by teaching Johnny his golden text, the words of which were, "Whatsoever a man soweth, that shall he also reap." Johnny repeated it after his father several times and seemed to have mastered the correct wording.

As they drew near the Sunday school the father gave Johnny his last rehearsal. "Now, son," he said, "let's have the golden text once more without any help from me."

This is what he got from Johnny: "Whatsoever a man sews always rips." —Harper's Bazar.

WOMAN'S NATIONAL DEMOCRATIC LEAGUE ELECTS NEW OFFICERS AFTER WRANGLE

OFFICERS OF THE WOMEN'S DEMOCRATIC LEAGUE

Washington, Jan. 13.—There was considerable politics in the meeting of the Women's National Democratic league in this city. Mrs. J. S. Crosby, of New York, the oldest president, failed of re-election, being succeeded by Mrs. Stephen B. Ayres, the wife of a New York congressman. Mrs. H. T. Scott, in nominating Mrs. Ayres, said that President-elect Wilson had indorsed the wife of the New York congressman for the post. Mrs. Crosby resented this statement and declared that Mr. Wilson would not interfere in the matter. The officers shown in the picture, from left to right, are: Mrs. Crosby, Mrs. J. Charles Linthicum, wife of Representative Linthicum, of Maryland; Mrs. William A. Cullop, wife of Representative Cullop, of Indiana; Mrs. Robert L. Henry, wife of Representative Henry, of Texas, and Mrs. Ayres, the new president. Mesdames Henry, Linthicum and Cullop are vice presidents.

OBSERVE HONOR DAY IN A SUNDAY SCHOOL

Prizes Awarded at Congregational S. S. John M. Whiton Making Address.

Honor Day, a custom of the Congregational Sunday-school, was celebrated yesterday afternoon. The service was opened with a short address by the superintendent, John M. Whiton, on "Character and Faithfulness."

Prizes were awarded these pupils: For three years' perfect attendance, Harold C. Mundy, received a gold pin, encircled by a wreath with a pendant attached; for perfect attendance for two years, Leslie Allen was given a gold pin, encircled by a wreath; for perfect attendance and regularity in contributions for one year, Edna and Isabel Mundy, were presented with a gold pin, a book and a certificate of membership on the Roll of Honor; for perfect attendance for one year, Katherine Martin, Harriet Morgan and Russell Allen, received gold pins; for regularity in contributions for one year, Elizabeth Martin, Ruth Fuller, Florence and Harold Nielson were the recipients of a book; Gladys Wiltze and Elizabeth Martin received honorable mention, for being present all but one Sunday, during the past year.

An American flag was given to Miss Weseman's class for having a perfect attendance every Sunday during the last quarter. The classes averaging the next highest in percentage were Miss Estelle Winckler's, 92 per cent.; Mrs. Hylan's, 89 per cent.; and Miss Alice Morgan's, 87 per cent. Mrs. J. M. Whiton's class received honorable mention for having subscribed and paid for four bonds, the proceeds of which went to the church extension fund.

The silver loving cup, which is awarded to the class having the highest percentage each year and at the end of three years going to the scholar of the winning class having the highest individual percentage was awarded to Harold C. Mundy, of James McClymont's class.

The report made by the Sunday-school committee showed an unusual record for the past year. Several classes showed an average of 98 and 99 per cent. during the year. For the entire three years the four classes having the highest averages were James McClymont's, 98.35 per cent; Miss Alice Morgan's, second, 95.74 per cent.; Miss Estelle Winckler's third, 95.67 per cent., and Miss M. L. Barre's, fourth, with 89.11 per cent. It was reported that during the past year the average attendance of the Sunday-school was 70 per cent. of the number enrolled.

CLERIC DISCOURSES ON POWER OF GOD

Rev. F. J. Clark Urges That the Foreign Missionaries be Better Supported.

Preaching before the congregation of the Holy Cross Episcopal church yesterday morning, on "The Power of God," Rev. Franklin J. Clark, of New York, told of the organized efforts being made to christianize three-fourths of the human inhabitants of the world, which he asserted are heathens. He also spoke of the religion of the Far East and of the recent changes toward civilization made by the Chinese.

As to China he said, "If we Americans would cope with our moral problems as the Chinese are and show that same conscientious spirit of reform, our social and moral problems in this country would come to a successful solution." Speaking of the missionary work the preacher said the real work of the church is in extending the spirit of God into the lands where idoltry is practiced and urged that the missionaries receive greater support from the church people in America.

The preacher said that a large percentage of the activity of the church is devoted to ministering to people who have heard the Gospel, while a very small portion is devoted to the many millions who have never heard the name of Jesus spoken. Confucianism is not a religion, he declared but a system of philosophy. It is excellent as a philosophy, but a flat failure as a religion. If Confucius were living today he would realize the claims of Christ and would be a Christian, he asserted. The speaker closed with a fine appeal for a wider vision in church work, quoting from Browning's "Saul" to illustrate. Rev. Mr. Clark is recording secretary of the Domestic and Foreign Missionary Society of the Episcopal church.

Another interesting service was held in the evening. At the organ recital preceding the service, Charles Davis, the organist, played the following program: "Festal March," Smart; "Intermezzo," Mascagni; "Barcarolle," Bennett; "Largo," Handel. The rector, Rev. William S. McCoy, preached, drawing lessons of present day application from the life of Abraham.

WHY IN ENGLAND THEY'RE MILITANT SUFFRAGETTES

After the suffrage meeting one night last week, Miss Richards, the lecturer, was asked to explain her attitude toward the militant suffragettes in England, whose window-smashing, life-endangering tactics are so incomprehensible to Americans. Miss Richards said, emphatically, that any offender of the law, man or woman, should be punished according to law for the breaking of it, justly and fairly, all alike, but in order to understand the behavior of the English women it was necessary to know the history of the suffrage movement in England for some years back and especially the history of the first imprisonment of a suffragist.

In brief, it seems that because the petitions presented in the proper form to the Premier by the suffragists were ignored year by year, these representatives of "taxation without representation" decided to draw attention to their plea as men in like case have done, by becoming "political offenders." This was to be done in the mildest way possible, namely, by "a body of more than twelve forcing entrance to Parliament." They pushed past the good-natured "bobby," who guards the door, quite easily, and their leader was arrested in due course. A male political offender in like case is, according to law, placed in custody in what is known as the "First Division." He has a comfortable room, his friends may visit him, he may have books and papers, and all such comforts as he chooses to pay for.

The leader of the suffragists, a daughter of one of the most highly respected men in England, was put at once in the "Second Division," allotted to drunk, and disorderly and filthy persons, stripped of her own clothing and dressed in the woolen garment of such criminals, which is never washed but is only baked to destroy germs, the look and smell of it are most offensive. She was placed in a tiny cell, where two planks on which some straw was laid formed the bed, a pane of glass a foot square, high up in the wall, let in what can hardly be considered a blaze of light, but no air. The coarse prison fare was thrust at her through a hole in the door of the cell. This injustice of this treatment rousead all England and such a feeling of animosity was stirred amongst some suffragists that subsequent acts were perpetrated in a crescendo of feeling—all the easier to understand when it is known that the methods used were not new, but the punishments given were not according to law or precedent. Window-smashing had been a regular method employed by men to get attention to their pleas time and again. Later the women were placed in the "Third Division" for political offenses.

It is almost needless to add that the so-called "militant tactics" have been and are deplored by the great body of equal suffragists both in England and America, who do not consider the movement responsible for the irresponsible acts of a few overwrought individuals.

MABEL'S CHITCHAT

The Old Time Quilting Bee Has Returned to Favor.

NEW KIND OF THIMBLE PARTY.

Clever Way In Which This Affair May Be Carried Out With Small Expenditure of Time or Trouble—Deciding For Oneself.

Dear Elsa—If you want an idea for an afternoon entertainment why don't you be up to date and give a modern version of the old time quilting party? This is the latest way to entertain one's married women friends this winter and at the same time make a quilt for baby, either for your own infant or as a gift for one of your friends.

This function is like and still unlike the old fashioned party of the same name. You make a quilt, to be sure, but it's only a small affair for baby's crib, or it may be merely a creeping quilt to lay upon the floor when his highness is learning to "navigate."

When sending out the invitations to the party be sure to tell each guest to bring her thimble and scissors. Then when they arrive give each one a lead pencil, a piece of unbleached muslin six inches square, a needle and a small spool of black embroidery cotton.

On each of the muslin squares is written the name of some wild or domestic animal, and it is the guest's duty to sketch the animal named on the muslin and outline it with the black cotton.

When all the squares are finished and put together by hand this patchwork is used for the top covering for a cotton quilt.

You have no idea the sport created by the funny attempts at drawing the figures, and many really good looking squares are turned out when fancy stitches are used to outline the animals. At my quilting party I gave prizes for the three best squares.

Another clever idea to be used at these afternoon thimble affairs is a "Mother Goose" suggestion. The guests are asked to cut out of the squares of muslin any figure that can be found in this well loved old nonsense book.

This selection leads to a wide variety of figures, all interesting and all pictures that will be a delight to a child, no matter how crudely they are made.

The "Goose" figures are of white muslin, mounted on squares of red or dark blue. They should be sewed on with buttonhole stitch with either white or colored thread, and if any outlining is necessary this can be done with plain or stem stitch in black.

As for refreshments, any kind of afternoon tea dainties are the thing, but do not attempt anything elaborate by way of "eats."

I had to stop my chatter with you just now to answer the telephone. Helen D. called up to ask me to decide a perfectly unimportant question for her.

Have you ever been harassed beyond endurance by some one afflicted with a chronic inability to make up her mind? Helen D. drives every friend she possesses to desperation by persistent inquiries—"If you were in my place would you do this or that?" When you give your candid opinion I should do such or such a thing if the problem confronted me she comes back with the reply, "Yes, dear, that's all very well for you to say, but"—

I really think it is better to make your own decisions even should you occasionally decide unwisely. And as a reward of merit you may take heart by knowing that the oftener you face your own crises squarely the easier you find it to rely upon your own judgment. You will at least get over the silly and weak minded habit of asking another, "Now, just what would you do in my case?" and you will end by preferring your own opinion to any haphazard advice of another.

Friends may through sympathy and experience be able to suggest and advise, but no friend, however great his sympathy, can transform himself into another's personality. The final settlement in the nature of things must lie with onself.

Before my wisdom descends into something frivolous let me wish you all kinds of luck for the new year.

From MABEL.

A New Negligee.

Few articles of the wardrobe are more alluring to the girl who likes dainty things than the "tea gown" as they are unfortunately called. Many of these gowns are really simple little dresses and are quite appropriate for Sunday night supper or an informal dinner. A fetching little creation which won the heart of a pretty debutante is of blue taffeta, a blue as deep as the heavens. It is given a one piece effect by a wide shirring at the waist, which made it possible to forego the corsets, as the wearer wished to be ideally comfortable. The skirt is slashed on one side and outlined with a piping of yellow taffeta silk. The dearest lingerie skirt, all lacy ruffles with mysterious blue ribbons and pink rosebuds, can be seen as the wearer moves her feet, and the result is entrancing.

The waist fastens at one side and is outlined with piping. The frock is almost harsh in its severity, but it is most becoming to the owner who has a pretty neck. A new feature of this house gown is the long sleeve attached to a low shoulder seam and finished at the wrist with lace. A dear little cap of lace with blue and yellow flowers tucked into the filmy lace at the sides completed the picture.

—Press Wants outline in plain, concise terms the chances that are at hand for the great army of workers, renters, landlords, agents, those who would buy, sell or exchange.

IN WOMAN'S REALM

The KITCHEN CUPBOARD

BEEF EN CASSEROLE.

BEEF cooked in the casserole dish takes on new and delicious flavors; also tough beef is made tender by cooking it in this way.

Miroton of Beef. — Take about a pound of cold beef and mince it. Then season, using half a teaspoonful of salt and half a teaspoonful of pepper. Mix with two hard boiled eggs, chopped fine. Moisten with gravy or stock. Butter a casserole dish, one which has a tight cover. Place the meat in the baking dish and cover with the cold mashed potatoes, which have been mixed to a paste with milk and butter. Cover the top with breadcrumbs and dot with bits of butter. Cover the dish and bake for half an hour. Then remove the cover and let the top brown.

Meat and Vegetables.

Casserole of Beef With Tomatoes.—Take a buttered casserole dish and place in it a layer of round steak cut in pieces and season with salt and pepper and a little sifting of flour. On this put a layer of sliced onions that have been parboiled a few minutes, add the seasoning of salt, pepper and sifting of flour. Next add a layer of tomatoes and more salt, pepper and flour. For the top layer use potatoes cut in quarters and salt, pepper and flour them. Fill the dish with water and bake slowly two or three hours.

Casserole of Beef With Potatoes.—Take a pound of the upper round of beef and cut into small pieces. Slice two small onions and brown with the beef in a hot pan with drippings. Rub a casserole with the drippings, cover the bottom with a layer of sliced raw potatoes, put in the browned beef and season to taste. Cover with a layer of potatoes and then with hot stock or hot water to cover all. Put the cover of the dish on and cook in a moderate oven until done.

A Medley of Ingredients.

Casserole of Beef and Mixed Vegetables.—Take a pound and a half of beef, a tablespoonful of onion and a carrot, cut fine; a tablespoonful of minced celery, a teaspoonful of salt, a quarter of a teaspoonful of white pepper, a tablespoonful each of flour and finely chopped parsley and a dash of paprika. Use a wet cloth to wipe off the meat, which may be chuck or round. Cut into small pieces or let remain whole. Put the meat into a casserole dish with the onion, celery, carrot, salt, pepper and paprika. Add two cupfuls of boiling water and bake in hot oven two hours, adding water if necessary. Put the meat in the center of platter, mix the flour with a little cold water and add to the gravy. Boil one minute. Pour the gravy over the meat and vegetables and sprinkle with the chopped parsley. Garnish with sprigs of parsley.

For the Children

Last summer there was a baby parade at Jersey City, and among its many beautiful and interesting exhibits was Master John Lamon, who masqueraded as a hodcarrier. John was one of the hits of the parade. Indeed, he created more laughter than anything else in line. Since then John and his hod have been in demand for numerous entertainments in which children took part. So recently as Christmas John appeared at a costume show given by a settlement house in New York, and needless to say he was hailed with delight by all beholders. John is a good natured lad and is pleased whenever he can contribute to the happiness of others. Doubtless he and his hod will be seen many times this winter in his comical makeup.

Autographs of Noted Men.

When President Taft on Dec. 17, 1912, affixed his signature as the nine hundred and ninety-fourth signer of the autograph collection of Louis Barth of Budapest, Hungary, he added the name of another leader to a collection which has cost indirectly $70,000. Mr. Barth journeyed from Europe to secure the autographs of President Taft, Thomas A. Edison and other celebrated Americans. Andrew Carnegie was the latest to add his name to the collection.

The signatures and sentiments in Mr. Barth's collection are in forty-four languages and include nearly every ruling sovereign of Europe and some of Africa and Asia. He has the autographs of dominant statesmen, leading writers, artists, scientists, actors and publicists.

Theodore Roosevelt signed the album in Berlin in 1910, and J. Pierpont Morgan affixed his signature in Paris in 1911. The collection was started by Mr. Barth eight years ago.

Don Quixote.

Drive a stick firmly into the ground, letting it stand about two feet high. Turn a flower pot over the top. One of the players, with eyes blindfolded, is placed about ten paces distant from the pot, with his back toward it. He is given a cane or a stout stick and at the word of command turns and advances in the direction that he imagines the stake to be, then halts and strikes vigorously at the pot in the endeavor to break it at the first blow.

Each player may have three trials, but must return to the starting place for each stroke. A special prize may be offered for the one who succeeds at the first attempt.

It is very funny to see how far from the objective point the player will wander and how earnestly he will strike into empty space.

What the Ears Indicate.

The thin, angular ear is said to denote bad temper and cruelty.

Small and thin ears usually denote delicacy and refinement.

As age increases the ear becomes more angular and marked.

People with musical tastes generally have large and prominent ears.

Abnormally large, thick ears are associated with a sensual and coarse nature.

Great philosophers and statesmen have been noticed to have large and sloping ears.

The Judge.

I think he's judge of all the rest,
Our friend the solemn frog;
He's judge of all the water things,
The skimming bugs with dripping wings,
The turtle on the log.
He sits upon a lilypad,
And if he sees that one is bad
With sternness he will say:
"Go hide among the darkest weeds,
Down deep among the dungeon reeds,
And there repent your wicked deeds.
Away, young thing, away!"

Suffice it should be to say that practically every kind of linen in the art linen line is included in the enormous collection. The importer from which we purchased the samples is one of the largest dealers in art linens in America. And, bear in mind, we purchased all the samples—5,754 pieces in all. Though the lot is simply immense, we urge you to shop early. We expect the art linen section (second floor, Halsey street), to be crowded with enthusiastic shoppers soon after the store opens. The sale is too good for any woman to miss.

Somerville Team Just Toys With Thompson's Five, the Score Being 28 to 8.

Lacking team work and passing and shooting wildly, the local Co. K basketball team was swamped at Somerville on Saturday night by the Co. M Cadets by 28 to 8. The Plainfield players seemed bewildered by the large court on which they fought and could not keep there feet on the slippery surface. Many spills resulted. The star of the game was Bolby, Somerville center, whose offensive work outshone that of any other man on the floor. He caged six field goals during the evening and covered up in fine fashion when on the defense. Wittenburg who shared the pivot position with Bolby, ran a close second to his team mate and shot in five counters from the field.

The game was a good one from the side lines. It was cleanly played and the passing of the home team was sharp. Only two fouls were called because of rough playing. From the start it was apparent that the local team had little strength to successfully cope with the speedy Somerville quintet. Nolan featured for the Plainfield sharpshooters when he scored one half the points credited to his team. The score:

DECIDING GAME WON BY CHAPEL PLAYERS

Dunellen Girls Put up a Good Fight But Are Defeated 16 to 11.

By defeating the Dunellen basketball team on the Hope floor Saturday night, to the tune of 16 to 11, the Hope chapel girls won the deciding contest of a three game series. The teams were evenly matched and the game was nip and tuck from start to finish, neither team having a decided advantage over the other at any stage.

Both teams put up a superior article of team work and passing but the home players' familiarity with the court stood them in good stead when it came to caging the winning goals. The score:

N. P. H. S. GIRLS TO PLAY HOPE TONIGHT

Two Teams of Feminine Rivals Will Meet on Chapel Court.

A pair of feminine basketball teams will clash on the Hope Chapel court tonight in the first of a three-game series. The contestants represent Hope Chapel and North Plainfield High School and the rivalry that has long existed between these two aggregations is bound to turn tonight's game into a fast and interesting struggle. The Hope Chapel girls are still smarting under the 90 to 2 defeat they encountered at the hands of the Boroughites last season and will strive their hardest to avenge the trouncing. North Plainfield High School will be minus the services of last year's star forward, who was credited with winning the Hope game single-handed, and N. P. H. S., minus Miss Helen Hummel, will have to put up some speedy basketball in order to defeat the Chapelites.

Tonight's game will be the second of the season for the Boroughites while the Hope representatives have played five to date. Both of the fives will present their strongest lineups. Captain Duncan, of Hope Chapel, playing the same five players who have weathered all of the preceding games. Miss Clara Smith, captain of N. P. H. S., has announced no definite lineup as yet but has a large squad to pick from.

HOPE CHAPEL'S FORMER SCHEDULE DECLARED N. G.

George Leighs, who was recently elected manager of the Hope chapel basketball team, has issued a notification to surrounding teams, stating that he will not be held responsible for games arranged by the former Hope manager. It is necessary for him to take this step in order to protect the reputation of his team which has no account of the games previously arranged. Last Saturday night Leighs had planned to give his players a short respite from work and received a postal Saturday morning from Perth Amboy stating that Hope was expected to appear against a team in that city Saturday night. Leighs did his best to get the team together but many of the players had other engagements and he had to call the game off, thus placing the Perth Amboy players in an indignant frame of mind.

BARGAIN DAY AGAIN AT SCOTCH PLAINS

Girls' and Boys' Quintets Will Perform at Scotch Plains Tomorrow Night.

Another double bill of basketball will be staged on the court at the Scotch Plains' Parish House tomorrow night, the Nonpariel girls playing the Plains girls in the preliminary, and the Scotch Plains first team playing the Y. M. C. A. Ajax in the main attraction. Although the girls fives have met before this season and the score proved an overwhelming victory for the Nonpariels, the Parish House maidens have polished off the rough spots with frequent practices and will probably give their opponents a tighter race at this meeting. The Plainfield girls still maintain their unblemished record and although they have been able to get in no practice, expect to put up another stellar exhibition of the girls game.

Scotch Plains has long been aching to get a whack at the Ajax and will present their best lineup against the association boys tomorrow night. Their familiarity with the Parish House court, together with their unusual playing ability, ought to make them a formidable proposition for the Plainfield delegation to dispose of.

HOPE MANAGER ARRANGING FINE SCHEDULE OF GAMES

Manager George Leighs, of the Hope Chapel basketball team, is busily engaged arranging a schedule of games with first class teams both in this city and in other parts of the State. By covering a large area of the State with a game with the leading quintet in each section, Leighs hopes to place his team in line as a contender for the State junior title and it certainly looks as though the Chapelites were entitled to a look-in on this coveted honor. Hope Chapel is by far the best looking aggregation for the city championship at the present time, and the Hope team's record of victories is a string which none of the other teams can boast of.

Leighs has arranged the following games to date: January 25, Y. M. C. A. Ajax, at Hope Chapel; February 1, First Presbyterian, at Hope Chapel; February 8, Royal A. C., of Orange, at Hope Chapel; February 15, Tuscanoa Canoe Club, of Newark, at Hope Chapel; March 22, Cornet A. C., of Hoboken, at Hope Chapel.

JACK MARTIN WILL LEAVE FOR SOUTH NEXT MONTH

Dave Driscoll, who was a prominent figure on Crescent Oval last season in a Plainfield uniform, has banded together a team of baseball stars who will leave on February 15 for Porto Rico where they will show the natives how the National game is played. Among those who will accompany Driscoll is Jack Martin, of this city, and Hal Chase, who will probably be a team mate of Martin's when the American League season opens. Driscoll has gathered together a speedy collection of both major and minor leaguers.

HIGH SCHOOL GIRLS DEFEATED ON COURT

Speedy South Orange Basket Cagers Romp Home an Easy Victor.

Playing against the strong South Orange High School girls' team on their home court Saturday afternoon the Plainfield High School girls were defeated by a score of 20 to 11. Superior shooting and basket caging on the part of the visitors was responsible for the decisive victory and the local girls displayed a noticeable weakness along the shooting line.

This was the second game of the season for the local girls and although defeated they were by no means discouraged, for the winners are considered to be a team of the fastest feminine material in scholastic circles.

HOPE CHAPEL BASKETBALL PLAYERS HAVE BUSY WEEK

The coming week will be a busy one in basketball for Hope Chapel players as the managers of the various Hope quintets have scheduled games to be played tonight, Wednesday, Friday and Saturday. In the chapel gym tonight the Hope girls will lineup against the North Plainfield High School representatives. Wednesday night the boys' club will play the Holy Cross team in the latter gym, and Friday night this same five will play the Scotch Plains senior class five on the Hope court. No first team game has been carded for Saturday, because of the Plainfield High School minstrels, but a picked team from the Chapel will play the Scotch Plains second team.

BASKETBALL TEAM.

At a special meeting Saturday afternoon held at the Y. M. C. A. a basketball team was organized to represent the local association on the court. Carlton Smith was elected captain and Pierson Bailey manager. The men to play on the team will be Bergen Naylor, Taylor, Smith, Bailey, Coyle, J. Farmer, L. Manning and J. Manning. The first game scheduled for the team will be with the Company K quintet, to be played in the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium next Saturday night.

ICE SKATING CHALLENGE.

Frank Sacthilan, Fort Lee, N. J., is anxious to arrange a skating race for Elfrieda MacMillen with any girl in Jersey at from one-half mile to a mile, for the championship of the State. Last season she defeated Dolly Pederson, of Boston, in a mile race in the Arena there.

TEN POINT VICTORY OVER AJAX QUINTET

Y. M. A. Team of Bound Brook Played Locals to Standstill.

Ten points separated the Ajax from victory at the conclusion of their game with the Y. M. A. basketball team, of Bound Brook, on the local court Saturday night. The final score was 39 to 29 and might have been much more one-sided if it had not been for the accurate shooting of William Psacock, whose playing was the one redeeming feature of the contest both on the defense and offense. Ulmer was the shining light for the victors, getting a creditable collection of his characteristic overhead shots.

FAIRVIEW EASY FOR HOLY CROSS TEAM

Day Puts up a Fast Game for the Winners—Final Score 31 to 16.

Holy Cross basketball players had little trouble in winning the game from the Fairview A. C. five in the Holy Cross Parish House on Saturday night. The final score was 31 to 16. Beckman and Kline of the losers were the only men who were able to break into the scoring column for more than a single counter by any work from the field. Day featured for the winners and was the fastest player on the floor. His offensive tactics netted his team a dozen points and he dribbled away from his man at will. Holy Cross displayed good team work, covered off in speedy style and broke up almost every attack that was launched by the borough players. Its pasing was clean and sharp and at times the players sacrificed possible scores in order to develop unified play. Following is the score:

Frank Chance's $25,000 Salary Fine Piece of Advertising.

HAS BIG TASK ON HAND.

New Manager of New York Americans Will Experience Hard Time Trying to Build Up Weak Club With Material on Hand.

By TOMMY CLARK.

The announcement that Frank Chance will receive $25,000 and 5 per cent of the earnings of the New York American league club is about as clever a piece of baseball advertising as has ever been pulled off on the fans.

This gossip about paying a $25,000 salary for piloting a team should be taken with a grain of salt by the fans. It is hard to figure any logical reason why Chance as manager of the New York Americans should be paid a salary three times as large as he received when leader of the Cubs. While at the head of the Chicago team Chance drew down $7,500 a year and 10 per cent of the earnings of the club. If Chance gets half of the amount mentioned above he will be doing well. Baseball is a hard business proposition, and the magnates see to it that players don't get any overwhelming share of the profits.

How he will fare as manager of the Yankees remains to be seen. When he assumed charge in Chicago he had the good fortune to inherit a ball team built up by Frank Selee, and while it was badly shattered it still had a number of stars in its ranks, such as Evers, Sheckard, Tinker, Schulte and Brown.

But he got wonderful results out of this team. It began to crumble in 1910, but Chance pulled it home a winner and in 1911 and 1912 gave the Giants a hard struggle.

The collection of players he falls heir to are not anything to speak of, with the exception of one or two men. They were a sadly disorganized lot at the conclusion of the season.

Chance will be placed in entire charge of the team, given a free rein and be judged by results. As a disciplinarian he is in a class by himself, and there is no doubt that he will be able to handle the players under him to better advantage than if it were left partly to others.

Chance's main danger is that the fans are apt to expect superhuman things of him. The fact that he himself does not believe that he can build up a winner in a single season is shown by the fact that he signed a three years' contract. He will have little trading material and will therefore be obliged to develop a team of youngsters.

President Robert C. Watson has received a letter from P. Deschamps, president of the Golf de Paris, from La Boulie, France, inviting the United States Golf association to choose a team of four professional golfers to play a Franco-American professional team match against four of the leading French professionals at the La Boulie links at the end of June, 1913. As some of the leading American professionals will undoubtedly be abroad to play in the British open championship it will be easy for them to go to France to take part in the event. The French association will guarantee to each player on the American team $100 for traveling and maintenance expenses and an extra $200 to the winning team, with a medal for each of its players.

The proposed dates for the Franco-American match are on either June 27 and 28 or else June 30 and July 1, which is left to the option of the American team.

Captain C. N. Snowden, Jr., of the Yale varsity crew announced recently that James O. Rodgers, '98, has resigned as head coach of the university crew and that W. A. Harriman, '13, will succeed him in the spring. Mr. Rodgers will continue to give as much time as he can spare from business to the development of the university boat.

Robert Stewart Accepts Defi of Alfred Jordan For a Match.

Alfred Jordan, who recently put up $50 with F. F. Fitzpatrick, president of the National Checker association, to play for the title lately held by the late Richard Jordan of Glasgow has been accepted by Robert Stewart of Paisley, Scotland.

He has placed a $50 deposit with the Glasgow Herald as forfeit for a match of forty games under the rules governing the national Scotch tournaments.

COLLEGE REGATTA JUNE 21.

Intercollegiate Rowing Association Decides on Dates For Next Three Years.

Dates up to 1915 have been set for the regattas of the Intercollegiate Rowing association that are held at Poughkeepsie, N. Y., annually. The races this year are to be held on Saturday, June 21, almost a week earlier than usual, and only a day after the Yale-Harvard race on the Thames.

Next year the regatta is to be held on Friday, June 26, and in 1915 it will be rowed on Monday, June 28.

TALBOTT AFTER GOTCH.

Former Olympic Weight Hurler Latest Aspirant For Wrestling Honors.

Another prominent athlete to forsake the ranks of the amateurs to go in search of the clinking dollars is Lee Talbott, former intercollegiate champion and one of the best weight throwers developed in America in some years. In Kansas City, where Talbott is in business, the folks are rooting their heads off to have him crowned "champion wrestler of the world." Mr. Talbott intends to wrest the laurels from Frank Gotch.

For the past few weeks Talbott has been hurling challenges at Gotch every few minutes, but the latter has seen fit to avoid an answer. Talbott is persistent, and if Gotch keeps on turning down his "defis" he will announce himself as America's premier mat artist.

Talbott made the 1908 Olympic team, and, though he didn't score any points, he always made sure his own countrymen got in the limelight. He contented himself with keeping the foreigners at a safe distance.

One of the big clubs in Kansas City has practically matched Talbott to try conclusions with Gus Schoenbein (Americus). If Talbott defeats Americus as easily as he forecasts a determined effort will be made to get Gotch for him.

Holding Pace Hard Work.

John J. McGraw arises to state that this last National league campaign furnished the toughest year he has ever known as leader in the game.

"Setting the pace is always the hardest job of any race," he remarks, "and holding the pace after you have set it is about as tough. It was all the harder, as there was no one weakness in the Giant play, but a flurry of weak batting, poor fielding and uncertain pitching mixed. If it wasn't that it was something else."

And the toughest blow of all was to guide a team of this order successfully to the tenth inning of the final game of the world's championship and then gaze moodily upon the result.

REV. DR. J. T. HEADLAND TO LECTURE ON CHINA

Rev. Dr. Isaac Taylor Headland, author of "China's New Day," will give two lectures at the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church, Wednesday, January 15, at 3 p. m., and Wednesday, February 12, at 3 p. m., under the auspices of the Plainfield Association of Women's Missionary Societies. The lecture on Wednesday will be the topic, "America's Part in the Making of China." The topic of the second lecture will be "Some By-products of Missions."

Dr. Headland was born and raised in Pennsylvania, educated at Mount Union College, Ohio and Boston University, and is a member of the Author's Club of London, and Twentieth Century Club, of Boston. For sixteen years he was taught the sciences in Peking University, China, and has been called "the Chinese Britannica." For the past two years he has given his time to the Laymen's Missionary Movement. He has also written "Chinese Mother Goose Rhymes," "Court Life in China," "The Young China Hunters," etc. An offering will be received at both lectures.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES.

Arthur V. Lindsey, a former member of the Junior class, left Saturday on board the Byron for his home in Brazil. Lindsey came here four years ago for the purpose of study and was conceded to be one of the most brightest pupils in recent years. He was pacticularly active in all branches of editorial and dramatic endeavor.

Harold Tomlinson, a member of the Junior class, left Saturday for Peddie Institute where he registered as a student.

Samuel B. Howe, head of the history department in this school, has just received his recent compilation on the "Essentials in Early European History" from the publishers and is now engaged in composing a volume dealing with "Stories of Ancient Times."

Three games of basketball have been scheduled by Manager Grisley for next week. Monday the team will go to Somerville, Thursday it will play the opening game of the Interscholastic League at the Y. M. C. A., and Saturday Grisley will take his charges to Trenton to play the High School of that place.

Albert Brynarski, of the basketball squad, who has been incapacitated for some time past with an injured knee, consented to make the trip to Yonkers at the last moment Friday afternoon and notwithstanding his handicap he put up a star game. Coach Wriston had to face the problem of gathering together five players who were eligible to play and was forced to draft Brynarski with his injured limb.

LEAL'S SCHOOL NOTES

The Dramatic Club is rehearsing two farces to be presented on the evening of Saturday, February 1. The plays were written by William Dean Howells and the schoolboys are working hard to make the show a decided success.

Monday afternoon the Leal's basketball team will lineup against North Plainfield High School on the Y. M. C. A. court in the first contest of the Interscholastic Basketball League, Thursday afternoon the Leal players will lineup against Plainfield High School on the same court.

Captain Nash has had his charges practising regularly under the supervision of Coach Wardlaw and predicts a good game against N. P. H. S. The Leal's players are familiar with the Y. M. C. A. court, which is their home floor, and this fact ought to stand them in good stead in their interscholastic League contests.

PRAY FOR TOWER AND ENVOYS

Turks Believe Empire's Fate Rested With These Two.

For their tower and their peace envoys the prayers of the whole Turkish race have been offered daily during the last few weeks. According to a national superstition, the fate of the empire rests with the "burnt tower" of Stamboul. But more practically the fate of the nation has rested with Rechad Pasha and the other peace envoys seeking to terminate the Balkan controversy. Rechad Pasha has established himself as the wiliest old diplomatic fox in Europe.

When the "burnt tower" of Stamboul falls the Turkish empire falls. So runs the prediction in which the Moslem dwellers in Constantinople believe. That is the reason why, during the most critical period of the Balkan war, prayers were offered at the base of the venerable pile that may fall at any minute.

The tower was erected centuries ago and is considered almost sacred by the Turkish populace. About five years ago it was in danger of falling and was braced up by iron bands and uprights.

WIND TILTS STEEL WAR DOG.

McCall, One of Uncle Sam's Destroyers, Caught In Gale.

A striking example of the force behind the fierce gales which swept over New York harbor recently and caused great damage to shipping is shown by the latest picture of Uncle Sam's destroyer, the McCall. This substantial war dog of steel is shown tilted to an alarming degree. And the wind which

The McCall and the Paulding, another destroyer, are two of the vessels it is planned to send to the Panama canal. The Atlantic fleet, which recently mobilized at Guantanamo, Cuba, to stay in winter quarters, will pay a visit to the canal in sections.

WHAT IS A "THOR" MORTORCYCLE

The Pride of the Boulevard and Boss Of the Turnpike.

(Finished in WHITE & BLUE Striped)

Do you want a machine that has speed for the speed fiend, power for the mountain climber, quality, durability, etc., perfect control, and when you go out for a ride you always ride back, you ride up the hills and do not push your machine up by mule power? Then ride a THOR. "WHY?" Because the THOR is built by the Aurora Automatic Machinery Co. who built the first gasoline motorcycle engine, or in other words they are the pioneers of the motorcycle, and the originators of the chain drive. If you are interested look me up. I will be at the THOR stand evenings from 6 to 10:30 at the Auto Show, Grand Central Palace, Balcony Floor Space No. 706 and would take pleasure in showing you the THOR 1913 models.

E. H. BIRD, P. M.

TO THE VOTERS OF PLAINFIELD:

Have you ever stopped to think that one of the arguments which has appealed most strongly to many of our best citizens of all classes to make Plainfield their home city is the fact that an unwritten law has led the Honorable Members of our City Council to grant no additional liquor licenses either inside or outside the so-called "Tyler License Zone."

Do you realize that a strong effort is being made to induce the members of the Council to grant new additional licenses and to renew others heretofore canceled, also to enlarge the "License Zone" further into the residential districts?

Every voter who is opposed to the granting of such licenses and the enlarging of the zone is urged to sign at once the following blank and forward promptly to Wm. T. Schmittman, Secretary, 208 Madison avenue.

Hudson Representative in Upper House Will Become Governor When Wilson is Sworn in as President in March.

(By Telegraph to The Daily Press.)

Trenton, Jan. 14.—Featured by the passing of all law making machinery from Republican to Democratic hands, the 137th Legislature organized today for a session which it is predicted will be one of the most notable in the recent political history of New Jersey. After the Houses had got under way, the valedictory message of Woodrow Wilson as Governor of the State was read, and was listened to with unusual attention as having some from the pen of a man so soon to become President of the United States where a much larger legislative field will await his action. The entire message will be found in another column.

The Senate switched from a Republican majority of one last year, to a Democratic majority of three. There are eight Republican and seven Democratic holdover Senators, with six new Senators, five of them Democratic and only one Republican. In the Assembly the Democrats have 51 members and the Republicans eight, Assemblyman-elect Leeds, of Gloucester, having died. This gives the Democrats a majority on joint ballot of 46 and insures to that party beyond all doubt not only the election of the United States Senator and a State treasurer, but also absolute control of all legislation and other work of the session. The joint Republican representation of only 17 is said to be the smallest in the history of the State.

Senator Davis, of Salem, Democratic leader, called the Senate to order. There was then read from Secretary of State Crater an official statement designating the six senators-elect. They were: Blanchard H. White, Republican, of Burlington; Harry C. Wheaton, of Cape May; George F. Martens, Jr., of Hunterdon; William E. Ramsay, of Middlesex; Peter J. McGinnis, of Passaic, and Samuel T. Munson, of Sussex, Democrats.

Following the usual custom of giving the honor of the temporary presidency to a member of the minority, Senator Harry D. Leavitt, of Mercer, a Republican, was chosen to preside until permanent organization was effected. He was escorted to the president's chair and then Francis B. Davis, of Gloucester, who was secretary last year and also a Republican, was elected temporary secretary. The credentials of the Senators-elect were presented and they formally took the oath to support the constitution of the State and uphold the government. This completed the temporary organ-

LOCAL POLICE BOARD FORMALLY ORGANIZED

Mayor Percy H. Stewart was seated as chairman of the Councilmanic Police Board at its organization meeting last night and Councilman A. D. Edgar was made secretary. The other members are Leighton Calkins and Charles C. Randolph, Mr. Calkins being chairman of the police committee.

There was an informal discussion of police matters, better protection for the outskirts of the city being one thing in particular to engage the attention of the members. This will be taken up early in the year. It was also decided to restore drill practice in the department. Police pensions was also discussed, and Mr. Stewart said that at the proper time he would name commissioners in accordance with the new law. The commissioners are chosen from among the members of the department.

SISTER SUCCEEDS BROTHER.

Rev. Thomas Francis, who has been giving a series of Bible lessons at the German Lutheran church, has been called by the Christian Missionary Alliance Society to go on a convention tour through New York State during January. His sister, Miss Mabel Francis, a young missionary, who has just returned from Japan, will take his place. She is an exceedingly interesting speaker and Bible student. All friends of missions are cordially invited to be present at the church on Friday afternoon when Miss Francis speaks.

ROSALIE JONES FAILED TO APPEAR

Much Heralded Suffragette too Busy and Mrs. Feickert Took Her Place.

AFTER RIGHT TO VOTE

Legislative Committee of Women Local Suffrage Association is Told, Will Have Suffrage Amendment Introduced by Senator Davis.

Miss Rosalie Jones, "General" of the suffragists that gained prominence through their achievement in walking from New York to Albany, was unable to address the Equal Suffrage League of Plainfield and North Plainfield, at the home of Mrs. Champlain L. Riley, as announced, and was obliged to send her regrets. She explained that she had to journey south on a speech-making tour and hoped to have the opportunity of speaking here later. The chairman of the program committee and Miss Rodman, a personal friend of Miss Jones, conferred and promised to make an announcement a little later.

Business occupied the first hour of yesterday's meeting, at the conclusion of which Mrs. E. F. Feickert was introduced as the speaker of the afternoon. In presenting Mrs. Feickert, Mrs. Riley called attention to the fact that it was a new year's meeting; that the world today is confronted with new conditions.

"It is generally acknowledged," said Mrs. Riley, "among thoughtful people, that we have absolutely new social and industrial conditions; and the progressives in all parties believe that before these conditions can be properly met women must enter politics and correct the one-sidedness of political views." In support of this position she quoted the following from Felix Adler:

"The misfortune of the woman's movement has been that women have imitated men too much; that they have been doing the same things that men have been doing in the same way. The big idea is for woman to step into the gap where men have failed.

"The existence of the social evil is a menace of the physical perpetuity of the race and the moral soundness of our boys and girls. The social evil has never been dealt with in the radical way that it would have been had women taken a part in the intellectual leadership of the race.

"In the callings and professions woman ought to do what men have failed to do. What is man's failure? It is one-sidedness."

Mrs. Feicket began her speech with a short account of the National Suffrage Convention in Philadelphia. She said that she was much impressed by the reply of Jane Addams to those who criticized her for entering into politics. The latter simply said: "I have not given up my charitable work but I have followed my charitable work with politics."

Turning to New Jersey matters, Mrs. Feickert gave an account of the joint legislative committee, which is composed of members from the four suffrage organizations of the State. The four officers are: Mrs. Everett Colby, Equal Franchise Society, chairman; Mrs. Francis deLacy Hyde, New Jeresy Woman Suffrage Association, vice chairman; Mrs. R. T. Turner, Women's Political Union, secretary, and Mrs. Champlain L. Riley Men's League for Woman Suffrage, treasurer.

"The legislative committee purposes to introduce a suffrage amendment in the Legislature this year," said Mrs. Feickert. Assemblyman Egan, who will be chairman of the judiciary committee, will introduce the bill in the Assembly and Senator Davis will present it in the Senate. A hearing has been granted for Tuesday, February 18, at 10 o'clock in the morning and there will be five or six good speakers, chief among them the Rev. Anna Shaw.

"There will be no half-hour limit to the speaking as there was last year, for the suffragist have practically been told that they can have all the time they want. The legislative committee has employed an organizer to visit counties where there are no leagues."

Mrs. Feickert then referred to the affairs of the New Jersey Woman Suffrage Association, of which she is president. Two new leagues have just been added to the State association, as it is called—Camden and Mechanicsville. Mrs. Feicket is to speak at Bridgeton tomorrow in the hope of forming another league. In conclusion Mrs. Feickert spoke of the suffrage headquarters at 33 Halsey street, Newark, which are in charge of Mrs. Bowne and always open and she invited shoppers to visit headquarters at all times.

URGE OFFICIAL LIQUOR CENSOR

West End Civic Association Hears Plan Proposed and Listens to Father of Act.

ARE AGAINST GLOEKLER

At Meeting Last Night Resolution Against License for Front and Somerset Street Saloon Was Adopted—Vail Heads Organization

Frequent municipal inspection of the saloons in this city by regularly appointed health officers to determine the quality of liquor sold and the sanitary conditions in such places was the plan proposed last night at the annual meeting of the West End Civic Association by Daniel J. Couraine. According to Mr. Couraine the restricted competition of Plainfield's saloons enables the dealers to dispose to the public any brand and quality of liquor that they choose, and that there should be an enactment in the city ordinances stating that only the highest grade beverages be sold, and that the people buy it in clean and well appointed cafes. "We want to do away with any such existing condition but no substitution is given for the stifled competition," said the speaker.

William S. Tyler, former councilman and father of the "Tyler Zone" ordinance, prior to Mr. Couraine's speech, explained ni great detail the extent and purpose of the zone bearing his name. The limits of the zone on the north is the brook; east, Watchung avenue; south, along Fourth street to Park avenue, then to the Central Railroad to Central avenue and down Central to the brook again. It was asked why there are at present two saloons in the West End outside of this boundary. Mr. Tyler answered the query by stating that no cafe in existence previous to the ordinance came under its authority. The two places mentioned had their foundation some time before Mr. Tyler's work in the Council brought him into prominence and therefore were legal resorts.

Mr. Tyler said that the cause for prohibition was due to one thing, but that the measures tending toward the abolishment of the saloon were of such varied character and brought forth so many conflicting ideas upon the subject that the liquor dealers in their single ambition of increasing their business were much stronger than the anti-saloon people. At the conclusion of the former councilman's explanations the association tended him a rising vote of thanks and immediately adopted a resolution with three voting in the negative, to be presented to the Common council at its next meeting protesting against the renewal of any license for a cafe at Front and Somerset streets, and to uphold the Tyler zone ordinance. Frank Wyckoff stated that confining the saloons within the zone was the only possible solution of the question at the present time.

According to Mr. Tyler there was no proviso in his bill for decreasing the number of licenses granted within the city.

During the business meeting twenty-four proposals for membership in the association were read and acted upon. The treasurer, W. J. Boyd, reported that there was $50.50 in the treasury. The original constitution and by-laws committee composed of J. Pennington, chairman; David Coleman and E. B. Davis was appointed by President T. C. Vail to amend the constitution and by-laws before the next meeting. The question of a shelter at the terminal of the Fourth street trolley line at Monroe avenue and Seventh street was deferred until February.

The association plans to hold an entertainment in the near future in which local talent will predominate. Elaborate preparations are being made for the event. A banquet will also take place and the committee in charge will attempt to secure the local Y. M. C. A. hall for the purpose. At the nomination for new officers the following were re-elected to serve during 1913: President, Thomas C. Vail; vice president, Thomas M. Muir; treasurer, W. J. Boyd; secretary, E. B. Fuller.

LODGE INSTALLATION.

These officers for Court Union, No. 3277, I. O. F., were installed last night by Court Physician Dr. M. L. Clawson: Chief ranger, C. L. Ryder, Jr.; past chief ranger, G. E. Volk; court deputy, F. R. Dayton; vice chief ranger, H. H. Pennoyer; treasurer, H. L. Black; orator, Frederick Schomp; senior woodward, S. H. Egan; junior woodward, George Aldrich; senior beadle, A. B. Davis; junior beadle, G. A. Flatley. The officers who hold over from last year were: Court physician, Dr. M. L. Clawson; recording secretary, G. W. Griffin; financial secretary, J. M. Lewis. The installation was followed by a smoker and oyster supper at which a good time predominated.

PHONE RATES TO BE REDUCED

Six Dollars Less for Direct Wire Users in Year and $3 on Two Party Wire.

EFFECTIVE FEBRUARY 1

Means Reduction of $67,000 Per Year in Company's Revenue and Will Affect 12,000 Phone Users in 69 Cities and Towns in New Jersey

The New York Telephone Company announces today that the reduction of telephone rates, following a statement of the Board of Public Utility Commissioners, will affect sixty-nine cities and towns in Northern New Jersey and that the total reduction in the company's revenue will aggregate about $67,000 per annum. Upwards of 12,000 telephone subscribers will be directly affected by the changes, the majority being subscribers for residence telephone service and about 2,000 business subscribers. The new rates will become effective February 1.

H. G. Kerr, division commercial manager of the New York Telephone Company, in speaking of the changes said:

"The revised schedule of telephone charges will not only bring to New Jersey subscribers a big saving in telephone bills, but a better adjustment of the schedule brings telephone service within reach of practically everyone. During the past few years certain towns have grown in population and telephone development much more rapidly than others and in the meantime no general revision of rates has been made. The opportunity is taken to revise the rates throughout the territory with the idea that they shall be consistent with the size and growth of the towns affected. The general plan involves reductions in many of the direct line and in the two-party line rates in effect. In most cases the four-party line rate will not be reduced. The idea of the company is to make its service more valuable to the entire community by bringing it within the reach of more people and it is felt that these changes will bring a large increase in the number of subscribers the coming year."

The following revisions have been made in local rates: Unlimited residence service: Direction line service will be reduced from $48 to $42 per asnum; two-party line service will be reduced from $39 to $36 per annum. The direct line message rate schedule for residences only will be discontinued. Rates covering other classes of service will remain unchanged. The above changes in rates will apply alike to old and new subscribers for similar service.

FEDERATION TO HEAR SALOON ZONE AUTHOR

Wm. S. Tyler to Speak at Big Mass Meeting at Theatre on Thursday Night.

The Federation of Men's Church Clubs and Organizations of Plainfield, North Plainfield and Adjacent Territory, which was formally organized at a meeting in Grace church Parish House, has adopted a constitution and by-laws. These were chosen as a committee to arrange for a mass meeting to be held at the Y. M. C. A. Thursday night, when permanent officers will be elected: Chairman, W. Lester Glenney, Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church; Frank J. Hubbard, Seventh Day Baptist church; F. E. Smith, Trinity Reformed church; Thomas F. Hylan, Congregational church; R. A. Claybrook, Grace Episcopal church; George B. Zimmer, Warren chapel; Walter H. P. Veysey, temporary president, ex-officio. The election of permanent officers will be held at 7:30 o'clock Thursday night, two delegates from each of the men's clubs being appointed for that purpose.

The federation decided to hold the mass meeting on Thursday night to consider the license question, and legal voters in Plainfield and connected with any of its churches are urged to be present. Former Councilman William S. Tyler, father of the so-called "Tyler License Zone," will be one of the chief speakers and others will explain the questions now about to be considered by the Common Council.

BRODHEAD GETS PLACE OF CASE

Mayor Names Him to Succeed Banker on Board of Education.

STATEMENT IS ISSUED

Stewart Says Appointee Comes From Section Where Big Taxes Are Collected and Which Has Been Without Representation.

Mayor Percy H. Stewart has appointed Calvin E. Brodhead as a member of the Board of Education for a term of five years to succeed J. Herbert Case. Mr. Case has been efficiently filling the unexpired term of the late Leander N. Lovell, whose term expired on Jan. 1. It is the first appointment under the new law giving the Mayor the power to name members of the Board of Education.

This will be the first time in the history of Plainfield that a Roman Catholic has been selected as a member of the Board of Education and the first time for some years that a Democrat has been chosen for the position. The last Democratic member was the late Dean Erskine M. Rodman, rector of Grace church.

Mayor Stewart in announcing the appointment of Mr. Brodhead made the following statement:

"Mr. Brodhead has consented to accept the appointment as a member of the Board of Education, and I am very glad that he has done so. He is a man of high character and ability, who I am sure will prove to be a very efficient member of the body entrusted with the administration of our public educational system. He comes from a section of the city in which a large proportion of our taxes are collected, and which has hitherto been without representation on the board. The people of this section are now clamoring for better educational facilities, and as a matter of justice and right, I feel it my duty to give them representation, that their views may receive full expression in the councils of the Board.

"It is my purpose in making appointments, so far as it is possible to do so, to give each section of the city representation. Every citizen pays taxes either on property he owns or in the form of rents, and the time has long since passed when representation can be confined to any particular locality, but on the contrary it must be general, if every one is to be satisfied."

Mr. Brodhead, who resides at 524 Belvidere avenue, is a member of the Union County Board for the Equalization of Taxes. He is engaged in the practice of law in New York. He was a member of the Assembly in 1911, and is a follower of Governor Woodrow Wilson. Mr. Brodhead's father, Garrett Brodhead, holds a position with the Lehigh Valley Railroad.

DR. NEILSON RE-ELECTED PRESIDENT OF S. P. C. A.

Officers were elected and reports presented at the annual meeting of the Plainfield Branch of the S. P. C. A. last night at the Y. M. C. A. Mrs. E. S. Hyatt, the secretary and treasurer, reported a membership of 200, and that a total of $97 had been collected in fines during the past year. Rev. Dr. W. H. Neilson, the president, spoke on the general work of the society and urging the members to be more active. Mrs. S. G. Van Hoesen, the agent, reported eight prosecutions and eight convictions during the year.

These officers were chosen: President, Rev. Dr. W. H. Neilson; vice presidents, Rev. E. Vicars Stevenson, S. A. Krom, J. D. Loizeaux; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. E. S. Hyatt; agent, Mrs. S. G. VanHoesen.

NOTORIOUS LAW NEEDS REVISION

So Says Governor Wilson in Discussing Corporations in Annual Message.

FAREWELL N. J. PAPER

Favors Jury and Tax Reform; Removal of Grade Crossings Through Utilities Commission; Home Rule for Cities and Economy in Gov't.

(By Telegraph to The Daily Press.)

Trenton, Jan. 14.—Governor Wilson in his annual message to the Legislature today followed quite closely the pledges of the Democratic State Platform. After referring to the accomplishments of the past two years of his administration, the Governor called to the attention of the legislators "the further changes in our law which seem to be most immediately necessary. The principal propositions which the Governor favored were:

Corporation reform, security against bogus investment companies, Grand and Petit jury reform; tax reform, solutions of the grade crossing removal problem through a grant of additional power to the Public Utility Commission by which it can order the abolition of the dangerous crossings, full crews on passenger trains to safeguard travel, home rule for cities that they may be "free to organize their lives and exercise the function of self-government with less dependence upon the Legislature of the State," a system of uniform accounting for towns and cities, extension of agricultural, horticultural and forestry schools for the benefit of the farmers, opening the school houses as social centers and places for neighborhood meetings and public discussions, reform in State economy and efficiency along the line of the work now being done by the State Commission on the subject, a constitutional convention this being urged "very earnestly indeed," and amendments to the Federal Constitution ratifying the income tax and the election of United States Senator by popular vote.

The message in full follows:

To the Legislature:

I trust that you will pardon me if the first note I strike in this my second annual message to your honorable bodies is a personal note. I cannot forget that this, though only my second, is also my last annual message to you. I shall presently lay down the duties of governor of New Jersey. I cannot turn away from this great office or give up the privileges it has brought me without expressing my gratitude to the people of New Jersey that they gave me this opportunity to serve them and my sense also of intimate comradeship and obligation toward the men in the legislature of the state with whom I have been permitted to work in carrying out the reforms of the last two years.

They have been very full and eventful years, to which I hope the people of

BURTON HOLMES LECTURE.

Burton Holmes will give his illustrated lecture on "The Panama Canal" at the Plainfield theatre on Tuesday night, January 21. Among the scenes will be the great Gatun dam, immense locks at one end of the great Spillway which will take away the overflow of the hitherto unmanageable Chagres River in its wildest flow. Another interesting features on the program will be the pictures of the Culebra Cut with an army of men and countless machines at work, and the dirt trains weaving in and out among them. The lecture promises to be the next thing to actually seeing the canal in its course of construction and should be of great interest to every American.

Thompson and Lidgate, the sturdy forwards of the Parish House first team, played remarkable basketball Saturday against the first team of Grace Church, Plainfield, and were largely responsible for the defeat handed the visitors by a 49 to 13 score. Hatfield, who has been playing slightly off-color of late, also came into his own, accounting for 10 points. The unlucky "13" proved a hoodoo for both of the losing quintets who played here Saturday, the Parish House seniors being defeated by the Grace Church second five by the score of 17 to 13.

Judging by the form the Parish House lassies showed in practise last night, they should win many games before the basketball season ends. With the necessary confidence needed by all winning combinations in the athletic line the Scotch Plains girls should develop into one of the best female basketball aggregations in Union county.

The Parish House first team of basketball players will journey to Westfield, Friday night, and tackle the Alpha Sigma five of that place in the Westfield theatre building. COUNCIL MEETING.

Reports were received from Collector J. K. Brokaw and License Clerk J. B. Varley at the Council meeting, last night. These were referred to the finance committee for audit, and the annual report of the collector will be published.

W. Koch. The police salaries were fixed as follows: For this year, the pay is to remain the same, $70 per month; next year to be $75 per month, and the third year, $80 per month. This rate of pay will govern the pay of the police force in the future. The pay of substitutes is to be at the rate of $2.25 per day of 12 hours.

The Board of Engineers of the Fire Department were reappointed: Chief, Anson V. Norton; first assistant, Fred. Powelson; second assistant, Clark Alvord; fourth assistant, J. Edgar Griggs. George D. Totten was again appointed as engineer and janitor, at the same salary as last year, $35 per month.

Frederick J. Soule, Dr. Mary Gaston, Dr. W. A. Ackerman, Mrs. R. W. Cornelison and James L. Griggs.

A report was read from Nicholas S. Hill, Jr., in the matter of water furnished by the Somerville Water Company. Beekman, together with the complaint in the matter of enlarging its service mains, with a request that the whole matter be investigated.

RELIABILITY.

AMERICA

In the opinion of a foreigner is a beautiful country of mountains, valleys and—"bluffs;" first inhabited by men who travelled miles and miles to find a place to settle, and now inhabited by men who travel miles and miles so they won't have to "settle."

But foreigners have respect for two American products—heiresses and men's clothing. I don't take my hat off to any clothier in America for having better clothing than mine. I don't have to—because I make it a rule to show the newest in "Things That Men Wear."

CUT OLD METHODS FROM S. S. WORK

That Was Suggestion of Speakers at Dinner of Superintendents' Assn.

FACTS BY HERRMANN

His Investigation Shows That There Are 5,613 Scholars in City and Borough Schools out of Population of About 27,000.

Statistical facts regarding the Sunday-schools of Plainfield and North Plainfield and suggestions for improvements were told to members of the Superintendents' Association by H. W. Herrman last night at their quarterly meeting held in Trinity Reformed church. The facts as given were the result of several months investigation of local schools made by Mr. Herrman for the association.

The business meeting was preceded by dinner at which Miss Margaret Slattery, of Fitchburg, Mass., made a short address before fulfilling an engagement at the local High School. Her talk was largely humorous, but speaking in a more serious vein she urged that the old and traditional customs be discarded in the Sunday-school and church and supplanted by original and up-to-date methods. Incidentally she agreed with Mr. Herrman in this respect, who in reporting his investigation to the superintendents, said he approved of conducting religious business similar to the advanced methods employed by large business concerns of the country, in regard to the keeping of records and systemizing the work.

Mr. Herrman's report in part is as follows:

"Although I have spent over forty years in Sunday-school work I am no expert in Sunday-school matters, but I submit a few figures as I found them and will offer such suggestions as my experience and knowledge prompts. In Plainfield we have twenty-six schools who reported to the County Organization an enrollment of 5,613 scholars, excluding the cradle roll; Plainfield's total population, city and borough, is estimated at 27,000 inhabitants of which 19,000 represent Protestant denominations, (colored churches excepted). I find appoximately 6,700 enrolled as members of the various churches.

"A noticeable fact is, we are spending over four times as much on various local institutions for the betterment of the present generation, although it is a fact that these same results are being accomplished with more reassuring result through the medium of the Sunday-school. The problems of graft and corruption in politics, government and business can best be undone in the Sunday-school."

The report continued showing that 50 per cent. men and 50 per cent. women attended local Sunday-schools when beginners and when adults, but that during the intervening ages, 14 to 24 years, the total attendance in the schools was composed of 35 per cent. boys and 65 per cent. girls."

Other figures given in the report follows:

"Average attendance in Sunday-schools, 53 per cent. of membership; enrollment in eleven of the main schools investigated, 4,119, a gain of 35 members over 1911; average attendance, 2,190; average attendance of teachers, 73 per cent.; attendance during months of September to January, 60 per cent. of enrollment; from January to June, 55 per cent., and from June to September, 39 per cent.; Sunday-school pupils also members of church represent 23 per cent. of the entire enrollment of pupils over eight years old; of the teachers 1-3 are men and 2-3 women."

In speaking of suggestions for improvements the speaker said: "I originally trained for the ministry, but if that fact was heralded I would be welcomed in very few business houses. This is a wrong impression of the Sunday-school and church, which should be suppressed. I would suggest that every teacher have an understudy in order to prevent the many instances of a class being without an instructor when the regular teacher is absent. And I strongly urge that we get together and collectively contribute for the securing of a steropticon machine, a library containing modern editions; a professional instructor for our teachers to coach them in their work and do everything in our power to make our schools attractive. We could have all these improvements collectively and if banded together in an organization for the general betterment of Plainfield Sunday-schools."

During the discussion which followed Mr. Herrman's report, many gave the opinion as that the money of the various churches should support the Sunday-schools. L. H. Gates asked if any superintendent had made a systematic effort to sit in each class at least once in a year and John M. Whiton, of the Congregational church, replied, "I've visited every one except my wife's class and I don't dare go there," which afforded considerable laughter.

Acting on the suggestion of Mrs. R. W. Armstrong, a committee composed of Mrs. Lucie Rising and Arthur M. Harris, of the First Baptist church; Mrs. Ida Angelman, of the First M. E. church, and Miss Harriett Halloway and W. D. Murray, of the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church, was appointed to assist her in forming an institute to promote the growth of Sunday-schools in Plainfield. It was also decided to observe David Livingston's birth with suitable exercises on March 19.

Supper was prepared and served by the following members of Trinity church: Mrs. William Kriney, chairman; Mrs. C. F. Colthar, Mrs. William Trembath, Mrs. William Tunison, Mrs. H. P. Seader, Mrs. Harry Kenyon, Mrs. Charles Zimmer, Mrs. Martin Hansen, Mrs. Fred Wage, Frank Culver, Mrs. Pangborn, Mrs. Sears, Mrs. Weaver, Mrs. Cole, Mrs. Mullenbach and the Misses Mammie Koller, Anna Seberlein and Jean Lindsey.

LIEUT. HORT WOULD QUIT COMPANY K

Members Told at Annual Meeting Last Night, But They Want Him to Stay.

Captain Charles A. Peterson, commander of Company K, told the members at the annual business meeting last night that owing to the pressure of business, First Lieutenant N. A. Hort, has found it necessary to resign his commission. A committee was appointed with First Sergeant George L. Apgar, as chairman, to await upon Lieutenant Hort and see if he would not reconsider. His loss will be a hard blow to the organization the members feel. The time that his resignation will take effect is not known, but it is thought that it will be as soon as it arrives in the Governor's hands.

The report that the treasurer, Sergeant James B. Conkling, gave for the fiscal year ending December 31, was: Cash on hand Jan. 1, 1912, $210.45; total receipts for the year, $2,075.26, making a total of $2,285.71. The total expenditures for the year were, for armory and administrative rooms rent, camp expenses, rifle practice, entertainments and basketball and athletic work, $2,019.57, leaving a cash balance of $266.14 on hand to start the new year with. The auditing committee, consisting of First Lieut. N. A. Hort, Sergt. George L. Apgar and Sergt. LeRoy DeCamp, found the books correct.

Reports were received from the chairman of the various committees showing the work done during the past year. The Recruiting committee, of which Sergt. LeRoy DeCamp is chairman, presented the names of four men who were elected into full membership of the organization.

The prize for the squad contest which was inaugurated Nov. 1 and which terminated Dec. 31 went to Corporal John Kepler's squad. The standing of the various squads were: Corporal John Kepler's, 202; Corporal A. H. Van Arsdale's, 119; Corporal George B. Howell's, 96; Corporal J. A. Thompson's, 89; Corporal John Millwater's, 78, and Corporal Charles Wilson's, 73.

A new contest was started last night and the prize of $10 will be awarded by the captain to the squad having the highest number of points for attendance, general efficiency and indoor rifle practice for each month. A new drawing of men was held by the Corporals who will be in command of their squads in both drill work and rifle practice.

Civil officers of the company were elected. The presidency is always held by the commanding officer, with the next highest acting as vice president. As secretary, Corporal James A. Thompson was chosen, and as treasurer, Sergeant James B. Conkling; sergeant-at-arms, Private Howard Breece, and trustee for three years, Sergeant LeRoy DeCamp. The entertainment committee was reappointed with First Sergeant George L. Apgar as chairman and all the noncommissioned officers on his staff.

Second Lieutenant A. R. Phillips, captain of the Company K rifle team, gave orders for three squads to report for rifle practice in the armory Wednesday, Friday and Saturday nights this week when he will select a team to compete against the Company L team, of Princeton. The match with the college town company will not be held for six or eight weeks.

After deciding to abolish the annual fair, and deciding to rent the hall to the Jr. O. U. A. M. for their fair, to be held during the week of February 22, the meeting was adjourned.

It was also decided that the company attend the Plainfield theatre Thursday night to witness the company basketball team play the Company M Cadets, of Somerville. A good game is anticipated by the local boys, as Corporal Thompson, captain of the team, will put his regular team on the floor, a thing impossible to do when games are played out of town.

"CHINA'S NEW DAY" AUTHOR TO SPEAK HERE

Rev. Dr. Isaac Taylor Headland, author of "China's New Day," considered one of the most remarkable stories on the subject, will address the Federation of Women's Missionary Societies at the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church, tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock. A prominent mission worker speaking of Dr. Headland's story says:

"It is a forceful, highly interesting presentation of the present conditions in China and the causes producing them. In a masterly manner is the wonderful story of the dawning of the new day told, and no reader can fail to see that 'in the fulness of time' all was ready for the making of much history in a very brief period; and that in and under and above all was the hand of God working out His designs for a people long waiting development as a world power."

Dr. Headland's book was written for the Central Committee on the United Study of Missions, which is made up of representatives from the denominational boards of missions of Protestantism in the United States, and it is being used as a text book on missions. Dr. Headland will speak tomorrow on "America's Part in the Making of China," and on Wednesday, February 12, on "Some By-Products of Missions." Both will be at the Crescent Avenue church. An offering will be received to defray expenses.

Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Hughes and family, of Newton, Mass., have returned home after a week's visit with Mrs. Hughes' sister, Mrs. Frank Connolly, of Essex street.

THE GOVERNOR'S MESSAGE.

The second annual message of Governor Wilson, which we print in full today, is quite general in terms and yet is sufficiently specific to bring to the attention of the Legislature the vital things which need to be done. It also has the additional merit of being short. It is probably the shortest message ever written by a Governor of this State. It is also notable for the things it omits. Usually the Governor refers to State matters relating to finances and the public institutions. This message entirely omits any reference to these subjects. Briefed the message makes the following specific recommendations:

(1). Amendment of our Corporation Act to prevent holding companies which the Governor calls "a method of forming vast combinations and creating monopoly against which the whole country has set its face."

(2). Amend the statutes by providing for official supervision over the whole process of incorporation and "provide, in addition, salutary checks upon warranted and fictitious increases in capital and the issuance of securities not based upon actual bona fide valuation."

(3). Provide by law against the sale in this State of any securities "without public license issued from the department exercising the rights of inspection and regulation."

(4). Reform in the drawing of grand and petit juries, which the Governor truthfully says are now "notoriously subject to political influence and control."

(5). Reform in the method of assessing and collecting taxes. He says that now, "in many localities small property owners pay much heavier taxes in proportion to their holdings than large property owners pay and are practically without redress."

(6). Grant greater power to the Utilities Commission that grade crossings may be done away with, "beginning with the most dangerous and proceeding without interruption from the more to the less dangerous until absolutely none is left."

(7). He advocates the enactment of a law for a so-called Full Crew bill. He calls attention to the fact that Pennsylvania has this law and pertinently asks why the railways should be permitted to "carry smaller crews through New Jersey than through Pennsylvania."

(8). He urges a greater measure of local self-government and less legislation as to local affairs at Trenton. He well says: "We should set our municipalities free to organize their lives and exercise the function of self-government with less dependence upon the Legislature of the State." He especially urges the adoption of a uniform system of accounting and of public financial reports.

(9). He touches a vital matter in recommending demonstration work in agriculture. Teaching in the schools is not enough, but practical exhibits in the field under skillful instructors should be made. This problem was discussed at the Governor's Conference at Richmond and is a live topic. What the farmers wish to know is how to make two bushels of grain or corn grow where one grew before; and the Governor's method will accomplish that result. It is doing it in Virginia and other States and it will do it here, if tried. He also recommends that the forest preservation problem be treated in the same way.

(10). He advises that the school house should be made free for discussion of all public questions and truthfully says that local and general discussion is the great cure for most of the evils in Republican Government. This is a very popular suggestion and meets with almost universal public approval.

(11). He urges a readjustment of the administrative affairs of the State. He asks for combination and consolidation of boards. There is much room for this in New Jersey. Ohio did it two years ago and Governor Harmon shows by his annual message this year that over $500,000 has been saved to the State in the purchase of supplies through an administrative board. Governor Fort urged this while Governor and said it would save $300,000 per year in New Jersey, but he was unable to secure it owing to the local influences and the political machine. This is one of the great reforms needed in this State.

(12). He recommends a Constitutional convention to bring our State Constitution in harmony with the times and declares that under our present Constitution "the powers of corrupt control have an enormous and abiding advantage."

(13). He advocates the adoption of the two pending amendments to the Federal Constitution, the one for an income tax and the other for the election of United States Senators by a direct vote of the people. Against the latter of these propositions there is absolutely no argument.

(14). In a final and general clause he recommends the "systematizing of the powers of the State Board of Health, the establishment by statute of an intelligent and thorough going policy of road building and aid for a ship canal across the State.

All these subjects are presented in a clear, forceful manner in the message. Every suggestion is in the interest of the people. All of them tend to eliminate boss control and partisan management. They are practical and of State-wide importance and interest; they all make for economy in State affairs coupled with better government and for a closer touch with the people.

The Governor takes note of the fact that this is his last message. It breathes throughout his devotion to the State and an anxiety for its future welfare. It is the paper of a statesman, called to a higher sphere, who wishes to acknowledge his obligations to the people of New Jersey as he passes from them into a wider field of usefulness. It will be the earnest prayer of the people of our State that he may prove as worthy and successful a President as he has Governor of New Jersey.

MISS SLATTERY GIVES ADVICE TO MOTHERS

Fitchburg, Mass., Normal School Head Talks on "Art of Prevention."

Asserting that if a mother practices deception in the sight of her child, the latter inevitably adopts deception as one of the principles of its character, Miss Margaret Slattery, principal of the Normal Training School, at Fitchburg, Mass., last night in the Plainfield High School auditorium attempted to show parents and teachers how they might save trouble and at the same time do far more efficient work in training children. Her address to mothers and teacher was on the subject of "The Art of Prevention" and it was a timely and instructive talk. She said that if parents and teachers trained themselves to be more careful in preventing the children from learning wrong things from their way of handling the youngsters, as well as from their own acts, much care would be alleviated in the care and proper "bringing up" of the child.

The teacher in the school room, asserted Miss Slattery, who is trying to teach the child honesty and integrity, sometimes has to fight against the teaching in the home. All adults who are in constant association with children should be open and sincere in their relations with other persons, for the child adopts and imitates the ways of its elders, and, according to Miss Slattery, the actions of the parents teach the child much more effectively than any words from a teacher. She said that while it is the fashion in some quarters to criticize the public schools, they were doing extraordinarily successful work in the making of men and women. From her long experience as the principal of the training school she drew from a fund of stories which she told in interesting and pointed manner in illustrating her talk.

MURDERS HIS BRIDE; TAKES HIS OWN LIFE

Donald H. Jadwin Fires Bullets Into Wife's Head and Then Commits Suicide.

Donald H. Jadwin, son of the late Orlando H. Jadwin, one of Brooklyn's foremost citizens, who was accustomed to spending his summers at "The Homestead," at Fawood, last night shot and killed his bride and then took his own life. Until seven months ago she was Miss Minna Van Bergen, a leader in San Francisco society. The tragedy occurred in San Francisco.

The young couple had quarreled ten days ago and then Mr. Jadwin, who inherited a large part of the fortune of his father, in a rage left the home of Mrs. John Baures, the wealthy grandmother of the bride, on Pacific avenue, San Francisco, where they had been living.

Mrs. Jadwin, who was nineteen years of age, was seated at the dinner table with her mother and other relatives, when Mr. Jadwin was announced. It was understood that a reconciliation was to be effected. Following a fond embrace by the couple, Jadwin drew back, pulled a revolver with each hand and, quick as a flash, sent two bullets into his wife's head. In the next instant he killed himself.

WICKERSHAM WILL LEAVE TRUST CASES TO SUCCESSOR

(By Telegraph to The Daily Press.)

Washington, Jan. 14.—Without formal announcement to that effect there is believed to be an understanding that further active trust inquiry or prosecution by the Department of Justice will be left to the new administration.

This is hinted at by Attorney General Wickersham, who had two talks on Monday with Mr. McReynolds in regard to supplemental action against the coal roads. Attorney General Wickersham considers that his department has a good record of trust prosecution and he is not inclined to make any skyrocket display as he goes out of office. He is going to take a trip around the world when he retires.

ATTRACTIVE PROGRAM BY TINA LERNER AT HIGH SCHOOL

Miss Tina Lerner, the Russian pianist, who gives the last of this season's McIntyre concerts on Thursday evening at the High School Auditorium, has been having a series of triumphs this year. Henry T. Finck in the New York Evening Post says:

"Miss Tina Lerner has a beautiful touch, as well as the art of phrasing beautifully, not to speak of an easy graceful way of tripping up and down the scales and through intricate passages as if they were the easiest thing in the world. The most ingratiating thing about her playing was a mysterious feminine spell she cast over every page of the concerto. Miss Lerner will be sure of a double 'success de beaute'—one for her looks, the other for her playing. The program for the concert here follows:

Caprice on "Alceste," Gluck-Saint Saens; Adagio in B minor, Mozart; Rhapsodie in C major, Dohnanyi; Fantasy in F minor, Chopin; Barcarolle in A minor, Rubenstein; Etude Arabesque, dedicated to Tina Lerner, Hinton; Valse Caprice on Strauss' "Man lebt nur einmal," Tausig; Sonetto del Petrarca No. 123, Spanish Rhapsodie, Liszt.

OWLS 'FLEW' TO NEST AT BOUND BROOK LAST NIGHT

Plainfield Nest of Owls, No. 1327, made its second flight last night in a private car to the Bound Brook nest, No. 1775, to participate in the initiation of twenty new members. The Bound Brook nest is in its infancy and the local organization helped it through the difficulties of the initiation. The Plainfield nest was received with a rousing welcome and President Samuel S. Rubin made a brief speech in which he thanked the hosts for the warm reception tendered his brother owls and also recommended the so-called "flights" from one nest to another as a remedy in encouraging a large attendance at the meetings to bring about harmonious relations between the nests in this State. Members from the Trenton nest and other similar organizations in the State were present.

MEXICAN GENERAL HANGED.

(By Telegraph to The Daily Press.)

El Paso, Texas, Jan. 14.—General Jose De La Luzblanco, who has been one of the most important and active of the Federal commanders in Mexico, has been executed by Rebels, according to reports which have reached this city. Gen. Blanco, it is understood, was captured in the Babocora district in Western Chihuahua and first hanged and then riddled with bullets.

Mrs. George F. Watts, of this city, has returned to her former home at Utica, N. Y., where she will live in the future.

The annual election of officers of the Gesang and Turn Verein will be held tonight in Saengerbund Hall, North Plainfield.

THE FORUM.

Editors, Plainfield Daily Press:

J. W. Harrison confuses value: Present worth of merchandise with profit: Acquisition beyond expenditure or pecuniary gain. Also bankruptcy: Inability to pay debts of a business, which may be brought about by many causes other than no profits in selling merchandise, with loss: Act of losing in trade, either merchandise or gold.

Imported merchandise, or what-not, must be paid for in gold or credit given the foreign seller, which indicates loss for England, or any other country.

Exported merchandise, or what-not, is paid for in gold or credit, by the foreign buyer, which indicates gain for England or any other country; therefore, Harrison's figures on Great Britain's trade shows a loss in gold or credits, and it follows that the United States has made a gain in gold or credits; as the reverse of English conditions is found.

England is a country which is forced to purchase much raw material. She, therefore, is dependent upon and must pay for these materials, which represents some of the difference between her imports and exports, and; too, England is a very large store-keeper for a big part of the world.

Value, it is true, is in the merchandise or what-not, imported, but this merchandise is in the hands of the British people—held by their merchants or being consumed, and in the case of raw materials, they are in course of manufacture. Great Britain has had to pay for these commodities in gold or credit, which she gives in exchange, and as Harrison's figures plainly indicate, she shows a loss of over one billion of dollars for 1912; England must "send out, put out, or pay out, because she has received so much for so little." Great Britain may have the merchandise, or what-not, but she is debtor to the world.

UNITARIANS SELECT THREE TRUSTEES AND THEN DINE

The election of three trustees for the next three years was held at the twenty-fourth annual business meeting of the First Unitarian Society of Plainfield at All Souls' church, last night. They were Samuel Huntington, Joseph O. Osgood and Ralph I. Tolles.

Before the business of the meeting was transacted the Women's Branch Alliance served supper in the Sunday-school room to about sixty guests.

Among the contributions to various funds outside the church reported by the collection committee, was one to the Muhlenberg Hospital for $291. Samuel Huntington was re-elected president of the society and the appointment of committees was referred to the board of trustees.

LAW MILL UNDER WAY

ization, and the choice of the permanent officers was proceeded with.

Senator Davis, of Salem, the Democratic leader, nominated Senator James F. Fielder, of Hudson, the choice of the party caucus, for president. The Republicans, through Senator Read, of Camden, their pilot, named Senator Walter E. Edge, of Atlantic. Senator Fielder was elected by a party vote. He was formally escorted to the chair and as he grasped the gavel and assumed the duties of the office he stepped into line for the Governorship, after March 4, when Governor Wilson will become President of the United States.

In accepting the Presidency of the Senate, Senator Fielder said:

"I assume my office realizing fully its responsibilities and with a sincere determination to faithfully and impartially and justly perform its duties according to the oath I have just taken. Each President of this body during my service as Senator, has come to occupy this chair with like serious thoughts, but I count my responsibility more heavy because I am the first representative of my party to take this seat in twenty years and I feel that not only am I on trial, but also the party I represent and now here in the majority for the first time in so long a period.

"To us has been committed by the people of this State the conduct of both branches of the Legislature, and I speak for that majority when I say we purpose discharging our trust completely and to the satisfaction of those who gave it to us. Beside the control of the Legislature, the executive department is in the hands of one of our political faith, the impress of whose character and splendid State policies has been stamped upon our statute books to the everlasting benefits of our citizens. The State will long be his debtor and we give him to the nation, knowing fully the extent of our loss.

"With the Legislative and Executive departments in political accord the legislation to which our party stands pledged should be accomplished without friction. Most of the important laws we have to pass, have received the approval of our friends who are here in the minority, and in their enactment we expect and shall welcome their co-operation, although the responsibility for the desired result will be ours. The matters to which our attention shall be particularly directed, are important and fairly numerous and must be treated with careful consideration and deliberation, and with a desire to enact only such legislation as will be fair and equitable, to all interests affected thereby.

"From my predecessors in this office I have learned many things of value which I shall be glad to call to my aid in the performance of my duties. Two stand out with much prominence. The first is uniformly fair and impartial treatment whereby every Senator shall be afforded ample opportunity to be heard on all matters in which he is interested, and the second is punctuality, whereby sessions will be called to order promptly on the designated hour and the transaction of our business facilitated.

"Senators, I acknowledge my deep appreciation of the honor I have to act as your President, and I hope to so conduct myself as to merit some portion of the commendation so justly bestowed upon my immediate predecessors."

Prayer was then offered and the Senate proceeded to the election of a secretary. William L. Dill, of Paterson, was nominated by the Democrats, and Mr. Davis, by the Republicans. Mr. Dill was chosen for the $1,500 post by a party vote. He has had considerable legislative experience, as he has been secretary of the Democratic minority for two or three years.

A committee of three Senators was appointed to wait upon Governor Wilson and inform him that the Senate had organized and was ready to receive any communications that he might desire to make. Secretary Dill was also instructed to inform the House of Assembly that the Senate was ready for business. The committee to see the Governor reported that His Excellency congratulated the Senators upon organizing so promptly and stated that he would communicate with them by message.

President Fielder announced the appointment of L. Edward Herrmann, a Jersey City lawyer, as his secretary. The remainder of the officers were then elected, all being Democrats, of course. The principal ones were as follows:

Sergeant-at-arms, James M. Glenn, of Middlesex; assistant sergeant-at-arms, Robert Tweedy; journal clerk, William K. Blodgett, of Ocean; assistant journal clerk, Joseph P. Cullen, of Morris; supervisor of bills, Elmer J. Smith, of Warren; assistant supervisor of bills, B. B. Bobbitt, of Monmouth; bill clerk, John Dobbins, of Passaic. The Democrats also named the minor officers, such as committee clerks, doorkeepers, pages, etc.

The honor of the Republican nominations went to those who served last year.

Joseph P. Tumulty, secretary to Governor Wilson, appeared with the Governor's message and it was formally received. It was read and ordered printed.

Official notice was received that the Assembly had organized. The necessary resolutions to put the legislative machinery in motion were ordered by Leader Davis and passed and then President Fielder announced the Senate committees.

Senator Pierce of Union county has been chosen as a member of the committees on miscellaneous business and revision and amendment of laws, and on the following joint committees: sanitorium for tuberculosis diseases and State hospitals.

Senator Smalley, of Somerset county, is on the appropriations, boroughs and townships and education committees of the Senate and on joint committees on public grounds and buildings and State village for epileptics.

Representing Middlesex county, being one of the Democratic majority, has drawn for Senator Ramsey the chairmanship of the labor and industry and stationery and incidental expenses committee, and also membership on appropriations, boroughs and townships and public health. He is also head of the joint committee on State hospitals and a member of the joint committees on the State reformatory and treasurer's accounts.

Assembly Organization.

With its much larger membership, the organization of the Assembly was more picturesque than the ceremony in the upper chamber. Here, also, the Democratic majority was much more pronounced.

The Assembly was called to order by Upton S. Jeffreys, of Camden, clerk of the last House. Prayer was offered and then the members presented their certificates of election. The oath of office was administered to all the members simultaneously. This was the most impressive event of the whole organization. The members all stood at their desks, and with right hands uplifted solemnly swore "to support the constitution of the State of New Jersey," and to "faithfully discharge the duties of member of the General Assembly according to the best of my ability."

Assemblyman Leon R. Taylor, of Monmouth county, was placed in nomination by the Democrats as their candidate for Speaker. He was named by Assemblyman William E. Mount, Mr. Taylor's colleague from Monmouth. Assemblyman Hervey S. Moore, of Mercer, nominated Assemblyman George W. Adams, of Mercer, as the candidate of the Republicans. Mr. Taylor was chosen by a party vote.

Speaker Taylor, of the House, when escorted to the chair said:

"Fellow members of the one-hundred and thirty-seventh General Assembly:

"I deeply appreciate the confidence which you, the members of this house have placed in me. I congratulate you upon your election to an office that carries with it such vast possibilities for the rendering of service to the people of New Jersey.

"The personnel of the present House is of the best. As speaker it has been my duty to select the committees. For every important place there were a dozen members well fitted where but one could be chosen. The assignments were made after the utmost consideration. If there be those among you who are disappointed I can only say that I did my best to be just to all.

"In all governments there have been periods when the laws have not kept pace with the progress made by the individual. New Jersey has been in that condition for years. The Legislature of 1911 sensed a number of the evils and remedied them. It placed the Geran bill, the Public Utilities act, the Corrupt Practices act, the Employers' Liability law and other modernizing legislation upon the statute books but much remained undone.

"Since then no progress has been made. Conspicuous among the evils which must be remedied by this Legislature are the corporation laws. It has been said with much reason, that under present conditions in New Jersey, a charter can be obtained for everything from a Barbary Pirate to a Sunday-school. We must have a new corporation law, one that will be a credit to and not a blot upon the fair name of our State. No longer must corporations be permitted to issue stock which does not represent value.

"A constitutional convention must be called. To it must be invited our ablest and most unselfish minds. The revision of the constitution is a work that the Legislature burdened as it is with many other weighty matters, cannot hope to successfully accomplish. A constitution adequate to their needs is the divine right of a people.

"The platforms of our parties contain promises of progress not only in these matters but in many other things. These promises must be kept. I know that the members of this house look upon their party platforms as evidences of their solemnly pledged words of honor. Progress must be your beacon. If you are guided by it not only will our own generation be benefited but its rays will light the paths of generations yet unborn.

"We of the majority are not, nor are you of the minority here to serve selfish ends or to try to discredit one another. The people of this State do not care whether a measure is advanced by the majority or by the minority. They do care whether a measure is good or bad.

"The privilege of making the lot of mankind better not only in the State but also in the nation has been intrusted to that great party whose birth was but little later than that of the union itself and whose principals have existed since man first strove to better himself through government. It has swerved at times from the true course but has always returned to the paths of public service. When it followed the true course it was like a young man, vigorous and filled with the joy of its strength; when it swerved, it paid the wages of its sins.

"I believe that a speaker should act for the whole house and not for any group; that he should be courteous to all, firm when occasion demands and by his impartiality compel the confidence of each member. If it can be said of me when my work is done that I was true to my beliefs, that will be my reward."

Speaker Taylor announced the appointment of James J. McAteer, of Hudson county, as his secretary, and Winfield Stevens, of Monmouth, as his assistant secretary.

With their overwhelming majority, the Democrats then elected the other officers, the most important being:

Clerk, former Assemblyman Mark F. Phillips, of Essex; assistant clerk, Frank H. Hennessy, of Bergen, son of Assemblyman Hennessy; sergeant-at-arms, former Assemblyman Cornelius Ford, of Hudson, president of the State Federation of Labor; assistant sergeant-at-arms, Frank J. Pfaff, of Union; journal clerk, former Assemblyman Thomas F. A. Griffin, of Hudson; assistant journal clerk, Robert Sturges, of Morris; bill clerk, James F. Wynne, of Passaic; assistant bill clerk, James B. Christopher, of Bergen.

A committee of three Assemblymen was sent to notify Governor Wilson that the Assembly had organized and later it reported that he communicate by message. Official notice of the organization was also sent to the Senate through Clerk Phillips.

This completed the organization and the lawmakers were ready to consider and pass laws for the State.

The two legislative chambers were in gala attire for the ceremony. Back of the presiding officer's chair in each chamber flags were draped, flanked by banks of palms. Palms and ferns also graced the front of the presiding officers' desks. On each desk were large bouquets of flowers. The members' desks in each chamber also bore floral pieces or bouquets, the gifts of admiring friends among their constituents.

Hundreds of citizens and politicians from all sections of the State witnessed the starting of the legislative wheels. Attracted by Governor Wilson's position as a national figure, there were some present from other States too. The galleries, lobbies and corridors were crowded and before the gavels fell announcing the opening of the session there were party caucuses and conferences with the accompaniment of a lot of wire pulling and other evidences of a desire to win some political advantage.

In the lower house, Assemblyman McLaughlin, of Union county, is chairman of the New Jersey Reformatory committee and is a member of the Agricultural College, claims and Revolutionary pensions and bill files committee; Griffin, of Union, is chairman of the commerce and navigation committee and a member of the riparian rights, passed bills and sinking fund committees; Leonard, of Union, is chairman of the railroad and canal committee and is a member of the public grounds and buildings committee; Quinn, of Middlesex, is a member of the bill revision, elections State Home for Boys and State Village for Epileptics committees; Burton, of Middlesex, is chairman of the State Hospital committee and is a member of the commerce and navigation, incidental expenses, riparian rights, Home for Feebleminded Women and State Home for Girls committees; Kirkpatrick, of Middlesex, is chairman of the game and fish committee, and is a member of the State Library committee, and Beekman, of Somerset, is a member of the banks and insurance, judiciary and School for Deaf Mutes committees.

NASH WINS COMMISSION CASE IN HIGHEST STATE COURT

A case of great importance to real estate men has recently been decided by the Court of Errors and Appeals, in which local parties were the litigants.

When Mrs. Lucy McVey sold her West Front street property there was a provision in the contract that Tapscott Brothers, the real estate agents of North avenue, were recognized as the brokers in the transaction and were entitled to two and one-half per cent. on the amount for which the property was sold.

After the sale Mrs. McVey failed to pay Tapscott Brothers, and a suit was brought against her in the District Court by the real estate firm through their attorney, Vincent W. Nash, Jr. This suit was defended by Robert Newton Crane on behalf of Mrs. McVey, and resulted in a judgment in favor of Tapscott Brothers for $434.85.

From this judgment an appeal was taken to the Supreme Court by Mrs. McVey through her attorney. The Supreme Court affirmed the judgment of the District Court in an opinion written by Judge Swayze.

Not content with this affirmance, a writ of error was then taken out by Mrs. McVey through her attorney, and the case went to the Court of Errors and Appeals. The decision reached by that court affirms the decision of the Supreme Court. The opinion was written by Judge Minturn and follows closely the lines of the argument made by Mr. Nash in the brief filed by him.

The result is a notable victory for Mr. Nash, and his clients, as it is the first case to go to the Court of Errors and Appeals from the District Court of this city, and settles a legal question about which there has been much dispute.

MUST PROVIDE FOR WIFE.

Joseph Benzik, 1228 Willever street, was arraigned before City Judge De Meza on complaint of his wife, who accused him of cruelty and non-support. She claimed he neglected her and spent his time and earnings on his brother and sister who have recently come from Europe. After a reprimand had been administered the man was released on a suspended sentence and warned to properly provide for his spouse.

St. Paul's Cathedral In London Again Reported Falling

ANOTHER report, repeating a warning uttered in 1902 and in 1907, several days ago startled Christendom with the news that St. Paul's cathedral, London, was sinking and that big cracks in its dome were widening.

This development caused immediate agitation by various societies and the public at large in London against the proposed construction of a subway close to the great pile. Next to St. Peter's in Rome, the Cathedral of St. Paul is perhaps the most notable sacred structure in the world. Certainly it embodies more historic lore relating to early religious affairs of England than any other. It contains monuments to a great number of England's heroes and the graves of others.

Thus when it is reported that the structure is on the brink of a great catastrophe the entire nation is shocked. Sir Francis Fox, the celebrated English engineer, who has had big experiences, such as piercing the Simplon tunnel, saving the Winchester cathedral and preserving the mosque of St. Sophia at Constantinople, is authority for the statement that St. Paul's is actually moving and in danger. The cathedral authorities consulted Sir Francis when it became known that the county council was contemplating the construction of the tramway underground near the big edifice.

His report showed that some of the huge buttresses were giving way and that quick remedial measures were necessary to insure safety for the building. He declared that as the earth to be removed for the proposed subway would amount to several thousand tons it was very likely that the equilibrium of the cathedral would be affected by it.

"The cathedral is overloaded and actually moving and cracking," he reported. "In my opinion, the subway proposed for the vicinity should on no account be permitted."

Cracks and various signs of approaching wreck have attracted attention to St. Paul's several times at wide intervals in the past.

TOWER OF ST. PAUL'S.

In 1902 cracks five inches wide were first discovered. The church authorities sniffed and frowned at those who sounded the warning. They declared it was positively wicked to spread the sensation that imminent danger existed. Yet the report was well corroborated, and the statement that the historic fane was overloaded had clear proof.

It was recommended by several experts that an entirely new foundation be constructed of concrete to support the edifice. Nevertheless nothing adequate was done, and the cracks, which are located in the great dome, have perceptibly widened and lengthened.

Several other churches have suffered decay and final collapse in London, and all previously had been reported in danger. It was during the first agitation over St. Paul's condition that the famous Campanile of St. Mark's, in Venice, fell into decay and finally tumbled down into the square of San Marco. Even in the face of this grave sidelight on the danger to St. Paul's the English officials poohpoohed the warnings.

St. Paul's cathedral, according to some authorities, was in pagan times a temple of Diana. This theory was rejected by Sir Christopher Wren, who designed the present structure. He believed there had been a building on the spot, erected by Christians in the time of the Roman occupation, which was demolished by the pagan Saxons. It was restored by King Ethelbert in 610 and burned down in 961. The structure was rebuilt in the same year and again destroyed in 1087. A new structure was immediately begun, but not completed for 200 years. It was known as Old St. Paul's and had an existence to 1561. It was partially restored and finally destroyed by the great fire of 1666. The present church was started in 1675 and completed in 1710. It is 500 feet in length and 118 feet broad in the form of a Latin cross. The dome is 364 feet above the ground and 110 feet in diameter.

'PHONEY' JEWELRY SALESMAN FINED $15 BY CITY JUDGE

If any Plainfielders have purchased a "$25 solid gold watch," from a suave looking jewelry dealer who carries his "office" in his hat, and his "store' in a suit-case, and paid in the neighborhood of $10 for the timepiece, they have been buncoed. A man giving his name as Isaac Goodman, and his address, Bronx, New York, was arrested yesterday afternoon at Clinton avenue and West Front street and charged with peddling without a license. His wares consisted of all sorts of jewelry, mainly watches, each article plainly labeled "solid gold," "genuine diamonds," etc. Detective-Sergeant Flynn, becoming suspicious of the advertised worth of the watches, took one of them to a local jeweler who estimated their value at 50 cents each. Appearing before City Judge DeMeza this morning the alleged swindler was fined $15.

DOG OWNER FINED $10.

Mrs. Ellen Suydam's dogs have again caused her trouble. They also cost her $10 in order to escape a sentence of 40 days in the county jail, when she appeared before City Judge De Meza this morning, charged with keeping dogs without licenses. Neighbors in the vicinity of 1119 Plainfield avenue, where Mrs. Suydam and her dogs live, have complained to the police at various times that they are annoyed by the animals. Six months ago, when brought before the court on a similar charge, sentence was suspended after a warning had been administered that all dogs in Plainfield had to be licensed. The complaints being renewed yesterday Mrs. Suydam was asked to appear in court. It was found that she had still neglected to take out a license for her pets.

GET LAST OF GAMBLERS.

The last of the alleged gamblers, said to have been participants in a "game" played New Year's Day in the home of Elmer Rice in West Second street, have been brought before City Judge De Meza today and sentences imposed. They are William Hooper, of 523 West Third street, who was fined $3, and Frank Brown, of 644 South Second street, and Wilber Brown, of 1020 West Third street, who was fined $5 each. The men were arrested yesterday through information given by seven other gamblers who appeared before City Judge De Meza, January 2, on the same charge, some of whom are serving time in the county jail in default of the fines that were imposed on that date.

Morris V. Brokaw, formerly of this city, has returned to Rochester, N. Y., after spending the holiday season with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. William H. Brokaw, of West Front street.
